'Y' Little Nines Battle Way Toward Finish This Week

Hilltop YMCA "Little 9" baseball leagues are in their last week of play. Championships in both divisions will not be decided until the last games have been played.

In the 8-10-year-old section, the Phillies have climbed into a first place tie with the Dodgers. They have won their last four games including three in the past week.

In their first contest of the week the Phillies took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of a two-run homer by Al Fladt. Dave Agin went the distance on the mound, as he pitched his mates to an 8-4 victory over the Braves. Jeff Reeves and Fladt each hit safely twice for the winners. Phil Imler with a double and a single led the losers at bat.

The Phillies continued their winning ways by outlasting the Pirates 10-7. Steve Hedges and Dave Agin shared the mound duties with the win going to Hedges.

In an abbreviated contest the Phillies turned back the Cubs 2-0. Steve Hedges held the Cubs hitless for the four innings and collected the only Phillies hit, a single, driving in two runs.

Giants Take Two

The Giants won two games during the past week to climb into a tie for third place. Herb Stillings went the distance on the hill as he held the Dodgers to three hits and shut them out 5-0. The big Giant hit of their five-run inning was a bases-loaded double by Val McGinnis. In the other Giant game, Bill Garrett and Stillings combined their efforts to pitch a no-hitter against the Cubs and win 3-0. The big gun for the Giants at bat was Steve Thompson who collected two triples, drove in two runs and scored the other [illegible].

Other action in the younger league saw the Cubs turn back the Pirates 8-3. The winners took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a bases loaded single by Billy Cash. Tom Randall collected [illegible] hits for the Pirates to [illegible] the hitters for the game. Warren Langhorn got credit for the win, although needing help from Dave Chrisman.

In the 11-12-year-old league the Orioles continue to set the pace as they extended their record to 7-1. Tim Weisert and Dave Weston hooked up in a real pitchers' battle as the Orioles won their second straight 1-0 contest. The only hit for the winners was a run scoring single by Rick Thompson. The Tigers collected three hits off the slants of Weisert.

In rounding out the schedule for the week, the Senators defeated the White Sox 2-0 as Jim Hughes held the Pale Hose to one hit, a double by Gary James. Hughes drove in the only run needed as he tripled in the fifth inning and later scored the other run.

Honors, Gifts Go With Hi Fi Club Queen Title

A Hi-Fi Quen will be chosen from a field of candidates representing recreation centers throughout the city, at the final Hi-Fi Club dance of the season Friday, Sept. 4, at Whetstone Park.

Votes may be cast by any Hi-Fi Club member at recreation centers or during regular club dances.

Candidates will be the guests of judges at the Sky Room Thursday, Sept. 3. Each will receive a Hi-Fi record player.

The winner, announced on Sept. 4, will receive an Encyclopedia Britannica set, back-to-school wardrobe, six months' supply of Coca-Cola, and jewelry, in addition to the Hi-Fi player.

The queen will be chosen by judges on the basis of appearance, personality and charm.

Judges are Byron Redman, Phyllis Nash, John Brown, and Fern Sharp.

Remaining Hi-Fi dances of the season are, Friday, Aug. 21, at Linden; Friday, Aug. 28, Sunshine, and Friday, Sept. 4, Whetstone Recreation Center.

Defensive Use Of Francis Disappoints Local Fans

By Bob Wilcox

We saw last Saturday's North-South High School all-star football game at Canton and came home tired and somewhat disappointed.

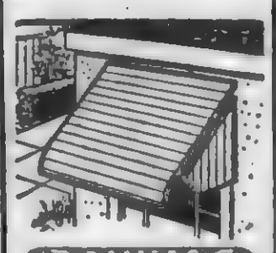
We saw little and poor usage of West's fabulous fullback, Dave Francis. Dave, a very fine defensive player, also, but most noted for his offensive ability, saw only limited action . . . all on defense, as he never once touched the ball.

It was discouraging not seeing him in more action, but what he did, he did well.

A resume of his action reads like this . . . the South received the opening kickoff and he was a member of that team. Before their first play from scrimmage however he was replaced. Early in the first quarter the South was in position for a field goal attempt. He entered the game for that team, but a penalty set them back too far. So he came out without being in on an offensive play . . . and continued to "pine" on the bench.

Finally with only 5:15 remaining in the first half, he was inserted into the South's defensive team. (We were seated next to the South bench, and to quote South head coach Bron Bacevich, . . "We've got to have more speed, Francis, go in") He finished out the game as the South's defensive left linebacker . . . with a few switches to the right side.

Late in the first half, North fullback Dave Eckard (the game's most valuable player) pulled off some real shifty-hipped running for a fine 25-yard gain . . . and in his running from one side of the field to the other, through most of the South squad, he finally was downed on the South's four-yard line.



The man who got him was Francis. He had originally been blocked out on the far side of the field from Eckard, got up and, with five or six South lads between him and the North runner, raced clear across the field for the nabbing.

North went on to score and Francis threw a beauty of a block . . . getting two men, for the South's kickoff returner as the half ended. He opened the second half by smashing down the North's kickoff returner.

He did some more fine blocking on the South's final kickoff return. With 1:40 showing on the clock he was finally inserted into the offensive lineup, but never carried the ball. With 18 points behind they punted. A disappointed lad to be sure, but certainly nothing to be ashamed about. It was the South's loss to keep him on the bench, not his!

When selecting toys for convalescent play, choose those that will provide activities a little easier than those the child enjoys while well, say OSN Extension specialists.

Broad-st Pavers Brave Heat, Traffic

MEAN TASK—Traffic and the temperature are two obstacles facing the men who are repaving three miles of W. Broad-st, with hot blacktop. Tuesday's thermometer read 99 degrees. In the top photo, roller operator Norman Leach follows the paver crew protected from traffic by a policeman. Pair at right are operating a jolting jack hammer to raise some of the 52 manholes to a new elevation. The job is to be finished in about a month.

Poll Follows Same Trend

Real Battle For Mayoralty Looms In Coming Weeks

By Bill Rush

With all but seven of the city's 33 wards polled, W. Ralston Westlake continues to hold a steady lead over Mayor Sensenbrenner in the Hartley Newspaper pre-election survey.

Biggest factor, however, continues to be the large number of undecided voters who have not yet cast their lot with either candidate. This figure represents over one-fourth of the voters contacted.

Although this should be considered when attempting to formulate the possible outcome of the November election, it should not be taken too seriously with 10 weeks remaining between now and election—plenty of time for everyone to make up their minds.

The actual voting for mayor at this point is:

Westlake	43.1%
Sensenbrenner	29.6%
Undecided	27.3%

These same people gave Sensenbrenner the mayoralty at the 1955 election by a virtual 2-1 margin. When asked how they voted then, those interviewed replied:

Sensenbrenner	45.0%
Jones	22.7%
Don't Remember, Etc.	32.3%

Over one-half of those who supported Sensenbrenner in 1955 have indicated they will back Westlake this fall. The remaining votes are still up for grabs by either side. It would appear, however, that since they went to Sensenbrenner in the last election, a good many will come his way again.

Here's what happened to votes Sensenbrenner carried in 1955, but can't count on this time:

Undecided	44.6%
Don't Like Sensenbrenner	27.6%
Time For A Change	13.8%
Like Westlake's Record Better	1.7%
Other Reasons	10.3%

When these figures are taken into consideration, Sensenbrenner's chances become a little brighter. More than one-half of the votes definitely lost by the Mayor belong to those who just don't like him.

Therefore, the undecided voters must be waiting to judge each man by either his record or his platform. Here Westlake's chances to win additional votes do not appear too good since Sensenbrenner has lost only 1.7 per cent of his support to citizens who feel his opponent's record is better.

On the other hand, a great majority of the votes Sensenbrenner has retained are on the basis of his record. When asked why they would vote for Sensenbrenner this fall, his supporters said:

Don't Like Westlake	20.0%
Like Sensenbrenner's Record Best	77.9%
Other Reasons	22.1%

Summing It Up—Columbus' next mayor will be decided between now and election day. At this point, neither candidate can claim with any certainty he will win. If it is to be decided on the basis of past records, Sensenbrenner would seem to have the edge because many voters are unfamiliar with Westlake. It should be pointed out, however, that these same voters are not so enthused about Sensenbrenner's record that they are willing to commit themselves to him now.

Installation For State In Progress

Three Highway Buildings, Site Work To Top $2 Million

Heavy machinery criss-crossing former farm land of the Columbus State Hospital at the bottom of W. Broad-st hill is shaping up the site for three new buildings for the State Highway Department.

Work under contract amounts to an estimated expenditure of $2,184,428, department officials said this week.

Soon to go up is a two-story testing laboratory, a one-story central garage, and a one-story motor transport building. All will be made of brick.

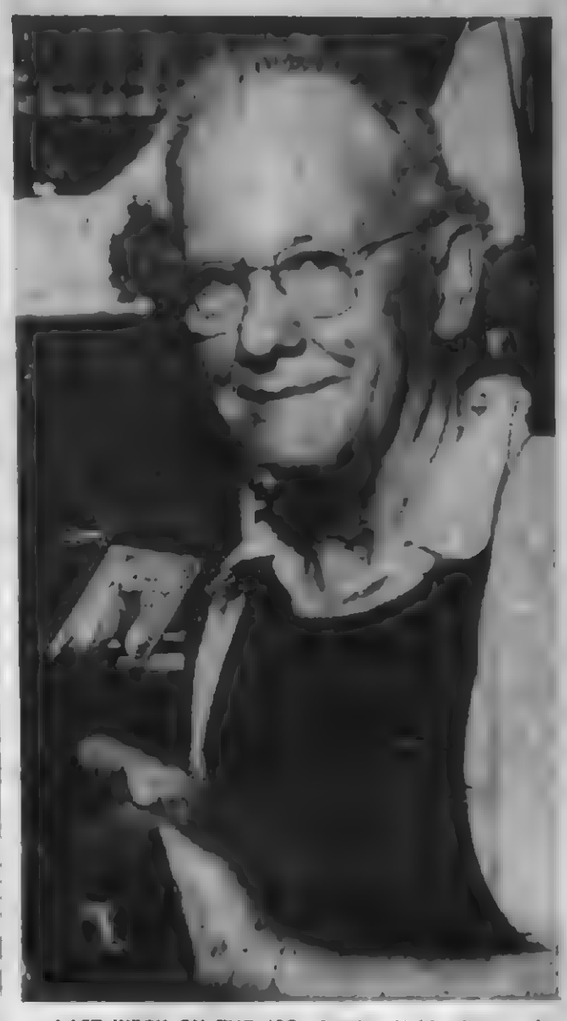
Barring a long steel strike or other delays, completion is expected about Feb. 1961.

Long-term planners have envisioned the spot north of Broad-st as ideal for centralizing much of the department's operation. Enough space is available for an administrative office building, should it be placed in the next six-year capital plan.

Lab Employs 200

As new facilities are built, persons using many rented or outgrown facilities across the city, will be transferred here. Two hundred are employed in the present testing lab at Ohio State University. A minimum of 70 workers will move from the state garage in the Goodale area, now rented at $28,000 yearly.

The central garage will be used for storage and maintenance of much of the state's heavy motorized equipment, as well as personal vehicles used in Central Ohio, a highway spokesman said. A wing of the garage will be used as a warehouse for storage of hardware items bought in volume.



The laboratory will be used for testing of all types of steel, concrete, paint, wood and other materials used in Ohio roads and bridges. Facilities now used will be returned to university care.

Avenue Extension Still Possible

Access roads at the new site are being laid out to be compatable with possible plans to extend Grandview-av south to Broad-st, the highway official said.

A breakdown of firms currently on contract at the project follows: Sheaf Construction Co., 1758 Cleveland-av, general contractor, $1,041,384; Huffman-Wolfe, plumbing, 669 N. High-st, $124,700; and automotive equipment, $36,000; Limbach Co., 851 Williams-rd, heating, ventilating, air conditioning and lab equipment; American Electric Works, Inc., 384 N. Sixth-st, electrical, $163,155; Browne-Morse Co., lab equipment, $45,668.46; Piping Contractors Co., 58 N. Washington-av, exterior services, drainage, etc., $116,928.

Also set aside is $400,000 for completion of roads, drives, parking lots and landscaping; $34,986 for contingencies and $137.20 for advertising.

LAST WEEK ON THE JOB—Routine of his shop, so familiar after 29 years of shoe repairman, will soon be part of the past for Joseph L. Frey. He will retire Saturday.

J. L. FREY RETIRING

Depression Meant Business For Him!

Joseph L. Frey, shoe repairman on the Hilltop for 29 years, will close the doors of his shop, W. Broad-st at Wheatland-av, for the last time Saturday night, Aug. 29.

Retirement years promise to be quiet ones for him and his wife, residents of 30 S. Brinker-av. "I'm quitting because I'm 70," he said, "and it's time to quit.

"We'll do nothing for perhaps a year, and after that . . . who knows?"

It was depression time, in 1931, when Frey bought the shop, then located where the Old Hickory Bar is now. He hired a shoe repairman for a year and learned the trade by working with him.

Gave Many a Boost

"Times were bad then, so business was fine," Frey said. "Shoe repair business is always better when jobs are scarce, because people haven't the money to buy new shoes."

Many of his customers also benefited from his "hard-times prosperity," for Frey often slipped a $5 bill into a hand that badly needed help.

Around 1936 he moved the shop into a storeroom farther east on Broad-st and, finally, into its present location.

Unless a buyer appears before the week's end, the shop will be closed on Saturday night.

Mrs. B. L. DeBerry, who rented a corner of the storeroom for the sale of her handmade artificial flowers, will also "retire with the shoeshop."

Mr. and Mrs. Frey are members of Broad Street Church of Christ.

They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Donna Jean Ealy and Mrs. Dorothy Wright.

Greetings, Grandparents!

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Loel Lamo, 2379 Club-rd, erstwhile Hilltoppers, who on Saturday night were advised of the arrival of Lori Leigh Nash, their new granddaughter. Her home is in Parma.

West Pupils Will Learn By Television

Five people from the Hilltop area have recently entered the realm of television as teachers.

Two graduates of West High School and three teachers from here are attending the Greater Columbus Area Educational Television Workshop, sponsored by the Ford Motor Foundation and WOSU-TV.

John Morison, 167 W. Weber, a graduate of West, is producer-director of the series.

Mary Baker, 52 S. Harris-av, who formerly taught 10th grade biology at West, will this year be teaching eighth grade health and science via television.

William Hagans, 2810 Kensington-pl E, a West graduate also, will be teaching second grade science from the TV classroom.

Adolph Kittel, 563 Walhala, will be a receiving teacher at West. He will conduct the classroom where 10th grade English will be received from the studio classroom.

William Disbro, 3461 Brookgrove-dr, former English teacher at West, will be one of the new teachers at WOSU-TV, instructing English over the air.

West High is one of the few high schools in the state which will be learning by television. This experiment is being conducted to provide a way for larger classrooms to learn from a fewer amount of teachers.

Goudy, Spears Will Direct Annual YMCA Enrollment

Two local businessmen will guide this year's Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment which begins in September.

James Goudy, manager of the Great Western office of the Ohio National Bank is chairman and will be assisted by Jerry Spears, Sr., president of the Spears Funeral Home.

Mettge, Agin Head Contacts

The drive will again be operated in two sections, business and residential.

Heading the Broad-st business contacts are Paul Mettge, manager of the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank; Rev. Robert Clark, assistant pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, Kenneth Helmick of the City National Bank, Hilltop office; and Charles Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association. Sullivant-av businesses will be reached by Hilltop Y's Men's club under the leadership of Roy Agin, president.

The business drive will begin Wednesday, Sept. 9 at the City National Bank social room. The Hilltop 'Y' Mothers Council will serve the noon luncheon. Mrs. Robert Walker, president of the Mothers' Council is in charge of arrangements. All parties working on the business section will be asked to attend.

The residential division will begin work Thursday, Sept. 10 at an 8 p.m. meeting at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Women Direct Residential

Twelve divisions in the residential are headed by Mrs. Eldon Scott, Mrs. Bemis Black, Mrs. John Clay, Mrs. Wilford Sloter, Mrs. John Roman, Mrs. Don Roederer, Mrs. Joshua O'Neal, Mrs. Howard Valentine, Mrs. Jack Hedges, Mrs. Ed Scott, Mrs. Charles Strayer and Mrs. Victor Karl.

Both the business and residential aspects of the drive will end Monday, Sept. 21 at an 8 p.m. victory celebration for all workers.

Power Break Causes Delays

Large portions of the Hilltop and West Side were left without lights—and electric fans — Wednesday morning during a 90-minute power failure. Rush-hour traffic was slowed by inoperative signals.

Lines of the Columbus Municipal Light Co. were down at Scott and Jones-sts, officials explained. Current went off about 7:20 a.m.

Users of Columbus Southern Ohio power were not effected by the break.

Arms Joins Sears, Roebuck Information Staff In Chicago

Ernest L. Arms, 802 Binns-blvd, a member of the journalism staff at Ohio State University and automotive editor of the Columbus Citizen, will join the public relations staff of Sears, Roebuck and Co. in Chicago on Sept. 14, the company announced today.

In his new position Arms will make his headquarters in Sears' national office on Chicago's West Side.

A native of Akron, Arms began his newspaper career in 1941 with the Akron Beacon-Journal.

After serving during World War II as the editor of the Camp Butner, N.C., News, he joined the Citizen staff in 1947 as a reporter. He was named business editor in 1956.

He relinquished those duties early this year when he accepted his present position at Ohio State as assistant to the director of the school of journalism.

Arms is a direcor of the Central Ohio professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He is also a past president and former treasurer of Columbus' Scripps-Howard employes' Federal Credit Union.

Basic Rescue Classes Begin This Week At Camp Chase

Leo J. Buck, chief of rescue of the Columbus and Franklin County Civil Defense Department, announces the beginning of classes in basic rescue.

They started Tuesday, Aug. 25, at 7:30 p.m. and continue each Tuesday for five weeks at Camp Chase Post, American Legion, at 3211 W. Broad-st.

Buck urges both men and women to participate as volunteers. Civil Defense is eager to build up its rescue service to full strength, Director Wilbur K. Morris said.

If interested, Call CA. 8-3501, Ex. 70, or Buck, evenings at his home TU. 5-1367.

Family Pet Found

When their little toy fox terrier strayed, the Leslie Downing family, 879 Wilson-av, was broken-hearted. Ads in two daily newspapers failed to bring him back. In desperation, a Hartley Newspaper classified ad was tried. The family pet was found. Ads in this newspaper have staying power . . . just call BR. 4-1155.

HILLTOP LIONS AID BLIND SCHOLAR

FIRST INSTALLMENT — Jim Steger, left, of the Hilltop Lions health, education and welfare committee, presents the first check for $125 to Timothy Seither as W. G. Scarberry, superintendent of the Ohio State School for the Blind, looks on. The money will help Timothy meet his expenses at John Carroll University, Cleveland, when he enrolls next month. The Lions pledged another check for the same amount in the middle of the school year. They hope to continue the twice-yearly gift as long as Timothy continues the excellent scholastic record maintained through 12 years of study at the State School for the Blind. Although blind since birth, Timothy served as captain of the school's wrestling team for a year, and played the coronet at school. The 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Seither of Defiance, O., wants to study law.

Worker Killed When Loader Drops Dirt

A construction worker was accidentally killed while working on the new Rt. 1 project across Harrisburg-pk from the Columbus workhouse Tuesday.

George Hopkins, 46, of Ray, O., died as a result of injuries sustained when a driver of an earth loader, accidentally unloaded a half-ton of earth on him.

The pressure of the load pushed Hopkins, who was sitting on a 12-ton moving machine, into the gear shift. The shift penetrated the worker's chest, killing him, sheriff's deputies said.

South-Western Board Ponders Ullman's Future

By Bill Rush

A lot of eyes will be directed toward the South-Western City Board of Education when it meets Friday evening. The people want one question answered:

"What is going to be done about V. J. Ullman?"

From the time the South-Western Local School District was created in 1946 by the consolidation of Grove City, Pleasant Township, Urbancrest, Franklin Township, Georgesville and Prairie Township School Districts, Ullman has served as executive head.

When the board decided to remove the district from under the Franklin County Board of Education — possible with Grove City now legally defined as a city—the post of executive head was automatically abolished.

A superintendent must now be appointed for the South-Western Schools. At last week's meeting, board members designated Ullman as "acting superintendent."

The hesitancy of the board to appoint Ullman as permapent superintendent was definite. It was understood at the meeting that a permanent superintendent would not be named until the board had time to formulate a policy and establish qualifications—and it was made clear that Ullman might not be the man.

It is public knowledge that there isn't the best of feelings between the professional teaching staff and the executive head and his central office. Resignations of teachers have been high. Some vacancies may exist on the teaching staff when school opens this fall.

Animosity reached a high early this year when the executive head and teachers clashed over a promised increase in salaries. This resulted in embarrassing publicity for both Ullman and the teachers as well as the school district.

One member of the board said this week that "it would be a definite blow to the morale of the district's teaching staff if Ullman is offered a superintendent's contract."

Board members on the whole agree, even when they won't admit it publicly, that things aren't running as smoothly in the South-Western District as might be the case. They feel that there are definite weaknesses and shortcomings.

Chances of Ullman being rehired are slight at the best.

Look for the board to do one of three things:

Retain Ullman as temporary superintendent until school ends next spring and his contract expires, then spend next summer looking for a superintendent.

Directly ask Ullman for his resignation and appoint a committee to run the district until a superintendent is hired.

Become wary of running the school district without any official head and offer Ullman a one-year contract.

All in all, Friday night's board meetinfg promises to be extremely interesting.

'Y' Little 9 Titles Won By Orioles, Phillies

Phillies and the Orioles copped the Hilltop YMCA "Little 9" baseball crowns last Friday.

The Phillies won the eight-10-year-old loop as they ended the season with a six-game winning streak. In their first game last week they turned back the Giants 7-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Steve Hedges. Felix Hoover, with the two hits, paced the batters.

The Phillies had their hitting clothes on in their next contest as they beat the Cubs 11-5. Hedges again went the distance for the win while adding a double and home run to the Phillies cause. Al Fladt homered and John Prout collected two hits. Dave Elbin was the big gun for the Cubs as he collected a long home run.

The Dodgers missed a chance for top honors, as they were beaten by the Cubs 5-0. Dave Chrisman went the route on the hill and held the Dodgers to two hits. Artie Wilson had the big blow for the Cubs as he collected a long two-run triple.

The Dodgers took second place by beating the Pirates 6-1 in their last contest. Terry Meinberg was the winning hurler, as he held the Pirates to three hits, two of them by Pirate, Lloyd Bixler. Dennis Wright led the Dodgers' hitters with two [illegible]

In other action in the younger loop the Giants dumped the Braves, 15-2, as Herb Stillings had a perfect game with one out to go before giving up the Brave tallies. Big blow for the Giants was a two-run double by Steve Thompson. Chris Nowell and Bemis Black each collected run-scoring singles for the losers.

The Braves dropped their last contest of the season, 9-7, to the Pirates, although outhitting the winners, 9-7. Lloyd Bixler went three for three to lead his team to victory. Galvy Gordon, Chris Nowell and Mike Hughes each had two hits for the Braves. Tom Randall got credit for the victory and also hit safely twice.

In the 11-13-year-old division, the Orioles split their games last week to win the top honors, as they beat the White Sox, 6-4 and lost to the Yankees, 2-0. Dick Smith turned back the White Sox as he and battery mate, Tony Digiola each hit safely twice. Gary James drove in three Sox runs and scored the other with a long triple.

Ron Grundstein pitched a no-hitter against the Orioles, as he allowed only one man to reach base. He also singled twice and scored one run.

The Indians split their games last week, as they beat the White Sox, 3-1 and lost to the Senators, 2-2. Roger Nelson pitched and batted his team to victory over the Pale Hose, as he got two hits and held the losers to two hits. The Senators ruined the Indians bid for a tie for top honors, as they won, 3-2. Jim Hughes pitched the victory, while the big guns at bat were Bill Baesman with three hits and Gary Myers with two. John Postle collected three hits for the losers.

All players and coaches were honored at the Annual Summer Fun Club Awards Night last Thursday at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Any players or coaches unable to attend may pick up their awards at the "Y" during the day.

INFLATION ADDICTION—AN EPIDEMIC

Imagine an epidemic of alcoholism or drug addiction sweeping the United States.

Something similar is taking place. Inflation, an economic disease, is ruining the financial health of Americans and their nation.

Economists have diagnosed its causes and prescribed remedies. Communications media have funneled their warnings and recommendations to the public. But not enough people have realized the epidemic's seriousness to force concerted action to stamp it out.

The nature of the disease is partly responsible. Like alcoholism and drug addiction, inflation causes a deceptive feeling of well being. When one jolt wears off, its victims want another jolt, not a cure. Everything will be fine, they think, if they can just get another wage raise or more help from the government.

No one or two people can halt this epidemic. To be cured, inflation's victims (and let's face it—that's us) must realize what is happening and want to be cured. That will take fact-facing, will power and backbone enough to break the self deceiving habit of demanding something for nothing — whether it be more pay without more production or more government spending without more taxes.

Yep, the seamy side of life is hard to hide.

STRAC Display Coming To Fair

The U.S. Army's Strategic Army Corps—more popularly know as "STRAC"—will be unveiled to area residents for the first time in an official exhibit to be displayed at the Ohio State Fair Aug. 28-Sept. 4.

Coming to Columbus by motorcade from Washington, D. C., the huge exhibit shows the Army's methods to cope with small, limited conflicts as well as all-out atomic war and forecasts weapons of the future projected to the year 1975.

One reason why you can count on having all the electricity you need when you need it — for fun, or work, or brighter living — is the Electric Company's continuing program of expansion. In the past three years, 84 million dollars were spent for new equipment and better service. In the next three years, we expect to spend another 51 million dollars. These investments will help you live better electrically.

BIBLE COMMENT

Bible Has Many References About Life's Relationships

The Bible has a great deal to say about living with friends and foes. To live with friends would not seem to present any problem, though there is an art of friendship which is not always cultivated or which may be one-sided only.

Friendship depends upon mutual confidence and regard.

To live with enemies, real or imagined, is not so easy. If no real dangers are involved, there may be upsetting disquiet and disturbances of mind. But if you had been a Jew in Hitler's Germany, or if you were a Roman Catholic or Protestant in today's Communist China, there would be nothing imaginary about your enemies, or the dangers confronting you.

There are many references to enemies in both the Old and the New Testaments. More than 300 enemies are listed from Genesis to Revelation. Many of these enemies undoubtedly were of the same sort that have beset others in later times.

The unyielding attitude of those whose religion enforces an implacable attitude toward "enemies" undoubtedly makes one-sided concession. The great hope seems to be that world sentiment may bring more tolerant and placable action to bear.

It is possible that much of the Biblical counsel concerning enemies as more personal than national or communal reference.

"Agree with thine adversary quickly," or "A soft answer turneth away wrath" may be wise counsels for daily living and peace of mind.

Abraham Lincoln remains a conspicuous example of the strength in action of a man immersed in what the Bible has to say about getting on with enemies.

Main Federal To Open Two New Offices

Richard Scott

Main Federal Savings and Loan Association will celebrate an unusual double grand opening of two new branch office buildings Sept. 14-19, according to Harold Esper, president.

This is believed to be the first instance of an Ohio Savings and Loan dedication of two new offices in the same community in the same week.

The new East Side building at 891 S. James-rd, will be of contemporary modern architecture and will provide a comfortable, living room atmosphere for all transactions. This office will be managed by Richard Scott, who won a Florida trip in a radio contest last Easter, but hasn't been able to get away yet because of building activities.

Main Federal's brand new third office in Central Point Shopping Center will be in charge of James Gatterdam.

Special opening week programs designed to acquaint local residents with the two new savings and loan facilities, will be announced soon.

WHIRL OF ENCHANTMENT on the carrousel at Norwood's Amusement Park is reflected on the faces of these two happy misses. The all-time favorite for youngsters at Norwood's, the carrousel and 18 other popular amusements will be spinning for a nickel on Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day Saturday, Sept. 12.

'Nickel Day' Worth A Spot On Every Family Calendar

If those back to school expenses have just about flattened your pocketbook, cheer up.

Those humble nickels still jangling in your pockets will unlock the gate of 19 exciting amusements for all your family at the Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day at Norwood's Amusement Park.

Date for the summer-ending frolic is Sept. 12, the first Saturday following Labor Day and about your last chance to forget your cares for a day before settling to the autumn school routine.

On that day all rides at Norwood's, 2025 E. Main-st, will be yours for only a five cent piece, compliments of the seven Hartley Newspapers—Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, S. E. Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review, and Reynoldsburg Record. The merriment begins at 1 p.m. and holds forth till 11 p.m.

Big Variety Offered

Norwood's, a popular East Side recreation center for 18 years, is an ideal spot for the Hartley Nickel Day because it offers a variety of rides to suit the tastes of every member of your family.

Topping the list is Norwood's all-time favorite, the carrousel, which has spun its round of enchantment for countless thousands of youngsters. For Hartley Nickel Day, you can mount its prancing ponies and ride your cares away for only a nickel.

That and 18 other amusements are all yours for Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day at Norwood's Amusement Park Saturday, Sept. 12.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Muskmelon, watermelon, peaches, apples, grapes, plums.

Vegetables—Tomatoes, green beans, lima beans, peppers, squash.

Meats and Poultry—Chuck roasts, sausage meats, smoked picnics, fryers, eggs, ice cream.

OHIO PRODUCE ON PARADE

During the coming week all of us will have the opportunity to see Ohio-grown foods at their best. The abundance of luscious fruits and colorful vegetables from local farms will be on display at the Ohio State Fair. But it's equally true in the stores and on roadside stands—abundance, high quality, and the lowest prices of the season.

Ohio melons are coming to retail outlets by the truckload now. Muskmelons of all varieties—old favorites as Honey Rocks, Pride of Wisconsin, Golden Delight, and many new hybrids are available. Cutting quality is generally good.

This week is peak season for local watermelons. Modern farmers follow rigid dusting and spraying programs—some irrigate. Watermelons weighing from 35 to 45 pounds or more are being picked in Ohio sandy bottom lands. To select a ripe one, look for a velvety appearance and a deep color. Growers say "thumping" a melon is still the best way to tell a ripe one. "It's ready when it thumps dead—one that's still green will ring."

Peaches—Luscious ripe peaches vie with melons for desserts and salads. Fairhaven, Halehaven and South Haven are among the Ohio varieties now available. Elbertas are still coming from other states.

Apples—Less apple harvesting is done during the rush of the peach crop. However, there are good supplies of summer varieties as Wealthy, Duchess and Maiden Blush. Harvest of Jonathans will start next week.

Bartlett pears harvest has started in Ohio orchards. Growers say the crop is big this year. That's true of the pear crop throughout the country, which likely means bargain price on pears . . . you may want to can a few.

Tomatoes—Quality generally seems to be improved, with tomatoes showing few cracks and good color. Keep tomatoes in a cool, not cold place, to enhance flavor. Don't delay canning and juice making much longer.

Sweet corn is still plentiful and quality generally is improved as the late varieties are now ready. Peppers—both green and yellow, sweet and hot—are plentiful. All sizes of cucumbers for pickling or for salads are in season. And don't neglect to include squash in the menu—you can choose from a big display of summer varieties at a low price.

OHIO STATE FAIR

The Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics will have an exhibit at the 1959 State Fair. The theme of this exhibit, which will be in the Buckeye Building, is "Ohio's Agricultural Extension Service Helps You." Some other worthwhile educational exhibits are the "Ohio Meat Exhibit" and "Food Is A Good Buy." Come and see us—Aug. 28 to Sept. 4.

READY FOR OCCUPANCY—Dedication ceremonies for the new educational unit at St. James Lutheran Church, 1683 Rome-Hilliard-rd, will take place Sunday at 3 p.m. A reception is scheduled to follow the dedication services.

St. James Educational Unit Dedication Rites Set Sunday

Dedication services for the new educational building of the St. James Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, at 1683 Rome-Hilliard-rd, will take place Sunday, Aug. 30. The ceremonies have been set for 3 p.m.

Rev. Earl C. Grugel, St. James pastor, will conduct the rites. Rev. Alfred Boester, circuit counselor of Milford Center, will be guest speaker at the dedication.

The educational unit will serve the children, young people and adults of the congregation in furthering Christian education and fellowship.

Ground for the structure was broken Sept. 7, 1958. The building, of full masonry construction, has a forced air hot water heating and ventilating system, tile floor covering, painted walls and acoustical ceilings. Cost of the construction was estimated at $90,000 by Rev. Grugel.

Chairman of the congregation is Donald Dodson. Architects are Oman and Cleland. Contractor is Charles Bowers.

The building and planning committee is composed of Richard Geyer, Donald Dellinger, James Hock, William Porschet and Julius Rausch.

Members of the finance committee include Rausch, Franklin Hart, Richard Kuhlwein, Lester Rausch and Mrs. David Wetterman.

Dedication committee is made up of William Kiefer, Mrs. Edward Fladt, Rev. Grugel, Lee Grugel, Mrs. Franklin Hart, Mrs. Edward Holzworth, Lester Rausch and Mrs. Edward Tabert.

Senior Citizens' Day Is Planned At Fair Sept. 3

Senior Citizens' Day at the Ohio State Fair, Thursday, Sept. 3, a first for the fair, is sponsored by Soroptimist Club.

Senior citizens may enter handcraft in a special class for which Soroptimist awards are given. No entrance fee is charged for craft entries in general class competition.

Competition does not conflict with the Golden Age Hobby Show to be held later. Entries submitted at the fair may be reentered in the hobby show.

Senior Citizens headquarters will be inside the fairgrounds, directly in front of the 11th-av address.

A program will be held at 1:30 p.m. with senior citizens' groups from throughout the state participating. There will be welcoming addresses from Governor DiSalle, Mayor Sensenbrenner, Mrs. Robert Gorman, state welfare director, and greetings from other state and city officials.

Working with Miss Doris Wright, chairman of the committee, have been Miss Eileen Downey, Soroptimist president, Mrs. Edna Morrison, Miss Charlotte Curtis, Mrs. Mary Love, Mrs. Evelyn MacDonald and Dr. Leabelle Ross.

Today's typewriters are too quiet for one maestro. Hollywood composer-conductor Leith Stevens had to hunt up an old machine to use in connection with an orchestration requiring the staccato sound of a typewriter, for a recent concert.

Baby Sitter Accommodations Offered To State Fair Visitors

As a special service for parents the Ohio State Fair will have baby sitting accommodations each day of the fair from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Aug. 28 through Sept. 4.

Columbus Rose Guild, named in honor of Judge Clayton Rose of Franklin County will sponsor the service rather than the State Fair as in the past. Proceeds from the service will be used to supply county detention homes with toothbrushes, tooth paste, and combs.

The baby sitting service will be located in the women's lounge next to the Red Cross Building. Rates are 20 cents an hour or a maximum of 50 cents an hour for each family. Twenty strollers will be available on a first-come-first-serve basis; they will be rented at 25 cents an hour or $2 a day.

Kitchens Full of Hazards

The kitchen is the scene of 20 percent of home accidents. Grease, food and liquids spilled on the floor and the use of unstable articles, such as rickety chairs and stools to stand on to reach high places, are the main causes of falls in the kitchen.

A Tip To The Seamstress

When sewing, if your measurements don't agree with those of the patterns, choose the size that will give you the best fit in the blouse. It's usually easier to alter the skirt pattern than the blouse pattern, say extension clothing specialists at Ohio State University.

MAGDALENE YOUTHS RACK UP ENVIABLE RECORD

WON 37 STRAIGHT—Playing in two leagues for 13-to-15-year-olds this Babe Ruth team from St. Mary Magdalene School won 37 consecutive ball games in two years before tasting defeat last Friday. In the city Intermediate Knothole playoffs they were beaten 5 to 3 by the Rams of Southeast. Earlier the locals, carrying the West Sectional banner, stopped the Linden Warhawks, 2 to 1. Seen, left to right, front row are: Jack Stephens, Mike Mantel, Ron Dembinski, Larry Halderman, John Meinhardt and John Feriddamp. Second row, left to right, Coach John Radich, Mike Kerins, Kenny Radich, Raymond Highfield, Don Henne, Joe Yonadi, John Fisher, Charles Radich. Jim Kerins was absent.

Dale Scherer Wins Award For Conduct

Dale Scherer, 1534 Sullivant-av, was awarded this year's sportsmanship trophy and was given a citation for good sportsmanship and fair play while at the wheel of quarter-midget racers the past three years. This is Dale's final year for such racing because he has reached the age limit of 16.

Two other boys from the West Side raced at Jones Park Sunday afternoon, Aug. 23. They were: Chuck Benhett, 902 Campbell-av and Marvin Barker of Helen-st.

The feature race, held at the site on Groveport-pk, was won by eight-year-old Gary Hardy, who also placed second in three other heats. Second place went to Bobby Butler and third to Hayden Decker.

Other winners of races were Johnny Jones, Johnny Crowell, Hayden Decker, Bobby Butler and Dennis Browning. The novice races were won by Mike Wyrick, Keith Arnold and Kay Hardy.

Races are held every Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. There will be a special Labor Day race, Sept. 7, at 2 p.m.

Company Honors District Agents

For placing first in a summer-long national sales campaign local agents of the Columbus District Agency, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., and their wives have been invited to be two-day guests of the home office.

They will stay at the Summit Hotel in Uniontown, Pa., Friday and Saturday, Aug. 28 and 29.

The representatives are Robert E. Maxwell, 175 Midland-av; Nick Hurdzon, 1529 Walsh-av; Les Steward, 284 Luxair-dr, Hilliard; and Ky Swirsky, 1773 Kings-ct.

Because of space last week some personal observations on the North-South High School All-Star football game at Canton, Aug. 15 had to wait until

Our purpose in going was to see West's talented fullback Dave Francis, at his best—in offense. But, instead he was assigned only limited action, defensively. South was drubbed 18 to 0.

Francis was listed in the program as the starting fullback, and coaches and others in prior weeks had stated that he was the best. (One wonders what happened to Andy Miller, one of the South coaches from Groveport, who should certainly have known what Francis was capable of.) But, Bob Williams of Dayton Fairmount started and went the distance.

Williams was a little faster than Dave, and while he gained nicely to the outside (he was the only South runner to be able to gain at all), he was nothing up the middle or inside. Built like a halfback, if he had been used there with Francis in the fullback slot, the story of the South's poor offense might have been entirely different.

Manpower Use Questioned

The big difference in the game was that the South was 'outcoached'. Although the North had a strong first unit they continually shuffled reserves in and out of both the line and backfield. Meanwhile the South, died on their feet and got nowhere as the North dominated play. South stuck with the same lineup, not changing to try to get moving, or even fully cleaning the bench in the fourth quarter when 18 points down and the issue decided.

Nothing personal against small schools who have some fine personnel coaching in them, but after observing the conduct of the South staff that Saturday, one wonders if they are fully qualified to cope with a big affair as this game. (At one point the South head coach shoved the referee . . . he's from a larger Cincinnati school, and the only one . . . something rarely gotten away with.)

A game of this type one wishes to win, of course, but the honor and privilege carries some responsibility . . . that all players should see action; whether the game is won or lost!

Bob Babbitt, outside of some pretty fair punting, did little more to impress than to alternate the quarterbacking chores. Dick Schultz started on offense for the South and played there most of the game. Although quite creditably a whizbang on defense, he saw little or none of that.

I had mixed emotions toward the game as most of my life prior to coming to the Hilltop was spent north of Ohio's "Mason-Dixon" line. My hometown coach and a very fine one was the North line coach, Dave Martin. And another hometowner, Wayne Betz, went all the way at right guard for North doing an outstanding job. Dave Eckard, 'most valuable player' was from my area, also. Although short for ballplayers and weighing only 160, the latter was all over the field in setting up two TDs and scoring one. But, no, how I wish "we" could have shown the North what the Hilltop produced and what I have been bragging to 'em for the past eight or nine months.

Show Too Long

The game was glamorous, but not to the extent anticipated. Jackson High put on a fine half-time show (including a school-teacher fire-eater), but it dragged on and the 16 to 18,000 fans on both sides of the field became quite restless. They had mike trouble throughout the game and it was out completely during stages of the halftime festivities, including the MVP presentation for last year's game.

Coaches, scouts and celebrities were in abundance . . . ranging all the way from OSU's Woody Haynes and staff to my old high school coach Bob McNea, former Mansfield and Ohio coach-of-the-year, who is present freshman mentor at Northwestern U. and the "youngster" that scouted the upset for the Wildcats over the Bucks last fall.

The press boxes were so small that we had to sit at tables along the field. There was the lovely Queen and her court at the next table, however.

St. Mary Magdalene had its annual Little League All-Star vs. league champ contests last Sunday afternoon. In the minor leagues (8-9 year olds), the loop winner and undefeated-till-Sunday Cardinals took it on the chin from the All-Stars, 11-5. The All-Stars tok a two-run lead in the first but the Cards bounced back in the 3-4-5 innings to take the lead. Although they outhit the All-Stars 6-5, the Stars' defensive brilliance and the 95-degree temperature was just a little too much for the champs. Mike Wootke had a no-hitter for three frames, but All-Star hurler Jim Dembinski overshadowed him with 14 strikeouts to Wootke's 12. Hitting stars were Francis Yonodi with a single and a double and Dembinski with two singles.

Second game of the doubleheader found the Red Sox nosing out the All-Stars, 11-9. The Stars raced off with six runs in the first and built their lead to 8-0 by the third. However, Pat Ellis came on to hurl for the Sox in the fifth and the whole complexion of the game changed. While his teammates fought back and got the needed runs for him, he was retiring 12 of the next 16 men he faced via strikeouts. He hit one batter but made the other three ground out to him. The Sox finally "iced" the game in the eighth. Ellis collected a homer to help his cause, aided in the hitting department by Bill James with two homers and four RBIs, and Frank Gursky with a triple to give the Sox the only extra base blows of the game.

The Major All-Stars were Mark Youngfleich, Joe Swartz, and Charles Erdey, Yankees; Bill Scales, Dale Estes and Jim Beckman, Indians; John Tyger and John O'Neil, Senators; Pat Kering, Mark Mitchell, Dick McCellan, Athletics; Jack Radich, Rick Ness and Jim Cullen, Tigers.

West Sectional Intermediate Boys' softball league wound up its season with these standings: 1) John Burroughs 8-0, 2) Holton 6-2, 3) Westgate 5-3, 4) Glenwood and Kingswood 4-3, 5) Hauntz 3-4, 6) McKinley 2-5, 7) Sullivant Gardens 1-6, 8) Highland 0-6.

Some of the scores from the final two weeks of warring were: Westgate 16-Highland 15, Westgate 0-Glenwood 13, Kingswood 8-Glenwood 8, Holton 7-McKinley 0, Burroughs 11-E. Gardens 6, Kingswood 19-McKinley 9, Burroughs 14-Holton 6, Westgate 25-S. Gardens 0, Burroughs 14-Westgate 13, Holton 7-Hauntz 0, Hauntz 7-Highland 0, Glenwood 22-Hauntz 16, and Westgate 32-Holton 1.

German Films To Be Shown At Bexley

Bexley Continental American Theatre, 2484 E. Main-st, will show a series of German pictures, starting Sunday afternoon, Sept. 13.

This is in answer to many requests they have received over the past several months, according to Bob Little, manager.

Six films are in the series, all in German dialogue with English sub-titles. One set of the series will be shown each month for the next six months, and with each feature there will be a German short subject and a German newsreel.

All scheduled to be shown on Sundays, beginning at 2 and 4 p.m. The pictures will be shown only at these times, Little said.

Drinkin' gin is a sin and you just can't win.

TRIBULATIONS OF A TABBY

'Help Stamp Out Dogs' Is Catcall At Pet Show

By Tabby Katt

I hate to be catty . . .

Butt!! I was one of the few entrants in the second annual pet show at the Hilltop Library last Wednesday who didn't win some sort of award. Honestly I'd like to take a king-sized catnip out of Judges Paul Lugger, Lee Grugel and Miss Susan Crawshaw.

What do they know, anyway, about feline feelings and pussycat pulchritude?

I was so mad there once that I spit right in the face of a particularly obnoxious beagle hound. He was nosing around me with his false air of conviviality and acting so much the hypocritical part of man's best friend. Worse yet, he won a prize!

It was all I could do to keep from scratching him across his snooty snoot. And as long as my claws were extended, I took the following notes:

There were 35 entries in the show, which marked the end of the summer story hour sessions. Besides us cats, animals represented included dogs (ugh), turtles, hamsters, some delicious-looking mice, a tadpole, two horned toads, a flying squirrel and even a rooster.

Since us pets aren't allowed to wear the blue ribbons and our owners grab all the credit, I'll just list the owners and the ribbons they won.

DOGS: Prettiest—Debra Souders of 2970 W. Broad-st; largest—Tommy and Bobby Weinhold of 90 Coolidge-av; smallest—Lyn McCutcheon of 2334 Stephen-dr, Donald Cooke, 208 S. Westmoor-av, and smartest—JoAnn Bentz of 203 S. Burgess-av.

CATS: prettiest—Andy Burger of 110 S. Westgate-av; smartest—Melinda Allen of 160 S. Huron-av; largest—Cynthia Flesch of 3065 Parkside-dr, and smallest — Edward, Tommy, Johnny and Richard Davidson of 251 Clarendon-av, and Corrinne Morris of 171 S. Roys-av.

TURTLES: nicest — Christy Kable of 350 S. Huron-av, and Raymond Rieser of 2746 Regina-av.

Nicest or "most unusual" ribbons went to Mike Shaw of 280 S. Southampton-av for his white rooster; Roger Seneru of 201 Southampton-av for his horned toad; Mary Margaret Gardelle of 153 S. Huron-av, for her flying squirrel; to John Dibble of 125 Coolidge-av, for his white mouse; David Line of 188 S. Southampton-av, for his fish; to Judy Rieser of 2746 Regina-av for her tadpole, and to Becky Miller of 2494 Steele-av for her hamster.

Here's How To Catch A Bowl Of Turtle Soup

A snapping turtle is a hard-nosed creature that looks like he's a leftover from the age of dinosaurs.

He is a rough hombre, has a disagreeable personality and plays for keeps. Most outdoorsmen are acquainted with the snapper—either they are confirmed turtle hunters or they have observed turtles from a distance. The best way to make his acquaintance is by way of a bowl of turtle soup.

The problem of such a meeting, of course, is how do you get such an ornery critter out of his hole in the bank and into the pot? Probably the oldest way known to man is to simply reach a bare hand into muskrat holes, under logs and brushpiles, and pull them out. This takes a special breed of turtle hunter—to my way of thinking one with about a dozen extra fingers.

Seriously, I have talked to a numbers of such hunters, and I never saw one with any missing appendages. These hunters fear muskrats and minks more than turtles or water snakes. Several showed me scars, souvenirs of brushes with muskrats.

Catching Technique Described

The trick to feeling for turtles seems to be to extend your arm along the top of a hole and then bring your hand down deliberately to feel along the bottom of the hole as you withdraw your arm. Turtles, they say, loaf in these places with their heads facing outward into the stream or lake. Therefore, you will feel their tail end first. The accepted procedure is to grab a turtle by its tail, pull it out, and pop it into a burlap bag. Presto! You have a tasty meal on the hoof.

There are easier ways, however, of catching turtles. Bank lines and traps are the traditional gear for those of us who do not like the idea of staging a boxing match with a snapping turtle on his home grounds. A bank line is simply a stout piece of cord with a large hook attached to one end. These are tied to snags and trees along a streambank so that the hook dangles three or four inches below the water. A big chunk of tough meat is an ideal turtle bait.

Turtle traps work on the same principle as a minnow trap, a funnel leads the quarry into the trap. Traps are also baited with either meat or fish. Mesh sizes of turtle traps must not be smaller than four inches on a side to comply with state regulations.

Block Floats Work

The newest idea in the ancient art of turtle soup making, is to use floating blocks of wood, a short line and hook. This gear is easy to make, and is ideal for catching turtles in farm ponds. You simply bait up your blocks, and toss them in a pond. They float around willy-nilly as wind changes, and pretty well fish an entire pond in the course of a couple of nights. A 12-inch length of two-by-four makes the proper sized float, and if you catch a turtle you will find the block up close to the shore. A hooked turtle returns home.

Very soon after farm ponds were common on central Ohio farmlands, fishermen began helping with pond management by catching bluegills and bass. Turtles are another by-product of ponds, but few are ever harvested. It has been largely a matter of the owner not taking time to build a trap, and not wanting to feel for turtles. Floating lines have changed this—they are easy to make, and they catch turtles.

Good Fried Or In Soup

The next step, how do you dress, or should it be undress, a turtle? The first thing is to separate the bottom shell from the top shell and from the body of the turtle. This is after the turtle has been killed, of course. Then you remove the four legs, neck and tail, which are skinned. That's all there is to it—the meat is usually soaked in a salt or vinegar solution overnight. Turtles weighing under 10 pounds are very excellent eating when fried—brown the pieces like chicken and then add a little water and cook in the oven until tender.

Making turtle soup is a personal thing; something that I would not try to dictate. The best soup seems to be made by cooks when they are in a creative mood—when they bring together combinations of vegetables and spices that could never be duplicated.

There is not even a definite length of time to cook turtle soup. A few mouldy characters I know claim it is best simmered on a wood cook stove in a northern fishing camp. After it has aged for a week, and has been warmed up six times something magical happens that makes turtle soup the best thing a man could ever eat.

A CATCH!—Al Steffen, Route 1, Galloway, lifts a snapping turtle from his lair under an old stump in a farm pond. Turtles are a by-product of small ponds that few people realize exist. Note the block of wood and short length of cord that caught this snapper.

"Women's hats are all different because no one likes to make the same mistake twice."

Carolyn Upperman, Don Willie Wed July 18 At Burgess Ave. EUB Church

Fern, palm and gladiolus decorated the altar of the Burgess Avenue EUB Church on Saturday, July 18 as Rev. Irwin H. Lane read the double-ring ceremony of Miss Carolyn Upperman and Don Willie at 6:30 p.m.

Miss Upperman is the daughter of Mrs. Roy Upperman, 650 Wiltshire-rd. Mr. Willie is the son of Norman Willie of Los Angeles, Calif.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white embroidered organdy and carried a bouquet of multi-colored gladioli. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William Hollowell.

Brother-in-law of the bride, William Hollowell, served as best man. Frank Might, uncle of the bride, gave her away.

A reception was held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony.

The former Miss Upperman is a graduate of West High School and is employed by Glen Falls Insurance Company.

Mr. Willie is also a graduate of West High School and is associated with Jennings-Lawrence.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls the couple is at home at 1966 Vaughn-av.

THE WELCOME MAT IS ALWAYS OUT

Let's talk about

YOUR HOME

Your home stands for comfort, security and your particular way of life. You have protected it against loss by fire and its furnishings against loss by theft. But just as important, have you protected it for your family in case you should die prematurely? You will want to be sure that your wife and children continue to live in their own home among their own friends and neighbors. Life insurance can protect your home against an outstanding mortgage. Sun Life's Mortgage Protection Policy might just be the perfect solution to a very important problem.

I'm sure I can be of service. Why not give me a call? You will be under no obligation.

From The Top O' The Hill
By Betty Gott

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Meeks and son Jerry, 2087 Frank-rd, just returned from a three-week vacation in Wallawalla, Wash., visiting their daughter, Mrs. Albert Wolblet and family.

Friends and neighbors will be glad to hear that the John R. Trickey family, 288 Demorest-av, left Yellowstone Park on Saturday prior to the earthquake and are safe and sound.

Mrs. W. F. Merry, 201 S. Sylvan-av, has quite a mystery growing in her back yard. Among her sunflowers is a 10 foot, 7 inch plant bearing a face for each leaf, 13 of them altogether.

Mrs. Merry says that she has recently read in a magazine that the Jerusalem Artichoke, derived from the sunflower, has these characteristics and is most valuable for food. You might stop in and tell her what your opinion is concerning the identity of this strange plant.

Miss Helen L. Wood, 386 S. Chase-av, attended the Great Lakes District meeting of the National Secretaries Association at Lincoln Lodge, Saturday, Aug. 22. Key speaker at the all-day meeting was Atty. Arthur E. Reilly.

Mrs. P. E. Todd, 2763 Regina, is presently spending a short time in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Sally Morgan is convalescing at home. She and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Evan Morgan, would like to thank all their friends for their many expressions of interest.

Two other localites reported safe after the shake-up in Yellowstone Park are JoAnn Recob, 20 of 150 Powhatan-av and Marietta Morgan, 20 of 749 S. Richardson-av. These girls are employees of the Old Faithful Campers Cabins in the federal park.

AFTER . . . lands on the edge of the drink. Her husband retrieves the ball for a second shot. The lake is 115 yards across, leaving not much room for a bad shot.

BEFORE—Mrs. Mary Rothhaar tees-off across the lake at the 17th hole at Wee Bonnie and . . .

HOOT, MON!

Wee Bonnie Opens, 'Tee-Time' Begins

Aye, laddies and lassies, 'tis time for the wearing of the plaid on the green—golf course green, that is.

A new par 3 layout, the Wee Bonnie Golf Course, located at 1430 Demorest-rd, opened to the public several days ago.

Built by Ed Tonti and E. O. Gifford, Oakhurst Country Club contractors, the facility is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Marv Rothhaar. The name is, naturally, of Scotch derivation.

Shortest hole is 85 yards from tee to green. The longest is the number 12, a 200 yard walk.

For golfers contemplating number 17, let it be said that the lake is 115 yards across onto a banked green.

The entire golf course area is 68 acres and is 2315 yards long.

Rothhaar says that it takes approximately an hour and a half to play, normally the time for a nine-hole course.

"It takes less time to play than a normal 18-holer," he said. "In addition, it is a good course for all types of golfers, from beginner to advanced."

Most of the course, he added, can be played with irons.

Course play opens at 6:30 every morning and continues to sundown.

Next year, a driving range will be installed, according to Rothhaar.

Education Emphasized By Adventists

Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church, 26 N. Twenty-first-st, will hold a special Educational Day on Saturday, Aug. 29.

The purpose of the day is to acquaint the people with the church's responsibility for a well-balanced education for its youth.

Pastor L. F. Kagels pointed out that the business of educating its youth occupies over one-fourth of the denomination's attention.

Other interests of the church include medical, welfare, evangelistic and publishing.

Seventh-day Adventist Schools like those operated in Columbus and Worthington provide much the same curriculum as public schools with the addition of Bible subjects.

An enrollment of 30 is expected this year at the grade school at 1599 Union-av, operated by the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mrs. Harvey Kinkead, will teach grades one through four and Mrs. Robert Daniels will be the teacher of grades five through eight.

Educational Day will feature a sermon by Pastor Kagels and a special offering will be taken up for the Oakwood College in Huntsville, Ala. All the churches in the Seventh-day Adventist faith in the U.S. and Canada help support this negro college.

Grandpa Hodges told Gram he was goin' for a walk, he said if I don't come back don't wait for me.

Awards Night Will Honor Sunshine Junior Jet Leagues

The Sunshine Junior Jets, sponsored by the Police Athletic Association in cooperation with the Columbus Recreation Department, has ended another successful season of competition and will climax its summer with a special night at the park Thursday, Aug. 27.

All players from both leagues will be guests of Sunshine and the police at a program which starts at 6 p.m. World Series movies will be shown and awards will be presented to all players.

The White Sox of the American League swept the league championship under the tutelage of John Krause and Herb Lamprecht. In the "older" National League, the Reds whipped the Dodgers 4-3, for the league title. The single-elimination tournament for the National League teams was won by Lee Gray's Pirates.

An All-Star team was chosen from among the National League players. The hand-picked squad, which consists of two players from each of the seven league teams, met the Linden All-Stars under the lights at Sunshine Monday night.

TO GERMANY

FINISHES FURLOUGH—Pvt. John L. Davis, 34 N. Sylvan-av, this Wednesday ended a two-week furlough prior to reassignment to a post at Bamburg, Germany for two and a half years. He has just finished basic training with Co. B, Second Battle Group, Ninth Infantry, Ft. Benning, Ga. A member of the 1958 graduating class of West High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Davis.

At Westgate . . .

Westgate's entries in the big Junior Olympics at the OSU track last Saturday brought home nine points for place . . . a good finish when compared with other playgrounds.

Dave Smith took third in the 880-yard run while the girls' 220-yd. relay team took a fourth in the 13-13 year old grouping. On the team were Marialice Schmitt, Toby Henderson, Marcia Richter and Pam Miller. In the girls' 200-yd. shuttle relay for age 11 and under, the Westgate squad took fifth. On it was Cindy Spangler, Linda Rittenhouse, Peggy Patton and Lisa Richter.

When it comes to gittin' things some fellers sure have the taken lque.

KIWANIANS GIVE PICNIC FOR PATIENTS

LOCAL DEATHS

WILLIAM H. GIBBON

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the Schoedinger Hilltop Chapel for William H. Gibbon, 61, of 124 S. Southampton. Gibbon died Monday at his residence.

Mr. Gibbon was owner of Gibbon's Market, 680 N. High-st, and a member of Shawnee Lodge, F&AM, New Lexington Commandery 57, Knights Templar.

Surviving are his wife, Bertha R.; son, William Ross Gibbon, of Bowling Green, O.; sister, Mrs. Ellen Gibbon Williams; two grandchildren.

Burial will be in Sunset Cemetery.

MATTIE WORTHINGTON

Services are to be held Thursday morning at Schoedinger Hilltop Chapel for Mattie Worthington, 90, who died Tuesday at her home, 130 Highland-av.

She is survived by two daughters, Anah and Mrs. Pearl Lyon; son, Louis; three grandchildren; two great-grandchildren.

Interment will be in Jenkins Cemetery.

WILLIAM H. CUSHING

Service for William Harvey Cushing, 88, former local resident, was held Wednesday morning at the Masonic Home, Springfield.

Mr. Cushing was a member of Glenwood Methodist church and the Masonic lodge of Logan.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Happie Cushing Whitmore of San Rafael, Calif, and several nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Sunset cemetery. Dr. Joseph Shellhaas officiated.

Playground News

At Hauntz . . .

The 1959 summer playground season will end this Friday evening at Hauntz Playground at 8 p.m. Many enjoyable moments were spent at the park during the summer.

Children from Hauntz were awarded certificates of achievement in the following activities: first place in the Lantern Parade (Dumbo, the elephant and the circus), 13th in the city track meet, West Section Junior Boys' champion horseshoe player, and first place winners of the Junior Girls' Softball League.

Twelve children from Hauntz Playground participated in the citywide pageant at Central High on Aug. 20. The group did the dance, "Can-Can." Colorfully costumed in can-can dress were Sue Hennick, Penny Myers, Karen Bishop, Rachel Gallentine, Sandy Weisenberger, Sandy Ruzicka, Sue Poly, Brenda and Barbara McCatherine, Barbara Hart and Donna Edwards. Dressed as a clown was Jim Case.

Thanks to the managers and coaches: Bob Fox, Harry Ventis, Bob Ventala, Bill Davies, Jack Logue, Joe Dabas, Mr. Nolan and Mr. Ellis.

At Sunshine . . .

Sunshine's contribution to the Playground Pageant at Central High School, 12 beautiful girls doing an Egyptian dance, drew much applause during the entire performance.

The girls, dressed in lavish purple and gold costumes, danced in a precis ion line of intricate movements and uniform

Hi-Fi Dance Friday

The last of the Hi-Fi dances, sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department and Coca-Cola, will be held at Sunshine Recreation Center Friday, Aug. 28 from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The Hi-Fi Queen will be selected to compete with five other queens from Beatty, Linden, Schiller and Whetstone Recreation Centers on Sept. 4 at Whetstone.

At Glenwood . . .

In the Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet at OSU, five girls entered the softball throw, the 50 yard dash and the 220 yard shuttle relay. They were: Martha Boyhan, Judy Davis, Donna Butler, Beverly Wood, Sandy Wood.

In all 30 boys and girls from Glenwood center participated in the track meet.

John Pulling captured third place in the softball throw for boys 11 and under.

Fifteen boys from Glenwood ran the torch from City Hall along High-st, to the OSU football stadium. Each carried the torch three blocks. They were: Ernest Starks, Stanley Foster, Hubert Robertson, Keith Creamer, Richard Moore, Virgil Starks, Jim Bell, Bill Ayers, Glenn Foster, John Pullins, Henry Lee Butcher, Gary Hartzell, Billy Prillerman, John Moore, and Jeff Creamer.

At West Mound . . .

About 16 boys, ages 13 to 19, have been hard at practice every evening in preparation for the coming football season. Their coach, Jim Snyder, has received some of the money needed to sponsor the team from Schulze's Super Market, however, much more is needed for shoes, trousers and the fee to enter the league. Those interested in sponsoring this team should contact Jim Snyder at BR. 4-4402.

At Holton . . .

Holton played two softball games last week. Intermediate boys won from Westgate by forfeit and the Intermediate girls were defeated by Sullivant Gardens. Final softball standings at Holton are:

	W.	L.
Junior boys	5	1
Intermediate boys	7	1
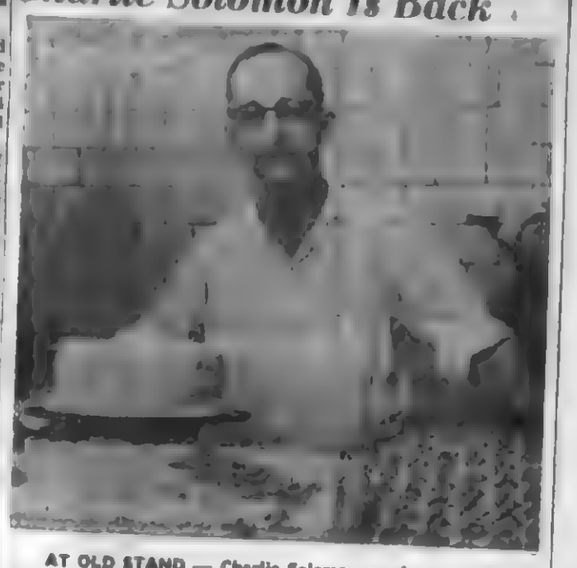
Intermediate girls	3	3



Intermediate Girls softball team finished their games last Friday night with a pizza party at Caruso's. Later they went to a teammate Georgia Hagy's house for a slumber party.

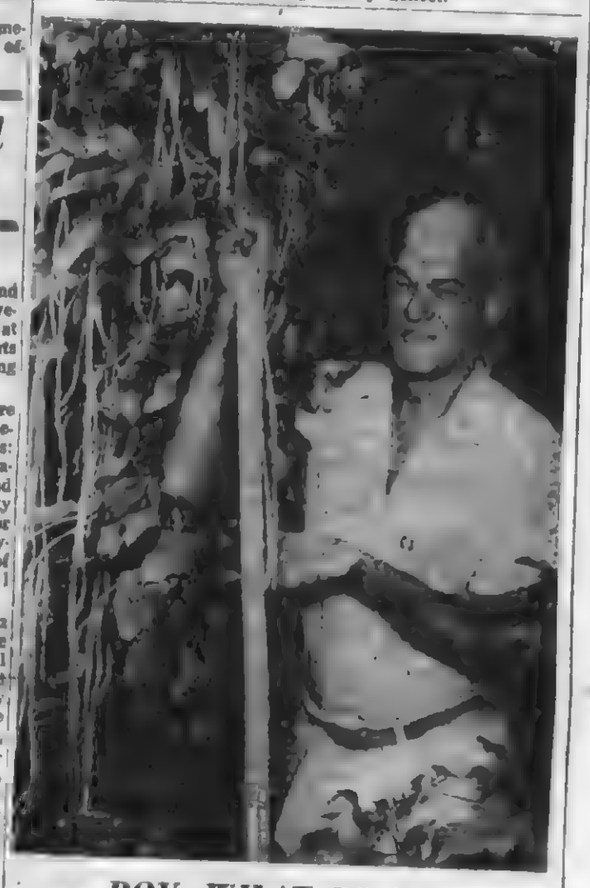
At Dana . . .

Beautiful weather helped the Junior Olympics track and field meet at OSU stadium last Saturday. Those who participated from Dana were: Marvin and Wilbert Ivory, Gary Johnson, and Omar Cordial. Omar took first place in his heat in the 100-yard dash.

Many of the Dana youngsters have acquired new skills during the summer. Outstanding in their fields: Bob Simpson at weight-lifting; Bill Chamberlain and Leslie McGuire at horseshoes; Paulette McCann on the horizontal bars; Jerry and Zeke Humphrey, Marvin and Wilbert Ivory and Monica Lanz at tumbling; and on the jumping rope, Mary Lou and Donna Jean Jarvis, Carol Sue Lanthorn, Jack Nicholson, Bill Chamberlain and Dick Bergman get the top honors for progress, and Gloria Kimbar is the champion at Double Dutch.

Sapp's Store Complete Now, Charlie Solomon Is Back

AT OLD STAND — Charlie Solomon on the job at Sapp's IGA Super Market.

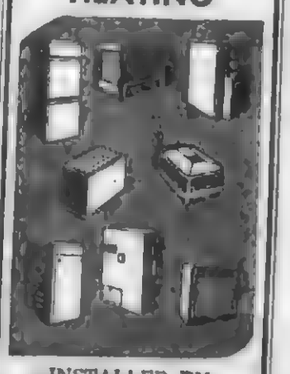


Folks who shop the IGA store at 2976 W. Broad-st are seeing a familiar face again behind the bakery counter.

When Harley Sapp returned to management of the store this summer after an absence of 10 months he figured things weren't right without Charlie Solomon around. They'd been together 12 years . . . and Charlie's been at the stand since the store opened in 1947. He came back six weeks ago.

Actually, he's been satisfying the sweet-tooth crowd on the Hilltop since 1940 when he joined Ray Hauntz at Powell-av and Broad-st. He and Mrs. Solomon commute 40 miles a day from their 40-acre farm near Pickerington. But they count most of their friends on the Hilltop.

A baker 35 years, Charlie confidently turns out hundreds of pies, cookies and fancy wedding and party cakes every day in the back room of the store.



Then on Sundays he teaches Sunday School.

BOY, WHAT BEANS!

STRANGE HARVEST—Weird things are happening in Jack Holt's backyard at 220 Binns-blvd. What looks like spaghetti growing on vines is really a crop of yard-long beans. These babies are only 22 inches long. He also has 30 hibiscus—common to the tropics—in the blossoming stage. Jack enjoys growing the surprises from seeds ordered by mail.

Westlake Proves Early City-Wide Mayoralty Poll Favorite

With all voting wards accounted for, Republican candidate W. Ralston Westlake looms as the best man to beat in the Columbus mayoralty race coming this November.

During all five weeks of the Hartley Newspaper survey, Westlake has maintained an average lead of 15 percentage points over Democrat incumbent M. E. Sensenbrenner. This week's results, reflecting all city wards, is no different.

Westlake	43.3%
Sensenbrenner	27.9%
Undecided	28.8%
Total	100 %

This represents only a minor change over the figures in the first week of the poll. Perhaps the most significant change is the increase in the number of undecided voters. Here's how things looked five weeks ago when the survey was started:

Westlake	47.0%
Sensenbrenner	32.7%
Undecided	20.3%
Total	100 %

Because of the high number of undecided votes, the Hartley Newspaper Mayoralty Poll will be discontinued for several weeks while the political stew simmers. A further sample will be taken closer to the election date to find out if there has been any switch in public opinion

Broken down by wards, challenger Westlake holds a 16-4 edge over the Mayor with 10 wards undecided. Westlake holds slim edges in eight of the 10 uncommitted wards. Both candidates fare equally well in three additional wards.

These wards, carried Sensenbrenner in the 1955 election, show signs of swinging to Westlake:

SECOND — Traditionally Democratic South Side ward bounded by the Scioto River and 18th-st on the west and east and Thurman-av and Livingston-av on the south and north respectively

FIFTH — Near East Side ward south of Broad-st between Wilson-av and Bexley.

NINTH — Near West Side ward taking in the area between Princeton-av and the river.

11TH — Located on the Hilltop, represents the area south of Sullivant-av between Belvidere-av and the old Sullivant Avenue Airport.

17TH — North Side ward generally located around the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

30TH — Near East Side ward along Mt. Vernon-av located between Lexington-av and Wilson-av.

31ST — A Hilltop ward located between Clarendon-

Poodles Find Homes

The Ralph Emersons, 2263 Shewsbury-rd, found a ready market for their fancy Black Miniature Poodles after advertising them in Hartley Newspapers. "We found homes for all our puppies and could have sold many more," said Mrs. Emerson. Classified Ads have a high success rate. Just call BR. 4-1155.

Geysers More Active

The many fine comments on my recent series of stories about our trip through the west causes me to pass on this bit of information just received from an aunt in California:

Old Faithful at Yellowstone is still on schedule but the recent earthquake has apparently changed the pace for many of the geysers.

Economic Geyser, still for half a hundred years, has started up again. Giantess Geyser, formerly erupting about three or four times a season is now constantly on the go.

And Grand Geyser, larger than Old Faithful, normally erupted every nine hours and now has practically ceased.

Even the Paint Pots have increased their activity and one appears to be working toward the parking lot.

Pre-Fall Notes:

Mable Bukey has a parakeet who has refused to talk but now after they bought a toy Manchester dog who barks, the parakeet also barks . . . The Paul Lugger family is scheduled to be increased on Friday of this week . . . Bill Terry, for something years a member of the local Associated Press staff, is a new addition on the Hartley Newspapers editorial and promotion staff. He lives on S. Westgate-av, back at his old stand, after several months sojourn in Hawaii . . . Dennis Woodruff of the Hilliard FFA was the recipient of the annual calf award by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at the Franklin County Fair recently . . . Sapp's Market out at Binns and Broad, a newcomer to the IGA group, is now advertising in this paper with the IGA boys . . . E. R. McClain of 241 Letchworth, announces an addition to his building at Grandview and Dublin-rd, with some 7000 feet of floor space added to Kersker Advertising Agency facilities . . . The Biddle boys, Clark and Jack, recently flew to Newark to a Kiwanis gathering and figure that they saved all of 11½ minutes time over auto driving direct . . . On a recent fishing expedition up around the French River, I served as guide for Dr. R. J. Miller in an effort to show him where the big ones are. When lunch time came and I discovered I had failed to bring along a skillet, I fried the fish in a minnow bucket. It was a delicious meal. I tell the story here before it gets out of hand through his telling . . . Mrs. John Roman says she is from Turtle Creek, Pa., "and proud of it" . . .

Schools Set For Record High Enrollment

NEW ELEMENTARY—Georgian Heights School, 784 Georgian Heights-av, is among seven new buildings added to the Columbus School System this fall. Built at a cost of $180,801, the elementary will house 300 students. Although not completely finished, the building is ready for occupancy and will be opened Sept. 9. (More pictures on page 13)

TUNNEL READY—Finished just in time for the opening of school is this $25,000 pedestrian tunnel under the railroad just north of the Huron-av deadend. The 124-foot passage is fully lighted and will be supervised by school custodians during busy hours. Maintenance will be directed by the city. The tunnel is designed to give safe access to Westmoor and Valleyview schools, and the new YMCA branch going up along Valleyview-dr. Pictured is the south approach as a New York Central passenger train enters from the left. The sign cautions youngsters to walk their bikes through the tube.

Two More Buildings Join System Next Week

By Betty Daft

School doors will swing wide next Wednesday, Sept. 9, to admit an expected enrollment big enough to make the Columbus Public School System the second largest in Ohio.

Total enrollments are estimated to reach nearly 80,000 as compared to 75,884 when the school census was taken last October.

Seven new buildings, to be opened for the first time next Wednesday, bring the total operated by the Columbus Board of Education to 121. In addition, an eight-room annex is being constructed to the old Main Street Elementary School.

School bells will ring for elementary students at 8:45 a.m., with the tardy bell sounding at 9 a.m. Junior and senior highs open at 8:30 with tardy-time set at 8:45.

Pupils will report for half-day sessions Wednesday, with the first full day of school set for Thursday, Sept. 10.

Kindergarten students will not report until Monday, Sept. 14.

EVENING HIGH

Evening High School, operated at Central Hi School building, will register former students Thursday, Sept. 10, 7 to

Wilson Is Appointed To New School Job

Howard F. Wilson

Appointment of Howard F. Wilson of 89 Powhatan-av, to the newly-created post of coordinator of student activities at West High School is announced by Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of schools.

Wilson's appointment is effective immediately.

West and North High are the only high schools in the city to start the school year with such a staff member. Coordinators will be appointed at the city's other six high schools in the future.

Discussing the post, Eibling said, "In addition to regular classroom studies, senior high pupils—by virtue of their maturity — deserve a reasonable program of wholesome social and special-interest activities

"The coordinator will provide leadership for such activities."

Establishment of the positions at senior highs was included in the 12-point improvement program submitted to voters last November.

Wilson, a member of West's faculty since last January, previously served as assistant attorney general to the State of Ohio for two years

He joined the school system in 1945, taught at Roosevelt Junior High for one year, and at Mound and Mohawk Junior Highs for 11 years before requesting a leave of absence to fill the state post.

Wilson holds degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science from Ohio State University, bachelor of law from Franklin University, and is rated as having completed the equivalent of a master's degree at OSU.

A lifelong Hilltopper, he is a member of West Franklin Kiwanis Club and Hilltop Business Association.

He will continue to teach one class in commercial law at West.

Dr. Eibling and Robert Darrow, principal of West, outlined his specific responsibilities in a nine-point program.

- Work closely with school student council and organizations on recreational activities.
- Coordinate assembly activities.
- Maintain an office-clearing house for plans of all school organizations.
- Help pupils organize new groups and activities, "when the need and desire is evident."
- Assume leadership in working with faculty sponsors and student leaders in planning social events.
- Serve in liaison capacity in school-community relationships.
- Coordinate publicity releases for news media.
- Coordinate scheduling of school facilities for special activities and scheduling of study trips.
- Be available to help any school organization at its request

Diocese Sets Opening Date For Schools

Parochial elementary schools in the Columbus Diocese will begin their school year Wednesday, Sept. 9, with secondary schools scheduled to open Thursday, Sept. 10, and St. Mary of the Springs Academy on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

An enrollment of 24,883 students has been registered in the diocese's 61 elementary schools for an increase of 1,604 over last year, and 6,195 in high schools. Last year's high school registration was 630 fewer.

St. Cecilia Parish will open the first and second grades of its new elementary school, and St. Philip the Apostle School will admit students in grades one through four this fall.

Faculty members started school preparation for the year on Aug. 27, with a health workshop.

Principals and teachers will meet Wednesday, Sept. 2 and Thursday, Sept. 3, for further planning.

A school lunch workshop is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12.

Bids Given On Big Run Sewer Job

Big Run sanitary sewer, destined to dry up many West Side and Hilltop drainage problems, moved closer to reality this week.

Bids on Phase I (to be built from the Jackson-pk treatment plant to Gantz-rd) were opened Tuesday and the apparent low bidder was Complete General Construction Co., 1221 W. Fifth-av. Complete's figures of $787,750 was $274 less than a competitor, Cenci Excavating Co.

City council will probably award the contract when it resumes from vacation Sept. 14 The work is to begin within 10 days after that and be completed at least 240 calendar days after starting. Most of the easements have been secured.

Bids of Phase II, extending north along Highland-av to Palmetto-st, are to be received by the city about Oct. 6.

Other bids on Phase I were: Cenci Excavating, $787,974; Haddad Construction Co., $858,000; Sheaf Construction Co., $906,800; Thompson Conle Co., $938,250; Christopher Construction Co., $978,250; and Sinacola Construction Co., $1,040,740.

Holiday Brings Early Deadlines

Everyone else gets a day off on Labor Day, so the staff of Hartley Newspapers will also take a one-day vacation next Monday.

Because of this, editorial and picture deadlines for all papers with the exception of the Eastern Review have been advanced one day. All club and organization news for the six other newspapers must be submitted by 12 noon Saturday.

Classified advertising deadlines will remain the same: Tuesday at 10 a.m. for the Rural-Urban News; Tuesday at 12 noon for Hilltop Record, West Side News and South Side Leader, and 12 noon Wednesday for the Eastern Review.

Westmoor To Receive First Student Enrollment Sept. 9

Students will enter Westmoor Junior High School for the first time next Wednesday.

Seventh and eighth graders will attend the new facility at 3001 Valleyview-dr this year, and the school will be in full operation as a three-year junior high next year.

Seventh grade students will assemble in the school auditorium on the first day of school to receive their homeroom assignments.

Eighth graders coming from West High have been given their homeroom numbers, and should go directly to their rooms.

Those who may have forgotten their assignments are directed as follows: students registered in Room Two at West should report to Room 403 at Westmoor; Room 134 at West to 211 at Westmoor, Room 150A to 212; Room 150B to 213.

Room 219 to 404; Room 234 to 200; Room 235 to 210; Room 243 to 214; Room 302 to 304, and Room 305 to 402.

The tunnel at the north end of Huron-av, leading under the railroad, is also completed and ready for use. The passage is well lighted, and will be under supervision by school custodians during the hours used by youngsters.

Students will be required to walk, rather than ride, their bicycles through the tunnel as an added safety measure.

School buses will pick up all pupils living south of Sullivant-av and west of Demorest. Parents may call the school, BR. 9-

Ullman's Future Status Undecided By Board

By Bill Rush

V. J. Ullman is still "acting superintendent" of the South-Western City School District.

And he'll probably retain that title for at least the next three months.

That's how long board members estimated Friday night it would take to draft policies and set the procedure for hiring the district's first full-time superintendent.

Whether or not Ullman will be superintendent after that remains a big question. Nothing was done at the meeting to discredit the report in last week's edition of the Rural-Urban News that the district will look for a new man as its superintendent.

Alarmed last week, supporters of the district's "acting superintendent" turned out in force at the meeting. The board of education, with president Clyde Crandall doing most of the talking, listened to their questions and supplied a few answers. Members made no committments.

Several petitions containing signatures of persons supporting Ullman were ignored by the board.

One thing was made clear. When the board hires a superintendent, they will be convinced that he ranks among the top educators in the state.

As board president Crandall put it:

"The South-Western City School District ranks among the top 10 in size in the state. If we rank that high, we should operate as one of its leaders."

Board member Jack Kidwell made clear that the new superintendent would be hired on his merits when he said:

"I told Mr. Ullman this to his face several days ago. Whatever I do will be done without any personal feeling toward him. Anything, any action, any vote I have in the future will be in the best interest of the district regardless of personalities."

Although a good share of those present at the meeting were clearly standing on Ullman's defense, a fair number of his critics were also seated in the South-Western Central Office meeting room.

Among these were school board candidates C. M. Berry, Lawrence B. Cimin and E. Bruce Taylor. None of these men took occasion to deny statements printed in the Rural-Urban News last week.

Poll—

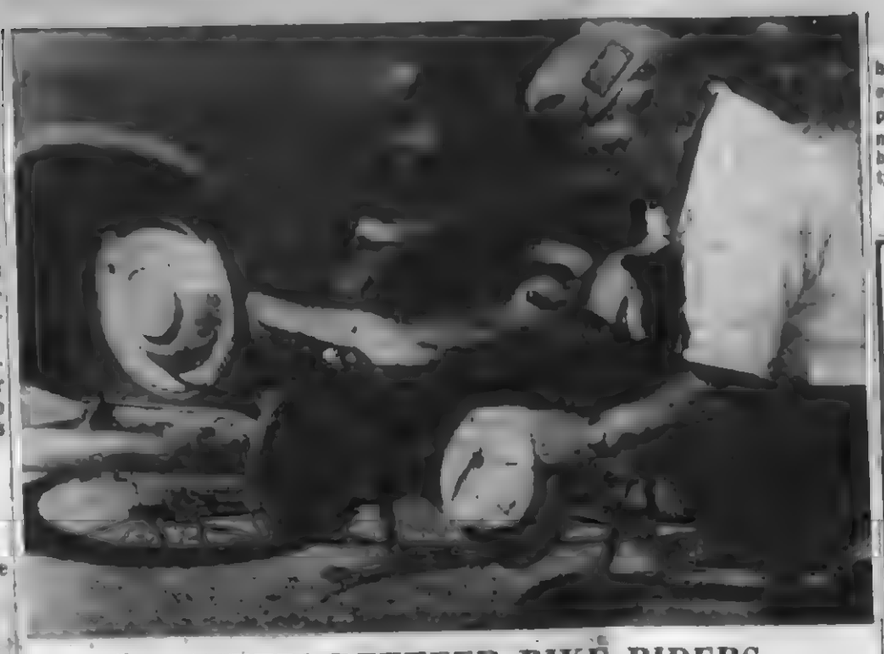
av and Hague-av bordered by Valleyview and Sullivant-av.

In addition to these areas, a strong Westlake movement is noted in the recently annexed Marion Township area which will figure in the voting for mayor the first time this fall.

Sensenbrenner's only gain seems to be in the usually Republican 20th ward on the North Side. This includes the area between Arcadia-av and Acton-rd running inside of Calumet-av and the Olentangy River in Clintonville.

In order to win this November, it is generally conceded that Sensenbrenner will have to capture a fair block of Republican votes. This he does not appear to be doing. Here's how those professing to be Republicans have cast their votes thus far:

Westlake	61.3%
Sensenbrenner	11.8%
Undecided	26.9%
Total	100 %



On the other hand, Westlake appears to have made a sizeable inroad on the Democratic vote:

Sensenbrenner	51.6%
Westlake	25.2%
Undecided	23.2%
Total	100 %

The independents also give Westlake more than a 2-1 edge although there is a high percentage of undecided votes:

Westlake	42.0%
Sensenbrenner	20.6%
Undecided	37.4%
Total	100 %

SUMMING IT UP — There has been only a slight change in the poll figures since the survey was begun five weeks ago. This seems only right. Neither candidate has made an all-out effort to capture votes. City Council has been adjourned and things are generally quiet on the political scene. It appears that if Sensenbrenner is going to win, he must soon launch a strong re-election campaign. Whether Westlake will campaign or try to quietly slip in also remains to be seen. Remember, there are still more than enough undecided votes to swing the balloting either way.

WANTED! BETTEER BIKE RIDERS

GRIM REMINDER—"This could be your boy's ball cap," points out Harry Marsh, youth chairman of Westway Post 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars in a staged situation emphasizing the need for bike safety in the coming school weeks. Commander Otis R. Lowe said the post will again undertake a safety campaign for young cyclists, under the direction of Deputy Earl Smith of the Franklin County Sheriff's department. Youngsters are invited to a 10 a.m. program Saturday, Sept. 5, at the post home, 852 Clarendon-av. There will be free pop and candy. A bicycle rodeo will be held at 10 a.m. the following Saturday at West Broad Elementary School. Bike riders will be able to compete for prizes.

son, Norwood's offers all ages and all members of the family a series of rides tailor-made to please your enjoyment standards.

Teenagers and adults who'd like to go driving without giving a toot about the endless traffic jams will find Dodgems, one of the most popular of Norwood amusements, entirely to their liking. The electrically powered midget cars are equipped with sturdy bumpers so drivers can maneuver around the Dodgem enclosure without fear of dented fenders or injured pride.

Norwood's also features a special selection of rides especially paced for the wee folks, including the familiar carrousel, miniature train, airplane, fire engines, and many similar children's delights.

And best of all, every one will be running for only a nickel during Hartley Nickel Day, Sept. 12 at Norwood's Amusement Park.

Drive within a 25 percent range of the speed of traffic on an expressway. If most cars are doing 60, don't drop below 45. If traffic is moving at 40, maintain a minimum of 30 miles an hour, advises insurance authorities.

BIBLE COMMENT

Bible Holds Many Books Of Religion

There is great value in recognizing that the Bible has great passages, outstanding in interest and in moral and spiritual value, and in the effect that they have had on human life and conduct.

One of the most serious errors in reading the Bible is to treat it as if it were all one book. The conception of the Bible as the source of religious authority, as the voice of God speaking to man, verbally inspired, and uniform in every part, has led to citing of texts with little reference to their context or original reference.

But the worst aspect of this error was that it obscured the plain statement of the Bible itself. For the Christians, the life and words of Jesus have an authority beyond all else.

There are highlights of truth and authority in the Bible, a book of many books, coming out of various circumstances and conditions over a period of hundreds of years of time, that are not found in some other portions of the many books.

This does not mean that other portions of the Bible are lacking in authority and truth. But it does mean that many portions of the Bible are to be read and understood in relation to their own time.

The Bible in its many books is never so great, so interesting, and so rewarding as when we read it in the light of what it is.

Public Peek At Holly Hill Set Sunday

Six model homes at Holly Hill, a development of the Ernest G. Fritsche Co., will open to the public Sunday afternoon.

Located at the site of the former Sullivant Avenue Airport, the new planned community was officially opened in a ribbon cutting ceremony Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Michael V. DiSalle, wife of the governor.

The model [illegible] is laid out in a landscaped plaza, with paved walks running from home to home. Entrance to the area is under a huge marque, carrying out the builder's theme "Theater of Living."

All model homes are completely furnished and range in style from a basementless home to a "split level." All other ranch styles are with full basement, and many have attached garage or carport. Prices start at $13,800.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estella B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Meats and Poultry—Pork loins, bacon, chuck roasts, fryers, medium eggs.

Vegetables—Green beans, lima beans, potatoes, squash, peppers, eggplant, tomatoes.

Fruits—Melons, apples, peaches, grapes, bananas.

MORE PORK IN AUTUMN MONTHS

What's ahead at the meat counter? Marketing specialists say you will find slightly greater supplies of meat available the remainder of this year. Pork will provide most of the increase. Some increases are expected in beef and lamb, too. This situation may mean a little break for you at the cash register.

Pork prices have already dropped some and will probably decline seasonally this fall. Hog production is on the upswing. Twelve per cent more pigs were saved this spring than in the spring of 1958, and producers intend to increase farrowings again this fall. Consequently, pork supplies will increase further and pork will probably be a "good buy" for at least the next 12 months.

Beef—While beef supplies are running about the same, or maybe a little greater than last year, population increases are such that there is actually about the same amount of beef per person. Marketing experts say production of higher grades of beef will continue somewhat above last year. In other words, the proportion of better quality beef in retail counters will be higher.

Veal supplies may be even lower since farmers are holding young stock back for further feeding and to add to breeding herds.

Supplies of lamb, on the other hand, will probably run ahead of a year ago for the next few months. You'll likely buy lamb, during the next few months, for less than you paid for spring lamb in May.

LOCAL FRUITS, VEGETABLES

Recent hot, dry weather conditions have brought about an uncertainty as to current and near future supplies of fresh local grown produce. This we know—harvest dates are earlier and quality, generally, is variable.

Quality of peaches will likely be quite variable with poor peaches very seasonably priced, but good quality ones at a premium. So you will need to buy carefully, especially those you freeze or can. Look for peaches that are fairly firm with background color cream-white to yellow.

There are plenty of tomatoes available for canning and juice making. There'll be plenty of sweet corn until frost. Quality is varied as are prices. You can expect to find yellow spots (sunburn) on many tomatoes, caused by the intense heat.

West Side Group Hopeful Of Forming Bearcat Team

West Columbus has the makings of another red hot Bearcat football team.

That's the word from a couple near West Side adults who are hoping to recruit some of the area's top talent in the next few weeks in time to get into the league's coming schedule. The men are George Latimer, 893 W. Town-st, an employe of the Columbus Transit Co. and Carl Lemon of the Marimbo Club.

Already on the roster are some 20 players, under 15 years of age and weighing 120 pounds or less. They practice at 9 a.m. daily at West Park-av and Town-st.

Said Latimer: "We are looking for some strong backing from West Side merchants and parents in our new venture. We have no equipment—only some outgrown stuff which some of the boys themselves own. But, these boys have a whale of a lot of spirit and we hope to get a good team organized for them."

Latimer can be contacted at his home, CA. 1-5048.

Local Patrol Snares Teen Burglar Trio

Routing patrolling by the West Side special police led to the discovery of a break-in at Grashel's filling station, 2565 W. Broad-st, Aug. 25 and arrest of three young veteran troublemakers. The trio had had a busy night.

At 4:25 a.m., Officer Charles McCloud spotted a smashed window in the lube room. He radioed for help and Special Patrolman Carl Noble and a city policeman answered. They entered the station and found two teenagers hiding under a desk and a third concealed in a roll of tires. All coin machines were broken open.

Taken at gunpoint the youths confessed to four other burglaries that night—the West Side Grill, 219 Skidmore-st; filling stations at Wayne and Sullivant and 2145 W. Mound-st; and at Lazarus' parking garage. They later admitted to 25 recent burglaries and 10 car thefts.

When apprehended Tuesday the trio carried $56 in coins. They denied having a car, but later Officer Noble found one a block away on Burgess-av, its motor running and radiator boiling. Later checks showed that the car was the property of a city policeman, Jesse Schnell, and was stolen from Children's Hospital lot.

The boys, residents of downtown areas, all have served time at Boys Industrial School for burglaries, Noble said.

NEWARK WOMAN WINS PRIZE FOR GLADDEN

CHRISTMAS IN AUGUST—A windfall of field and track equipment came to Gladden Community House this week—all because a Newark housewife has fond memories of happy hours spent there as a girl. Mrs. H. Damen (Gloria) Hoover, RFD 3, Newark, was one of 500 winners in a nation-wide Wheaties Sports Foundation idea contest, and she specified Gladden as her favorite youth agency. Mrs. Hoover, as a West High student in the early 1940's, worked parttime at the settlement for three years. Her love of children remains. She now helps raise welfare youngsters. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Celentine live at 737 Eureka-av.

HIGHLANDERS WIN CITY SOFTBALL TITLE

Fall Enrollment At Sunshine Will Start Early Next Week

Sunshine Recreation Center will begin fall enrollment of all classes and clubs Tuesday, Sept. 8.

All students who desire a new membership card should contact Janie Davisson at the center.

The following organizations will be formed: Boys Leaders club, Girls Leaders club, Junior Girls Leaders club, cooking classes, sewing classes, dramatics club, Junior, Intermediate and Senior boys and girls athletic clubs, arts and crafts, Golden Age club, Pre-Teen club, gymnastics and newspaper club.

YMCA Invites Adults To 'Be A Partner With Youth'

Theme of this year's Hilltop YMCA membership drive will be "Be a Partner With Youth," with "partner" memberships available at $10 each.

Purpose of this membership will be to add financial support to the "Y" program by providing funds to sponsor worthy children, and to purchase needed equipment.

Any person in the community may also sponsor youths at $2 each.

Regular youth memberships at $2, and adult memberships at $3, entitles anyone to the programs offered by the "Y."

Franklin Heights Falconettes Go Through Configurations

Over at Franklin Heights High School one day last week could be seen a group of strenuously active young ladies, 16 in number, gyrating through intricate marching pattern maneuvers. All are members of the gold and black "pompon" group known as the Falconettes.

Clad in short black skirts, topped by soft golden sweaters, they lifted their white stadium boots in cadence to commands issued by their captain, blonde-haired, diminutive Jody Whitsell.

"Counter march," the orders rang through the hot summer air. Flank movements, obliques and just plain learning to halt in the proper formation. There a few of the many movements the group was striving to dress up.

Determined Girls

When it comes to determination, these girls must be given an "A plus" for effort and stick-to-it-tive-ness. It wasn't easy, that first day. Their movements looked "rusty," as Jody put it.

"This is only our second year to perform with the band at football games," she said, "and after our summer lay-off, it may take a little while to get back into the groove."

During halftime ceremonies at the games, she and the 15 members of the Falconette flock go through a maze of marching maneuvers, waving black and gold pompons as they strut.

Members of the troupe include Jody, Janet Williams, Carol Richardson, Phyllis Spurlock, Patty Holzschuh, Gene Winters, Penny Goodwin, Karen McConnell, Barbara Price, Cheryl Larkin, Patty Alton, Carol Farrell, Jane, Carolyn and Carole Lombardi and Sandy

During the school year, the girls practice on their own two nights a week, two hours each night. Falconettes must maintain a "C" average.

In the event a practice is missed or a girl is absent from school the day of the game, they are ineligible to participate that week.

Inspiration for forming the group came from last year's band director Edward Riley, Jody related.

When it appeared that nothing could be done about it, she took up the challenge. When enough girls expressed interest, the "pompon" brigade was formed.

To Take Over

Janet Williams is slated to take over leadership of the group next year and Phyllis Spurlock the year after that. Six seniors, nine sophomores and eight juniors presently comprise the endeavoring marchers.

Jody hopes that the idea will spread, not only throughout Franklin Heights, (she eventually thinks that a group of 50 will fill out the formations very nicely) but to other schools.

She would like to see such a plan work and to have a battalion of short-skirted Falconettes swirl through formations.

Friday Meeting Planned By Post

Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion, will meet at the Post Home, 2211 W. Broad-st, Friday, Sept. 4, 8:15 p.m.

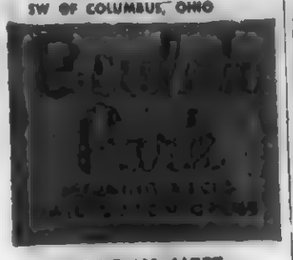
Net Catches Indicate Good Results

Central Ohio fishermen should be happy with recent trawling operations carried out on Hoover Reservoir, Delaware County, by Division of Wildlife personnel.

During the early part of August, Ray Riethmiller, fish management supervisor of 15 central and southern Ohio counties, reports numerous catch-of-the year walleyes, from five to six and one-half inches in length, taken in trawls from Hoover.



Riethmiller said this is good growth for fish less than three months old, which indicates they are getting ample food. Other walleyes, up to 21 inches, were also taken during the operation, then released.

"Apparently the reproduction of most species found in Hoover has been good this year, Riethmiller said. "The bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish showed up well and the hatch of gizzard shad was tremendous. Young shad provide a good share of the food supply for many species of fish."

Most of the walleyes were taken at about a 12-foot depth, just north of Red Bank Road, about mid-lake Riethmiller observed.

When shopping, look for tomatoes that are firm, but well-ripened to insure the best possible flavor. Try to get tomatoes that are uniformly, or evenly colored.

FISH FOR TWO FAMILIES

CONTEST COMPETITION—Beating the Sept. 7 deadline of the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Derby by little more than a week is this robust catch from down Mt. Sterling way. Dick Wilson, left, and Buck Lightle display the 21-pound shovelhead catfish which bit on Dick's hook last Friday in Deer Creek. At Bill's Bait store weigh station the cat measured 37¾ inches long—4½ inches between the eyes. A 15-pound monofilament line, baited with a chub minnow was his downfall. He's in two family freezers now.

Gals Invade Man's World Of Collecting Live Bait

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

"Some of these nightcrawlers will make the round trip from Canada to Columbus and back before they wind up on a fisherman's hook," Mrs. William Krack, 262 N. Central-av, told me as she showed a double handful of squirming worms.

"Mom" Krack operates most of the business at Bill's Baits, a bait store located in back of her home. Her husband Bill is not physically able to conduct the business, and the vendor's license is in "Mom" Krack's name. This makes her probably the only grandmother in the state running a bait store—she has three children and 18 grandchildren.

This is not the only unusual feature of the store—a daughter-in-law, Gail Krack, Lewis Center, helps collect bait at times. A cousin, Viola Werner, 862 Stimpfle-av, has also collected bait and can be found almost daily working in the store peeling out soft crawls, counting nightcrawlers and the like.

The most unlikely job in the world for a girl would be sorting out and boxing a dozen hellgrammites, but you can see it every day at Bill's Baits—it's all live, no flies. Here are three women who reach in tanks after minnows, soft crawls or hellgrammites as casually as most gals put their hands in dishwater.

The situation at Bill's Baits is a case where women have invaded a man's world and have done a good job of it. Fishermen do not mind buying bait from women, and, in fact, find it enough of a novelty to keep coming back.

Bait Called Bargain

Bill Krack started in the bait business nine years ago at the corner of Central and W. Broad. In 1953 he moved the store to the rear of his house, and has been there ever since. With his experience in the business he has some interesting observations about supplying bait to fishermen. He believes that anglers get a bargain when they buy live bait. Nightcrawlers sold for 20 cents a dozen more than 20 years ago and today the going price is 25 to 30 cents. Bill feels that bait prices are lagging in the inflation race. "This is why some bait dealers are having a tough time right now," Krack stated.

Another comment: fishermen "stampede" to bait stores to buy THE bait, and it is usually something new every year. This year artificial nightcrawlers are "hot." It appears that fish find them as irresistible as fishermen, for they have produced some fine stringers of bass and catfish. "Even though fads come and go in the artificial department, there will be a market for live bait as long as fishermen go fishing," Bill added.

Getting back to the nightcrawlers that come to Ohio for a visit, "Mom" Krack explained that they buy their worms at this time of year from wholesalers who get them in Canada. Then, many fishermen vacationing in Canada buy nightcrawlers here and take them north. There are few retail bait outlets in Canada even though the source of supply is nearby. It is difficult for anglers to purchase small quantities of bait in most of the north country where fishing is good. The Kracks buy their nightcrawlers from a man who imports half a million 'crawlers at a time.

In the spring when nightcrawlers are easiest to catch in this area, they buy a lot of worms from neighborhood youngsters. All in all Bill said they buy bait from 15 to 18 different collectors in the course of the year. The vast majority of minnows, hellgrammites and soft crawls come from "bait pickers" who collect bait seasonally as a profession. Some propagated minnows, however, are purchased in the spring during crappie fishing time.

Collect For Fun Of It

The women collectors go bait picking more for the fun involved than anything else. Tramping around streams, seining minnows and picking crawls at night would be far from sport for most gals, but squirming, wiggling "things" hold no fear for the Krack women.

Bill Krack recently returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he took the baths and did some fishing at two favorite lakes of mine. He fished Hamilton Lake and caught some big bass and went over to Ouachita for a couple of days and fished out of Spillway Landing, which is operated by my friend John Bono. The fishing in this area is little short of fabulous, according to Bill, and I can certainly vouch for the fine sport to be had there.

In a mechanical age the bait business is still a hand-labor operation. A lot of money has been spent in trying to mass-produce live bait—artificially producing soft crawls and the like, Bill Krack claims there is no known way of propagating night-crawlers. Earthworms can be raised but they are in short supply right now. Live bait is still regulated by nature, and it may always be so. But it's a fascinating business and one that is vital to fishing—if you want to know more about it, stop in and chat with the gals at Bill's Baits.

Autumn Signs Showing Up At Parks

Park goers are reporting splotches of red and yellow showing up in the foliage at the Columbus Metropolitan Parks. Poison ivy, that scourge of summertime fun, is turning a rich crimson color. Flowering dogwood is starting to turn pink. Once in a while an acorn will plunk down on the forest floor.

Autumn is an exciting time, when pawpaws ripen, and when purple ironweeds and bright yellow goldenrods are in full bloom. Many people in this area watch the march of the seasons in Blendon Woods and Blacklick Parks.

Grapevine Is Slow

The fishing grapevine apparently slows down about this time of year—we've just received word from Bill Bose at Clendenning Lake that Jack Artrip, 50 W. California, tangled with a nice catfish there. The "cat" weighed 8½ pounds, according to Bose.

Western Campers Return

Perhaps typical of the growing army of campers are the Art Cunninghams of 75 Darby-dr. With a tent trailer, new this year, the Cunninghams tackled a two-week camping vacation that took them 5,000 miles. Three days were spent at Yellowstone Park, and two days each at Grand Teton, Colorado Springs (Pike's Peak) and the Black Hills. No trouble was encountered on this "new" type of vacation. The camping area at the east gate of Yellowstone was full when the Cunninghams arrived, so they had to drive about 60 miles to the north gate. There was camping space available at all other parks where they stopped.

ROAD CLOSES

Franklin County Engineer Guy T. Elbin has announced that White-rd, between Hoover-rd and Rt. 104, will be closed until Dec. 1 to allow work in connection with the Southwest Freeway.

Miss Cosmina Pagura Is Saturday Bride Of Mr. Raymond Bedwell, Jr.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND TAYLOR BEDWELL, JR.

Arrangements of white mums decorated the main altar of St. Aloysius Church, and white gladioli with sweetheart roses the side altars, on Saturday, Aug. 30, for the marriage of Miss Cosmina Pagura and Mr. Raymond Taylor Bedwell, Jr.

The couple repeated their marriage vows before Rev. William F. Maloney in a high nuptial mass at 10 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Carl Pagura of 121 N. Terrace-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Taylor Bedwell of Cincinnati.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of clipped chantilly lace styled with long, tapering sleeves and a full circular skirt which extended into a chapel-length train.

A crown trimmed in sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses.

Miss Rosemary Perrini served as maid of honor, and Miss Jo-Anne Watson and Miss Dolores Gomez were bridesmaids.

They were gowned in sheath frocks of blue silk organza with pleated overskirts and matching Dior bows with circular veils. Each carried a Colonial arrangement of pink sweetheart roses with pink butterflies of nylon tulle.

Michele and Julie Pagura served as flower girls for their aunt. They wore frocks of white nylon with pink accents and carried miniature arrangements of the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Mr. John Piet Owdziej served as bestman and guests were seated by Mr. Frod David Paguar and Mr. Robert Pagura, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Pagura chose for her daughter's wedding a champagne beige lace gown with yellow-gold accessories and corsage of sweetheart roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pale green silk frock with white crystal accessories and a corsage of white camellias.

Wedding breakfast was served at Presutti's Villa and the reception was held at Lincoln Lodge.

The new Mrs. Bedwell was graduated from the University of Dayton and has completed graduate study in guidance at Ohio State University. She taught at John Burroughs and at Dana Avenue Schools.

Mrs. Bedwell will teach in the Whitefish Bay Public School in Whitefish Bay, Wis.

Mr. Bedwell was graduated from the University of Dayton and received a master's degree from Ohio State University. He has been doing doctoral studies at Ohio State University in radio and television.

He will be on the staff of the School of Speech of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis.

The couple is now at home in Milwaukee.

Mrs. George B. Weatherman of 895 Sullivant-av, who has been staff organist and Minister of Music at Camp Chesterfield, Ind., all of July and August is returning to her home and her music studio this week following the closing of the camp season.

Mrs. Weatherman was in charge of all musical programs, serving also as organist in a $100,000 spiritualist cathedral. She played for classes on the chapel organ and also broadcast her program on the Carillon Chimes. She also played in a big cafeteria during the noon and dinner hours.

More than 62,000 people visited the grounds. The season closed with one week of seminary and study.

Mrs. Weatherman is a member of the American Guild of Organists.

Mrs. Lewis Ross, 330 W. State-st, entertained little Frankie Morock, 329 W. State-st, with a garden party and dinner in celebration of his seventh birthday Saturday, Aug. 29.

Among guests were Mary Morock, Billie and Mary Cunningham, and Mrs. Ellene Gonoff. Another party was held at Frankie's home on Sunday afternoon. About 18 of his classmates from Holy Family School were present, as well as Peggy Fagan, Christie Fagan and Eddie Fagan from Reynoldsburg, and Mrs. Ross and her daughter, Mrs. Gonoff. . . Mr. and Mrs. Homer Richter, longtime Hilltoppers now residents of St. Rita, Fla., are visiting their daughters, Mrs. Helen Miller and Mrs. Jean Ruoff.

Mrs. Myrta W. Tway of 41 Eldon-av, former teacher in the South Western School District, returned home via United Air Lines from a month's visit with her son, Maj. Duane C. Tway, and family of the Air Force Academy in Colorado. Maj. Tway is a teacher of military history in the academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Beeman of 2009 Fogarty-av, Key West, Fla., announced the arrival of a son, born Aug. 29. The proud, first-time grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beeman of 2962 Fremont-st. . . . Three West High faculty members and their families completed a trailer caravan tour of the Western states, covering 8,500 miles in nearly two months. Making the trip were the O. D. Lehmans and five children of 635 Binns-blvd, the Clair Barnards and two children of 2939 Fremont-st and the Fred Heischmans with their three youngsters of 875 S. Hague-av.

Highlights included Grand Canyon, Mexico, California coast, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, Las Vegas, Great Salt Lake, Yellowstone, Colorado attractions and the Black Hills.

Mrs. Lewis Egelhoff, 246 S. Burgess-av, is home from the hospital on the mend after recent surgery . . . Mrs. John Kelly, 286 S. Burgess-av, is entertaining her father, Mr. Haines, on a visit here.

No honest work is too menial if your aspirations are high enough.

Janet Lorenzo, Clement Schoppelrei Exchange Marriage Vows, Saturday

St. Cecilia Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Janet Mae Lorenzo and Mr. Clement Schoppelrei, Saturday, Aug. 29. Rev. James H. Kimberly officiated at the nuptial mass before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Lorenzo of 3546 Alberta-st. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoppelrei of 1059 Sullivant-av.

The floor-length bridal gown of chantilly lace over tulle and satin, was designed with a square neckline outlined with pearls and iridescents. A matching lace headpiece held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried an arrangement of shattered white carnations centered with a white orchid corsage.

Miss Janet Schoppelrei, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor, and Miss Mary Lou Bricker and Miss Nancy Grote, as bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of lavender taffeta, designed with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. Matching feather headbands held veils of illusion and each carried an arm bouquet of pink and lavender carnations.

Mrs. Albert Schoppelrei of Worthington served as best man for his brother, and guests were seated by Cpl. Julio Lorenzo of the Marine Base in California, and Mr. Richard Lorenzo of Columbus, brothers of the bride.

Wedding breakfast and reception were held at the Desert Inn.

The new Mrs. Schoppelrei was graduated from West High School and is employed at W. T. Grant Co. Mr. Schoppelrei was graduated from Holy Family High School and is employed by Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2133 W. Broad-st.

Hilltop Ministers' Group Names New Officers

Rev. Gerald Koster

Rev. Gerald M. Koster, pastor of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, new president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association, will preside at the group's first fall meeting Monday, Sept. 14, 8:30 a.m. at Westgate EUB.

Plans will be discussed for the E. Stanley Jones Mission, to be conducted Sunday, Nov. 1 to Friday, Nov. 6.

Rev. C. T. Langhols, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, is the retiring president.

Other new officers of the group are Rev. Irvin H. Lane, pastor of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren, vice president, and Rev. Leonard E. Wines, pastor of Westgate Friends, secretary-treasurer.

Rev. Koster, beginning his fifth year at Hilltonia, is a member of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, vice chairman of the Protestant committee of scouting of the Columbus Area Council of Churches, and the Board of Christian Education of the Ohio Southeast Conference, Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Hoys Honored On Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hoy, 2550 W. Broad-st, celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary at their home on Monday, Aug. 24.

Those present at the gala affair were Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Hoy and family of Groveport, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Niday and family of Groveport and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Zarley and daughter, Margo Ann of Columbus. The Hoy's have one other son and family—Mr. and Mrs. John Hoy of Mansfield, who were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoy received many fine gifts after which refreshments were served by the children.

Mr and Mrs. Hoy are members of the Community Christian Church, Powell and Olive-sts, and Mr. Hoy is employed by the State of Ohio.

If you are right don't argue, if wrong keep still.

Merchandising Class In Second Year At West

After an exceptional first year which saw two pupils achieving top national honors, West High is embarking on the second year of distributive education training.

O. D. Lehman, teacher-coordinator, announced that a class of approximately 30 seniors has been lined up. The coordinator is visiting the cooperating merchants this week. He will be in his office daily from 9 to 10 a.m. however, to receive calls from other merchants interested in hiring one of the part-time students. Inquiries may be directed to Room 302 at West High, BR. 4-1197.

From Aug. 24 through 28 Lehman attended a statewide DE conference at Springfield.

Schools—

9 p.m. New students may register Monday, Sept. 14, 7 to 9 p.m.

Classes will begin Tuesday evening, Sept. 15.

Evening Vocational Trade Extension School will accept student registration in Room 1, Central High School, 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 16.

Classes will begin the week of Sept. 21.

All youngsters who have moved to Columbus, or changed school districts during the summer, are requested to register at their new buildings before school opens.

Staff members are on duty and will accept registrations at the schools any weekday from 9 a.m. until noon, and from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

NEW SCHOOLS

Among the seven new schools added to the Columbus system in Hartley Newspapers' area are Johnson Park Junior High School, 1130 Waverly-av, built at a cost of $1,265,287.75 to house 900 pupils.

Westmoor Junior High, 3015 Valleyview-dr, $1,196,285, 1000 pupils.

Georgian Heights Elementary, 784 Georgian Heights-av, $180,801, 300 students.

Pinecrest Elementary, 4035 E. Astor-av, $225,004, 400 students.

Stockbridge Elementary, 3350 S. Champion-av, $229,936, 528 pupils.

Westmoor is the only [redacted] the new group to be finished in all respects. The other six, although not completely finished, will be ready for occupancy and a nearly normal instruction program by next Wednesday.

They will all be completed shortly after school begins.

Georgian Heights, Stockbridge, and Pinecrest Elementaries are "bonus" buildings, not included in the original construction program proposed to voters in the 1956 bond-issue campaign.

Through judicious use of bond funds, all the proposed projects were realized and these additional buildings as well.

New report cards will be used at all grade levels this year, with the chief difference noticed in elementary cards. The grading system of O, S, U for outstanding, satisfactory and unsatisfactory, will be replaced with the A, B, C, D, F system.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS SET

Annual pre-opening conference for teachers is planned for Thursday, Sept. 3 with a general session at North High set at 9 a.m., and 20 group meetings at various locations planned in the afternoon.

Orientation program for 500 new teachers will be held at the administration building, and at each of the schools on Friday, Sept. 4.

Teachers' convocation will be held Tuesday, Sept. 8 at Veterans Memorial Building at 10 a.m. Dr. Harold Elbling, superintendent, will speak.

Teachers will report to their respective schools at 1 p.m. for faculty meetings and completion of plans to receive the pupils.

Seed your lawn in September. It gives the new seeding time to start growing before the crabgrass and hot weather begin the following spring, say the Ohio State University Extension floriculturists.

Evangelist Billy Graham is quoted as saying he's hoping for permission to conduct an evangelistic crusade in Soviet Russia.

IS FINALIST

SANDI BRAGG, 225 S. Skidmore-st, was voted to represent Sunshine Recreation Center in the city-wide 1959 Hi-Fi Queen contest. Sandi, with 'queens' from four other centers, will enjoy a meal at the Sky Room with five judges. The winner will be announced at a Hi-Fi dance Sept. 4 at Whetstone Center. She will receive more than $500 worth of prizes.

Boerstler Church Plans Musical Program, Show

Ohio State Country Roundup, musical entertainers, will appear at Boerstler Memorial Church, 79 McDowell-st, Friday, Sept. 11, 7:30 p.m.

A talent show, with prizes to the winners is also planned for the evening.

The program is sponsored by the Ladies Aid of the Church.

Anyone interested in entering the talent show may call BR. 9-4160 or BR. 9-8881 for information.

Tickets may be obtained at the door. Everyone is welcome.

The handle of a kitchen knife should be comfortable to the hand and easy to grasp. Look at the part of the blade extending into the handle, called the tang. A full-tang construction will show the metal going the full length of the handle.

Schools, Staff Set For Study Months Ahead

RAW RECRUITS—Intensive, preliminary training of new seventh grade additions to high school bands has been underway for the past two weeks. Robert D. Rockey, band director at Central, casts a critical eye on the formation led by Drum Major Vic Sannier, Jr.

New Principals Named In Area

WESTMOOR—L. H. McAllister, principal of Hilltonia Junior High School last year, is transferred to principal of the new Westmoor Junior High.

NEW VIEW—Msgr. G. F. Gressel of Holy Family parish, views the "new look" from Holy Family School's front entrance. The school's front lawn and steps were sacrificed to progress, and the new expressway now runs right past the entrance.

PAPER WORK—Administrative staff of West and other city high schools were on the job nearly all summer, laying groundwork for [illegible] coming year's study program. Completing class schedules, the student records and reports before Wednesday's opening are, from left, Miss Harriett Brown, vice-principal; Robert Darrow, principal, and Miss Ruth Bachmayer, vice-principal.

HILLTONIA—A. M. Pemberton, principal of Hilltonia Junior High, was promoted to the position from vice-principal of Indianola Junior High.

GEORGIAN HEIGHTS — James Hensey, principal of Binns Elementary, will assume the duties of principal of the new Georgian Heights School as well as Binns.

ALL NEW — New principal, new student and new school . . . L. H. McAllister, principal Westmoor Junior High, introduces a seventh-grade student, Terry Scott, of 454 N. Westmoor, to his new school.

Adventist School Teacher Named

When children attending the Seventh-day Adventist grade school at 1580 Union-av arrive at school Sept. 8 to begin the fall term, they will find a newly-decorated building and a new teacher, Mrs. Robert Daniels, a bride of less than two months.

Mrs. Daniels will teach grades five through eight at the local grade school this year and will also be the principal of the school.

Mrs. Harvey Kinkead, 1420½ Richenbacher-dr, will teach grades one to four again this year.

Bowling 'Props' Will Roll Against Air 'Names' Sunday

Roy Borghese, owner of Hilltop Recreation Bowling alleys is heading a team of bowling proprietors who are pinning their reputations for skill in a game with some radio-TV personalities next Sunday.

The public exhibition will take place at Grove City Lanes at 1:30 p.m., Sept. 6. The locals will roll again Bill Pepper, Don Riggs, Ann Reider, Betty Jones and Arnold Reutson.

To qualify, Borghese and his cohorts, defeated a similar team captained by Bill Sheeban of Hillcrest Lanes. The rest of Borghese's boys are Chase Dulin of Grove City Lanes; John Morgan, Fiesta; Kenny Axline., Pennlanes of Delaware, and George Smith, Scioto.

MAN OF MANY WORDS—Dr. Joseph Shellhaas, expressive hands and features keeping pace with his rapid-fire thinking, discusses an interesting subject or listens to a confidence with the same absorption. In his book-lined study at the parsonage he has for 20 years, studied great books of the ages, searching for wisdom to guide people out of the maze of their troubles. His doctorate robe, adjusted by his wife, bears the symbols of the scholar . . . the blue velvet sleeve chevrons and hood of a Doctor of Philosophy.

HBA Favors Extension Of Wilson-rd

Executive committee of the Hilltop Business Association at it's meeting last week went on record as favoring the extension of Wilson-rd south and directed it's Civic Development Committee to take steps to secure this improvement in the very near future.

They also recommended that the Traffic Commission be asked to make a study of traffic and parking conditions on the streets between Roys-av and Demorest-rd with a view to creating more one-way streets or removing parking on one side of these streets. The commission will also be asked to erect "no thru truck" signs on these streets.

The September meeting of the association will be held this evening at 7 o'clock at the new Armory on Sullivant-av. Dinner will be followed by a tour of the building.

Westway Post Resumes Euchre Parties Saturday

Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold its first fall euchre party Saturday, Sept. 12, 7:30 p.m. at the post home, at 852 Clarendon-av.

Public is invited to the card parties, held on the second Saturday evening of each month.

Penny Meters Are Approved For Broad-st

Traffic Commission Takes Step To Help Relieve Parking Problem

A recommendation that penny parking meters with hour-limits be installed on the Hilltop will be forwarded to the Columbus City Council Monday night by the City Traffic Commission.

If council grants approval to the installation plans, meters will be installed on W. Broad-st between Eldon and Wheatland-avs and Hague to Chase-av.

The meters are designed to control all-day parking in front of businesses along Broad-st. Merchants frequently complain to police who in turn find the one-hour parking rule hard to check and enforce.

Before making the decision, a poll of merchants along Broadst was taken by the traffic engineers office. Of the 72 businesses interviewed, 15 were not in to answer; 11 didn't care; 29 gave an emphatic no and only 17 said yes.

Presently the only restriction on W. Broad-st parking is for two hours in the morning and evening.

The penny meters, if installed, will be the first of their kind in Columbus.

Pentomic Guard Units Pared To Three Here

Local National Guardsmen on Sept. 1 began to reorganize according to the "pentomic" structure of the modern U. S. Army.

In the Columbus area, the reorganization (first major change in the Guard since World War II) means after 17 years on its own the 166th Infantry Regiment will rejoin the 37th Buckeye Division.

Under the new plan, Ohio's famed 166th will now have five "battle groups" in place of the traditional regiments. Each battle group is self-sufficient and designed to disperse troops and to avoid atomic weapon casualties. Each is a self-contained, mobile striking force, explained Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, state Adjutant General.

Officers at Haubrich Armory, 4040 Sullivant-av, interpreted the orders to mean the following changes here:

• Five present units at the armory would be pared down to three, reducing personnel from 310 to 260.

• Col. Vernon B. McMillen, former regimental commander will now head the First Battle Group, 166th Infantry Regiment.

• His three units here will be redesignated Company A, First Battle Group, 166th Infantry; Headquarters Co., First Battle Group; and Reconnaissance Platoon, Combat Support Co., 166th Infantry; with headquarters in London.

Complete switchover to the new operation is not expected to be complete before the end of the year, Windom said. The modernized setup may mean the replacement of some of the weapons kept in the armory. Jeep-mounted recoilless rifles and bigger mortars, in particular, are anticipated.

'Dead End' Gang Of North Terrace Has Celebration

They had so much fun last year, they decided to do it again this Labor Day.

That's the story of the neighbors of the "Dead End" of N. Terrace-av between Grace-st and Steele-av who observed a potluck supper Labor Day.

Tables were set in the street and the day was spent becoming acquainted with new neighbors and visiting with other friends.

Those present were Mrs. George Hyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pagura and son, Bob; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Grable, daughter Lynn and son Dennis; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chapman and sons, Terry and Ricky; Mrs. Flanagan and son, Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Heward Nicklaus and son, Bruce; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Byrum and sons, Stephen, Richard and John; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Skipper and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Skipper.

Guest of the evening was Mrs. Hazel Haggard, a sister of Mrs. Flanagan.

Commissioners Will Allow Annexation

County commissioners were slated Wednesday to approve an amended petition allowing the annexation of 14.9 acres in Fraklin Township to Columbus.

The tract is located at the southeast corner of Mound-st and Harrisburg-pk.

Dr. Shellhaas Marks 20 Years On Hilltop

by [illegible]

Members and friends of Glenwood Methodist Church will honor their own "Rev. Joe" with a potluck dinner on the occasion of his 20th anniversary at the church on Sunday, Sept. 13.

Robert Tong is general chairman of the affair, planned for 5:30 p.m. Everyone is invited.

A minister for 40 years, Dr. Joseph Shellhaas has guided Glenwood's growth from 1400 members in 1939 to its present 3000. Soon the congregation, outgrown its building on Highland-av, will build a new, larger church on Valleyview-dr near Hague-av.

A distinct personality is each of Glenwood's members. Dr. Shellhaas has never been merely a Sunday figure in the pulpit. He has, rather, projected himself into many of their lives through his sincerity of purpose and enthusiastic friendship.

All his talents and enthusiasm for living have gone into his ministery, "Which I truly love. I've known since I was six that I must be a minister."

With the sure confidence of a man who recognizes his goal, he has followed his convictions that "A minister should be a scholar to interpret the Bible. There are many, many shades of meaning in the original Greek.

"But even more important, he must follow the spirit of the Bible, must truly love people, before he can minister to them."

His great store of knowledge, gained while earning an impressive list of degrees, is tempered with humanity and sympathy.

"Mathematical thinking is cold and unyielding; it reduces people's problems to equations. Two plus two doesn't always equal four.

"The study of history and the science of knowledge is altogether different. Historical thinking is compassionate; it makes allowances."

Deeply troubled people seeking help and guidance, have sat in a worn chair in his study for 20 years. "They have told me troubles [illegible] are nearly enough to break a human heart."

For rexlation, Dr. [illegible] turns to his hobby of Civil War study. "That" he says, "was a war like no other."

He has made an exhaustive study of maps of Civil War battlefields, and is compiling, by states, a list of all battles, skirmishes and engagements.

Sullivant Strip Rezone Hearing Is Dated Sept. 14

Public hearing will be held Monday, Sept. 14, on a request to rezone a 700 foot strip along Sullivant-av at the site of the former airport for use as a shopping center and filling station.

City council's zoning committee will take up the matter in council chambers sometime after 7:30 p.m.

E. Gomer Jones has asked that the frontage be changed from a SP special permit district to a C-4 commercial.

Zoning Change Hearing Is Set

A public hearing on the request to rezone 24 lots in Wiltshire Heights Addition from business to residence classification, has been re-scheduled for Monday, Oct. 19 at City Council meeting.

First tentative date for the meeting was set for Sept. 14.

A city hall spokesman said that all property owners involved would be notified of the hearing two weeks before the Oct. 19 date, according to Henry DeMastry, one of the [illegible]

WATCH OUT FOR FUN

Nickel Day At Norwood Saturday

The fabulous Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day is only hours away but there's still time to make your plans to attend if you haven't already done so.

Here are the details on the back-to-school entertainment bargain:

TIME: Saturday, Sept. 12, from 1 to 11 p.m.

PLACE: Norwood's Amusement Park, 2025 E. Main-st.

WHAT: Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day—all rides will be open for only five cents.

WHO TO THANK: The seven Hartley Newspapers and Norwood's.

The Hartley Newspapers—Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, E. E. Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review, and Reynoldsburg Record—are making this budget makers dream entertainment bargain available so their more than 70,000 reading families can enjoy a day of fun together before the autum school routine.

Norwood's, site of the Nickel Day festivities, has been a popular East Side entertainment center for 16 years at its location on E. Main-st at Alum Creek. The park contains 19 rides carefully chosen to delight all the family, both young and old.

Two familiar rides that will be straining to go for the Sept. 12 date, are the caterpiller and roller coaster, both providing the right combination of speed and sharp turns to give you a thrilling, yet safe, whirl.

The youngsters will thrill to the carrousel, kiddie train, powered by a real steam engine, and everyone will enjoy the Ferris wheel.

So come on out and find out for yourself, how relaxing a day can be. Take advantage of the Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day at Norwood's.

DOWN FROM THE HEIGHTS hurtles the carload of fun seekers on Norwood's roller coaster, one of 19 rides available for only a nickel during Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day, Sept. 12, at the East Side Amusement park.

ROUND AND ROUND whirls this caravan of adventurers on the caterpillar, an ever-popular ride at Norwood's Amusement Park, site of the giant Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day.

St. Mary Magdalene Sets Fall Fete Date

St. Mary Magdalene Parish will hold its fall festival Saturday evening, Oct. 24 at the school hall.

John Murnane is general chairman of the affair.

Gladden Launches Planning Program

Next three Thursday nights will be important ones at Gladden Community House, Hawkes-av and Town-st.

The first two will be assemblies of steering committees to organize a winter program. The third will be open house Sept. 24, to which all families will be invited to meet the new staff and give suggestions.

On Sept. 10 the initial meeting of a group of 10 elected residents of the near West Side area will be held with Al M. Wilder, director.

Representing the teenagers of the area will be David Ruis, 61 Dakota-av and Vickie Newland, 1012 Sullivant-av; young unmarried adults, Ann Von Ins, 191 Davis-st, and Richard McCoy, 974 John-st; young married adults, Mrs. Dorthie Smith, 906 W. Rich-st, and David Holt, 205 S. Yale-av. Speaking for the middle and older ages will be Mrs. Ruth Creasap, 583 Reed-st; Carl Chaffin, 133 Hawkes-av; Mrs. Thelma Moore, 1497 Sullivant-av; and Frank Schneider, 212 Avondale-av.

Expect 50 Next Week

A second step will be to expand the steering committee to 50 residents for a 7:30 meeting on Sept 17. From this group will come most of the suggestions and ideas for program and community service in the coming years, said Wilder.

He continued: "We at Gladden are desirous of providing services for the West Side that are in line with people's needs and requests. Although our programming for children will continue, there will be additional emphasis given to adult activities and services and a provision of staff time to help the West Side community improve and enlarge its own resources."

Wilder States Aims

"This community service program is not limited to the four walls of Gladden House," he pointed out, "but will extend to all areas of community life where West Side residents desire help, whether it be in business, education, welfare, recreational development or human relations."

"Now that the orientation and restaffing has been accomplished we will proceed on a year-round program basis, even during the summer when Gladden hopes to reopen Peachblow Camp," Wilder said.

"The Sept. 24 open house is important to West Side families. They should plan to attend, not only to meet the new staff, but also to express on a short questionnaire those things [illegible] groups they would like to see established at Gladden."

"There will be no activities started at Gladden without the expression of interested people," Wilder said.

Education Group Claims S-W Heading 'Downhill'

By Bill Rush

A charge that the South-Western City School District has "started slowly to slide downhill," and that a split exists "between the executive head of the district and some members of the school board" was printed in the September issue of the Rail Splitter.

The Rail Splitter is the official publication of the Lincoln Village Residents' Association and is distributed throughout the village.

Without taking any sides, the citizens' publication presented the charges as leading of the association's education committee which last year monitored "most of the meetings" of the district's school board.

In an informal meeting at the end of the year, the article states the committee came to the following conclusions:

"It was apparent that the school administration was disturbed by factionalism; that a split existed, for instance, between the executive head of the district and some members of the school board.

"It was the feeling of the committee that while the board had done much hard work and deserved considerable credit, the school district in general had started slowly to slide down hill. And it was the opinion of the committee that the problems outlined above would not get better—they would get worse."

The committee took no action at the time, the article states" confident that the matter would come to a head "in the natural course of events."

This it says happened in two ways:

A resounding defeat of the bond issue this summer with many no votes cast "in protest against the policies of the school administration."

Transfer of Lincoln Village eighth graders from Prairie Local School to Pleasantview High School, causing formation of the Educational Association of Prairie Township.

The committee claims that when parents affected went to the meeting of the board and questioned the change, the answers they received were "ambiguous, sometimes evasive and sometimes conflicting."

The article further states:

"One clear fact emerged, however, that the school board was determined not to build new school facilities in any area, in which the opinion of the board, was likely to be annexed."

1959 CAMPAIGN BEGINS

'Youth-Adult' Partnerships Sought In 'Y' Enrollment

Under the theme "Be A Partner With Youth" hundreds of adult volunteer workers, and youngsters too, this week began to secure an expected 3300 annual membership for the Hilltop YMCA.

Following kickoff meetings today and Thursday the business, residential and special groups will begin their work.

Chairman James Goudy said there would be no door-to-door campaign this year but expressed the hope that many who are not contacted would call the 'Y' office at 2785 W. Broad-st (BR. 9-4641) and take out membership.

"This is a most important year for the residents of the Hilltop to lend their support to an expanding program," he said. "The new 'Y' branch under construction on Valleyview-dr will mean great things to us in the coming year."

For the first time "partner" memberships of $10 will be offered. This will provide funds to sponsor worthy children and purchase needed equipment for the new building. Regular adult memberships are $8 and youth fees are $3.

The school division of the enrollment is being headed by Mr. Robert Darrow, principal of West High School. Ed Wiseman of the Standard Oil Co. is heading a drive among oil companies of the area.

Clubs and committees within the 'Y' are holding contests of their own. The Indian Guide tribes are competing for a trophy to the best member seekers. The 'Y' Board of Management and Advisory Council, led by John Roman and Roy Vonins, are also competing for production. Mrs. William Moore is directing an effort by the Square Dance club.

Franklinton Library Has Active Reading Club

Summer Reading Club at Franklinton Branch Library was very successful, according to officials who said 293 joined and 98 completed the requirements. Youngsters had to read ten books within 10 weeks. A list of the children who received diplomas follows.

On Sept. 14, the library changes to winter hours. They will be 2 to 9 on Monday, 1 to 9 on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, 9 to 5:30 Saturday, and closed Thursday and Sunday.

Guest speaker will be Miss Betty Ashbaugh of Columbus Toastmistress Club.

Masons Meet Today

First fall convocation of West Gate Chapter 216, Masons, will be held Wednesday, Sept. 9.

A meeting at 7:30 p.m. will be preceded by a joint family potluck with West Gate Council 129.

JDC Additions Near Completion

Two additions adding 250 beds to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center will be completed about Nov. 1.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, made the announcement last week.

One extension will add 100 beds to the psychiatric treatment hospital for care of delinquent children with mental illnesses. The other facility will provide additional room for examining and classifying delinquents to determine the type of institution to which they should be assigned.

Four Races Are Buildup At Beulah

Beulah Park, off to a start which indicates that even last fall's fine record may be surpassed, has a number of fine features coming up which promise to bring out top performers in every division of the sport.

Four of these features are designed for horses pointing for the $10,000 Ohio Championship which will be decided on Saturday, Oct. 3 over the mile and a sixteenth distance. This is the closing day of the 28-day autumn season.

On Sept. 12 there will be the $2000 Grove City Handicap at six furlongs. On Sept. 19 the Bexley Handicap is scheduled at a mile and 70 yards while on Sept. 26, just a week prior to the championship, horsemen will have a choice of the Columbus Handicap at six furlongs or the Franklinton Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth.

Lodge Meetings Resume

West Gate Lodge No. 623 of Masons will reopen Monday, Sept. 14 with a stated meeting.

On Saturday, Sept. 19, West Gate, East Gate and South Gate will hold their annual Tri-Gate meeting at South Gate Lodge, starting at 4 p.m.

Bicycle Rodeo Set Saturday

A bicycle rodeo will be staged Saturday, Sept. 12, 10 a.m. at West Broad School, by Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

All bike riders are invited to participate and try for prizes in the various events.

Program will be under the direction of Deputy Earl Smith of the Franklin County Sheriff's Department and local judges.

Chairman of the event is Harry Marsh, youth chairman of the post, assisted by Otis R. Lowe, commander, other officers and members.

Highway Kill Of Wildlife Nears Peak

Highway kill of wildlife reaches a yearly peak at this season, according to Division of Wildlife officials.

"With lots of young wildlife, and the highest population level of the year, this is the season when automobiles take their heaviest toll of most species," said a spokesman: "Raccoons are most noticeable on the highways. The kill is heavy and the animals large enough to attract attention.

"Many other species also fall prey to the motor cars. Pheasants, rabbits, quail, squirrels and many of the furbearers are wasted on Ohio's highways. Careful driving can eliminate some of this loss.

The only advantage of this accidental kill is that it may serve as an index to the population level of the various fur and game species."

Classes Planned For Stutterers

Both daytime and evening classes for adults with a stuttering problem are now being formed by the Hearing and Speech Center at 209 S. High-st.

Persons interested in classes must first make an appointment to receive a speech evaluation at the center. Both daily and Saturday appointments are available.

Enrollment is limited to 15 persons. Appointments for examination can be made by calling CA. 1-1395. The center is a United Appeal service affiliated with United Community Council.

For Vacation Plans, Get This Free Book

With the coming of Labor Day, schools begin to open and the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Derby ends. (Winners will be announced next week) Sunburns and poison ivy attacks are healed, and the summertime vacation period is pretty well over.

Now is the time to look back and see how much you enjoyed your vacation, and make plans for an even better one next year.

The best vacation aid I have ever seen is a little book called "Happier Vacations," a free publication that is being made available to readers of "Inside On The Outdoors." To receive your complimentary copy just send a request to "Happier Vacations," the Coleman Company, Wichita 1, Kansas. Don't forget to include your name and address.

This 40-page book was prepared by George and Iris Wells, professional travelers by their own admission, and authors of numerous books and magazine articles on camping, traveling and vacations.

Chapter titles range from "About That Budget" to "Tips For Compact Car Packing," to "Camping: Adventure and Economy." Information is included on picking hotels and motels, keeping kids happy in a car, closing up the house, and outdoor cookery.

Vacations Popular All Year

The central theme running throughout the book is that a happy vacation is a well-planned vacation. This guide will serve as a "dream book" all winter long to help you choose where you want to go next vacation, and will help you enjoy yourself once you get there. Winter vacations are becoming more popular all the time, especially during the Christmas holidays when children are free from school for a time. If you are going to take a trip this winter, you need this book immediately.

From my enthusiasm about this travel guide you might get the idea that the authors are cousins of mine or something. This is not the case at all. It is just that I am completely impressed with a fine job of presenting so much valuable information in compact form. In the course of a year I see a lot of material, some of it free and some for sale, that tells you how to go camping, where to go hunting and fishing, how to spend your vacation, etc. But from the standpoint of reliable information, brief and easy to read, this publication tops them all.

The Coleman name, of course, is well known to outdoorsmen and campers who use gasoline stoves and lanterns. The company is to be congratulated for publishing such a fine booklet and sharing it with readers of this column.

Gibeaut, Inc. Transferring To Local Site

Another company is joining "industry row" at the western end of Valleyview-dr.

C. A. Gibeaut, Inc., manufacturer of concrete building forms, is transferring head quarters from Dayton to a three-and-a-half acre site at 3260 Valleyview-dr.

The firm hires 60 to 70 men during the summer and has worked several local projects including the West Jefferson Sewage treatment plant, new buildings at Ohio State University, hospitals and barracks at Lockbourne Air Force Base. Gibeaut himself, a resident of Upper Arlington has also operated in Dayton and Florida.

Facilities at Valleyview will include a storage building, fabrication shop and office. The firm specializes in custom built forms (principally of wood) used in making floors, columns, walls, ceilings and special shapes for buildings.

Bass Fishing At Nighttime Has Advantages

Having trouble catching bass these hot, humid days?

If so, why not take some advice from the Division of Wildlife and try nighttime fishing.

Largemouth bass, like some people, just naturally become more active at night during the summer months.

"Although not a new method of taking bass, few anglers take advantage of this exciting way to fish," says Clarence F. Clark, supervisor of fish production and investigations.

To the experienced fisherman the techniques are routine. Neophytes in the art of angling however, can soon learn the fundamentals of nighttime fishing.

"First, pick a calm, dark night, the less moonshine the better. A bait-casting, spinning or fly rod may be used but the bait-casting outfit probably has more advantages.

Farm ponds are ideal spots but most of our inland lakes are fertile grounds too.

"Greatest success will be achieved with surface lures and they must be fished very, very slowly. After the lure has been cast to a likely area, let it lie motionless for a half minute or longer. Then retrieve with short, almost imperceptible twitches, allowing the bait to rest quietly before each twitch. Bass will usually strike the lure when it is motionless and many times will hit within a few feet of the fisherman.

"Be alert at all times because when one of these night fighters takes a liking to your bait you'll have the best battle of your life on your hands."

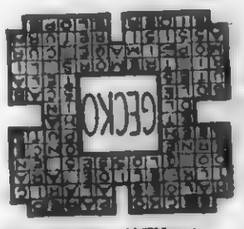
SPEAK UP FOR TAX REFORM NOW

In November, the House Ways and Means Committee will begin hearings on "constructive reform of the federal tax system." Nothing could be of more importance to every American citizen.

It's not too early to begin thinking about the sort of tax reform you want —the prescription you believe will be in the best interest of the entire nation.

One widely heralded prescription is sponsored by a Democrat, Rep. A. S. Herlong, Jr., of Florida, and a Republican, Rep. Howard W. Baker of Tennessee. Their identical bills (H. R. 3000 and H. R. 3001) call for gradual easement of individual and corporate income tax rates, establishment of more realistic depreciation rules, moderation of capital gains taxes, and reduction of estate and gift tax rates.

The sponsors say their proposals, if enacted into law, will remove tax blocks to economic growth, increase the supply of venture capital, provide new and better job opportunities for our growing population, and smother inflation with growth.



This approach to tax reform has been endorsed by many civic and business groups. It's up to the voters to express their views, too.

BIBLE COMMENT

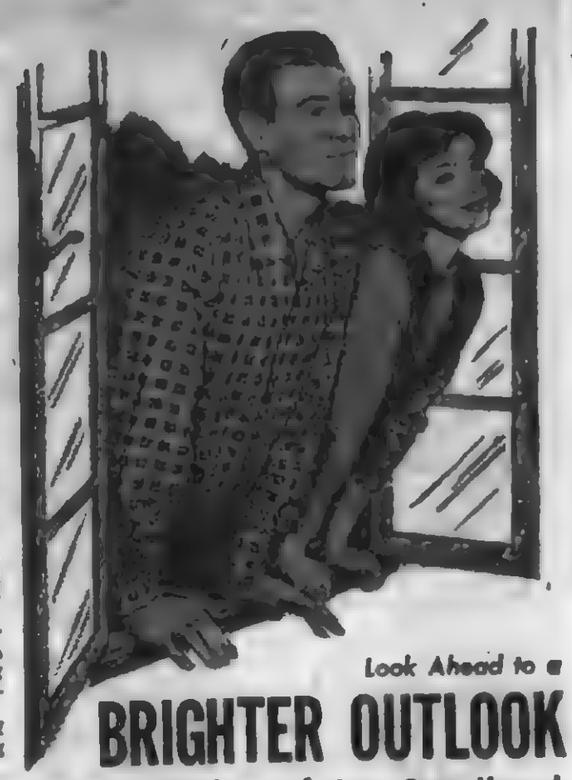
Simplicity Is Prominent In Writings

The word "simplicity," is given prominence in the writings of Paul.

How many of us find it possible to give more than passing thought or observance to this virtue?

In this era of speeding autos, and a speeding economy and society, such a word seems obsolete, indeed.

Paul insists that everything, even giving, should be done with simplicity. To the Corinthians he commends "simplicity and godly sincerity" motivated by the grace of God in contrast with "fleshly wisdom."



In our lives we see "fleshly wisdom" often supplanting "simplicity and godly sincerity."

But how do we keep our balance in this atomic age of military horrors, whirling budgets and pseudo-sophistication?

Best we recall the words of Paul and judge what meaning they have for us.

If we find that we are losing sight of God's love, if our homes, jobs and thoughts are becoming too complicated, turn over well the word, "simplicity."

This single word implies a concentration on divine help and understanding. It should bring home the belief that God is with us at all times. False, vain and greedy actions can have no place in the structure of the man motivated by this one, clear and emphatic concept.

Huge Caravan Being Organized To Attend Billy Graham Meet

A caravan of as many as 1000 people from Columbus and Central Ohio will go by bus to Indianapolis on Sunday, Oct. 11 to hear internationally famous evangelist Billy Graham and attend anniversary services of Cadle Tabernacle.

H. Max Good states that enough buses have been engaged to provide transportation for up to 1000 persons. Good has free tickets for the event in Indianapolis. Details on price of the excursion and departure and arrival times may be obtained by calling him at HU. 8-0761 or TR. 8-3335.

Billy Graham has a wide following throughout this area as is true all over the world.

His biographers point out:

"It is possible that Billy Graham might have become the kind of evangelist he is even though he had not been born, reared, and educated in the South, but it is unlikely. The South into which he was born was definitely more religious than average U. S. God was the first consideration of the majority of its youths.

"Evangelism, tent - meeting, repentance - provoking, conversion-producing kind of evangelism was sure of a large, responsive following. Born on a dairy farm, on which his father still lives, Billy Graham, the oldest of four children, was taught to memorize scriptures at the age of ten. By the time he had graduated from high school in Charlotte, N. C., he was dutifully if not notably religious.

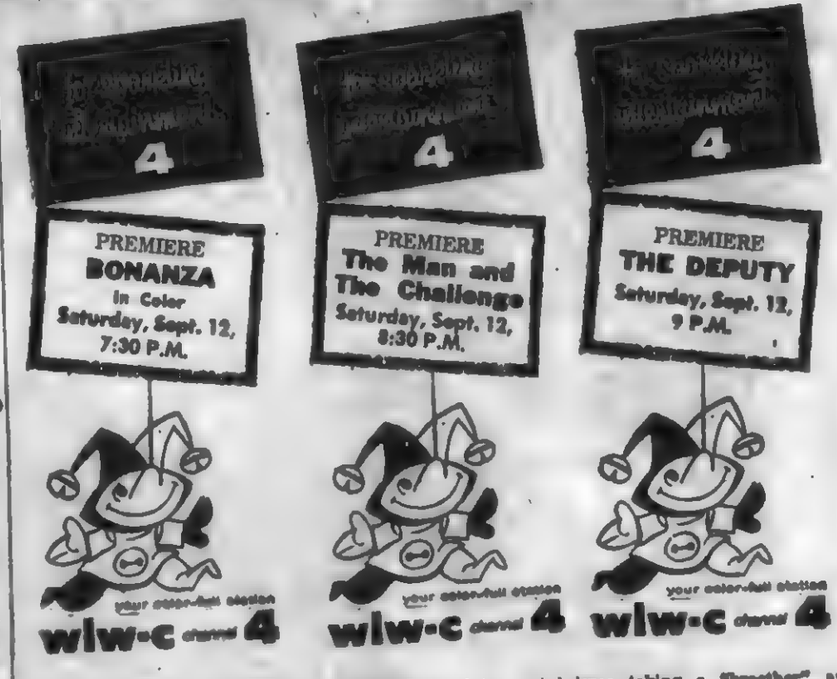
"The nearest thing to a purpose in his life was to be a baseball player, but that purpose was changed to one in the ministry under the preaching of Mordecai Ham. As a result of that conversion, he attended Bob Jones University in South Carolina, and graduated from Florida Bible Institute, now known as Trinity College in Tampa, Fla. He later graduated from Wheaton College, in Wheaton, Ill.

His first great crusade success was in the fall of 1949 in Los Angeles. It was scheduled to last there weeks, but it ran eight. His tent auditorium, seating 6000, had to be enlarged to seat 9000. There were more than 2700 "decisions for Christ," among which were Stuart Hamblem, and Jim Vaus, underworld wire tapper.

Billy Graham

"Other crusades in Boston, London, Toronto, in Europe and Asia—all contribute to Mr. Graham's amazing ministry, which has been called "The phenomenon of the mid-twentieth century." Though only 38 years old, he probably has preached to more people, face to face, than any other minister in Christian history.

HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS TV HIGHLIGHTS



By Betty Shepherd

"Is there anything quite as over as vacation?" My 15-year-old came forth with this statement the other day after surveying the stack of dirty clothes, remembering his unfinished summer reading, and hearing this writer groan over unpaid bills and a desk of office work waiting to be tackled.

I agreed with him, but also reminded him that merely a matter of time would take care of most of these annoyances, but that it would take much more than the tick of a clock to erase our happy memories . . . that we would not soon forget such sights as the blazing sunrise and the path of moonlight over ocean waters; the gleam of candles on the brass of the huge chandeliers in the Capitol Building, and the charm of the gardens in back of the Governor's Palace at Colonial Williamsburg; or the precision of the drill of the white-middied plebes at Annapolis.

Our two week's holiday encompassed much background of our nation's history, besides bringing us up to date on current affairs. Vistavision and television were a part of it. We cannot go further without remarking about the wonderful movie, "The Patriot," which is shown free of charge to all visitors to restored Williamsburg. This half-hour film is a "must" for those who wish to get the "feel" before they explore the area where much of our American heritage was born.

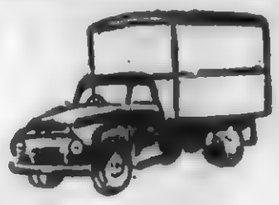
Such revolutionary patriots as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry are brought to life, along with the town where the spark of liberty burst into flame. This film, by the way, is being released to schools across the nation this year, and before long will be cleared for TV.

Television played its part in bringing us up to date on the current goings-on. We happened to be in various places just as today's news was being made, but with the tourist's luck, we "just missed" some of it. However, by seeing it re-capped that night on the TV screen, we felt that we had had a front seat.

For instance . . . we arrived in Washington following a torrential downpour which brought six inches of rain to some parts of the city and completely flooded Rock Creek Park; we were in Gettysburg when the President was taking a "breather" and playing some golf on his farm; Vice-President Nixon and his family vacationed at Virginia Beach while we were there; we drove to Newport News to see the launching of the "National Defender," the largest oil tanker in the world; and we hit Richmond a few hours after "Kookie" (Ed Byrnes of "77 Sunset Strip") was mobbed by 4,000 teenagers.

We returned home refreshed and ready for the onslaught of fall TV. "Total Television" is NBC's way of announcing its new season's programming. From Dave Garroway who will open the store every weekday morning to Jack Paar who will close up shop at night, there will be something for every palate. The most dynamic and creative minds in this dynamic and creative business have put their best foot forward.



This next week a number of the new shows start. Channel four will have "Lock Up" on Tuesday nights; "Staccato" on Thursdays; "People Are Funny" is moving to Fridays, followed by "The Troubleshooters." Friday Night Specials" open up with "The Last Quarter," an appraisal of the upcoming Khruschev visit and world and domestic issues.

"Bonanza," full-hour colorcast, comes on Saturdays, followed by "The Challenge;" and Sunday, Sept. 13 finds "Riverboat" setting sail with "Sunday Night Specials" in the time where Steve Allen used to be. Steve is moving to Monday nights beginning Sept. 28 "Laramie" premieres on Tuesday, Sept. 15, along with the beloved "Fibber McGee and Molly" and Fibber's inimitable closet.

Channel six will program "High Road" with John Gunther on Mondays; "Bronco" with Ty Hardin on Tuesdays; and "Glencannon" on Fridays.

Channel 10 is looking forward to "Tightrope" on Tuesday nights; the continuance of "Playhouse 90" on Thursdays; and "Pro Football" on Friday, Sept. 11 in a pre-season game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears.

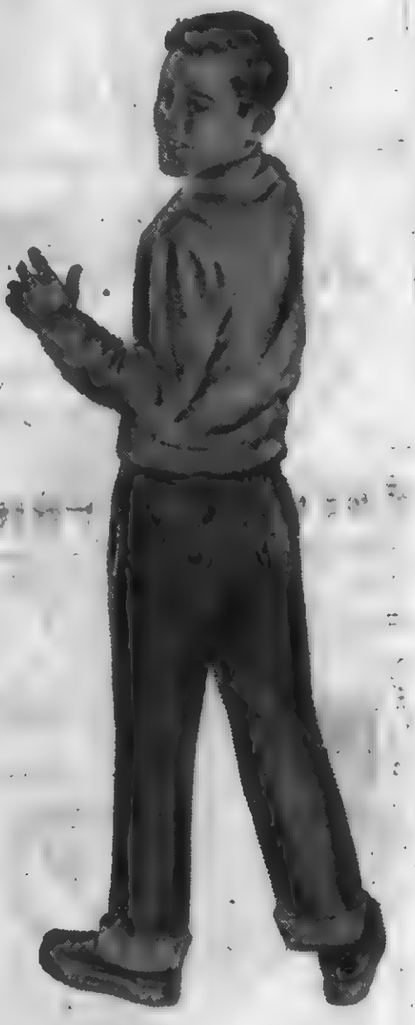
This Is Your Invitation To 'Be A Partner With Youth'

The YMCA is many things . . . It provides recreational opportunities for children, teen-age youth and young adults in a variety of indoor and outdoor activities.

. . . . It helps young people maintain health and physical fitness, gain skill in personal relationships and develope qualities of leadership.

. . . . It seeks to help them understand themselves in a world in which they live and make the right personal choices in life.

. . . . It helps them become good citizens by practicing cooperation, by discussion of issues involved in group, community, national and world living, and by learning the fundamentals of democratic citizenship.



. . . . As a Christian organization it helps young people to understand the Christian heritage . . . and to achieve a sustaining and courageous religious faith.

The Hilltop YMCA has a fine program that will be even finer in the coming year with the opening of the new YMCA building on Valleyview-dr.

This community is being asked this week and next to sign up for memberships for both adults and youth in the Hilltop YMCA.

Give the volunteer who calls on you an opportunity to explain the Y "Partners With Youth Program." It is an investment that will pay you big dividends.

If you have not been a member of the Y this past year but are interested in enrolling your family just call BR. 9-4641.

St. Mary Magdalene Athletic Association recently announced their 1960-60 slate of officers and committee chairmen. New president is Bernard Kercher; ivce president, C. J. McDonald; treasurer, Tom Tirulin; secretary Bill Faller.

Other officers and chairmen are Vincent Boeke, assistant secretary; Paul Weisenbach, purchasing chairman; John Hucle, assistant purchasing chairman; John Murnane, financial chairman; Ted Kruse (outgoing president), assistant financial chairman; John Radich, equipment chairman; Paul Beckwith, assistant equipment chairman; Bill Garrett, social chairman; Bob Denbow, assistant social chairman; Bill Faller, publicity chairman; Vince Boeke, assistant publicity chairman; Alice DeMasters, girl's activities; Steve Shank, athletic chairman; Lou Estes, assistant athletic chairman.

St. Mary Magdalene has had a successful year athleticwise in all parish activities, school and church. The elementary school teams took the football, basketball and baseball crowns. The church CYO basketball team under Lou Estes took the loop title. A new year of activity is soon to get under way in hopes of repeating their 1958-59 successes.

But the top award of all came as the parish won the first annual Bishop Issenmann trophy for the outstanding parish in the diocese for providing the best rounded recreational and athletic program for all ages, male or female.

Members of the association thank everyone who made this award and program possible. They have had the backing and encouragement of the entire parish and the support of many people on the Hilltop who don't even belong to St. Mary Magdalene.

A special word of thanks from the association to Rev. Bauschard, his assistants Rev. Huber and Msgr. McDonnell and the nuns who teach in the school.

Their next big event will be the annual Fall Festival, Oct. 24. John Murnane is general chairman. Ted Kruse is his assistant.

All of the mentioned awards and trophies were presented and displayed earlier this summer at a special dinner meeting of the Guild Athletic Club at the Grandview Inn. The dinner, was to honor the active charter member of the Athletic Association. It was the first event of its kind to be held by the association.

The association was originated by five men and a woman: Bill Faller, C. J. McDonald, Ted Kruse, Bernie Kercher, Bill Garrett and Julie Erdy. That was the first meeting and from there, 3-4 years ago, they have grown by leaps and bounds.

When the association was actually formed, under the guidance of Rev. Richard Dodd, the charter members numbered around two dozen.

The Haunts Junior Jet all-star squad had themselves quite a record after their formation late in the year. Led by ace hurler Mickey Pless, they won a two-out-of-three "Little World Series" from Glenwood in two straight, were nipped by Sullivant Garden 2-1 and then staved off a late onslaught to down Westgate's All-Stars, 11-8. The latter squad was picked, practiced and played their one and only contest all in the space of three days.

The Westgate All-Star squad was composed of major league only), George Sunby, Tom Hoffman, Fred McCoy and Bill McIntire, Yankees; Pete Krull, Mike Deck, Mike Kelsey, and Jerry Doellinger, Redlegs; Jim Beagle, Scott Watkins, Eugene Evans and Sam Link, Indians; Dennis Brady, Mike Peterson and Dan Downing, Giants; Dave and Don Walker and Ledell Dawkins, Tigers; and Jud Raley, Ronnie Stevens, Tom Cogan and Jack Thomas, Braves.

OMISSIONS DEPARTMENT . . . When talking of celebrities present at the recent North-South All-Star football game in Canton, in last week's column, I neglected to mention [illegible] also in attendance were West head mentor Bill "Dutch" [illegible] and wife, Dorie. "Baching" it were West assistant coaches John Butler and Charlie Meyers.

In a recent article appearing elsewhere in today's paper, but written before my vacation, dealing with the 1959 edition of the West High Cowboy football squad, I mentioned some "holes" — personnel missing from last year's team. It was impossible to mention all departed personnel, but three omitted names did come to mind last Sunday in the middle of the New Jersey Turnpike. Missing via graduation are lineman of note Bill Ingles, end; co-captain Ray Horkey and last year's quarterback at the start of the season, Don Uidricks.

Ray, an exceptionally fine 'wingman' both as a pass catcher and a defensive player, out most of the season (injured in practice after the first game and played parts of the last game) with a broken arm, is headed for Iowa State on a scholarship.

Uidricks, one of the solid defensive bulwarks in the business last year, is switching himself to end to meet the need of Ohio University this fall in hopes, of making its '59 squad.

The Ohio Valley Football League is all ready to roll with a definite loop of four teams and a possibity of a couple more. Their next meeting, when rosters are due, is Sept. 13. The first game is the next day, Sept. 13. The four in now are Lockbourne, Westgate Manor, Valleyview and Gahanna. The entry fee is low (just enough to cover emcees, officials, etc.), only $35 per team.

The St. Agnes Reds beat the Georgian Heights Little League team in a special playoff, 7-4 for the championship after they both completed their regular schedules in the Southwestern LL loop with identical marks. The Reds finished with a 14-3 record. The other St. Agnes LL team, the Blues, finished in a tie for third in the same league with a 8-8 mark. In St. Agnes's own league, Mosquito, for smaller boys, composed of four teams, two squads, the Golden Eagles and the Blue Devils finished a tie for the crown with 6-3 marks.

Other members of the Southwestern LL loop were Georgian Heights, Grove City, Valleyview and East Franklin. St. Agnes now is in full swing practicing for their football league for six, seven, eight grade boys under 110 pounds. They'll participate in the Parochial School League.

Out Georgian Heights way. Already mentioned that their LL squad lost in the playoff to St. Agnes for the Southwestern LL crown. They did have four on the All-Star squad, though Jim Brammer, catcher; Larry Briel, pitcher; Rich Reeves, second base; and John Morland, shortstop.

Their Babe Ruth squad wasn't quite as fortunate this season. They finished with a 2-10 record. They were entitled to five spots on the loop All-Star squad, but since the squad's game was canceled, the players were never picked.

The Heights' newly formed golf league closes its first summer of activities in the next two weeks, climaxing with a round-up of contests, eats and prizes for the 16 members of the loop.

All competition is held at the new Oakhurst Golf Course. Prizes for the round-up are being donated by Labem Smith of Smith Hardware, Sullivant-av and Will Roberts of the 19th Hole (golf shop) on Goodale, with the rest of the prizes and food coming from the members weekly 50 cent fee.

The St. Mary Magdalene Babe Ruth squad finally beaten after 37 consecutive wins over a two year span. They were dropped in the final game of the tournament trail for the area championship by the Southeast Rams, 3-2. It was a bad night for the Hilltoppers, as they committed eight errors. They traveled to Chillicothe to meet the Chillicothe Elks at the Veteran's Hospital stadium diamond under the lights and were nipped again, 2-1. However, they played on Junior Knothole measured diamond, 60 ft. between bases and 45 feet from pitching mound to homeplate. But the game under the lights was a great experience for the squad. They have also scheduled a return game with the Elks here in Columbus on a regulation baseball diamond.

Westsider Wins Quarter Midget Feature Sunday

Chuck Bennett, 902 Campbell-av, was the feature winner of the Labor Day races of the Capital City one-fourth midget races at Jones Park, Groveport-pk.

Gary Hardy came in second and Bobby Molli was third.

Another West Side boy, Marvin Barker of 508 Helen-st, was the winner of the first heat.

Other winners were: Bobby Butler, Kay Hardy, Bobby Molli, Johnny Crowell, Gary Hardy and Dennis Browning.

Sunday afternoon, Chuck Bennett also won the second semi-[illegible].

Feature was won by Dennis Browning with Ranee Craig, from West Virginia, second, and Bobby Butler, third.

Other winners were Bobby Molli, Kay Hardy, Jerry Crowell.

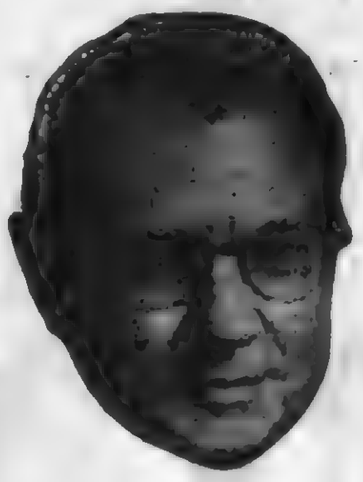
There will be no races this coming Sunday but the one-fourth midgets will race again, Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2 p.m.

Hilltopper Wins Golfing Championship, Sunday

Bob Brokaw, 897 Salisbury-rd, won the Beacon Light Golf Course Championships Sunday, for the fourth time in the last five years.

He defeated Don Stickney one-up.

Brokaw will defend his Kiwanis Tournament title at York Temple Golf Course Thursday, Sept. 10.



The only time that some sour pusses will ever grin is when they become skeletons.

WHY
"Diamond in a New Setting"?

"There is always a better way!"—That has long been the elementary philosophy of Diamond. It has led to many Diamond "firsts."

Now, "Diamond in a new setting" is a further step in progressive leadership. It means that Diamond has joined hands to work together with other progressive milk companies throughout the country in the nationally recognized "QUALITY CHEKD DAIRY PRODUCTS Association." This program includes an additional system of quality control checks, a national food testing laboratory, test kitchen and a staff of home economists. It provides a pool of national know-how and experience in all fields of dairy technology and [illegible].

As the leading home-owned milk service, we at Diamond—with "Quality Chekd"—are even better able to fulfill our vital responsibility to public health and help build a better community.

Diamond Joe looks forward to be of ever-increasing service to our fellow citizens. Joe suggests that you look for the package with the big red check—sure sign of quality.

Sincerely,
T. Thos. Hamilton

Hilltop Man Is Promoted By Gas Co.

Richard S. Maxwell, 1065 Bellflower-av, district credit manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. here for the last four years, has been promoted to district supervisor of customer accounting.

Maxwell, 34, has been with Ohio Fuel since 1947. He started as a mail boy, and worked in the billing department and the plant accounting department until 1949. He was transferred at that time to the Preston Oil Co., which, like Ohio Fuel, is a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Maxwell returned to Ohio Fuel three years later and worked in the auditing department as a local auditor. He was named district credit manager in 1955.

A graduate of North High School, Maxwell attended Ohio State University to study engineering and commerce.

During World War II he served 31 months as a combat engineer, including 13 months overseas. He saw action in four major European Theater campaigns, and was awarded the Bronze Star.

Maxwell and his wife, Ione, have a daughter, Jill, 2.

Maxwell is a member of the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce.

ROSE BOWL BID—Main Federal Savings' two new branch office buildings which will open Sept. 14-19 will feature a "Rose Bowl" full of money. Closest guesses on how much money is in the Rose Bowl will win valuable prizes ranging from clock radios to a grand prize for a trip for two to the real Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Double Dedication Will Accent Main-Federal's 71st Year

A double dedication of new office buildings will feature Main Federal Savings and Loan Association's 71st year in Columbus next week, Sept. 14-19.

In replacing the three-year-old outgrown building at 891 S. James-rd, Main-Federal officials charged architect Rod Kratoville to "forget all past financial building precepts and design an office that will both beautify its community and be outstandingly comfortable in the modern manner."

At the same time a brand new Main Federal office will be opened in Central Point Shopping Center, at 691 Harrisburg-Pk, to serve southwest Columbus and Franklin County. This office will be managed by James Gatterdam, and will feature modern savings and loan comforts and conveniences.

A feature of both openings will be a "Rose Bowl" full of money. The adult who estimates most closely the total money in either of Main Federal's Rose Bowls will win a trip for two to the real Pasadena Rose Bowl next December.

There will be four other prizes daily at each new office for close guesses; a genuine pro-league football, clock-radio, Flint cutlery set and Hickok travel kit. There will also be cider and donuts and souvenirs, as well as appreciation gifts for new accounts.

In addition to president, Harold Esper and secretary-treasurer, Wilbur Morrison, the Main Federal Board of Directors includes George Igel, William Hoermle, John Schwenker, William Seidensticker and Emerson Wollam.

The new 891 S. James-rd office will be open 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day opening week Monday, Sept. 14 through Saturday, Sept. 19, while the Central Point office will be open 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Pastors' Wives To Be Honored With Annual Tea

LONG WAY TO GO YET

TRAVELER PAUSES—Sixty-four-year-old Steven Haver, a retired coal miner, pauses on West Broad-st for a short rest during his 800-mile journey. He is walking from his recent home in Pennsylvania to his birthplace at Joplin, Miss. "I just want to go back home and rest," he says, obviously weary of many hard years in the mines. He has 40 cents in his pocket, an old walking stick and a small bag containing his only possessions. He has no relatives.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Pears, apples, cantaloups, grapes, peaches.

Vegetables—Cucumbers, green beans, potatoes, squash, tomatoes.

Meat and Poultry—Ham, chuck roast, fresh pork roasts, poultry, medium eggs.

ALL GOOD THINGS COME IN "PEARS"

Pears come to us every fall laden with their juicy goodness. This year they're coming in abundance, particularly the favorite Bartletts. Atcually, pear season is from July to April, but we can usually expect the peak period to hit during September and October.

California, Washington and Oregon produce about four-fifths of our pears, since the mild summer climates in the valleys of these states are ideal for growing the European varieties. Common ones are Bartletts, Bosc, Comice and Anjou. Other types available are the sandy textured varieties as the Keiffer and Seckle, grown locally.

The Bartlett is the leading variety and the first one you see each season. This year you can expect Bartletts galore. Both the local and the total U.S. crop is big. California reports the biggest Bartlett crop on record. At the present you can find very fine Bartletts in our markets from Ohio, Michigan and New York orchards.

Pears Picked and Packed Unripe—Unlike many other fruits, as peaches, pears develop their best flavor when ripened off the tree.

When buying pears (Bartletts now) for immediate use, pick out some that are golden yellow. They'll be rich flavored, juicy, just right for eating. For later use select those that are still green in color, firm, but not hard. Keep them at room temperature in the brown paper bag you bring them home in, and they'll be beautifully golden in two or three days.

Or, if you want to keep them a week or more, refrigerate them while they're still green and take them out two or three days before you want to use them. Once pears are fully ripe, keep them in the refrigerator.

When buying pears in quantity for canning, figure on 10 to 12 quarts from a 25-pound box or 20 to 25 quarts from one bushel or a 50-pound bag.

Particularly Good Eating—Like most fruits, pears are good just as they are—

- Pick up a pear, unpeeled but chilled, to eat for anytime snack. It contains a natural sugar which is good for you as well as vitamins A, B, and C.
- There are the pear-cheese combinations for snacks, salads, or dessert. Sharp or blue cheese are so good.
- Pears topped with mint ice, lime sherbet or peppermint ice cream make a luscious dessert.
- Pears "take" to spices such as ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, when spiced fruit is the order.
- To prevent discoloration, sprinkle any citrus fruit juice over fresh peeled or cut pears.

St. Aloysius Catholic Church Is Scene Of Schlegel-Thurn Nuptial Ceremony

MRS. LEO THURN

Miss Elizabeth Schlegel and Mr. Leo Thurn were wed in a nuptial mass at St. Aloysius Church Monday, Sept. 7. Rev. William Maloney and Rev. Robert Noon officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of gladioli and pom-pons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schlegel, of 66 S. Burgess-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alois Thurn of 969 Kirby-av.

The former Miss Schlegel chose for her marriage, a gown of silk organza over taffeta styled on semi-princess lines. Re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned the yoke and was appliqued around the neckline and brief sleeves. Motifs of matching lace were scattered over the front of the skirt. Panels of organza cascaded down the back and sides of the skirt, which continued into a chapel-length train.

A crown of orange blossoms held the fingertip veil, and she carried pink and white roses.

Miss Maryanita Lamb, served as maid of honor, and Miss Theresa Schlegel, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns of opera green taffeta with matching bandeaus and carried pink roses with ivy.

Mr. Frank C. Mathews, Jr., of Savannah was bestman and ushers were Mr. William Hensel, Mr. Robert Thurn, and Mr. Thomas Maurer.

Hostesses for the reception held at Ilonka's Provincial House were Miss Joan McDonald, Miss Martha Highfield, Mrs. Thomas Maurer, and Mrs. William Hetterscheidt.

The bride was graduated from the College of St. Mary of The Springs and is a teacher in Columbus Public Schools. Her husband was graduated from Aquinas High School and is associated with A. Thurn's Sons.

Mrs. P. Calkins Hosts Heartbeat Unit Meet

Mrs. Paul B. Calkins, 846 Josephine-av entertained members of Heartbeat Unit 4 at her home on Sept. 1.

Prizes were awarded game winners, Mrs. Ray Cole and Mrs. Edwin H. Hamilton.

A special meeting has been called for Wednesday, Sept. 23, to complete preparations for a progressive euchre party to be held Friday, Sept. 25 at City National Bank. The special meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Harold, 942 Joyful-av.

Double-Ring Wedding Ceremony Unites Mary Schwarz And James DeStazio

MRS. JAMES ANTHONY DESTAZIO

Miss Mary Helen Schwarz became the bride of Mr. James Anthony DeStazio Saturday, Sept. 8 at St. Mary Magdalene Church. Rev. Raymond Bauchard read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and carnations.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Schwarz of 715 Wiltshire-rd. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James L. DeStazio of 841 S. Roys-av.

The bridal gown of imported chantilly lace and bouquet taffeta was designed with basque bodice, scalloped portrait neckline trimmed with iridescents, and long, tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured circular inserts of lace and continued into a chapel-length train.

A crown of matching iridescents held her fingertip-length veil, and she carried a cascade of sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Dorothy Enright served as matron of honor for her sister. Miss Kathleen Schwarz, Mrs. David Deal and Miss Rita Tarabe were the other attendants.

They were identically gowned in cotillion blue silk organza frocks designed with basque bodices and draped necklines caught at the back with two panels.

Each carried a cascade of white shattered carnations centered with pink roses.

Mr. James Mitchell served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. David Deal, Mr. Ronald Eifert and Mr. Robert DeStazio.

Mrs. Schwarz chose for her daughter's wedding gown of amethyst silk with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty pink silk gown with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white orchids.

Ilonka's Provincial House was the scene of the reception that followed.

The new Mrs. DeStazio was graduated from St. Joseph Academy and Mt. Carmel School of Nursing. She is now on the staff at Mt. Carmel.

Mr. DeStazio was graduated from Holy Family High School and attended Ohio State University for two years. He served with the U. S. Navy for two years and is now employed at Charles E. Merrill Book Co.

The couple will reside at 331 S. Westgate-av.

Judith Ann Finley Is Bride Of Richard Cook

MRS. RICHARD DAVID COOK

Miss Judith Ann Finley and Mr. Richard David Cook repeated their marriage vows Sunday, Aug 28 at St. John's Episcopal Church. Rev. Henry D. Moore, Jr., read the services at 4:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Finley, 939 Chestershire-rd and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cook of 161 Princeton-av.

Fashioned of nylon organza and Chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta, the gown was styled along empire princess lines with a deep vee neckline, and brief sleeves worn with matching mitts. The bouffant, hooped skirt extended into a wide sweep train.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a queen's crown of lace, iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy leaves, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Herbert Pressly of Bartow, Fla., served as matron of honor. Mrs. James French and Mrs. Frank Ricaridi were bridesmatrons.

They wore gowns of sunshine yellow silk over net and taffeta, with tufted bodices, sabrina necklines and full, waltz length skirts. Each carried a summer basket of yellow mums and white carnations.

Kathy and Karen Clinger, twin cousins of the bride, served as flower girls. They were gowned in white dotted swiss frocks with orchid cummerbunds and carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Mr. Gary Rasor served as bestman and ushers were Mr. John R. Finley, brother of the bride, and Mr. Charles Deyo.

The mother of the bride chose a pastel blue sheath grown of eyelet-embroidered silk organza over taffeta, with a matching hat and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a tunic of beige lace over taffeta, with matching hat and white accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church.

The new Mrs. Cook was graduated from Central High School and attended Columbus Business University. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi and is employed at the State Board of Nursing.

Her husband was also graduated from Central High School and is a member of the United States Army Reserve. He is associated with A. W. Brandt & Co.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Erie the couple is at home at 823 W. Rich-st.

Judith Wolfe, Joseph Laufersweiler Repeat Marriage Vows At St. Francis

The altar of St. Francis Church was decorated with white gladioli and mums for the marriage of Miss Judith Anne Wolfe and Mr. Joseph Daniel Laufersweiler Saturday, Sept. 5. Rev. William Connolly officiated at the nuptial high mass at 10:30 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John N. Wolfe, formerly of Columbus and now of Clarksburg, Md. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Wolfe of 96 N. Brinker-av, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raether.

Mr. Laufersweiler is the son of Mrs. John W. Laufersweiler of 1383 Neil-av, and the late Dr. Laufersweiler.

The bride's gown of silk bombazine over net and taffeta was fashioned with scalloped square neckline edged in jeweled Alencon lace, and brief sleeves worn with matching, tapered mitts. Her full skirt featured panels and motifs of lace trimmed with pearls and tridescents, and extended into a chapel train.

An Alencon pillbox trimmed with pearls held her three-tiered veil of illusion and she carried a prayer book covered with white sweetheart roses.

Miss Barbara Backley of Cleveland, cousin of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor, and other attendants were Miss Diane Hill of Greensboro, N.C., cousin of the bride; Mrs. Barney Dodson and Mrs. Andris Pladers.

They wore opera blue taffeta gowns with deep vee front and back necklines and back bows. They wore matching hat bands with circular veils and carried white sweetheart roses.

Jackie Alkire, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta floor-length gown and carried white sweetheart roses.

Mr. Robert Grannah served as best man for his cousin, and ushers were Mr. Jon Wolfe, brother of the bride; Mr. Nelson Williams and Mr. Paul De-

The bride's mother wore bronze lace over silk with beige accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother chose blue lace over taffeta with matching accessories and an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the wedding breakfast held at Presutti's Villa were Miss Linda Wolfe, Mrs. Edwin Herbert, Jr., Mrs. Richard Fisher and Mrs. Thomas Conway.

The bride attended George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and Ohio State University. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame. This fall he will be an instructor in the botany department at Ohio State University while continuing studies for his Ph.D.

Bureau Warns About Danger Of 'Party Popper'

Warning has been issued by the Columbus Fire Prevention Bureau that anyone selling or using a device called a "Party Popper" violates the local Fireworks Ordinance.

The Japanese-made device has a string at the bottom which, when pulled, causes a small firecracker to explode, shooting paper streamers into the air. The bureau points out the fire hazard of the illegal toy and has instructed its inspectors to remove any "Party Poppers" found on shelves of Columbus vendors.

Of the $57.7 billion that Americans spent for farm grown food in 1958, $30.6 billion went to farmers and $36.9 billion into marketing costs.

Estimates indicate that Americans eat around 40 million loaves of bread a day. We probably eat bread more regularly and more often than any other food.

New record for nonstop flight in a single-engine plane was set recently by Max Conrad, 56, who flew 7,700 miles from Casablanca, Morocco, to Los Angeles in 58 hours, 36 minutes.

New Charity Law In Effect

Columbus' charitable solicitation ordinance went into effect Aug. 26 affecting practically every member of service clubs, churches and other groups which each year conduct fund-raising campaigns.

The intent of the ordinance, as established when passed by City Council, is to protect the spirit of giving for all honest and straight-forward charitable solicitations.

Here's how the ordinance will work and will affect you:

1. It became effective August 26, 1959.
   - Exceptions:
     The ordinance does not apply to publicly recognized evangelical, missionary or religious organizations or any accredited college, university or school or any solicitation made within the membership of an organization.
   - Modifications:
     In the cases of local units of a parent organization, such as: Wings, Twigs, Cancer Mays, and Guilds, a single permit obtained by the parent organization will be sufficient for all local units.
2. A five-member Charitable Solicitation Board shall be appointed by the Mayor for a term of five years, a member to be appointed annually, to issue charitable solicitation permits upon request and after due investigation.
3. An application for charitable solicitation permit shall contain the following information.
   - Identification of organization.
   - Purpose of solicitation.
   - The need for the solicitation.
   - How contributions will be disbursed.
   - Methods to be used in soliciting.
   - Names and addresses of those in charge of solicitation.
   - The time of solicitation.
   - The estimated cost of solicitation (a statement that not less than 60% of the amount raised shall go for the charitable purpose).
   - The amount of wages or other remuneration to be paid to any person or persons in connection with the solicitation.
   - A financial statement of the last preceding fiscal year of funds collected for charitable purposes by the applicant.
   - A statement that if permit is granted, it will not be used or represented as an endorsement by the City of Columbus.
4. Fee: The application for permit shall be accompanied by a fee of $10.00 which shall be kept by the City of Columbus whether the permit is granted or denied. (The Board may also require a good and sufficient bond of $2,000 for the protection of persons who may sustain pecuniary losses by reason of unauthorized practice of permittee or agent.)
5. Permit Issue: The Board will issue a permit whenever it finds the following facts:
   - All statements made in the application are true.
   - The applicant is of good character.
   - Solicitation will be reliably supervised.
   - The solicitation is not a fraud on the public.
   - Cost of fund raising is reasonable.
6. Professional Promoters: Professional fund raising promoters must obtain a special license (fee $25) by providing substantially the same information as above. No promoter shall in any manner whatsoever solicit within the City of Columbus without such a license.
7. Identification of Solicitors and Agents: Each agent and solicitor of a permit holder must be provided with an information card, envelope or some other evidence of identification which shall include information as:
   - Name of permit holder.
   - Purpose of solicitation.
   - Period for which issued.
   - Name and description of agent or solicitor.
   - Signature of agent or solicitor.
   - Authorized signature of Charitable Solicitations Board.

   Such identification can be provided by the permit holder or may be obtained from the Charitable Solicitations Board at a cost of 1c each.
8. Special Regulations:
   - Appeal Procedure: If the Charitable Solicitations Board denies an application for a permit, the applicant may appeal from such decision before the Charitable Solicitations Board of Review composed of the Mayor, the President of City Council and the City Auditor.
   - Penalty: Each violation of this ordinance is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 and/or six months in prison.
   - Receipt: The person soliciting contributions for charitable purposes shall be prepared upon request to provide a written receipt to the contributor.
   - Under age solicitors: No person under the age of 14 shall solicit contributions for charitable purposes between the hours of 6:00 P.M. and 6:00 A.M. unless accompanied by a person of age 16 years or more, which person has a proper identification card.
   - Cost of Fund Raising: The cost of such activities as shows, dances, bazaars, raffles, sporting or social events, advertising space or commodities shall NOT be considered as part of the cost of solicitation. However, compensation in any form paid to a "professional promoter or solicitor" is part of the cost of solicitation.
   - Report Required: A detailed report and financial statement required within 30 days after solicitation.

The GIRL SCOUT DISTRICT DIARY

Mrs. James W. Whalen — Ohio Trefoil Council

Hazelwood Neighborhood

The Hazelwood Neighborhood Association really hit the jackpot for winning prizes from the third session at Camp Darby with their entries in the Girl Scout booth at the Ohio State Fair.

Entries made were produced by units from District Eight during the third session of the Ohio Trefoil Council Girl Scout Day Camp held at Camp Darby in Darby Creek Metropolitan Park.

During the recent judging period the following awards were made:

First Prize—Nature Crafts in the Outdoor Field with a Grand Award Rosette and $10 cash were awarded to the Day Camp Committee for Gold Leaf Prints framed with acorns and tree bark by the girls of Intermediate Troop 459 of St. Agnes School. Their leader is Mrs. Robert Fleer.

Intermediate Troop 548 Hilltonia Junior High School

This troop won first prize in Arts for Dramatic with their marionettes used in their play, "Snow White" and in turn won the Bordon Trophy in the entire Arts and Crafts field over all Intermediates. They also won first prize with their plastic pin and earring entries and won second prize with Swedish weaving and second prize for corn husk basketry. Karen Born of this troop won first prize in homemaking in needlework with her crocheted hankies and also won second prize with individual Swedish weaving.

Troop member, Toni Warren, won second prize with her canning and cooking entry and Honorable Mention on her apron entry and also in Arts and Crafts with telephone wire basketry entry.

In the Girl Scout Section of the Junior Division of the Ohio State Fair, the following members of Troop 548 were hostesses on Monday, Aug. 31: Betty Bell, Karen Born, Rita Brackenridge, Patricia Carter, Cecelia Gentry, Carolyn Regan, Leah Smith, Barbara Thomas, Toni Warren and Janice Wright.

Fourth prize was awarded to the Camp Committee for their camping equipment entry produced jointly by several Brownie units.

Brownie Troop 965 of St. Agnes School and Brownie Troop 50 under the leadership of Mrs. Charlie Burke were the units contributing Caper Chart, Caper Day and Badges to this exhibit. Other prize winning entries were a collection of games from outdoor material and a collection of stones.

Girls representing the various units of troops were awarded the Grand Award and Trophy at a special ceremony held Friday, Sept. 4 in the Girl Scout section at the Ohio State Fair. All monies from prize winning entries will go into a special Campership Fund.

The first prize Borden Trophy was awarded for drinking cups made from tin cans and entered under camping equipment on the Intermediate level. Three cups featuring leaf prints were produced by a troop of intermediate girls from Grove City under the leadership of Mrs. Clarence Snider.

Several girls and adults from the Hilltop area participated recently in a new type of Advanced Camping—Day and Stay Camping sponsored by the Ohio Trefoil Council at the Hi-Banks Metropolitan Park site. To be eligible for attendance, girls must have had three camping experiences, craft camping badge, also must have a skill test. The girls went daily by bus the first week to blaze trails, clear sites, pitch tents and construct camp furnishings by lashing. During the second week, they stayed both day and night and enjoyed advance cooking, night time camp fire fun and programs. Those in attendance were girls able to fulfill most requirements on the Pioneer Badge.

The following adults were part of the administrative staff: Carolyn Stichel, site director; Mrs. E. W. Bishop, assistant site director; Mrs. Campbell Warren, business manager and Mrs. Carl Washburn was part-time leader.

Two girls from Troop 548 participating were Toni Warren and Esther Willis; from Mrs. Bishop's troop were Rebecca Bishop and Kathy Washburn; from Mrs. John Merrick's troop, Mary Merrick and Cheri Bolinger.

Band, Orchestra Parents Get Season Under Way

West High Band and Orchestra Parents' Club will start the season with a new name this year, but will continue in its aim of support to the school band.

Known as the West High Band Parents Club for its 27 years of existence, the group purchases and maintains band uniforms and a great many instruments, from proceeds of various money-making projects.

Among revisions made in the club's constitution last spring, was the name change.

First meeting of the group is planned for Wednesday, Sept. 16, 8 p.m. in Room 2 at the school. Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month.

All parents of school band and orchestra members are invited by club officers to attend.

Charles E. Apel, 324 Binns-blvd, is club president; Mrs. Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, vice president; Mrs. Albert Bruse, 349 Powhatan-av, secretary, and Mrs. Dorothy Walsh, 124 S. Roys-av, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: hospitality, Mrs. C. Ray Barnhart; insurance, Joseph Cummings; uniforms, Mrs. Edgar L. McCleaf; sunshine, Mrs. E. C. Langdon; ways and means, Mrs. Donald Roederer; publicity and scrapbook, Mrs. John Ricker.

WEST SIDE FOOTBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED FOR AREA BOYS

West Side Football League, designed to give community boys ten to 15 years old a chance to participate in organized league play, has openings for interested teams.

Teams comprised of not more than 25 registered members, with players between ten and 15 years, weighing no more than 155 pounds, are eligible to enter and may call Brad Engert, AM. 7-1620 for information.

Activity of the league will be limited only by the amount of financial backing offered for its support, according to Engert. West Side Kiwanis Club has provided some of the funds needed for uniforms and equipment.

Teams already entered are: West Side Hawkes, made up of boys living in the Hawkes-av area, coached by George Lattimer, and the two teams from Riverside Homes, coached by Jewel Reese, 410 W. Cherry-dr.

Cowboys Host Four Team Grid Preview This Friday

By Bob Wilcox

Friday night, Sept. 11, Coach Bill Schmitter will unveil the 1959 edition of the West High Cowboys at the annual preview at Magly Field.

This year's opponents for the semi-round-robin affair will be the same foursome as last year . . . aEst, Eastmoor, Linden-McKinley and West.

The following Friday evening, Sept. 18, will find West again traveling to Springfield to tangle with the always-rough Wildcats . . . and the 1959 season's 'grind' will be on in earnest.

For the players the season has been on in earnest since Aug. 20, as they have been holding two-a-day sessions, weekdays and one on Saturday. So actually the "rigors" of returning to classes will be somewhat of a welcome relief . . . only one practice a day . . . to physically weary gridders.

But this vigorous campaign of conditioning, blocking, tackling, play-learning, etc. is a very essential part of many football . . . or sport, team and its subsequent success. Especially the conditioning angle—if a team or individual isn't in shape to take it and dish it out full blast for the full 60 minutes, then they've "had it." Witness to this fact are the three or four games where West "had 'em beat" going into the fourth quarter last year, only to tire and finally lose.

Plans Semi-Platoon Setup

However, Coach Schmitter hopes he has at least a partial answer to that '58 fault besides trying to condition the squad into topflight shape he is to use a semi-platoon system this fall. This means not using entirely different teams for offense and defense, but a change of the majority of the personnel of these two teams. This will give more boys a chance to play, and to rest.

Assisting in these pre-school drills are Schmitter's veteran aides . . . back coach Charlie Meyers and line coach John Butler. New to the staff is Larry Gray, on his first teaching assignment since graduating from Wittenberg. He is replacing Bill Brown who is moving to the new Westmoor Junior High after coaching reserve football and junior high baseball for the last two years. Gray will teach physical education and math.

West's biggest bugaboo this year will be inexperience . . . good old fashioned "greenness." But, according to behavior the Cowboy attitude and spirit is tremendous—and that may offset that disadvantage some. As he puts it, "If they do jell, they'll be tough." And there are a lot of juniors on the squad, so even if they take most of this season to gain that valuable game experience, most of them will be back in '60 to show the profits.

Schmitter's 'magic wand' of perspiration and inspiration that wove such a spell last year, should put him in pretty good stead as he starts his third year at the helm.

He took a football squad last fall that was hurt through personnel losses before season ever opened, but kept coming through all the 'hard knocks' to wind the season up in a blaze of glory . . . smashing a good East squad 33-13.

Let's talk about

YOUR HOME
Your home stands for comfort, security and your particular way of life. You have protected it against loss by fire and its furnishings against loss by theft. But just as important, have you protected it for your family in case you should die prematurely? You will want to be sure that your wife and children continue to live in their own home among their own friends and neighbors. Life insurance can protect your home against an outstanding mortgage. Sun Life's Mortgage Protection Policy might just be the perfect solution to a very important problem.

I'm sure I can be of service.
Why not give me a call?
You will be under no obligation.

EMPHASIS PLACED ON 'PARTNERS WITH YOUTH'

All Phases Of YMCA Drive Now Rolling Toward Goal

The kickoff for the "Y" Indian Guides, who are helping in the Annual Fall Enrollment of the Hilltop YMCA, took place at the YMCA on last Monday evening.

With the addition of this phase of the campaign, all phases of the operation are now working towards the goal of $4500.00 for this year's enrollment effort.

Chairman James Goudy enthusiastically boosted the business and residential divisions as they went forth to get a job done for the youth of the Hilltop community.

The final report night for the membership drive is Monday evening, Sept. 21, at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. At this time all divisions of the "Y" drive will report results.

A feature of this year's drive is the addition of the "Partners With Youth" membership for $10 or more. This money will be used to sponsor deserving boys, assist in craft classes when assistance is needed, and to add additional equipment to the Hilltop "Y" which will better enable the association to serve the youth of the community. Those holding Partners With Youth memberships will truly feel that they are a partner with the youth of our community.

The Hilltop Y's Men's Club has accepted the responsibility of the Sullivant Avenue business district and are telling the YMCA story to the merchants on Sullivant-av.

President Roy Agin asked for a progress report at the regularly scheduled Y's Men's meeting on Monday evening. The results were encouraging with the emphasis having been placed on "Partners

WEST SIDE KIWANIANS SELECT OFFICERS FOR 1960

SERVING SERVICE CLUB—Members of the West Side Kiwanis Club have chosen these men to direct the organization in 1960. Installation will take place early in January. The club meets for a noon luncheon meeting every Wednesday at the Chicago Avenue Church of Christ. Seen left to right, seated, are: Harry C. Essick, immediate past president and a director; Ted Kiantz, second vice-president; Jack C. Williams, first vice-president; Frank Watts, president elect; Ralph Burrell, secretary; Wesley Clemens, treasurer. Standing, left to right are directors Marcus T. Orr, George Weber, C. Walter Cunningham, Fred VanOrder, Dr. Walter D. Barcroft, Homer Johnson and Lee Price.

HBA Plans To Increase Effort For Civic Service

Rev. Anthony Completes 22 Years As Local Pastor

Rev. Harris B. Anthony, oldest minister in terms of service in a Hilltop church, will observe his 22nd anniversary as pastor of Warren Avenue Church of Nazarene, 650 S. Warren-av, on Sept. 19.

He has accepted a call from the church to serve another three years as its pastor.

During his ministry here, a new stone church building and brick parsonage have been built, and 893 members have been received into the church.

Rev. Anthony expects, within the next three years, to liquidate the debt on the church and burn the mortgage. His church also contributes ten per cent of its income to world missions.

Born in Kennetcook, Nova Scotia, Canada, Rev. Anthony at the age of 18, went to Saskatchewan, Canada, where he taught in the public schools for five years. He attended Normal College in Truro, Nova Scotia, and Regina, Saskatchewan.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony

After receiving a call to the ministry, he went to Nampa, Ida., where, after attending Northwest Nazarene College for two years, he obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree. After one year as principal of the high school there, he went to Boston, Mass., where he took post-graduate work at Boston University.

He served as pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene at New Haven, Conn., for two years, and as pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene at Manchester, Conn., for seven years, where he built a new church building.

He became the fifth pastor of Warren Avenue on Sept. 19, 1937.

While in the East, Rev. Anthony served as trustee of Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass., for seven years, and since coming to Columbus has served as trustee of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., for ten years.

He served for 17 years on the Board of Ministerial Studies on both the New England

Association Leaders Discuss Organization's New Future

"What's ahead for the Hilltop Business Association?"

This is a question that has been asked frequently in recent months since State Treasurer Joe Ferguson pulled the rug from under the financial structure of the association.

Last Wednesday evening members of the association heard a panel of five HBA members discuss the subject after a special committee had made a careful study of the matter. The meeting was held at the new Armory on Sullivant-av.

Consensus of the group is that the association is perhaps far better off at this point than it has been in several years if the efforts of the group will now be centered on business and civic matters in the community rather than operating a sales tax business.

Panel members discussing the subject were Phil Stout, attorney, who gave the view of a professional man; John Nippert of Nippert Electric Products Co., speaking as a representative of industry; Jack Merriman of Seilers, representing retailers; Roy Von Ins of City National Bank, speaking in behalf of the civic side of the association. C. Carlton Hartley was moderator.

Stout pointed out that every effort of the association in helping build a better community had resulted in better and more business locally for professional men and that local professional men should by all means be affiliated with the association.

"Any professional man who does not take advantage of what the HBA has to offer is missing something," he said.

John Nippert stressed what industry had meant to this community and pointed to the need of a friendly relationship with industry. He showed how some 3,000 new jobs made possible by a local industry actively created employment for some 12,000 persons in the area.

"Industry is interested in one basic policy with reference to the community . . . that of being a good neighbor. Industry wants good education for children, good police protection, good government and good homes for our employees."

He pointed to how industry is always called on for a major share of the load in all local campaigns. This has ben true in United Appeals, YMCA building funds, hospital drives and all others.

Jack Merriman pointed to the many services of the association for retailers such as the benefits from the advertising code, employer-employee educational programs, the distributive education program, advice on legislative matters, participation in community activities and promotions such as the bean dinner etc., the opportunity to become

Rally Round The Crystal Ball

Football Contest Is Underway

The Spectator By C.C. Hartley

Poke your head to the top shelf of the closet, pull out that dusty crystal ball and prepare yourself for four months of fun.

Football season is here.

And if you rate yourself as much of a guesspert, wipe the dust off your weekend gridiron calculator and get ready to take part in the big Hartley Newspaper Guessing Contest which starts this week.

Appearing in a full page advertisement in this week's newspaper are rules for this year's contest along with the prizes that will be awarded in the first guessing match.

Entries in the contest must be received at the Hartley Newspaper office by 12 noon the Tuesday after the blank appears in the newspaper. Mailed entries must be postmarked no later than the same time.

No player has a head start in the contest. Your chances of winning are as good as your skill . . . plus all the luck you can muster.

Winners of each week's contest will be determined by the number of correct predictions. The person who guesses the most correct winners will get first choice of the prizes offered that week with others taking their pick in order of the finish.

Prizes in the first week of the contest are $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise at Hi-Ridge Market and a lube and oil change and filter at Central Point Mobile Service.

Merchants taking part in the contest are Hi-Ridge Market, Bill White Motors, Central Point Mobile Service, Tunison's Sohio Service, Hilltop Motors Inc., Reeves Brothers, Lowe Brothers Paints, Edwards Rexall Drugs, Owl Market, Fritch Jeweler, Westgate Carriage Cleaners, Harrup's Pharmacy, Bond Cleaners, Gearhart Hardware, Goodwin Drugs, Phillips Coney Island, The Pine Room Inc., Chip and Jack's Bar, Joe Worthens Men's Wear and D. and J. Grocery.

Burgess EUB To Serve Spaghetti Fete Friday

Annual spaghetti supper, sponsored by the Alpha Class of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church will be served Friday, Sept. 18, 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Public is invited.

West Teacher Is Appointed To NEA Post

J. J. Brown

J. James Brown, 34, of 121 S. Harris-av, has been appointed assistant director of the mathematics department of National Education Association in Washington, D.C.

A math teacher at West High School for the past ten years, Brown was graduated from West in 1942, and from St. Mary Magdalene School.

Well-known for his interest and efforts in boy scout work, he is a former scoutmaster of Troop 45.

Last spring Brown represented Columbus public schools at the annual meeting of Council of Teachers in Mathematics, held in Dallas. He also attended the council's 1957 meeting held in Philadelphia.

He received his bachelor's degree in education at Ohio State University in 1947, and his bachelor of arts degree, also from OSU, in 1950.

Brown taught two years at Liberty Center and served four years in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

He joined West's faculty in 1949.

He also served as attendance teacher at West.

Committee Charts Program

Initial steps for establishing a fall and winter program at Gladden Community House were taken Thursday night, when a steering committee met for a planning session.

Representing different age and interest groups, each member of the committee will invite four people of his own sex and age to participate in an enlarged discussion next Thursday night.

Suggestions and ideas from everyone in the community will be accepted on the following Thursday night, Sept. 24, 7:30 p.m. at Gladden's open house.

All suggestions will be compiled and from these, a program will be devised to include something of interest to everyone in the community.

Al M. Wilder, director, explained the open house as, "a family affair." Everyone is invited to come, meet the staff, and express his interests.

"We are interested in everyone's ideas on what activities they would like at Gladden. No program will be started unless people request it.

"We also plan to help with a community betterment program, and will allocate staff time for such aid projects as better street lighting, but service to Gladden House, and helping new people in the community find the resources for education, business and health services."

Kiwanians Plan AFB Kids' Day

Kids' Day at Lockbourne Air Force Base, an annual event sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs of the district, will be held this year Sunday, Sept. 27.

Feature of the program will be the "name-the-plane contest." The child whose name for the plane is chosen will be the honorary base commander for the day.

Joe Goodwin of the Hilltop Club is in charge of the name-the-plane contest.

Sherry Fall Notes: It's a girl for the Paul Laggers and real happy they are now that Kristen Eileen has arrived, so much so that they announced it with a large sign on their front lawn out on Renner-rd . . . If you haven't visited that new Kuennings Restaurant at Great Southern you owe yourself that pleasure, and while at it get acquainted with the genial manager, Bob McLean . . . A big cornerstone laying ceremony is being planned for early October for the new Hilltop YMCA. Persons having suggestions of items that should be placed in the cornerstone should contact Dewey Parrish, HR. 9-2757 . . . Plans are in the making for an open house at Westmoor Junior High around Oct. 21 . . . Hilltop Kiwanians are chartering a bus for Oct. 6 to attend Governor's Night at the Ohio District Kiwanis Convention in Cleveland, at which time Hilltopper Phil Stout, the governor, will be honored . . . West Coach Bill Schmitter is not too discouraged about his prospects for the season . . . Former localite Roy Wolfe, the muskie fisherman, recently suffered a stroke and is in a hospital in North Bay, Ontario . . . Someone said that Jack Sensenbrenner is having a hard time raising campaign funds since he has no one obligated to him . . . Jack Morris and family will move to Dayton where Jack will be stationed at Wright Patterson Field, following a long stay at the Pentagon in Washington . . . The Ray Coffmans will take a trip to Hawaii soon . . . Dr. and Mrs. Earl Schoepner have moved to 4685 Trabue-rd, and Earl is busy erecting a new greenhouse where he will pursue his hobby of raising orchids . . . Our boy Pete, who runs the printing plant at West Jeff, has been confined to Doctors Hospital for over 10 days with a foot infection.

The 1954 Cleveland Indians set a new American League record by winning 111 of their 154 games.

Winner of the world award, a week's vacation at beautiful Timberlane Acres, Pigeon Lake, Ontario, Canada, will be announced soon.

There are several interesting comments we should make about this year's Derby. First, there were some real giants entered in the contest. The winning crappie weighed just one ounce short of two pounds, and was 15 inches long.

The top bluegill was a ten and one-half incher and scaled a pound and seven ounces. The catfish category drew the most entries and several excellent fish were scored—the winner was 37 and one-half inches in length and weighed 27 pounds.

The second comment is that the Derby brought out again the fact there is mighty good fishing close to home. The winning walleye came from Rocky Fork Lake and the first catfish from the Muskingum River, but virtually all other winners were from local waters.

Big Walnut and Big Darby Creeks figured high in the smallmouth bass and catfish classes. Hoover Dam scooped the largemouth bass category. Other winners came from the Scioto and Deer Creek. It would seem that Big Walnut and Hoover Dam are the most popular fishing waters in this area.

A lesson that might be learned from the Derby is that many of the winning entries came in during the last half of the contest. Spring is the traditional fishing season and probably more fish are caught then than at any other time. But this year most of the big ones were picked up after July 4.

Bass fishermen did not break any records, although there were many nice entries. You might expect the largemouth bass winner to top five pounds, but a four and a half-pounder took the honors. There were a lot of smallmouth bass entered that were caught in Lake Erie—a nationally famous spot for these fish. But local waters produced the winners, except one of the fish tied for third place.

All in all it was a tremendously successful Derby, and many thanks are due the official weighing stations. Congratulations to the winners, and we hope everyone else has better luck next time. Watch for the announcement of the winner of the free week's vacation in Canada!

better acquainted with other business people in the area, retail sales promotions, Christmas street decorations.

Roy Van Ins pointed to the need of business men taking an active part in civic affairs in the community and that the association could well take credit for many of the improvements that have come through the years.

"Business men are looked to by local residents to provide the leadership in civic matters. The Hilltop Business Association has for many years been the most outstanding civic group in the city. At this point it is well that the association will now concentrate again on pursuing the civic needs of the Hilltop."

H. James Holroyd, president of the association, opened the meeting with the observation that it is time that the group take steps to get back into the job it was organized to do, that of performing services for its members and in a civic way in the community.

Hartley pointed to the need of members of the association getting wholeheartedly behind a program that will be outlined soon by the new Program Development Committee. This group will meet this week to discuss the financial status of the association with the hope that it will be possible to continue with a full time secretary who will devote his full time to the development of an extensive local civic and business program.

What's ahead for the HBA? Most of those present at the meeting expressed the opinion that the association will soon become stronger than it has ever been and provide greater services for the community.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

It's time again for the Hilltop YMCA to begin to move its program back into the building. Now that school is once more in session, the regularly scheduled events have begun.

Movies for all boys and girls are being shown each Monday after school. Tuesday afternoons will once more find many "Y" boys working eagerly on numerous craft items. Girls' craft classes will meet on Thursday afternoons.

Information on the organization of the Hilltop Gra-Y Clubs has been circulated throughout the schools. Any boy in the fourth, fifth or sixth grades interested in this program should ask for an information sheet either at his school or at the Hilltop YMCA. All clubs will begin their regular yearly activities next week with starting times being announced in each school.

Organization plans for the Junior Hi-Y Clubs of West, Westmoor and Hilltonia are now being made. It is hoped that starting times for all school clubs can be announced in this column next week.

First Big Run Contract Let MondayNight

Construction of the Big Run sanitary sewer will get underway in the near future.

City Councilmen passed three ordinances Monday night which awarded the first contract for the construction, ordered and appropriated money to pay for a second phase.

The trunk line is designed to relieve the load on sewers in the Hilltop and West Side area.

First phase of the construction will bring the line from the treatment plant to Gantz-rd at the cost of $875,000. The second phase, which will extend the line from Gantz-rd to Highland-av, will cost an estimated $850,000.

In other action, Council approved acquisition of four more properties for a Senior Citizens' Recreation Center adjacent to Sunshine Park for $17,000.

Special permission was given Glenwood Methodist Church to burn brush and debris at the site purchased for a new church at Hague-av and Valleyview-dr.

Rezoning of frontage along Sullivant-av at the old airport to commercial was also approved.

With City Traffic Engineer John L. Gallagher on a week's vacation, the proposal to place penny parking meters along W. Broad-st on the Hilltop was not placed on Council's agenda

Fels Research Institute for the study of human development is located at Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Mrs. Gould—

3257 Fisher-rd and a son, Jay Gould of Dublin.

She grew up on a farm south of Sullivant-av and, with her two brothers aand three sisters, attended a school on W. Broad-st near Warren-av.

The family went to a church located on W. Broad-st at Wilson-rd, now the site of Dr. Parks' home.

Married in January, 1893 to Frederick Gould, the couple moved into a new home at 114 Hawthorne-av. Name of the street was later changed to Whitethorne-av. Mr. Gould died in 1911.

Mrs. Gould was a charter member of Glenwood Methodist Church, organized in March, 1893 at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Six.

She was honored by the church when Glenwood celebrated its 60th anniversary Sunday, Nov. 15, 1953. Mrs. Gould was an active member, throughout the years, of Ladies Aid and Missionary Societies, groups which helped build the present Glenwood Church building.

Mrs. Gould was also a charter member and an honorary member of Highland Garden Club, and belonged to Wells Relief Corp, auxiliary of the GAR.

In addition to her son and daughter, she is survived by three grandchildren, Mrs. Douglas Myers of Cary, Frederic G. Rucker and Fred Guild of Columbus; nine great-grandchildren, and one brother, W. R. Watts of Columbus.

Funeral services were held Friday at Jerry Spears Funeral Home, with burial at Green Lawn Cemetery.

GOODWILL FIRST RATE CITIZEN

Founded in a Boston Slum area at the turn of the century, non-profit Goodwill Industries utilizes discarded clothing and household articles in its program of rehabilitating handicapped people.

The handicapped are given an opportunity to learn, while earning, then to move into normal industry or commerce whenever possible.

Since its inception in 1902, Goodwill Industries has expanded, until today there are 121 Goodwills in cities throughout the U.S. It is also operating in Canada, Australia, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay and Pakistan.

More than 32,000 persons were helped by Goodwill in 1958. They were provided vocational training, employment and rehabilitation services. Twenty-one million dollars in wages and salaries was paid, of which $16,500,000 was to persons receiving training and sheltered workshop employment. About 20 million hours of employment were given these workers.

More than five million homes in thousands of communities contributed no longer needed but repairable articles of clothing and household goods. Millions of other homes benefited by being able to buy remade articles at low budget prices.

Goodwill employees, who might require public assistance if not employed, paid some $1,500,000 in income taxes, state and federal, and social security payments in 1958.

In its own field Goodwill Industries keeps alive the spirit of self-respect and independence which has always been this country's most important product. It deserves a vote of confidence from every American.

BIBLE COMMENT:

One Man's Conversation With Angel

Ghosts, spirit, miracles. It all sounds like superstitious mumbo jumbo, sometimes even to the most churchly of us.

Consider the story that a man in Pittsburgh, Pa., swears is the truth:

"One day when I was three years old, I was standing at the window of my parents' apartment.

"Suddenly my grandmother appeared to me. She was standing in air, dressed in a long whitish robe with a light blue sash. Rising from her back were enormous wings.

She spoke to me, saying, 'Be a good boy.'

"She added that there was a small tricycle in her closet for me, a gift that nobody knew about.

"After she vanished a neighbor with a telephone brought my mother news that grandmother had died a few minutes before—at the time I spoke to the angel.

"When they cleaned out my grandmother's home they found a tricycle in the closet for me."

Childish illusion? A dream? Such things have been documented and sworn by many to acautily have happened.

Such accounts must give us pause when we imagine that a man's hand reaches only to the finite and that his eye sees only to the horizon.

How long since you've read the Declaration and Independence? The constitution of the United States? Other great documents? Refresh your knowledge . . . read them at your Columbus Public Library.

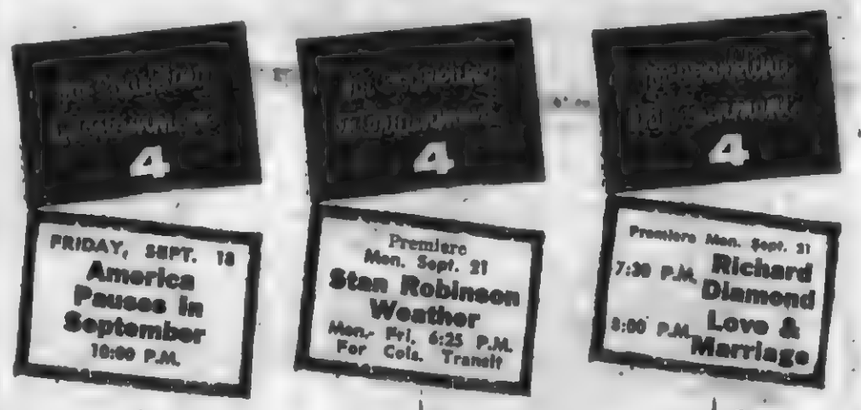
HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS

TV DIAL-oques

By Betty Shepherd



The Columbus police may be looking for you! If you are a safe, courteous driver, and "do unto other motorists and pedestrians as you would like to be done unto," you may be cited as a "WLW-C Driver of the Week" sometime during the coming months.

Any day now you may be asked to pull over to the curb by Sgt. Ken Miller or Patrolman Steve MacDonald and given a ticket. If you are, don't get upset for the "ticket" will be for safe driving and your entire conversation during the proceedings will be recorded on a Dictette recorder carried by the officer.

Five persons a week will be cited in just such a manner beginning Monday, Sept. 14, one of whom will be selected as the "WLW-C Driver of the Week." That driver will be a guest of Hugh DeMoss, on his 6:30 news show on Channel 4 on Tuesday nights (the first appearance will be Sept. 29) and will be announced on "Falcon Playhouse" the next morning. The conversation which was recorded as the citation was given, will be played back on the air. An announcement will also be made on WLW-Radio.

The "Driver of the Week" will be a continuing feature on WLW-C, added to the station's already expanded public service programming.

Speaking of public service, two other programs of local interest coming up in the immediate future on WLW-C are the "Morning Mirrors" for Wednesday, Sept. 16 and 23. Channel 4's audience will go shopping—for on the 16th the Junior League's annual Bargain Box will be spotlighted . . . "The largest and most glorified rummage sale in town."

And on the 23rd, the Bambino Shop run by the Women's Board of Children's Hospital will be featured. If you don't already know about that attractive shop on E. Broad-st (where new and beautiful gifts for all kinds may be purchased) it will pay you to make a special visit. All proceeds go directly to the hospital. Another first for our city—did you know that when the present construction is completed, Columbus Children's Hospital will be the largest hospital of its kind in the nation?

In the network TV [redacted] we are dizzy from schedule changes and "rave" notices about upcoming shows. Added to the regular programming are the numerous NBC and CBS specials about Eisenhower and Khrushchev. The Soviet Premier will be followed closely around our nation by the TV cameras, and all of us will have ample opportunity to see and hear this most vital of public events.

One of the early spectaculars of NBC and WLW-C will be the hour-long special on Sept. 18 when "America Pauses in September." The weather must have even gotten to the TV script writer, for the title started out to be "America Pauses for Summer's End." Since summer seemed endless this year, just last week it was changed to the September bit.

This promises to be a real "goody," because such name stars as Burgess Meredith, Art Linkletter, Gene Nelson, the Kingston Trio and the entire cast of "Holiday on Ice" will sing and dance all the way from the luxury Queen of Bermuda to the campus of the University of California at Los Angles.

Another one to mark on your calendars is "A Toast To Jerome Kern" on Sept. 23. This special, 90-minute musical extravaganza will be based on famous Kern melodies and will be seen live and in color on Channel 4.

Collegiate football kicks off on Saturday, Sept. 19 with Channel 4's NCAA game between Louisiana State and Rice at 3:45 p.m. The Buckeyes will be seen in training via film on the season's opener of Woody Hayes' sport show on channel 10 on Sept. 17. Several members of the team will appear as guests on the show.

Darren McGavin premieres on two different networks this week. He will star as Grey Holden, captain of NBC's "Riverboat" setting sail on WLW-C Sundays at 7, and also as Mike Hammer in Mickey Spillane's series by the same name on WBNS-TV Saturday nights at 10:30.

Two other specials for Channel 4 and 10 will be the hour-long "Loretta Young Show" to open her fall series on Sept. 20. This marks the first time that she has offered a full hour drama in the 247 teleplays she has either introduced or starred in during her six seasons on TV. "The Road," filmed in France, concerns the torment of a proud and lonely woman who is concealing a tragic secret behind a mask of careless gaiety and sophistication.

Channel 10's welcome mat will be out for "The Old Redhead," when Arthur Godfrey returns after an absence of four months to star in a special variety show on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

NEW LOOK—T. Kline Hamilton, president of Diamond Milk Products, and R. Michael Herrel, general manager, present the new Diamond Quality Chekd advertising and merchandising program and the new line of Diamond Quality Chekd milk cartons to company employees at a kick-off meeting.

Diamond Milk Gives Area New Look In Dairy Products

There's a "new look" in dairy products in Central Ohio. Diamond Milk Products, largest home owned milk service is introducing a completely redesigned line of package.

"All our cartons are new and different from anything the public has seen before," said T. Kline Hamilton, Diamond president. "They are brighter and much more eye appealing. They express the latest in modern package styling."

Diamond's new line of cartons came about because of the local company's affiliation with the nationally famous Quality-Chekd Dairy Products Association. This is a voluntary group of more than 100 outstanding independent dairies operating in 36 states. Quality-Chekd maintains research laboratories and test kitchens in Chicago, and member dairies are subjected to additional rigid quality control.

The new Diamond Quality-Chekd containers were designed by Walton Landor and associates of San Francisco, Calif., one of the nation's top package designers. In the carton design, Landor and his group combined the "Big red check mark" with the new Diamond ensigna and "Diamond Joe" well known company trade character.

The completely new line of redesigned cartons as well as the other Quality-Chekd advertising and merchandising program were introduced to Diamond employees and families at a company dinner at the Southern Hotel.

Hilltop Library Plans Program For Rose Week

A rose hostess and a floral exhibit will highlight the week-long program dedicated to Columbus as "the Rose Capital of the World" starting Monday, Sept. 21, at the Hilltop Branch Library.

Events are planned in cooperation with Central Ohio Rose Society in anticipation of its 10th annual Rose Festival scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, in the Whetstone Park Recreation Building, according to branch librarian, Mary Elizabeth Keyes.

Free for the asking during the week will be a list of more than 50 books on flower arranging and 30 on rose culture owned by the library system. Any books not in the Hilltop library collection may be ordered through it from the main library.

Advance programs of the Rose Festival will also be available throughout the week for those planning to attend or take part. Participation is open without charge to anyone who grows roses.

Mrs. Noah Hoy of Pataskala will be at the library from 2 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 22 and 23, to answer questions about arrangements, rose culture and the festival. Mrs. Hoy, winner of many trophies in state and local flower shows is a judge and member of Central Ohio Rose Society and Central Ohio Flower Council.

Rose Society will install Tuesday an exhibit featuring a rose bouquet contrasted to a rose arrangement. They will remain on exhibit until they lose their beauty, Miss Keyes said.

Smith-Barrett Post, Unit To Install Officers

New Smith-Barratt Post Auxiliary officers to be installed at the joint ceremony Sept. 22, are Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, president; Mrs. Frank Brown, first vice-president; Mrs. William Gallagher, second vice-president.

Mrs. Genevieve Spencer, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Toy, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Allen, chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Spielbauer, serveant-at-arms.

Mrs. Genevieve Spencer will serve as installing officer for the auxiliary, and Ralph Hedrick will install post officers.

Mrs. Ray Watkins, past president of the unit, is in charge of installation arrangements.

A reception for new officers will follow the installation.

Ross Kerr To Manage New A&P Super Market

Key people who will head the staff of the new A&P Super Market at 3426 Sullivant-av at Demorest-rd, when the big unit opened for business Wednesday morning at nine a.m. were announced today by Vice President R. F. Kleinschmidt, head of the Columbus Unit of the company.

Ross Kerr, manager of the Bexley store, has been named manager of the new store. Assistant manager will be Edwin Ryan, transferred from the store at 3832 East Broad-st.

Kerr has been with the company almost 20 years, having begun as a clerk at Circleville in 1940. He and his wife will move to Columbus from Bellefontaine shortly.

Ryan joined A&P at Wellsburg, W. Va., in 1948 and moved to Columbus in 1954. He and his wife and daughter live at 43 E. Blake-av.

Michael Arena, recently head of the meat department at the store at 3280 Tremont-rd, will be in charge of the new store's meat department as he marks 18 years of service with A&P. He lives with his family at 620 Salisbury-rd.

Harold White, of 31 Lawn-av, recently a staff member at the store on Kimball-pl, between E. Main and Mound-st, has been named produce department head. From the same store will come John C. Reed, of 2206 Woodstock-rd, to be head of the new store's dairy department.

Miss Edith Monteal, of 1141 S. High-st, will be head cashier, transferring from the Tremont-rd store.

West Is Still Question Mark After Win, Loss In Preview

The question mark as to what does West possess in their football squad, how good are they, etc., is still unanswered after last Friday evening's preview at Magly Field. Playing against Eastmoor in the first quarter, of action, they failed to show well; opposing a strong Central squad in the evening's last period, they looked quite good as they dominated the play.

Eastmoor handed the Cowboys a 14-0 parting as the West offense couldn't move and the defense looked even worse. Halfback Dick Wilson, a thorn in West's side all period, went around right end for 24 yards and their first score . . . climaxing a six-play, 46-yard march that began when West gambled on the 50, fourth and five and ended up losing another five. Bob Bensol went around right end also for the two extra points.

West took the kickoff and on the first play, a mixup in the handoff resulted a fumble recovery by Wilson. Ten plays and 40 yards later Wilson went off right tackle for the second TD. Bensol's try over center for the extra points was stopped. The clock ran out during the kickoff return.

• • • •

However it was an entirely different story in the last period. (Coach Bill Schmitter had his boys in the locker room the entire time between their playing times, but stated later that he didn't say or do anything drastic. The only personnel change made was at quarterback. He says that the boys have been "down with their tails between their legs for a couple of weeks, but we didn't know how to shake them out of it. The Eastmoor fray seemed to do it for us.") Something sure did . . .

In this contest West dominated play with not only a much improved defense (Central looked like they'll be rough), but the offense clicked and pounded out the yardage. The Cowboys didn't try their aerial arm all evening, but the ground game looked good built around fullback Bill Biggers. (It'll be a long time before another Dave Francis happens along, but Biggers certainly is going to hold upon that time and make the loss less felt and less missed by the fans.)

West took the opening kickoff and marched in 13 plays, 65 yards to paydirt with Biggers going over right tackle for the final four. Leon Evans swept right end for the two extra points.

Late in the period they took a Central punt and began another long march. They started on their own 32 and drove as far as Central's 25 before they were set back 15 yards on a holding penalty as the gun went off.

Right tackle Jim Horn was opening holes for Biggers and leading the interference for Evans' end sweeps as it owned the entire left side of the Pirate's line. Biggers bucks and plunges and Evans sweeps clipped off good yardage on the ground for the Hilltoppers, now if they can add a wee bit of an aerial arm . . . well, just might be . . . have to wait and see. Gene Branson made one nice stop from his defensive end slot, nailing the runner for a three-yard loss.

Converted halfback, junior Bob Ross, had beaten veteran Bill Kern out for the starting quarterback job the past week. So Ross started Friday evening, but though perhaps through no real fault of his as to what he did or didn't do, the Broncos couldn't move that first period. So Kern started the fourth frame and the crew really started going places. So it appears that Kern has reinstated himself as the No. 1 signal caller. It must certainly be hard for a coach to take . . . two "T" quarterbacks of about equal ability with such keen competition that if one's "down," the other can step in and move the show on.

This fall this Friday evening, Springfield, is always rough and tough, but this year it'll probably be with a capital "T" and "E". New Cowboy reserve coach, Larry Gray, did his student teaching there last year and knows them well . . . and he really bubbles over when he talks about what a fine all-around squad the Wildcats have this year. There just doesn't seem to be a single chink in any of their armor. And last season wasn't such a bad one for them either as they finished with a fine 8-0-1 record, rated fifth in the state.

They are members of the rough Greater Ohio League which includes such schools as Middletown, Hamilton, Lima, etc. However this is their last year as Springfield's only public high school (next year there will be a new one thus splitting their power), so quite naturally they will probably be out to make the best record possible in this final season as a single high.

Though they lost several men via graduation, only two were of an outstanding nature . . . all-state guard Stanford and all-conference halfback Glenn, so coach Lowell Storm has quite a nucleus of veteran lettermen back to work with. Though he lost his quarterback, he felt that he had two men who would be even better to replace him. Storm starting his third year at the helm, is a disciple of Los Angeles Rams kid, so values a good aerial game . . . but currently has a devastating ground game to go with it.

They used a mixed offense, but love to trap and go up the middle. As a team they are BIG . . . but have speed to burn. Especially effective is their burning speed to the outside on end sweeps which is another of their favorites. Probably their two outstanding men this fall are both halfbacks . . . veteran Murphy and newcomer Fugate. The latter runs the quartermile in 50.8.

But as if their offensive picture didn't spell enough trouble, Gray goes on to state that their defense is excellent. In fact, Storm considers this phase to probably be their stronger feature.

So Cowboy fans this certainly should go a long way towards spelling out what West has this fall, to troop over Rt. 40 Friday eve and see a good ball game and what's what for yourself. Its quite evident that the Broncos will need every loyal backer and cheerer possible . . . so help the cause and give them your backing.

But don't overlook one important fact, fans . . . Springfield's experience and quality is an awfuly rough item for a relatively young and green squad such as Bill Schmitter has this season to run into for their taste of battle. But it will certainly go a long way towards gaining the Cowboys that valuable and necessary game experience and baptism that they need . . . and better prepare them for their city-league foes.

• • • •

The other two quarters on West's preview at Magly Field last Friday found Central and East playing to a 6-6 tie, and East then downing Eastmoor, 6-0. Central dominated their quarter except when East's fabulous fullback Clarence Winston (only in for 4-5 plays, but really made them count) was in and carried. He went around right end for the final 13 to make things even after Central quarterback Ed Parks had gone 8 over left tackle earlier. Both plunges for the extra points failed. East's quarterback Bill Johnson took personal command with some fine running against Eastmoor and finally climaxed it by going 10 yards over center to score the only TD of the quarter. His plunge for the extra points also was no good.

In summary . . . Eastmoor, like West, looked pretty good in one outing and not so hot in the other, so they're still a big question mark as to their real ability. Central looked pretty strong and though East is rated to be one of the tops in the city this fall they looked good, but nothing sensational. They were just so-so at times without Winston in there.

He's quite a lad . . . big, but fragile at times, but probably would be a halfback in most "camps", and with speed to burn. He's the lad who scored 17½ points to take individual honors in last spring's Hilltop relays.

Besides West's unusual schedule of all games at home except the first and last ones . . . another ironic point is that the two west side rivals don't meet in the regular season this year . . . West and Central don't tangle till '59, so their quarter last Friday will be their only encounter with each other for this season.

APARTMENTS MAKE WAY FOR USED CAR LOT

DOWN THEY GO—Nearly a dozen apartments at 524-524 W. Broad-st, are being demolished to make way for Haydocy Pontiac's used car lot, west of its present new-car showroom. In a move to consolidate all operations on the West Side, Haydocy hopes to move all cars from its W. Fifth-av lot by early October, in time for the arrival of the 1960 Pontiac. One house will be left standing to serve as office for the new operation. Basements of the old apartment buildings will be filled in, and new sewers, curbs and blacktopping will be installed before the opening date.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Meats and Poultry — Stewing chickens, fryers, ham, fresh pork roasts, medium eggs.

Vegetables—Potatoes, squash, carrots, sweet potatoes.

Fruits—Apples, grapes, pears, peaches, canned fruit.

IT'S TIME FOR CHICKEN POT PIE

Stewing chickens are coming. And what's better when the weather starts to turn cool than an old-fashioned chicken pot pie with a savory brown crust?

September and October season for it. Large supplies of heavy hens are coming. ket and prices are expected to continue lower than average for stewing chickens through the fall months.

Why large supplies? Right now, broiler chicken producers are busy making room for their growing flocks. They are selling the older breeder hens. In the markets, breeder hens are "stewing chickens" or "heavy hens" of five pounds and over. When you buy that stewing chicken you'll probably notice yellow fat showing through the skin over the back and breastbone. That is the way it should look. It's likely to mean good flavor and juiciness. The tip of the breastbone of your stewing chicken will be fi stiff rather than soft and flexible like the breastbone of a fryer.

Cooking Tips — Has it been a long time since you cooked a stewing chicken? Remember, the meat doesn't have to fall off the bone in order to be tender. For a 5-6 pound hen, allow two to two and one-half hours simmering time. Fork tender is tender. You can usually count on getting about 2/3 cup of cooked boned meat from each pound of ready-to-cook chicken.

Try these— Stewing isn't the only way to cook a stewing chicken. It can be put in a covered roasting pan and roasted to tenderness in the over. In a 350 degree oven it takes about 2½ hours for a five-pound hen. Unlike roasting a young chicken, a cover on the roasting pan is important. This keeps the steam in the pan — and the chicken cooks more quickly than it will without a cover and will be juicier, too.

Cooking a stewing chicken gives you a chance to use spices and herbs, too. Bay leaf, celery tops, whole peppercorns and thyme make a good start to flavor accents. Or, if you're cooking that chicken in the oven, you may want to treat it as you would a pot roast. Add carrots, potatoes, onions and mushrooms during the last part of the cooking time.

The weather will turn cooler, so keep these economical stewing chickens in mind as you do your food shopping.

The 1959 Ohio potato crop is now being harvested and is reported to be excellent in quality. Early indications are that there will be an ample supply at budget prices. They will be an especially good buy during the next two months before they are put into storage.

You may want to watch roadside markets for a few more late tomatoes. Recent rainfall has improved the quality.

WLW-C Plans To Honor Safe Driver Of The Week

Columbus police are on the lookout for the "WLW-C Driver of the Week."

Beginning Monday, Sept. 14, at least five motorists per week in the greater Columbus area will be cited for safe and courteous driving. From these five, one will be designated "Driver of the Week" and will appear on television on Channel Four to explain the circumstances surrounding his "citation."

Motorists will be chosen who not only obey the traffic laws, but who go beyond the minimum rules and ordinances by extending courtesies to fellow motorists or pedestrians, or display safe-driving practices.

The first "Driver of the Week" will be announced on WLW-C and WLW-Radio on Tuesday, Sept. 20. He will appear on the 6:30 p.m. news show with Hugh DeMoss and will be announced on "Falcon Playhouse" the following morning.

The complete conversation, recorded when the "citation" was given, will be played back on the show. Announcement of the "Driver of the Week" will be made on these same programs every week.

James Leonard, Crosley Broadcasting Corporation vice-president and WLW-C general manager, announced that Channel Four is adding the "Driver of the Week" as a continuing feature to its already extensive public service programming to encourage motorists to practice safe driving habits at all times.

Judith Stelz, Daniel Bunner Exchange Marriage Vows At Hilltop Christian

MRS. DANIEL S. BUNNER

Miss Judith Lynn Stelz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Stelz, 465 S. Harris-av, became the bride of Mr. Daniel S. Bunner, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Bunner, 3232 Wicklow-rd, Sept. 5 in the Hilltop Christian Church. Rev. [illegible] Alexander officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an Edwardian gown of organzine. The portrait neckline and side panels were outlined with appliques of lace embroidered with rice pearls and iridescent paillettes. The bustle back formed a chapel sweep.

A wreath of miniature flowers and pearls held her [illegible] fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a French nosegay of stephanotis with accents of white tulle and satin streamers.

Miss Lynn Bohanan served as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Benadum and Miss Bobbie Lou Beesman.

Attendants wore beige organza, full-skirted pinafores over beige peau-de-soie sheaths and matching picture hats. They carried wedding ring designs of Talisman glamellias with accents of bronze foliage.

Mr. David L. Bunner served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. David Kessler, Mr. Kenneth Carpenter and Mr. Richard Stelz, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a sheath dress of champagne pure silk with an overdress of silk organza, and Mrs. Bunner was gowned in a beige Chantilly lace dress designed with a portrait neckline and lace self scallops.

Reception was held at the church.

The bride is a graduate in the field of X-ray technology and is on the staff at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mr. Bunner is a graduate of Ohio State University and will enter the College of Dentistry there in the fall.

Following a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains the couple will be at home at 3232 Wicklow-rd.

Rosary Altar Society Plans Thursday Meet

East Linden EUB Is Scene Of Moore-Maish Marriage

MRS. TOM O. MAISH

White gladioli and seven-branch candelabra with tropical palms decorated the altar of East Linden Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday, Aug. 23 for the wedding of Miss Judith Ann Moore and Mr. Tom O. Maish.

Rev. Delbert B. Krumm officiated at the 3:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Moore, 600 Clark-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Maish of 954 Wilshire-av.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of embroidered organdy over taffeta designed along princess empire lines, with a scooped neckline edged with jeweled motifs, and brief sleeves worn with matching mitts. The bouffant, hooped skirt featured a back butterfly bow and extended into a sweep train.

Her waist-length veil was caught to a taffeta hat appliqued with petals and pearls, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and variegated Dracina folia centered with a white orchid.

Miss Barbara Moore served as maid of honor and other attendants were Miss Terry Moore, Mrs. Marjorie Mason and Miss Lola Landman. They wore sunshine yellow gowns of silk organza over taffeta with scalloped necklines, brief puffed sleeves and full, waist-length skirts.

The honor attendant carried a crescent of white Fuji chrysanthemums with yellow Garcia chrysanthemums, and the others carried yellow chrysanthemums centered with white.

Ginger Ann Slack, flower girl, wore a yellow silk chiffon frock over taffeta with floor-length skirt and a picture hat, miniature of the ones worn by the bridal attendants. She carried a wicker basket of yellow rose petals.

Mr. Richard Kaszkowsky served as best man and ushers were Mr. David Mason, Mr. Richard Poor, and Mr. Dale Wilson. Wayne Brown, Jr., served as ringbearer.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of natural linen over champagne satin with autumn haze accessories and a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore light blue dresses or organza frock with beige accessories and a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Warren Pemberton, Miss Donna Foust, Miss Nancy Way, and Miss Susan Kent. They wore light blue dresses or organza with corsages of white carnations and white pompon chrysanthemums.

The new Mrs. Maish was graduated from West High School and attended Ohio State University. She is employed in the service representative branch of Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. Maish was also graduated from West High School and is now attending Ohio State University. He is employed by Baker and Hickey Co.

The couple is at home at 1963 Sullivant-av.

S-W Status Change Won't Affect Vote

County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison ruled this week that the change in title of the new South-Western City School District will not affect Nov. 3 voting on board candidates, a tax levy and a $2,250,000 bond issue.

Known until last month as the South-Western Local School District, the present title, changed Aug. 22, after Grove City attained city status, does not affect wording on ballots, Allison said.

Six candidates are running for two vacancies on the school board. The two-mill levy is up for renewal for operating expenses of the schools.

Hilltop Fisherman Is Derby Winner

By Red Cochran

Right now an area fisherman, namely Lando Eblin, 160 S. Warren-st, is planning a fishing vacation on Pigeon Lake, Ontario. Decision of the judges was announced Saturday. Grand Award winner Eblin entered the two largest Walleyes in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Derby which ended Labor Day.

Rules of the Derby permitted Eblin to win only one of the fishing tackle prizes — even though his second largest Walleye beat out other entries. The second Walleye division prize went to John P. Devore, 383 S. Ohio-av.

For the outstanding and spectacular feat of completely scooping the Walleye category, Eblin goes to beautiful Timberlane Acres for a free week's vacation next year.

Eblin's two Walleyes were 25 and 24 inches long—the larger weighed five pounds, 12 ounces, the smaller scaled five pounds, one ounce. The two trophy fish came from Rocky Fork Lake, near Hillsboro, and were of tremendous size for downstate Walleyes.

Walleye fisherman Eblin will have a chance to try his hand on Canadian Walleyes next summer, according to Maurley E. Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd, owner of Timberlane Acres. "In addition to Walleyes," says Sutton, "we have good fishing for bass muikellunge and northern pike in our waters.

"We'll do everything possible to see that Mr. Eblin gets to the good fishing spots and enjoys himself while a guest of Timberlane Acres. He will stay in a waterfront cottage, which is completely modern, and will look out of a large picture window on the beautiful scenery we have up there."

With the prospect of a fishing trip of a lifetime ahead, we wouldn't blame Eblin if he started packing his bag and

Ministers Push New Ordinance

Hilltop Ministerial Association added its voice to the crowd at City Council meeting Monday night urging passage of new regulations to keep minors out of liquor spots.

Because of a snag in committee, the voting was postponed one more week. Meanwhile, the local group is campaigningfor an even larger delegation of citizens when the matter comes up for a vote next Monday night.

Rev. Gerald Koster, accompanied by Rev. George Alexander and Rev. Leonard Wines, spoke on behalf of 20 Hilltop and West Side churches. Although Monday night's proposal was somewhat different from the one endorsed by the ministerial group a week ago, Koster said it still has their favor.

The new law would allow special licensing (for $2) only to liquor-selling restaurants that keep gross sales of drink below a suggested 10 percent. In these places juveniles would be admitted only when accompanied by parents or a guardian.

Early summer legislation asking 100 percent prohibition and favored by Police Chief Scholer was defeated. Scholer said he was willing to back the new "compromise" law. Rev. Koster said he believes it is stronger in some respects than the other and is confident it will pass.

BILL COON IN HOSPITAL

Bill Coon of 338 N. Warren-av, advertising salesman for Hartley Newspapers, is hospitalized in Mt. Carmel for observation and treatment of injuries received in an auto accident Sunday night. He suffered broken fingers and a possible concussion.

Parish To Hold Harvest Dance

St. Agnes' Athletic Association will hold its annual Harvest Moon Ball and Football Preview Saturday, Sept. 26 in the school hall, Wheatland and Mound-st.

Players on St. Agnes football team will be introduced and appear in their new uniforms. All financial benefits of the evening are administered by the Athletic Association in conducting a sports program for youth of St. Agnes Parish.

There will be round and square dancing from 9 to 12, with music by "Iggy" Mobile.

For reservations call Paul Murnane, BR. 9-5123 or Jack Muir, BR. 9-3105, or tickets may be purchased at the door.

2800 Affected As Inventory Demands Halt

Seventy days of no production in the nation's big steel plants began to hack away at the local economy this week.

Within the next 10 days, Ternstedt Division of General Motors will lay off approximately 2800 workers because of a shortage of steel, announced resident manager Paul L. Jones. Many are West Franklin County residents. Deleted payrolls are sure to effect local business and family welfare.

The first group of about 100 workers will go home Thursday. After Sept. 30 and completion of the layoffs there will remain 1040 persons at work in the Georgesville-rd plant. These will be mainly salaried and hourly tool room and maintenance employes.

Another spokesman said it would be hard to predict when recalls would be issued even if the strike were to end today. "It takes the mills five or six days to get going again—and after that there's bound to be a big scramble for the first steel. Naturally we hope to be near the front of the line."

Ternstedt is the first major West area industry to feel the pinch of the steel shortage. The factory turns out hardware and body trim for General Motors autos.

Plant Works Far Ahead

Said Manager Jones: "Inventories of finished materials at Ternstedt are in balance with the requirements of the General Motors passenger car division, based on the number of cars that can be built with the steel available. The Ternstedt plant operates well in advance of the requirements of the passenger car assembly plants."

Local Janitrol Aircraft and Westinghouse plant officials indicate they can go a while longer, possibly into November, before production suffers.

Zoning Cases Will Be Aired

Two zoning cases involving Hilltop property will be heard within the next two weeks.

The Board of Zoning Adjustment will hear a request by the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 617 Racine-av, to grant a variance to rear yard requirements to permit the erection of a garage. The hearing will take place Friday, Sept. 25, at 2 p.m. in Room 219 of City Hall.

A public hearing will be held before the zoning committee of City Council in the council chambers at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 28, to air a request involving a tract at the southeast corner of Algonquin-av and Valleyview-dr.

The request asks that the tract be rezoned from a single family residential section to a commercial district.

CENTER'S PROGRAM CHARTED—A group of 30 community people, representing all age groups, met with the staff at Gladden Community House, Hawkes-av and Town-st, Thursday to map out the center's program. The group, breaking down into buzz sessions, outlined a suggested program of activities for the coming year. Everyone in the community is invited to express his wishes at Gladden's open house tomorrow night.

Staff Of Gladden Welcomes Public To 'Open House'

Residents of Gladden House area are invited to "come, meet the staff, and let us know your program preferences," by A. M. Wilder, center director. Open house is planned for Thursday evening, Sept. 24.

Adults, teenagers and children may register at the center from 4 to 9 p.m. Children under 13 must be accompanied by adults.

In addition to children's activities, Gladden's staff plans to conduct a program of classes and groups to meet requirements of all age groups, as well as participate in community betterment projects.

Suggestions submitted at the planning sessions held last Thursday night and on Sept. 10 were many and varied.

Many people have expressed a desire for child care at Gladden while parents attend various activities there, and much interest was expressed for a well-baby station to provide medical service.

Expression of the need for a year-round swimming pool in the area was almost unanimous.

Adult Program

Among suggestions for the adult program were: square and folk dancing, mothers' club, young married couples' club, arts and craft classes, little theatre group and card club.

Sportsmen's club, courses in upholstering, home repair and maintenance and in holiday family events.

Teenage Activities

Suggested teenage program includes: social club, teenage council, summer job placement service, game room, year-round camping, athletic teams and classes, and a study room.

Children's Program

Activities for children recommended by the group were: pre-school nursery, friendship club, arts and crafts, gym and athletic groups, weekend day camping, a group for children 11, 12 and 13 of working parents, various scout units, music instruction, tap and ballet lessons and a model club.

'Y' Drive Is Extended To Sept. 30

At Monday night's Hilltop "Y" membership enrollment report meeting $3,630 of a goal of $4,500 was turned in.

This represented an incomplete report on the part of some drive chairmen and the organizers felt that an extension of time was necessary to complete the work in this year's campaign. The campaign will end Sept. 30.

Ray Anderson, chairman of the membership committee of the "Y" board, thanked all participants for their work and asked for continued service until the goal is reached.

All workers were urged to work closely with the "Y" office in the call back program. "Many adults and youth in the Hilltop area will want to join the YMCA this year," said Chairman Jim Goudy. "A call to the 'Y' will enable a worker to call on you so that you might be a part of this fellowship. This is an opportunity for all people in the Hilltop community to serve youth. Call BR. 9-4641 today to submit your subscription."

HILLTOP KIWANIANS PICK OFFICERS

Groups Plan Halloween In West Side

Representatives of the youth-serving agencies of the near West Side will get their heads together Thursday noon to map out community Hallowe'en plans.

The luncheon meeting will be held at Sunshine Recreation Center.

Agencies involved are the Columbus Recreation Department, Columbus Boys Club, Sullivant and Sunshine Recreation centers, Gladden Community House and the Columbus Juvenile Bureau.

The various centers traditionally hold Hallowe'en night parties for the various age

Guessperts First Test Comes This Weekend

Football fans leaning forward with their eyes glued to the television set might well describe the position many Hartley Newspaper readers will find themselves taking this weekend.

They will be the many private pigskin guessperts who are taking part in the weekly Football Guessing Contest.

A new contest is staged each week giving every football fan who thinks he knows how things stack up this year—or feels unusually lucky—to qualify for prizes.

The first contest was held last week with readers making predictions about games to be played this weekend. When the results come off the scoreboard and become part of history, winners of the contest will be determined and announced in next week's issue of the newspaper.

This week's big contest is outlined complete with all the rules on a full page adverstisement within this newspaper.

Entries in the contest must be received at the Hartley Newspaper office by 12 noon the Tuesday after the blank appears in the newspaper. Mailed entries must be postmarked no later than the same time.

Winners of last week's contest will be eligible to receive, in the order of their finish, $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise at Hi-Ridge Market and a lube and oil change and filter at Central Point Mobile Service.

This week's contest winners will be offered, in the order of their finish, $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise from Reeves Brothers and two spaghetti dinners from the Pine Room.

Hilltop Y's Men Plan Fall Events

Hilltop Y's Men's Club will meet at the Golden Triangle Club, Georgesville, Monday, Sept. 28 for a victory dinner for the best team in the recent 'Y' membership drive.

Vice-president, Bud Morton, is heading a committee to plan a joint meeting of the Y's Men's Clubs of Columbus, to be held Saturday, Oct. 3 at the Central YMCA.

Y's Men from other central Ohio clubs have been invited to hear Walt Hartough, international director for Ohio, from Toledo. Wives also have been invited.

Hilltop Club is looking forward to the Regional Conference planned in Cleveland on Oct. 10 and 11. Some of the members plan to attend the pro football game after the

Meters On City Agenda

Legislation to place penny parking meters on W. Broad-st between Wheatland and Eldon-ava and Hague and Chase-ava is tagged to come before City Council next Monday night.

The project has the approval of the City Traffic Commission.

Mothers' Club Sets Two-Day Rummage Sale

A rummage sale will be held by Riverside Mothers' Club in the basement of 285 W. Rich-st, next Friday, 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. Coffee will be served. Proceeds will help purchase Cub Scout and football uniforms.

Riverside Mothers' Club will be selling hotdogs and a soft drink at the West Side football game next Sunday, 2 p.m., at Sunshine Park.

Ads Help Parents

Nell Stokes of 148 S. Eureka-av, found that many people are looking for someone to care for their children when she recently ran the following brief ad in this newspaper: "Good care for children in my home; by day, week, also Saturday nights to Sunday noon, BR. 4-2207." Advertise your services—call BR 4-1155.

Race-st Families Cook, Dance In Street During Block Party

SWINGIN' IN THE STREET—Block parties have been the rage in several newer areas of the Hilltop this summer. Photographer Harley Groom found this gala group on Race-st, between Brinker and Westgate-ava last Sunday evening. With permission of the mayor the street was roped off from 4 to 9 p.m. and 13 families rolled out their charcoal broilers for a steak feast. Then 30 adults and half as many kids enjoyed square dancing.

DISC JOCKEYS—Flanked by a pot of coffee and a kerosene lamp Dave Brown, 3147 Race-st and Mrs. Earl Bland, 3170 Race-st keep the recorded music rolling. We've talked about such a party for two years, said Mrs. Bland, "we had a lot of fun and are hoping we can have another next year."

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

This is the week when all the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y clubs will be holding their first meetings. With one new club and possibly another, the schedule followed last year must be altered somewhat.

Meetings this year will be: Monday, Lindbergh; Tuesday, West Broad and Highland; Wednesday, John Burroughs and Valleyview; Thursday, West Mound and Georgian Heights; Friday, Westgate and Binns.

The Gra-Y program is open to all boys in grades four to six who are members of the Hilltop YMCA. Each school has one meeting a week, held in the building immediately after the regular school day ends. Applications or information may be obtained at the Hilltop 'Y' office.

Junior Hi-Y schedules should be ready next week. Tomorrow morning the West Senior Hi-Y will hold its first meeting. Some important announcements will be made.

Weekly activities in the "Y" building are once more under way. Mondays have once more been set aside for movies for all interested boys and girls. Boys' craft classes will be held on Tuesday, with the girls' group meeting on Thursdays.

fishing gear anytime now.

Judges of the Derby were: John Z. Felton, 276 E. Como, chief of fishery improvements section, Ohio Division of Wildlife; Fred Schob, 1214 Sandlin-av, wildlife patrolman; and Ted Lee, 986 Wilson-av, prominent Ohio sportsman and education chairman of the League of Ohio Sportsmen.

All three stated they were amazed at the size of a lot of the fish entered, and that except for the winning Walleye and the first catfish, weighing 27 pounds from the Muskingum River, the winners were from local waters.

They asked that this fact be brought out again — that there is good fishing right here at home for those who go after it. Most local catches were reported from Hoover Dam and Big Walnut Creek.

The judges were not pleased, however, to find that very few of the entries were caught by women or youngsters. A search of the entries revealed only two boys, and to stimulate interest in fishing in the younger generation, they proclaimed both boys as honorable mention winners—their loot will be a selection of lures.

Winners are Jay Potts, Reese Station, and James Yates, 120 Thurman-av.

So, with the awarding of the Grand Prize, and two honorable

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Kerle

This is the week when all the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y clubs will be holding their first meetings. With one new club and possibly another, the schedule followed last year must be altered somewhat.

Meetings this year will be: Monday, Lindbergh; Tuesday, West Broad and Highland; Wednesday, John Burroughs and Valleyview; Thursday, West Mound and Georgian Heights; Friday, Westgate and Binna.

The Gra-Y program is open to all boys in grades four to six who are members of the Hilltop YMCA. Each school has one meeting a week, held in the building immediately after the regular school day ends. Applications or information may be obtained at the Hilltop 'Y' office.

Junior Hi-Y schedules should be ready next week. Tomorrow morning the West Senior Hi-Y will hold its first meeting. Some important announcements will be made.

Weekly activities in the "Y" building are once more under way. Mondays have once more been set aside for movies for all interested boys and girls. Boys' craft classes will be held on Tuesday, with the girls' group meeting on Thursdays.

'CLASS-Y' CITATION

BEST AGAIN—Hartley Newspapers walked off with the first place award for the "Best Promotion of Spacebuilding Idea by a Weekly Newspaper in 1959" recently at the Ohio Newspaper Classified Clinic. Shown with the award are Mrs. Leah Ardle and Albert McNulty, Hartley Newspaper advertising manager.

St. James Church Hosts Convention

St. James Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, 1663 Home Hilliard-rd, will be host congregation to the 25th annual convention of the Central Ohio Sunday School Teachers' Association Sunday, Sept. 27.

The opening session will begin at 3 p.m. Theme of the convention will be "Strengthening the Home Through the Sunday School." Speaker will be W. J. Gernard of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Gernard is the former Superintendent of Schools of the Central District. A business meeting will follow and the convention will close with a Vesper Service.

Rev. Earl C. Grugel is pastor of St. James' Lutheran Church.

The annual "Rally Day" of the St. James' Sunday school will also be observed Sunday, Sept. 27. The morning service will emphasize spiritual education of children. Children who have reached the age of three should be enrolled in Sunday School at this time.

fishing gear anytime now.

Judges of the Derby were: John E. Felten, 276 E. Como, chief of fishery improvements section, Ohio Division of Wildlife; Fred Schob, 1214 Sandlinav, wildlife patrolman; and Ted Lee, 986 Wilson-av, prominent Ohio sportsman and education chairman of the League of Ohio Sportsmen.

All three stated they were amazed at the size of a lot of the fish entered, and that except for the winning Walleye and the first catfish, weighing 27 pounds from the Muskingum River, the winners were from local waters.

They asked that this fact be brought out again — that there is good fishing right here at home for those who go after it. Most local catches were reported from Hoover Dam and Big Walnut Creek.

The judges were not pleased, however, to find that very few of the entries were caught by women or youngsters. A search of the entries revealed only two boys, and to stimulate interest in fishing in the younger generation, they proclaimed both boys as honorable mention winners—their loot will be a selection of lures.

Winners are Jay Potts, Reese Station, and James Yates, 120 Thurman-av.

So, with the awarding of the Grand Prize, and two honorable mentions, the Hartley Fishing Derby is over for another year. It is our sincere hope, however, that you will continue to enjoy fishing and the outdoors all year long, and especially the youngsters to whom outdoor sports are great adventure.

KING FOOTBALL IS BACK . . .

King Football returned to the high school sports spotlight Friday night as the scholastic athletes took over the sports pages despite the redhot National League pennant race.

For the many who last November said "Wait until next year!" this is it. The hopes of many fans, players and coaches were dashed on opening night, though, if their team happened to lose.

Winning is important, and should remain paramount, too. The U. S. is what it is today because through the years it has had men who didn't know what it meant to lose.

But athletics are a little different. They are not a do or die proposition, but rather a means to provide an outlet for youthful energy and to teach boys and girls to be humble in winning; good sports in losing.

It matters not too much if a team won, if that squad, its people, or both, were sportsmanlike in doing so. We have seen many winning teams lose their respect because of poor sportsship; we have seen losers who won the heart of everyone because of their conduct.

Let's all back our favorite team during this season — win or lose. Your team deserves your support.

Two Special Days Remain On Beulah Park Fall Card

Swinging into the second half of its fall meeting, Beulah Park has numerous special events coming up which promise to add considerably to the interest in the sport.

One of these is the annual "Appreciation Day" which is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 29. On this occasion, admission to the grandstand area will be free as a token of the track's appreciation to the public for its support at this and other meetings.

Free admission cannot be granted to the clubhouse because of the limited facilities in that area.

Meanwhile preparations are going forward for a big race on Saturday, Oct. 3, final day of the meeting. This will be the 15th running of the Ohio Championship, richest event on the Beulah Park calendar each year.

The purse is $10,000 added and the distance is a mile and a sixteenth. Horsemen in many racing areas have been contacted and it appears that the field will be one of the most representative in recent seasons.

A year ago there was a thrilling finish in the Championship when April Fool Farm's Clark came charging through the stretch to nip Darby Dan Farm's Land O'Peace in the final yards to gain the verdict.

BIBLE COMMENT:

New Church Holds Lesson For Everyone

The newly constructed church in the French fishing town of Fecamp on the English Channel is a marvel of modern religious architecture.

The public section of the church is perfectly round, with walls of stained glass. The ceiling is so high that an inflated balloon carried workmen to its heights when the building was under construction.

Tourists from all over Europe and America mingle with the local fishing folk during mass—to admire the grandeur of the modernistic glass and design of the church.

One old, visiting priest addressed the assembled crowds one Sunday morning:

"My friends," he said, "your church has attracted people from many nations who come to admire and be fascinated by the glory that man has produced.

"But let us not forget that beside the works of God, this church is but a pile of dust and straw."

So we, too, must not forget that man's work are finite and temporary compared to the lasting majesty of the construction of God's universe.

Lest, in our vanity, we grow too large in our own eyes, let us look beyond our modest achievements to God's perfect triumph of living creation.

TV DIAL-oques

The World Series in color! Baseball fans will be interested to know that all color set dealers in Columbus will have available a limited number of invitations to see the Series' colorcasts in the showroom of The Electric Company. All you have to do is go in and ask for them.

WLW-C will carry the entire Series. We are fairly certain at this writing that the first two games will be played in an American League park (presumably Chicago) on Wednesday, Sept. 30 and Thursday, Oct. 1 at 12:45 p.m. (Columbus time). From there on your guess is as good as ours.

Between Nikita S. Khrushchev, the World Series and the multitudinous new shows that are appearing on all three networks this season, TV programming has become a little difficult to say the least.

The Soviet Premier will bid his TV farewell to America at 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27. His one-hour talk, a colorcast, will be an exclusive presentation by the NBC-Television and Radio networks and will recall another "NBC Exclusive" a quarter of a century ago — the first radio broadcast from Soviet Russia.

Just prior to Mr. Khrushchev's talk, Channel 4 will program locally "Columbus Looks at Khrushchev," with WLW-C news director Hugh DeMoss heading a half-hour of interviews and films.

The telecasts of the Soviet Premier's visit have been interesting from many angles. The NBC News coverage of his arrival in Washington on Sept. 15 was one of the biggest, most complex remote TV operations ever seen in the nation's capital. A total of 19 TV cameras from all three networks was used in the "pool" coverage of the arrival at Andrews Air Force Base of the mammoth TU-114 jet and the motor cavalcade into Washington.

The TV signals were fed into the NBC News control room in Washington to form the pool picture used by all three networks. Engineers from A. T. and T. had worked a week on the huge network of cables and microwave relays necessary for the coverage.

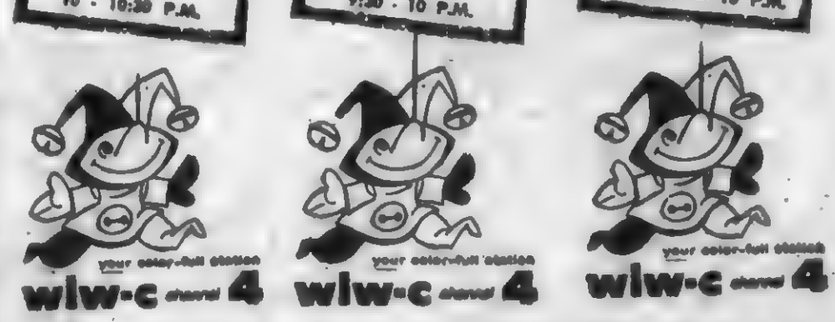
NBC News also chartered a Convair 440 to serve as a "flying newsroom" to "leap-frog" ahead of the Premier on his American tour. The 15-man news crew traveled at night during the hours Mr. Khrushchev was resting, thereby landing at each city ahead of him to permit complete coverage starting with his arrival.

It's 10 for 10! Congratulations are in order for WBNS-TV whose tenth anniversary comes up this week. In honor of the event, a special anniversary show will be carried on Channel 10 at 10:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 25.

With football fever in the air, Channel 4 has arranged to have its viewers meet the coaches of all Ohio State's opposing teams when they play here in Columbus. "The Opposite Bench" will be seen Friday nights at 11:15 before each OSU game. And the famous Fighting Irish will be seen on the TV screen every Sunday, beginning Sept. 27 when Channel 4 starts carrying one-hour telecasts of the games the day after they are played by Notre Dame.

Dr. John F. Bagier will meet his first class in Modern Chemistry at 6:30 on the morning of Monday, Sept. 28 when "Continental Classroom" begins its second TV season on WLW-C. Colleges in this area which have already decided to give credit for the course are Ohio State University, St. Mary of the Springs and Ohio U. at Athens. For explicit information regarding registration and credit, those who are interested should contact one of the schools in question.

Photogenic and crew-cut, Dr. Baxter will be the regular teacher of the two-semester course to be telecast in color from coast to coast. He promises that his "students" will meet "some of our major prophets." Fifteen of the nation's outstanding scientists will be guest lecturers from time to time during the first semester. Among them will be two Nobel prize winners in chemistry, Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and Dr. Harold C. Urey.



Last year's "Continental Classroom," the course in Atomic Age Physics, will be rerun by the network this season and will be carried on a delay by WOSU-TV, Channel 34, sometime around the dinner hour in the evenings. Dr. Harvey White's physics course won nine distinguished awards last year, including the Sylvania and Peabody.

Several old favorites will return this week and others will change time. Steve Allen comes back on Monday nights at 10, Perry Como on Wednesdays at 9, and Ernie Ford, Thursdays at 9:30 — all on Channel 4 and all in color.

Channel 10 finds "To Tell the Truth" moving to Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and "December Bride" holding down a daytime spot while Betty Hutton begins a new series on Thursdays at 8 instead.

Thursday nights seem to be quite busy, for Channel 6 listings show Gale Storm returning at 7:30 and Pat Boone at 9. Pat's appearance at this time makes "Beaver" move to Saturday at 8:30 beginning Oct. 3.

Desi and Lucy start their new season on Friday, Sept. 25 at 9 p.m. on WBNS-TV, with "Uncle Miltie" as their guest, and will be followed at 10 on WLW-C by the "Schnozzola," Jimmy Durante, in a special hour-long comedy colorcast. His guests will be Lawrence Welk, Sal Mineo, Gisele MacKenzie, Bobby Darin and Ginny Tiu, five-year-old pianist from Hong Kong. It sounds like quite an evening.

Area Residents Do Well In TB Seal Contest

Hartley Newspaper readers distinguished themselves Sunday afternoon at the annual contest to design the national TB Christmas Seal for 1961. The event is sponsored by the TB Society and Columbus Art School.

Ned Moore, 178 Guernsey-av, advertising artist received $100 as top award for his rag doll and toy soldier peeping out of Christmas stockings.

Second place was taken by Terry Smith, Reynoldsburg, who won a $50 art scholarship for his children building a Christmas tree of blocks, and fifth award went to Dorothy Schreiber, 645 E. Seymour-av. She received a family membership to Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

Another design by Smith, one by Mrs. Mary Holcomb, 2666 Sullivant-av, and a third by Laud Poe Jr., 80 Delray-rd, were accorded honorable mention.

Seventy-six designs, most of them by commercial artists, competed.

All will hang in the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts until Friday morning when they will be sent to the National Tuberculosis Association to compete in October with similar entries from throughout the country. Winning designer will receive $500.

The national Christmas seal is always selected two years prior to use and is reproduced eight billion times. Income from its sale produces approximately $36 million to support 3000 TB associations throughout the United States and its possessions.

Other Competitors Listed

SAVE NOW ON CANNED GOODS

This is the time of year when you can often make big savings in canned goods. During the past few weeks retailers have been offering "specials" on canned fruits and vegetables. The processing industry, made up of canners, brokers, distributors, wholesalers and retailers, put on a big promotional effort in September and early October.

How Savings Are Passed On—Processors have been hard at work packing this year's crop of fruits and vegetables. Because the canning season is short, supplies mount up rapidly. In order to start the new pack through distribution channels, price concessions are often made along the lines down to the food shopper. Then, too, carryover stocks of last year's pack on some canned items may be greater than normal, and in order to make room for the new pack prices are lowered.

Another form of savings may come in the lesser known labels. These are labels you may never have seen before. Many local brands show up in the fall and early winter and can be as good in quality as nationally advertised brands.

Labels Tell a Story—Find out what is inside the can by developing the habit of label reading. Let the label serve as a "window" to help you select the best product for your intended needs. Labels are backed by laws and standards established by the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act for foods that cross the state line. The requirements make sure that you know what you are paying for if you read carefully all the information on the label.

Quality Varies—Most homemakers say they rely on brand names to get the quality they want. It is rare to find a label bearing a U.S. grade in the present day food market. Many stores and packers use different brand names to denote quality. While the brand name is a reliable buying guide, it is important also to keep these things in mind:

(1) Top grade is not always the best buy. Choose with use in mind. Top grades may be desirable for salads which call for large whole fruit pieces, while lower grades would do just as well for pies, etc.

(2) Grades do not denote the nutritive value of a food.

(3) Recent studies show that while price is some indication of quality, it is not an infallible guide.

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER

According to Mrs. Loren Crumley, Groveport, president of the Home Demonstration Clubs in Columbus and Franklin County, approximately 400 club members have decided to learn "what's inside the cans" before they buy. Mrs. Crumley says the clubs are having interesting sessions at their September meetings where different brands of the same product are opened for the group to examine and compare. This way the cost of examining many brands are not prohibitive. Would this be a worthwhile activity for your club?

THE WINNAH!—Binney LeVine, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry LeVine, 311 Carilla-ln, is shown at the wheel of Firefight Jr., quarter midget in which he has won nine feature races this season. With him is "Sonny" Wolcott, owner of the vehicle, who holds the local franchise for the California-manufactured racer. Binney's father serves as his son's mechanic. A demonstration, featuring the Grand Prix Quarter Midget, will be given during Kids' Day, Sunday at the Lockbourne Air Force Base. The attraction was secured by Bill Appleby, chairman of the boys' and girls' committee of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club.

Kiwanians To Host 1200 Kids Sunday At Lockbourne AFB

More than 1200 youngsters are expected to attend Kids' Day at Lockbourne Air Force Base Sunday, Sept. 27.

Sponsored by all Kiwanis Clubs of the tenth division in cooperation with the Air Force, a day-long program of entertainment has been planned.

Free bus service is arranged from the 11 city recreation centers. A phone relay system has been set up and buses will be dispatched to recreation centers wherever there are enough passengers.

A feature of the day's events will be the Name-The-Plane contest. The youngster whose name for a plane is chosen will be honorary base commander for the day, with a staff car at his disposal.

Entertainment features include Flippo The Clown from WBNS-TV, Tune Timers and parachute jumps by the Columbus Sky Divers Club.

Prizes awarded during the day will include bicycles, footballs, archery sets and games.

Maj. Harold Mossenthin, project officer for Lockbourne, is in charge of arrangements for the Air Force. Bob Dean of WBNS-TV, member of Northwest Kiwanis Club, and Art Bogen of Bogen Heating and Air Conditioning, Downtown Kiwanis Club, are Kiwanian co-chairmen.

Joe Goodwin of the Hilltop club is chairman of the Name-The-Plane contest.

Students, Scouts Invited To See Confed Cemetery

Camp Chase cemetery, 2900 W. Broad-st, burial place of many Confederate soldiers who died while imprisoned here during the Civil War, is open to special tours by school classes and Scout troops.

H. O. Parke, superintendent said there are many things of interest to both teachers and pupils. Parke, who conducts the tours, said many visitors from the Southern States have visited the site this year. Reservations may be made by calling CA. 4-9690 or BR. 9-5679.

The superintendent also said a brochure on the cemetery has been published by the Cemetery Division of the U.S. Army, 1819 Pershing-rd, Chicago 9, Ill.

Tip to Motorists

The Columbus Auto Club cautions motorists that when traveling with children in the back seat of the car make sure all doors are closed securely. Above all, keep the children calmed down as they do not distract you from your important job behind the wheel.

Light But Spirited Cowboys Plunge Into City Loop Friday

By Bob Wilcox

Friday night at Magly Field will mark a "first" that should be a humdinger. It's the first football meeting in history of "neighborhood rivals" Franklin Heights and the West Cowboys. Heights, a young and eager school, should be keyed up for the fray since it would be a big feather in their cap to knock off a City League foe right in their own neighborhood.

The Falcons have a pretty good squad to match their desire. Overall weight is about average, but especially good up the middle. Defensively they use a variety, ranging all the way from the Oklahoma to a 6-5 and sometimes even an eight-man line.

Offensively they employ the winged-T and single wing, always with an unbalanced line to the right. With a good thrower at their quarterback slot and two pretty good ends, West will probably get more passes than running plays thrown at them. They also like their power sweeps, with a slight predominance to the right side. Their wingback is also a favorite aerial target, but on the ground is primarily used as a decoy and faker.

Heights has a pretty solid line headed by left tackle Lamb and center Bellisari. They have an outstanding left half in Babst who with his exceptional speed is used on the power sweeps a great deal. The 155 lbs., he can really move and will probably carry three out of five running plays for the Falcons.

Heights had a 6-3 record in 1958, good enough for co-champions of their South Central Ohio loop . . . along with Greenfield-McClain. The loop also contains such schools as Hillsboro and Washington Court House.

Teams "Trade" Fullbacks

One oddity of the game will be the apparent "trading" of fullbacks by the two schools. West's exceptionally fine fullback, Bill Biggers, is a transfer from Franklin Heights, of last spring. Heights fullback, Doug Vance, transferred from West two years ago and played defensive end for them last year. Vance is rugged but doesn't quite possess the speed of Biggers.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

The West-Springfield clash was merely a case of the Cowboys being outmanned, experience and sizewise. As Coach Bill Schmitter told his boys last Monday, "Tonight (and this Friday night) our season begins" . . . which is about the best way to sum up a game that never should have been played, especially as first fray of season. Think West's 42-0 shellacking was bad? How about that Lima 50, Columbus North 0 score!?)

A near capacity crowd of close to 10,000 watched the tilt.

A tribute to the Cowboys' physical fitness and skills is the fact that not one injury of any significance came out of the game . . . and with the Broncos so vastly outweighed, too!

But more important, not a Cowboys gave up—excellent spirit remained even when things looked darkest.

West's offense looked good as they moved a strong Springfield defense pretty much at will . . . but couldn't dent those double stripes to score. (West's deepest penetration was to the Wildcat seven in the second period.)

But the Bronco defense, game as they were, couldn't contain the varied and extremely powerful Wildcat offensive machine . . . especially an aerial game that threaded needles all evening with an amazing accuracy. The boy with the accurate arm was quarterback Phil Westfall.

One "local source" stated that the Wildcats rolled an amazing 629 yards on offense, while the Cowboys got 309. That seems fantastically high for any high school ball club to roll up in only four quarters . . . 42 points or no. (Although Lima dominated its game much more than did Springfield, North only gained 85 yards all night, and Lima heaped the score higher than the Wildcats—still they amassed only 462 yrds.)

Outstanding performers for West . . . the entire forward wall. Top awards on both the line and in the backfield would unquestionably go to Jim Horn and Bill Biggers who were exceptional. Bob Montgomery, Stew Randall and Gary Alwood also showed well. Defensive end Dwight Newman, not extremely heavy and only a sophomore, nonetheless was a defensive starter and played a very fine game for his weight and experience.

In the backfield Bill Kerns' experience helped and he connected to Bob Saint on some nice short passes.

Watch Alwood. He was a halfback on the reserves last year, an end in pre-season drills this fall and is fast developing into an outstanding center. Last Friday night, even though hobbled by a sprained ankle, he threw all his 60 pounds (dripping wet) into his adversary and held him on pretty "even" terms. (His opposing center at Springfield weighed only 210!)

Next Friday West may bolster the defensive end slots. The "new" look would then average about 190 pounds.

Jan Greer, who is not a true heavy but is quick and accurate, will move into one of the guard positions. Bill Paske will move from that spot to an end. South transfer John Hake will be the other end. Gene Branson will likely shift to outside linebacker to take advantage of his openfield tackling ability.

Of course these are all based on how drills work out. Terry Linson is also showing up fast. A defensive starter, he has the best overall attributes of the tackles . . . quick and fast for his 210-pound frame, and he could move into the offensive line. This would bolster the offensive line by permitting Horn to move back to guard.

Keep a special eye socked on Biggers Friday. He is developing fine defensively as well as offensive fullback. He always shows well but Friday he'll be trying to insure victory against former teammates.

Note: Because of space, some submitted items must wait until next week.

City Resumes Kid Bowling Supervision

Junior Bowling will again be conducted by the Columbus Recreation Department at Old Trail Bowling Lanes starting Saturday, Sept. 26 at 9:30 a.m.

Registration for boys and girls, nine through 12, and 13 through 15 is being taken and teams will form Sept. 26.

Featured in this popular program will be: (1) free instructions, (2) reduced bowling rates, (3) free shoe rental, (4) wholesome environment and (5) leadership and supervision by the department, a city recreation official said.

After the teams are formed, there will be league bowling every Saturday morning until March.

Junior bowling is sanctioned by the American Junior Bowling Congress and held with the cooperation of the local bowling proprietors.

Kirwin's Plans Football Parties

Kirwin's Cafe, W. Broad-st at Eureka-av, will celebrate its 20th anniversary in October, and its ninth annual series of "football parties," this fall.

Each Saturday afternoon during the OSU season, fans may listen to Ohio State's game on radio or watch the game of the week on Kirwin's two television sets.

Two Hilltoppers serve as guest bartenders each week, and nickel and dime sandwiches of roast beef, turkey, ham or meat loaf are served. Joe Kirwin promises this year's parties will surpass all previous ones.

Jim Harris will preside at the piano bar after the games.

Parish To Hold Dance, Festival

St. Mary Magadalene Athletic Association will sponsor a round and square dance Saturday, Sept. 26, from 9 p.m. to 12, at the church hall.

Parish will hold its annual Fall Festival Saturday, Oct. 24.

Darby Creek Park Refinements To Be Given Push This Fall

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

I've just visited the recently opened Darby Creek Metropolitan Park, designed to serve the western part of Franklin County, and found it to have many outdoor possibilities for the public.

Robert Fox, 416 Weymouth-ln, park planner for the park board, happened to be at the trading post and explained to me that the 111-acre park is still under development. "Actually," Fox said, "we haven't given the park very much publicity because we didn't want people coming out here expecting to find a completed facility like Blacklick or Blendon Woods."

At present parking has been provided for several hundred cars and three picnic areas have been developed and are in use. Picnic tables, outdoor grills, drinking water and toilets have been provided.

Construction of a permanent trading post will begin this fall. Work has started on two reservable picnic grounds for use by groups. A series of foot trails will be built this winter.

The scenic possibilities of Darby Creek Park are great, for it is located on bluffs that front on the creek. One service road goes back to the creek valley from the trading post, and is being used by hikers as part of an exploratory trail.

The bluffs are steeper and higher than you might expect to find in Franklin County. This area should be beautiful in the spring for I observed several redbud trees along the road. We also passed a small grove of hickories, and there were signs that fox squirrels had been "cutting hickory nuts there.

A few fishermen were winding their way down to the high bank to try their luck in Big Darby.

From the results of Hartley Newspapers' Fishing Derby it was determined that Big Darby Creek is one of the most important fishing waters in this area, and it is fortunate that the park provides public access to the stream.

Eventually shelter houses will be built and Darby Creek Park will vie with the others for nature lovers and outdoor recreationists. It is a vital link in the chain of parks around Columbus. The park entrance is on Koebel Suydam-rd,—near Georgesville, and is open daily until 8 p.m.

Squirrel hunting reports coming in indicate that hunting is improved over last year. Fox squirrel hunters appear to be having best success, with good numbers of fox squirrels being seen rather generally over the flatter portions of the state.

Hunters traveling to the more forested regions in the hill country are finding gray squirrels more spotty in their distribution. There are not, however, the large blank areas that hunters found last year.

State Meet Is Scheduled By Kiwanis

The Kiwanis Clubs of Columbus and its suburbs will be represented at the 1959 convention of the Ohio District of Kiwanis International at Cleveland Oct. 4-7. Host club will be the Kiwanis Club of Cleveland.

Charles A. Swain, a trustee of Kiwanis International from Cape May, N.J., will be a featured speaker at the three-day meeting at the Carter Hotel. Swain is a variety store owner and bank official in Cape May.

Delegates from 265 clubs, representing nearly 16,000 business and professional leaders, will participate in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, and the election of officers will highlight the convention program.

Presiding officer will be Phillip V. Stout of Columbus, governor of the Ohio District of Kiwanis International. Stout is a practicing attorney in Columbus.

Swain, one of the principal speakers and the official representative of Kiwanis International, is a 31-year veteran of Kiwanis. He was re-elected to the organization's international board at the Kiwanis convention in Dallas in June. In addition to serving as a trustee, he is also chairman of the Kiwanis International board committee of the Kiwanis magazine.

WVKO To Air Buck Football Again This Fall

For the 11th straight year, Bert Charles, general manager of WVKO radio, will be doing the play-by-play description of all the Ohio State football games, beginning with the Duke University game of Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26.

Bill Brabson, the station's morning disc jockey, will handle the color for all home contests.

Preceding each game, Charles will have a 15-minute interview with a member of the Woody Hayes coaching staff who has scouted the team being played that day.

Following each game, another member of the Buckeye coaching staff will be interviewed and discuss the pros and cons of the game played.

Bill Brown will do the station's Football Preview and Football Scoreboard programs.

FRITSCHE SEEKS BUYERS PREFERENCES

AID AWARD—Builder Ernest G. Fritsche is shown presenting a clock radio to Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Tallman, 934 S. Richardson-av, who participated in a survey designed to answer questions on just what prospective homeowners wish in a house. Fritsche engineers and architects use these survey answers in designing future Fritsche homes. A drawing is held each week at Holly Hill, Fritsche Company's newest development on the site of the former Sullivant Avenue Airport. Looking on are the Tallman's daughters, Marilyn, Joyce and Barbara.

A&P HAS TIMELY OPENING

FALCONS DO HONORS — Co-captains of the Franklin Heights football team cut the ribbon for the new A&P Supermarket at Dempcrest-rd and Sullivant-av in a great big way last Wednesday. Ron Bellisari, aided by Pat Burr, unearked such a hefty boot that one of the goal posts was toppled. On hand to welcome the new store to the community were, left to right, William F. Rogers, principal, Franklin Heights High School; Rev. Raymond Bauschard, St. Mary Magdalene parish; R. F. Kleinschmidt, A&P vice-president; Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner; Ross Kerr, store manager, and Edward Ryan, assistant; Renaud Nicholson, A&P sales manager, and Howard Walsworth, general superintendent.

"RIGHT TO ADVERTISE"

The nation's first "right to advertise" law became effective in Ohio in 1960. This law provides for a license suspension for convicted false or fraudulent advertisers and prohibits state agencies from adopting regulations against truthful, legitimate advertising.

Even if farmers gave millers the wheat for nothing, a loaf of bread would still cost the housewife around 17 cents.

Sue Conrad, Thomas Keeler Repeat Vows

MRS. THOMAS KEELER

Miss Sue Ann Conrad became the bride of Mr. Thomas Larue Keeler Aug. 22 at St. Aloysius Church. Rev. Lemmon officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Main altar was decorated with sunburst designs of white glads, mums, and chrysanthemums, and arrangements of white glads and asters with emerald foliage were on the side altars.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conrad of 168 S. Eureka-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keeler of Unityville.

The bridal gown of chantilly lace was styled with a basque bodice, sabrina neckline, and bouffant, floor-length skirt featuring a pleated tulle center panel.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a tiara of pearls and iridescents, and she carried a crescent of feathered white mums and a hybrid orchid with ivy foliage.

Miss Mickelina Bruno served as maid of honor. She wore a blue gown designed with basque bodice, drapped neckline caught in the back with two panels and full, circular skirt.

Miss Mary Jo Conrad, sister of the bride, bridesmaid, wore a pink ensemble and the flower girl, Michele Conrad, cousin of the bride, wore white.

Each carried a sheath of lavender hybrid orchids.

The mother of the bride chose a turquoise sheath gown and the bridegroom's mother, a mint green gown. Both wore corsages of hybrid lavender orchids.

All floral arrangements for the wedding were the gift of Garrisons Bridal Flowers. The bride was winner of the service, a prize given at the Bean Dinner.

Mrs. Keeler was graduated from West High School and is employed by Roberts Clothing Store. Mr. Keeler was graduated from Hughesville High School and is an airman second class at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Following a trip to Pennsylvania, the couple is at home at 98 West Park-st, Grove City.

Steak dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and inspection will be held at 8 p.m. with Noble Grand Mrs. Charles Hull presiding.

President of the Ohio Rebekah Assembly, Mrs. Anna R. Chase, will be inspecting officer.

DAV MEET PLANNED

A state-wide conference of DAV will be held at the Neil House, Saturday, Oct. 10 and Sunday, Oct. 11. William S. Bartlow, state commander DAV; Bill H. Fribley, Crestline, Kan., national commander and Mrs. Guy S. Lambert, state commander of the auxiliary will speak.

Sunday Marriage Ceremony Unites Miss Sharon Gibson, Mr. Dale Wood

MRS. DALE EDWIN WOOD

Vases of white flowers with palms and ferns, and candelabra decorated the altar of Glenwood Methodist Church for the marriage of Miss Sharon Leah Gibson and Mr. Dale Edwin Wood, Sunday, Sept. 20. Dr. Joseph Sheilhaas read the service at 3:30 p.m.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Gibson of 348 Midland-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, 536 Ryan-av.

The chantilly lace gown was designed with a basque bodice, bateau neckline trimmed with pearls and iridescents, long tapering sleeves and a bouffant tiered skirt with jeweled lace panels in front and back extending into a chapel train.

A crown of seed pearl-embroidered lace held her veil, and she carried a white lace handkerchief of her grandmother's. Her cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations with an inserted corsage of white pom poms and feathered carnations was carried over a white prayer book.

Mrs. David V. Doersam, matron of honor, wore a light pink taffeta gown with silk organza overskirt, styled with sabrina neckline and cummerbund extending into streamers in back. Her headpiece of matching taffeta held a pink silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of dark pink feathered carnations.

Miss June Freeman, maid-of-honor, wore an identical ensemble in medium pink and carried light pink carnations.

Junior [illegible], Miss Carolyn Gibson and Miss Karen Gibson, sisters of the bride, wore aqua gowns of the same design, and Linda Price, cousin of the bride, flower girl, wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza similar in design to the one worn by the bride. She carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Richard Wood served as best man for his brother, and guests were seated by Mr. Robert Wood, also a brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Walter Welsh, and Mr. Robert Southworth.

The mother of the bride chose a beige lace tunic dress with contrasting accessories, and a corsage of deep pink feathered carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore light blue lace with navy accessories, and an identical corsage.

Miss Rita McConaha, Miss Joyce Pickens, Miss Nancy Rausch, and Mrs. Robert Wood were hostesses for the reception held at the church.

The new Mrs. Wood was graduated from West High School and is employed at Farm Bureau Cooperative Association. Mr. Wood attended West High School and is employed by Southworth Poultry Co.

Following a short wedding trip to Cincinnati, the couple is at home at 855 Wedgewood-dr, Apt. 11.

Let's talk about

YOUR RETIREMENT

We all look forward to happy retirement years. Our time will be our own and we will be free to do those wonderful things we had somehow never found the time to do before. But whether our plans include travel or a house in the country or golf or painting, we will need an income. Remember that life insurance can provide the necessary income to allow you to maintain your accustomed standard of living. It also assures your family of financial protection through the intervening years.

I'm sure I can be of service. Why not give me a call? You will be under no obligation.

Columbus Go-To-Church Drive Launched

CHARTS CAMPAIGN—Members of the Evangelism committee, Columbus Area Council of Churches, and service club representatives met at the YMCA Friday for a planning session to chart a city-wide, go-to-church drive. From left are, Rev. J. Mervin Hess, 1214 Carolwood-av, pastor Shady Lane Presbyterian; Rev. John P. Lewis, pastor Christ Methodist, 1400 Zettler-rd; R. L. Rosenberger, 513 Binns-blvd, evangelism committee; Jerry Spears, 2645 W. Broad-st, Burgess Avenue EUB and Hilltop Lions Club; Rev. Harold Dutt, 58 S. Powell-av, pastor Westgate EUB; Dr. G. Weir Hartman, director Council of Churches, 674 E. Dunedin-rd; Mrs. Jann L. Hamill, 847 Eastaire-av, Christ Lutheran, evangelism committee; Robert W. Long, 2325 Sherwood-rd, pastor Christ Lutheran; W. S. Chevalier, 285 S. Sylvan-av, evangelism committee, Broad Street Christian.

A city-wide go-to-church drive will be staged by the evangelism department of Columbus Area Council of Churches with the participation of city service clubs during the month of November.

Designed to encourage every person to attend the church of his choice, the plan is to create a church-going psychology in keeping with the national Religion in American Life movement.

A recent survey disclosed that 38 percent of Columbus residents belong to a church or synagogue, with the remaining 62 percent outside the church.

The survey emphasized the need for a united effort to encourage everyone to attend church.

Sunday School Rally Day Set

Rally Day at Glenwood Methodist Church is planned for Sunday, Sept. 27. All Sunday School classes will meet in the sanctuary at 9:15 a.m. for the opening session.

The pastor, Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas, will preach at 10:30 a.m. on "When Life Takes Hold of Us."

Ads Little But Mighty

Mrs. George Wright, 274 N. Warren-av, was a very pleased woman when she quickly sold her dining room suite and some other things through a Want Ad in this paper. A two-line ad found a host of eager customers. Move your unwanted items by calling BR. 4-1155 and placing a low-cost classified ad.

Mt. Carmel Addition Is Approved

SCENE OF TRAGEDY—School books on the seat and a scarf dangling from the mirror were placed there minutes before the blast by Joyce Streets, when Henson drove her home from school. The explosion reduced the four-door '53 Plymouth to shambles, tearing gaping holes in the upholstery and shattering glass. A string, seen at lower left, is suggestive evidence that the car may have been booby-trapped.

Federal Money Alloted To West Side Hospital

Federal funds amounting to $400,000 were approved by the Ohio Department of Health's advisory council Tuesday to be applied to construction of a $1.2 million addition to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

The move opened the way for work to begin soon after the first of next year on a four-floor annex southwest of the present Souder-av emergency entrance. An overhead connection by enclosed bridge is planned.

Two top floors, containing 46 beds, will be used for psychiatric patients. (An earlier plan to add two floors to existing facilities was discarded as impractical).

Other space would be devoted to out-patients and those requiring occupational therapy.

Dr. Margaret DuBois, Ohio's chief of the division of hospitals, said the proposed facility will fill a great need for the care of acute psychiatric cases in Columbus. The funds are part of $7,143,179 made available to Ohio under the Hill-Burton Act. Allotments are made on a priority basis not exceeding one-third of construction costs.

Dr. DuBois said another $400,000 was approved for a nurses home at White Cross Hospital's new Riverside Methodist Hospital on Olentangy River-rd. As a matter of routine, both grants were made on the condition that prescribed conditions are met, she said.

Children's Center Projected

Also to join the Mt. Carmel block of the future is a $300,000 center for emotionally disturbed children. Funds amounting to a third of cost have already been approved, Dr. DuBois said.

The application was made jointly by the hospital and the Diocesan Child Guidance Center, 100 Bryden-rd. It will be located at the northwest corner of W. State-st and Souder-av.

Is Yours One Of The Many Expiring Drivers' Licenses?

Beginning Oct. 1, approximately 70 percent of the driver's licenses in Ohio will expire on the person's birthday in the year following this date.

The practice of notifying drivers of the expiration date of their licenses has been discontinued by the state. Licenses expire on the individual's birthday and the date is marked in the upper right hand corner of the license. Take a good look at YOUR license today.

Residents of the West area can secure their licenses at the office of the Hilltop Business Association, 3183 W. Broad-st.

Volunteer Help Needed For State School Work

Volunteer Services Committee, in cooperation with Columbus State School, 1601 W. Broad-st, is now recruiting help to carry out the fall and winter program of activities at the school.

Clubs or organizations looking for a worthwhile project, as well as individuals, are asked to consider the services needed by the 2800 youngsters at the school, which the state does not supply.

Workshops Begin Oct. 15

Volunteer Services Committee and the Columbus State School is reactivating its orientation and training workshop and will present the course to present and new workers each Thursday, Oct. 15, through Nov. 5.

Both afternoon and evening sessions will be offered.

Visitation, letter writing, entertainment, picnics and tours, and instruction in many forms are a few of the needs that require hundreds of helpers and thousands of hours.

Although members of 107 organizations gave 21,498 hours of service last year, the number falls far short of assistance needed to carry out a full program.

Volunteers are badly needed to sing, entertain, sew, mend, pass out treats, organize play periods, just visit, teach Sunday School, read or tell stories.

The committee urges all individuals willing to give a few hours in the work of their choice, or any fraternal, church or business groups who will help in any way, to register and attend the workshop.

One suggestion offered organizations is to "adopt" a cottage of 70 to 100 youngsters and supply them with special services and entertainment during the year.

Registrations may be made by phone to Lloyd P. Ferguson, director of special services, Columbus State School, BR. 6-9471, Ext. 381.

Strike Stalls Local Factory; Another O.K.

End of the month also meant the end of work for the some 2800 production workers at the Ternstedt plant today because of the steel shortage.

First layoffs began 10 days ago. Officials were reluctant to predict how soon recalls could be made after the nationwide steel strike is ended.

Production at Westinghouse remains unaffected for the present. In about two weeks the factory will begin to build room air conditioners here. The assemblies formerly were made in Springfield, Mass. Production of dehumidifiers and water coolers will be shifted here from Mansfield in about three months.

Last weekend power was connected in the new central distribution depot which is to be finished in January.

Patrol Chief Resigns Post

Lt. John W. Brooks, 54 of 595 Larcomb-av, has retired as commanding officer of the Columbus District, Ohio State Highway Patrol, after 24 years' service.

Lt. Brooks was graduated from the patrol's fifth training school in 1935. He is a native of Columbus.

Brooks will be associated with the Reploglo Construction Co. in Circleville.

Lt. K. L. Duling, 47, transferred from Warren district headquarters, will assume the post of commanding officer here. Born in Goshocton, he is the son of the city's former police chief, Ray Duling.

Dew Nominated To 33rd Degree

A Hilltop man was among 184 Masons nominated in Buffalo last week for the 33rd Degree of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, highest award of the Masonic Order.

Scheduled to receive the award at the organization's meeting in Boston next year is John Raymond Dew of 145 S. Roys-av, supervisor of the traffic engineering services section of the Bureau of Traffic, Ohio Department of Highways.

Three other Columbus men named for the honor were Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Herter, Frank Decker Rumsey of 980 S. Ohio-av, Monarch Manufacturing Co. draftsman, and Edgar Lewis Ott of 3445 Kirkham-rd, secretary of Scottish Rite in Columbus.

Nominations were made at the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite for the northern Masonic Jurisdiction.

Snags Stalling Parking Plan

Hitches in posts and delays in deliveries . . .

Although Council approved Monday the parking meters along business blocks on W. Broad-st, a date for their operation was anybody's guess.

Posts, already installed, will need to be reset because the concrete contained the wrong percentage of sand.

The contractor, finding posts already loosening, will replace 100 of them installed on Broad and on Spring-st.

Meters that will accommodate pennies for a few minutes' time, or nickels for hour-long parking, are on order but have not yet been delivered, said city traffic engineers.

Replacement of the posts will get under way immediately.

Several Classes At Evening High Have Openings

Several classes are still open to students wishing to enter Columbus Evening High School.

French and German, two new Evening High courses, will be offered Monday night along with Latin and a math review class. Sessions are held once each week from 6 to 9 p.m.

Regular classes still open are advanced algebra, solid geometry and trigonometry.

A course on office machines started this Wednesday and is still open.

Mrs. Pfaltzgraf Dies At 77 Years

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna A. Pfaltzgraf, 77 of 110 S. Roys-av, were held Tuesday at Hilltop Lutheran Church. She died Friday.

Mrs. Pfaltzgraf, a charter member of Hilltop Lutheran, was a member of United Lutheran Church Women and Robert Morris Chapter OES.

Surviving are two sons, Earl T. of 2960 Wicklow and Herbert L., 110 S. Roys-av; sister, Mrs. Clara Elner; two grandchildren, Charles Allen and Nancy Ann.

Burial was at Union Cemetery.

It's Camping Time Again In Southwest

Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders of all the Southwest District, will take to the fields this weekend for the annual Fall Camporee.

The outing will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3-4, at Camp Cook-A-Monga, which is off Route 104 (Jackson-pk) between Holton and Borrer-rds. A committee has planned a number of challenging events for Saturday afternoon. That evening the Order of the Arrow Indians will be special guests at the central campfire program, to which parents are also invited.

On Sunday morning both Protestant services and Mass will be provided. A recreation program will also be held Sunday.

Teenage Boy, Girl 'Critical' In Valleyview Auto Bombing

Two Valleyview teenagers, maimed permanently by the blast of a homemade bomb Tuesday afternoon, held desperately to their lives today in Mt. Carmel hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said the bomb was built from a pop-bottle and explosives by James Henson, 17, 510 Prospect-st, and was set off as he and a girl acquaintance stood near his car in front of his home. Henson was home on leave from the Army and according to friends was trying to hold the affections of 16-year-old Joyce Streets, of 2535 Dibblee-av. Henson suffered severe body injuries and the loss of his left hand. The girl sustained a shattered arm and face and body injuries.

The explosion rocked the usually-quiet little street just before 4 p.m. Tuesday. It broke windows in the Henson home 20 or 30 feet away. The street lies in the county just outside Valleyview limits. First on the scene was the Franklin Township emergency squad. Both victims were found lying between the car and a front fence. The Streets girl was in deep shock.

Sheriff's deputy Clyde Mann related that Henson had gone to St. Joseph Academy to get the girl. When he asked Miss Streets to go out with him, she refused saying that she had a previous engagement, Mann said.

Apparently Henson followed her when she left his home after watching TV, Franklin County prosecutor Earl Allison said.

The bomb was made from a pop-bottle, powder from about 50 .30 caliber rifle cartridges and an Army fuse lighter. It went off just as the girl reached inside the car, officials related.

The young soldier claimed that it went off accidentally. He told Allison that he had made it earlier in the day. But officials disagreed with Henson. They said it apparently was set off intentionally.

Henson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Henson. Until last spring he was a student at West High School. He had been a member of the Army Reserves and quit school to join the Army. He was to be transferred to the Paratroops upon returning from a week-long furlough.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Streets.

The Henson parents said they had no knowledge that their son had made the bombs.

Investigators found evidence in Henson's car that indicated he had booby trapped it earlier.

The car was towed to Tumison's Service Station, Broad-st

Requiem Set At St. Aloysius For Religious Civic Leader

D. C. Finneran

Requiem Mass for D. Clarke Finneran, 60, formerly of 211 S. Eureka-av, will be sung Friday, 9:30 a.m. at St. Aloysius Church.

The well-known fraternal, civic and religious leader died Friday in Hialeah, Fla., where he had lived for three years.

He was the father of Dennis C. Finneran of 134 S. Eureka-av, assistant editor of the Catholic Times.

Mr. Finneran had worked at the Columbus main post office and the insurance and medical division of the Veteran's Administration until he retired in 1958.

He was past commander of Camp Chase American Legion, past grand knight of Santa Maria Council 2898 K of C, and past Franklin County and district commander of American Legion.

He was a member of Fourth Degree K.C. Columbus General Assembly and Alumni Associations of Aquinas High School and Campion College, Prairie du Chien, Wis.

Mr. Finneran had been public relations director of the Knights of Columbus in the 23-county diocese, and a member of St. Vincent de Paul Society of the Immaculate Conception Parish, in Hialeah.

In addition to his son, he is survived by his wife, Martha C.; sons, Richard E. of Columbus, Theodore J. of Lancaster, Calif., and Eugene D. of Augusta, Ga.; daughter, Mary C. Jennings of Miami; nine grandchildren; sister, Sister Theodora SSJ of Altoona, Pa., and four brothers, Paul of Zanesville, Robert, Raymond and Barry, all of Columbus.

Rosary will be recited Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. at O'Shaughnessy Funeral Home, where friends may call. Burial will be at St. Joseph Cemetery.

Democrats Plan Dinner To Raise Campaign Funds

West Side Young Men's Democratic Club will sponsor a spaghetti dinner Sunday, Oct. 4, 1 to 5:30 p.m., at Ed's Place, 2233 Eakin-rd.

All Democratic candidates, including the mayor, will serve as waiters. Between 400 and 500 are expected to attend.

The affair is planned to raise campaign funds for the Democratic party.

Tickets are available at the door. The public is invited to attend.

Fireman Robbed While Overcome

Firefighter Fred Graessel, 32 of 209 N. Oakley-av, was robbed of his watch while suffering smoke exhaustion at a $1500 fire at 1130½ E. Long-st, early Saturday.

The watch was taken from his wrist while he was being treated by other firemen, police said.

Police said they found the watch in the possession of a man who said he got it from a 137 Schultz-av man. Both were held for questioning.

IHC Official Is Division UA Chairman

Al Roemer

Al Roemer, 3178 Mary-av, has been named chairman of the Hilltop area of the Suburban Business Division of United Appeal, according to West District Vice-Chairman William J. Alder.

Roemer, office manager of International Harvester Co., will be responsible for the recruitment of captains and salesmen to carry out solicitation. They will be seeking a goal of $2,533 from contributing businesses in the Hilltop area.

A total goal of $8,909 has been set for the combined west district area of Hilltop, Grove City, New Rome and the West Side proper.

Council Tables Rezone Request

Tabled for a week or so at City Council meeting Monday night, was a request to rezone Valleyview-dr at Algonquin-av, from a R-2 residential area to C-3, commercial classification.

Request was filed for the construction of a service station.

City Planning Commission recommended that the request be denied, because of the nearness of single family dwellings.

Democrats Plan Sectional Meet

A meeting for West area wards nine, 10, 11, 21 and 32, arranged by ward committeemen and the Democratic central committee, will be held Tuesday, Oct. 13, 8 p.m. at Starling Junior High School.

One of 13 sectional meetings planned throughout the city, they are designed to give voters an opportunity to hear discussion of political issues.

The four council candidates and three judicial candidates will be introduced at each meeting. Mayor Sensenbrenner, candidate for re-election, will be present at many of the sessions.

West '19 Grads Mark 40 Years

Members of the 1919 graduating class of West High School will hold its 40th year reunion Wednesday, Oct. 7, 8 p.m. at City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st. It will be the class' first reunion.

No formal program is planned. The evening will be a social affair for renewing acquaintances.

No reservations are needed. All members of the class are invited.

Committee members include Irene Priest Hoyt, 70 N. Burgess-av; Howard Thurston, 94 Fildon-av; Halbert Angell, 31 S. Cassady-av, and Mrs. Roy Hawthorne, 75 N. Hague-av.

UPSETS JAR CONTESTANTS

Pigskin Winners Revealed

Three big upsets, one each in the high school, college and professional football circuits, threw the best of guesser efforts to the wind and made this week's Hartley Newspaper football contest a free-for-all.

Westerville, Indiana and Green Bay, defying all predictions (including our own guesserts), battered their favored opponents into submission and served notice on the football world.

On the other hand, nearly every participant correctly tabbed Ohio State, Heidelberg and Grandview to finish in the victor's circle.

Winners in the contest were C. O. Wilcox, 2474 Brixton-rd; Robert M. Edwards, 192 Lenox-av; and Ronald Lee Wilcox, 3236 Sullivant-av, in that order.

They will have their choice in the order of their finish, of $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise from Hi-Ridge Market and a lube and oil change and filter at the Central Point Mobile Service.

Entries are already in for games which will be played this weekend. Prizes in that contest are $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise from Reeves Brothers and two spaghetti dinners from the Pine Room.

There will be a contest each week of the football season in Hartley Newspapers. Full details along with an entry blank in a brand new contest are contained on a full page advertisement inside this newspaper.

Prizes will be offered for winners' guessing games to be played two weeks from now are $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise from Edwards Drugs or five dollars worth of dry cleaning from Bond Cleaners.

HILLTOP KIWANIS BOOSTS YMCA FUND

PHARMACISTS GIVEN SPECIAL PRAISE

The man behind the prescription counter — your pharmacist — is getting a little special attention this week all over the nation.

National Pharmacy Week, which started Sunday and continues through Saturday, is the occasion for paying tribute to the thousands of pharmacists who, each in his quiet way, do so much to keep the health of the nation at a high level.

What your pharmacist possesses in special knowledge and skill, he acquired the hard way — by years of study encompassing a variety of subjects.

His education, like that of a doctor or lawyer, never stops. Continued "reading up" on new developments in his field is required to keep him posted. It is a process which starts when he enters college and can end only when he retires from the practice of the profession.

The pharmacist has been described as a "key man in the never-ending campaign against disease," and this description, we feel, is most appropriate. It is a real pleasure to give him a special salute on the occasion of National Pharmacy Week, 1959.

Letters To The Editor

Says Young Veterans Not Mindful Of Groups That Built GI Benefits

To the Editor and the Community:

"Special attention is called to veterans who served this country on foreign soil during war. If you are a veteran of one of the Armed Forces and fall under this category you should give some serious consideration to becoming a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars."

"The fall of 1899 marked the founding of the VFW—it was created right here in Columbus. There were no pensions, compensations, or hospitalization awaiting those who returned home from war with Spain, and expeditions in the Philippines and China. These men banded together to help their disabled, needy and less fortunate comrades.

"Lessons learned from then until 1917 set the pattern for the many veterans' benefits that exist today.

"Of 20 million veterans in this country today, fewer than five million belong to any veterans' organization. Many veterans of World War II and Korea have never understood that the VFW and other similar groups paved the way for creation of all G.I. veterans benefits. They owe it to themselves to join the groups to which they are eligible.

"Westway Post 3441, VFW membership campaign is now in progress. The post is one of the most active in Ohio, having placed first for community service in the last two years. Organized for 23 years, the club has been directed by many leading men of the community.

"If you want to join our ranks visit the post home, 832 Clarendon-av, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3 or our recruiting stand at Grove City (Park and Broadway-sts) during the same hours.

"Bring along discharge papers and officers will be on hand to assist with your application. Commander Otis R. Lowe, Senior Vice Commander Joe Bendetti and 'Spook' Beckman of WTVN will man the Grove City booth. Join now!

"Otis R. Lowe
Commander, Westway
Post 3441

"P.S.—Westway Post will also have a display in the window of the Thrift Finance Co., 3408 W. Broad-st."

BIBLE COMMENT:

Find Meaning Of Good Will In Small Town

As mere printed words in the Bible, the phrase "good will among men" means nothing. It is only in application that the words take on significance.

Only when we stop to consider the meaning of the phrase are we rewarded for our reading of the Bible.

Sometimes it takes an example in our own lives to bring home the import of the term good will.

This was the case with two American soldiers on leave, returning to their base in La Rochelle, France.

Following a misfortune with their auto, they found themselves in Belgium, near the French border, with only enough money for a train ride from Paris to their station several hundred miles farther.

They had 10 miles to walk with their baggage to the border station where they had hopes of obtaining a ride to the French capital.

As they walked, they met a fellow traveler, a Belgian named Claus, on his way to look for work in the nearby coal mines.

As night approached, Claus suggested they stop to eat. With the last few francs he had in his pocket he bought bread, milk and jam for his American companions and [illegible].

He explained that he was pleased to do something for them because he had been well treated when he was in America as a merchant seaman during World War II.

Following their roadside meal, he obtained a ride for the Americans to the border.

The last the soldiers saw of Claus was through the rear window of an ancient auto, waving as he walked along until the car left him out of sight.

For the Americans this was their lesson in good will.

HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS

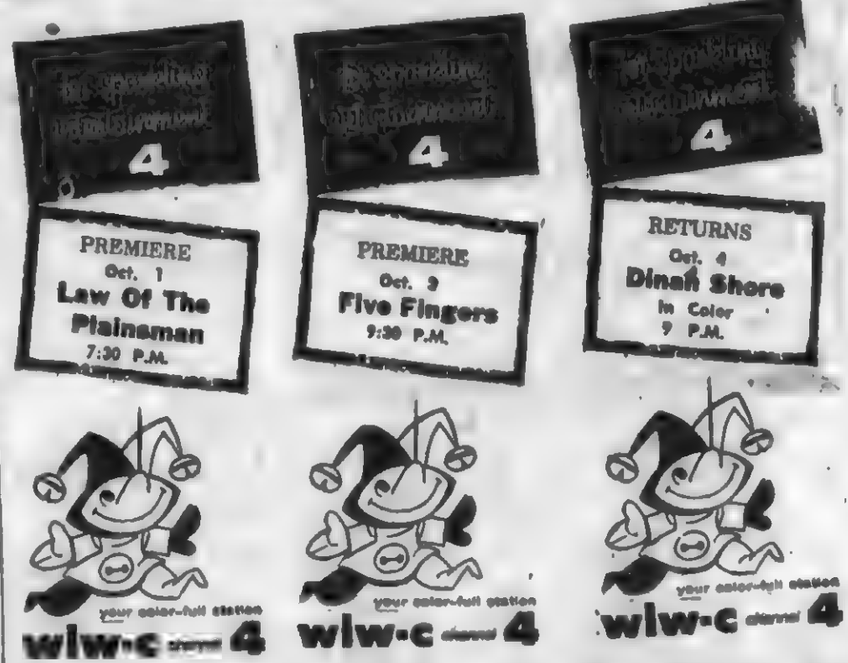
TV DIAL-oques

BY BETTY SHEPHERD

"Operation Ventilation" . . . "Don't Let Carbon Monoxide Kill You!" is being heard frequently these days on television and radio. Newspaper stories are warning readers about carbon monoxide poisoning, and TV programs and interviews are cautioning viewers to beware of the "silent killer."

This campaign stems from a concerted community effort backed by the City of Columbus, the Columbus Academy of Medicine, the Gas Company and the communications media (newspapers, radio and television) to establish in people's minds the danger of carbon monoxide and the necessity of checking all heaters, flues, and chimneys to be sure they are properly vented and not stopped up.

The Academy of Medicine advises us that any combustible material that burns without enough oxygen, develops carbon monoxide, or CO. CO has a two to three hundred times greater affinity to the hemoglobin of the blood than does oxygen. In a matter of seconds its damage can be done.



CO is odorless, tasteless and non-irritating — therefore its great danger. The first symptoms of its poisoning are sleepiness and headache — but if the concentration of CO in the atmosphere is too great, unconsciousness develops immediately. Death can be very close.

Therefore . . . this week, which has been set aside by Mayor Sensenbrenner as "Operation Ventilation Week," and before cold weather sets in, is a good time to get to that space heater, water heater and chimney to be sure that there is enough draft going through. Maybe a bird's nest has fallen down the chimney during the winter, or maybe some pigeons have toppled over and died in there. You don't want your family to have the same fate just because some unfortunate birds have died.

Or, in old houses, maybe an accumulation of dust, soot and mortar has finally reached that "point of no return" which signals danger for all. If you are in doubt yourself, check with a reputable service man. If you are in dire need, and it is really an emergency, the city officials will be glad to help. It only stands to reason they can't check every home in Columbus. There isn't the manpower available to do it. So don't call them if you are in any way able to help yourself or hire a service man. But regardless . . . get to it before the calendar gets any more advanced.

Columbus-born Tom Poston (remembered as Steve Allen's forgetful man-on-the-street), has become one of the busiest stars in TV. He is emcee of Channel 4's new afternoon audience participation show, "Split Personality,"; he is starring in the new play, "Golden Fleecing," necessitating his daily commuting to Philadelphia; and continues as panelist every Thursday night on "To Tell The Truth" on Channel 10. Next spring he will co-star with Maurice Evans in Shakespeare's "The Tempest" on "Hall of Fame."

With football fever in the air, fans can take their choice of games. "NCAA's Game of the Week" will be seen every Saturday on WLW-C (many of them in color), as will be hour long re-plays of the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame each Sunday afternoon from 1 to 2. Sundays will also be replete with Pro Football on WBNS-TV and telecasts of the Cleveland Browns League games on WTVN-TV, along with an hour-long program of Ohio State's game of the preceding day. OSU football may also be seen on WOSU-TV on Thursday nights at 8:30, with the official films being given play-by-play by John Schmidt.

Several favorite summer shows have bowed off the air. Andy Williams bade his adieu last Thursday with Johnny Mercer as a special guest, and a cleverer bit of harmonizing we have never seen, with Andy singing Mercer's songs from "A to Z." Garry Moore returns at this time on Channel 10.

Bert Parks ended "Masquerade Party's" run with an hilarious ending, insisting that the whole show would still be there at 10:30 on Thursday nights even though NBC-TV and its affiliates were programming something else. Channel 4 will carry "The Phil Silvers Show" in that spot beginning Oct. 8.

Mike Wallace put the period after the question mark in "Who Pays?" on Thursday nights on WLW-C, and "Bat Masterson" will take over this week. Wallace said, in his last telecast, that he would continue his interview series on another network.

Watch for the World Series in color and three specials on Channel 4 this week — Art Carney on Oct. 2; Startime on Oct. 6 and Bob Hope on Oct. 8.

BRAND-NAME BARGAINS FEATURED

Glick's Great Western Marks Fourth Big Year

Fourth anniversary of Glick's Great Western suburban furniture store is being celebrated this week with store-wide savings ranging up to 44 percent and more.

This was disclosed by William T. Soliday, manager, who added that the specially-reduced Anniversary Sale prices were on brand-name first-quality nationally-advertised furniture, carpeting and appliances. Best known manufacturers have cooperated with special price concessions which are being passed on to Glick's Great Western customers, it was pointed out.

Special feature of the Anniversary Sale is offering of two beautiful around-the-clock serving pieces with every purchase of $49.95 or more. These serving pieces from Inland Glass Co., (a division of Club Aluminum), are of heatproof glass gaily decorated in 22-karat gold, black and white. Each comes with its own gold metal heating unit and candles. Customers may choose their two gifts from a two-quart casserole, well-and-tree platter, or eight-cup coffee carafe.

Glick's, America's Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year, will offer its customary services during this Anniversary Sale. These include free interior decorating service, without obligation; free storage for later delivery, free delivery in Ohio, and Glick's positive policy of satisfaction guaranteed.

Anniversary Sale savings are store-wide, featuring such brand names as Selig, Drexel, Heywood-Wakefield, Valentine-Seaver, Kroehler, Warren-Lloyd, Unique, Philco, Tappan, Norge, to mention a few. All styles are included also, such as Early American, French and Italian Provincial, Danish, Contemporary, Traditional and Modern.

Glick's Great Western is open daily 12 noon to 9 p.m., and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Decorator-trained sales personnel are always available, without obligation, for consultation in the shopper's home with a complete array of fabric samples, photographs and other aids in assisting the homemaker.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Apples, grapes, frozen orange juice, canned fruits.

VEGETABLES — Broccoli, Brussels sprouts, spinach, potatoes, sweet potatoes.

Protein Foods — Chicken, ground beef, rib-end pork roasts, medium or small eggs, cheese.

COLD NOT COLD ENOUGH FOR FROZEN FOODS

It's easy to detect a defrosted package of frozen food. All you need to do is squeeze it. But it's not so easy to tell whether a hard package is at zero degrees, 10 degrees or 20 degrees F.

Research shows that just as fresh foods lose color, flavor, texture and nutritional value at high temperatures, so frozen foods will lose their qualities if the temperature is not kept at zero degrees or lower. In addition, foods may develop off flavors under adverse time and temperature conditions.

Zero Is Necessary — Temperatures just below freezing (32 degrees F) are not cold enough. A package of frozen food can be cold and hard, but if the temperature is not low enough, the quality is not maintained.

A rise of five to 10 degrees in temperature between zero and 30 defrees F. speeds the loss of quality from two to five times as rapidly as when food is stored at zero degrees F.

Permitting temperature of a frozen food to rise to 25 degrees to 30 degrees F. for even one day does more damage to its eating quality and nutritional value than holding it at zero degrees F. for a whole year. And, temperature damage cannot be corrected once it has occurred.

How Temperatures Affect Certain Foods — Frozen foods differ greatly in their reaction to variations in temperature. Here are a few principal facts from research studies:

Frozen Fruits—most fruits are damaged quickly by high temperatures. Changes include browning of peaches, loss of flavor in strawberries, loss of color in raspberries, and darkening and toughening of the skin in cherries. At 20 degrees F. they can occur in two weeks. Fruits stored at zero degrees F. will remain in good condition for a year or more.

Frozen Concentrated Juices—quality loss in frozen juices, especially orange juice, increases as the temperature rises. The most marked change is indicated by the separation into thick and thin portions. Another change is loss of flavor.

Frozen Vegetables — held at temperatures above zero first show quality loss through color changes and then loss of flavor.

Frozen Poultry Products — flavor loss doubles for each rise of 10 degrees in temperature. They may develop off flavors when held at temperatures above zero degrees F. But poultry at zero degrees F. or below has a storage life up to one year.

Other Frozen Products—such as baked goods, prepared foods, meats and fish, lose quality when subjected to temperatures above zero degrees.

What about families who do not own home freezers? Can they keep frozen foods in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator (usually 5 to 25 degrees F.)? Yes, but do check the temperature of the compartment and keep it below 15 degrees F. if possible. And equally important, hold foods in this kind of storage for only a short period of time. It's better to use them within a week.

COAST-TO-COAST INSPECTED and APPROVED

On The Hilltop It's Rah, Rah, For Hawks!

Turnouts of at least 180 fans are a common sight these days when the Westgate Hawks take to the field.

Spirited training sessions, capable leadership and a live-wire Boosters Club is reason enough to spur the Hilltop youngsters on.

Ohio Bearcat champs last year (in the 110-pound division) the boys have now graduated to the 115-pound class to allow ninth graders to play up to high school level. Maximum age limit now is 15. They belong to the American division—four teams of older and heavier lads.

With three wins already in their past this fall, the Hawks face the second of a three-round encounter with tough Maryland Park on Sunday, Oct. 4 at Harley Field, East High. Hawk scores to date are, 16 to 6 over Maryland Park, 20 to 0 over Linden and 26 to 0 over the Beck-st Bearcats.

Much of the Hawk success is due to the talented tutelage of Dennis McDonald, West High all-city quarterback in 1957 and his line coach assistants Karl Fulton and Gary Link. McDonald thinks his ball club is even more well-rounded than last year. (They won a two-state title, defeating Kentucky 18 to 14 on Thanksgiving Day.)

Strongmen Are Back

Returning to him this year is Co-Captain Steve Takos, 1958 leading scorer and most valuable player; Co-Captain Mike Hobbs, all league center who has been switched to tackle; in the backfield—All Leaguers Larry Cline, Bob Eberhard and Butch Williams; line—All League guard Mike Blackmore and ends Tex Hysell, Steve Walters and Larry Cook; tackles—Scotty Teale and Mike Morgan; guards—Bruce Finley, Steve Rutledge, Jack Hilbert and Steve Canfield.

Boosters Raise $500

Mrs. Jean Blackmore, 2741 St. Patrick-rd, is president of the Booster Club. In advance of the season parents and friends of the boys raised $500 for equipment (including a $100 gift from the Hilltop Lions). The Boosters also sold membership, held candy sales and parties, turned in sales tax stamps and took up collections at games last year.

and Wilson-rd where it was impounded for checking.

Upon reaching Henson's home, deputies and a bomb demolition squad from Ft. Hayes found ten more fuse lighters and more than a hundred rifle and grenade launcher cartridges.

Bomb squad members and sheriff's deputies are following up reports that several young friends in the Valleyview area had received souvenir blasting caps and shells from Henson. Some were found in an Eldon-av home. A young friend of Henson told reporters his mother called authorities and made him turn in his gifts.

Hilltop Community Hosts Missionary Convention

Missionaries from various parts of the world, Ohio delegates of Prayer Circles, representatives from Men For Missions, and many others interested in missionary work will convene on the Hilltop next weekend.

Annual convention of the Oriental Missionary Society will be held Thursday, Oct. 8 to Oct. 11 at Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av.

Among the speakers will be Miss Ruth Bergert, executive Prayer Circle secretary of the Oriental Missionary Society, who will present reports from South America.

She has served as a missionary in various parts of Latin America, and recently returned from a three-months' visit to mission fields in Brazil, Ecuador and Colombia.

Other speakers during the convention will include: Dr. Ed Kilbourne, Korea; Dr. Bill Gillam, Latin America and Rev. Ernest Kilbourne, Japan.

Enloe Waller, stock broker of Mount Carmel, Ill., whose interest in missions has taken him around the world, will speak Saturday night.

Films and curios of the mission fields will be shown.

Public is invited to all sessions of the convention. Rev. E. E. Wells is pastor of Hilltop Community Church.

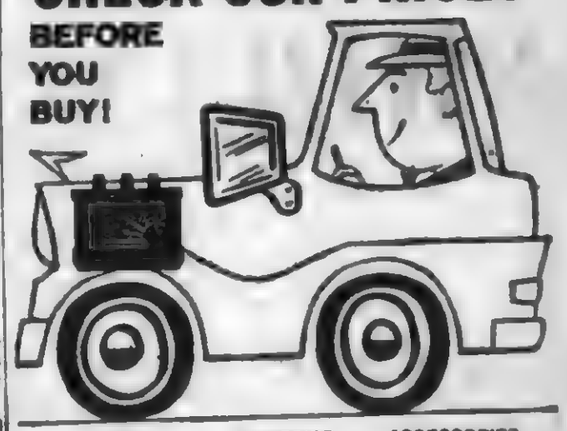
Veterans Bill To Be Topic At WW I Meet

What may prove their most important meeting of the fall, was announced this week by officials of Capitol City Barracks 461, Veterans of World War I, USA.

R. M. "Old Sarge" Hartman has urged all World War I veterans, whether members of the organization or not, to attend a 2 p.m. session Sunday, Oct. 4, at new Memorial Hall, 300 W. Broad-st. The auxiliary will also be present.



Hartman, Barrack's legislative officer, urges veterans to "hear a discussion on the so-called Pension Bill 7650. Stop guessing about it," he outspokenly said, "stop listening to a lot of people who have been misleading you for years on such things. Come and hear the facts about this liberalized non-service disability bill. It is not a service pension so come and hear the truth about this gigantic hoax."

National convention delegates' reports will also be given.

Ohio State University Extension economists expect corn prices this fall to be about the same as they were last year.

Hill Promoted At Timkin Co.

Columbus plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. has announced the appointment of Glenn Hill, 602 Wedgewood-dr, to position of foreman in the railroad division.

Hill started with the company on June 16, 1944, as a weighmaster. He left the company shortly after and returned Sept. 26, 1946, as a grinder. He later worked as a control inspector On Dec. 31, 1956, Hill became a heat treat attendant in the railroad plant, later an operator in the same department and remained on that job until his recent promotion.

Glen attended Central High School and served in both the U.S. Navy and Army. Army service included duty in Korea during the conflict.

The new appointee lives at the Wedgewood address with his wife, Eileen, and step-daughter, Susan.

Buckye Club Resumes

Golden Month Is Ahead For Squirrel Shooters

Not many Ohio hunters know that the squirrel season extends to Nov. 2 this year.

Oh, they've read the facts on hunting regulations and in the papers, but it doesn't seem to sink in. Otherwise, why would so many squirrel hunters go out on the opening day and the first Saturday, and then put away their guns until the middle of November?

This is the traditional way to hunt squirrels, however, and it is not likely to change. The Ohio Division of Wildlife has even reported that the number of squirrels shot per hour of hunting increases toward the end of the season, but it will probably not sway the majority of hunters.

There are several reasons why hunting is more enjoyable once the squirrel season is well under way. On the opening day, the day that every one has to go, it is likely to be very dry. Crunchy leaves and twigs make hunting difficult. There are many hunters in the woods, and this increases the commotion. When the "heat" is off, you can pick your day—one without wind and when the underbrush is damp. You can hunt on an ideal day, instead of taking whatever the weatherman sends.

Hunting Is Safer, Surer

The fact that few hunters are afield during and toward the end of the season is an important feature. When you are alone in a woods and hear a squirrel cutting you can take your time in stalking him. Even if it takes half an hour or more, you can pick your way silently through the trees until you are in shooting range. You can hunt squirrels leisurely and confidently. Under more crowded conditions, with three or four hunters in a woods, it sometimes becomes a race to get to a feeding squirrel. This is when accidents happen and when squirrel hunting ceases to be fun.

Hunting under ideal weather conditions and when the forests are not crowded far offset the fact that fewer squirrels are present. The expert hunter knows this and hunts all through the month of October. This is why the number bagged per hour increases at the tag end of the season. One additional feature is that there are fewer leaves on the trees, and this also helps tip the scales in favor of hunters.

Right now is the time to resolve to do some late season squirrel hunting. You have the glorious month of October in which to do it. What better place to watch the autumn days grow short than 'neath the scarlet leaves of a huge oak tree?

EXPLAINS PROGRAM—R. G. Fankhauser, naturalist for the Columbus Metropolitan Parks, explains to the outdoor school how public parks may be used in school conservation programs. Scene is the Darby Creek Metropolitan Park.

Local Sports Clubs Conduct School

Probably the first outdoor school in the state, where other sportsmen were students, was held recently on the grounds of the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Club and the Southeast Conservation Club. Te object of the weekend schooling was to show representatives of nine other sportsmen's clubs from over Ohio how conservation has been brought into local schools by the two Columbus clubs.

The program was set up by Herb Rumfield, 630 Butler-av, and Ted Lee, 966 Wilson-av, two leaders in conservation education who have been working with Columbus school teachers and officials for a number of years. The sportsmen attending the "course" will be able to establish similar conservation programs in their schools.

Hunters Told To Help Keep Deaths Down

Squirrel hunting has begun in the area and open season on other game is slated to start in the near future.

Robert Strohm, water and firearms safety supervisor for the division, said there were 38 hunting casualties last year during the squirrel hunting season. Six of these were fatal. All occurred during the first two weeks of the season.

"This year we would like to reduce the number of casualties to zero," was Strohm's comment. "In addition to making sure it is game before you aim, wear a bright color, preferably yellow."

The daily bag limit on squirrel is four; possession limit after the first day is eight. Hours of shooting are daylight to dark in both zones. The season ends in both zones Nov. 2.

This is the second hunting season, the first began on Sept. 1 and included rails and gallinules. The bag and possession limits are 15. Hunting hours are one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The Ohio woodcock season opens Oct. 1 and closes Nov. 7, with the same shooting hours as for rails and gallinules. Daily bag limit is four with a possession limit of eight after the first day.

Ruffed grouse can be hunted from Oct. 15 to Feb. 25, and ducks, coots and geese beginning Oct. 16. The duck and coot season ends Nov. 24. Geese may be hunted until Dec. 24.

Quail, Hungarian partridge, rabbits and ring-necked pheasant may be hunted beginning Nov. 16. Rabbits may be hunted until January 4. The season for the other three species ends Dec. 9.

Double-Ring Wedding Ceremony Unites Barbara Druar And James Schumann

MR. AND MRS. JAMES NOEL SCHUMANN

Miss Barbara Ann Druar became the bride of Mr. James Noel Schumann, Saturday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p.m., at Westgate Methodist Church.

Rev. Sydney C. G. Everson read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candelabra, white gladioli, pom Poms and mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Druar of 666 Belvidere-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Schumann of 663 Chesterahire-rd.

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace was designed with a scalloped neckline, and long sleeves, with seed pearls and pearlized sequins scattered on the bodice. Lace ruffles cascaded down the back of the skirt to form a circular train.

A chantilly crown scattered with pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a crescent-shaped arrangement of white orchids, roses and stephanotis.

She wore a solitaire pearl and diamond necklace, and pearl earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Janet Spradling served as matron of honor. Mrs. Sue Henne, Mrs. Donna Sutton and Mrs. Linda Morris were bridesmatrons, and Miss Harriet Nalty, bridesmaid.

They were identically gowned in Persian pink taffeta sheaths with bateau necklines, three-quarter sleeves and matching taffeta tapered overskirts.

Headpieces were fashioned of velvet birds of paradise, bows and jewels on veiling. They carried pink carnations and sweetheart roses in crescent shapes.

Mr. Roger Schumann served as best man for his brother, and guests were seated by Mr. Robert Henne, Mr. Richard Orr, Mr. Donald Spradling and Mr. Joseph Vaughn.

Mrs. Druar chose for her daughter's marriage a sheath of peacock blue silk with matching and chocolate brown accessories. She pinned a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother wore an emerald green silk faille sheath with matching accessories and an identical corsage on her purse.

Reception followed the ceremony at the Desert Inn. Mrs. Judith Lewis attended the guest book.

The former Miss Druar was graduated from West High School and is secretary for the Public Utility Dept., Ohio Inspection Bureau. Mr. Schumann was graduated from Ohio State University with a B.S. degree in business administration. He is employed by Sweden Freezer Mfg. Co., Columbus Division.

Couple Sets Wedding Day

MISS JUDITH RAUSCH

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Rausch, 635 S. Eureka-av, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judith Carole, to Mr. George Arthur Breckenridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Breckenridge, 286 S. Princeton-av.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Central High School, and is associated with Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Mr. Breckenridge is a Central High graduate and also is associated with Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Date of the wedding has been set for Nov. 6.

Mrs. R. Ealy Entertains At Pre-Bridal Shower

A kitchen shower was held Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. Russell P. Ealy, 486 Hilltonia-av, for Miss Ann Dykstra, 2564 Andover-rd.

Miss Dykstra is the fiancee of Mr. John Burton Moore, Jr., 2094 Langham-rd. Their wedding will take place Oct. 17 at the Boulevard Presbyterian Church.

Guests included Mrs. Edna Toohey, 829 Wiltshire-rd, aunt of Mr. Moore.

DeMolay Mother's Club Plans October Meeting

DeMolay Mother's Club of Columbus Chapter will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Laderer, 2532 Mt. Holyoke, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Gail Clark, Mrs. Robert Schrerer and Mrs. Frank Laderer.

WSCS Circles Plan Calendar

Glenwood Methodist Church Circles will hold day meetings Thursday, Oct. 8, at 12:30 p.m., as follows:

Esther Hulbert Circle at the home of Mrs. Leah Shimp, 199 N. Oakley-av.

Louise Nichols Circle at the home of Mrs. Bertie McKinley, 139 Belvidere-av.

St. Aloysius Church Scene Of Nuptial Mass Uniting Anita DeMatteo And Richard Lantz

Miss Anita Louise DeMatteo and Mr. Richard S. Lantz exchanged their wedding vows July 18 in a high nuptial mass at St. Aloysius Church. Rev. William Maloney officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Matteo of 334 S. Burgess-av. Mr. Lantz, formerly of Marion, is the son of Mr. Earl W. Lantz, 676 S. Wayne-av, and the late Mrs. Lantz.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown she designed and made herself. The cocktail-length sheath was fashioned of white imported French silk illusion re-embroidered lace, trimmed with seed pearls, over satin. The bouffant overskirt was caught to the side waist with panels of scalloped lace, and tapered from the hem of the sheath to floor-length, with a wide back panel of lace extending into a chapel train.

A queen's crown of pearl stephanotis flowers design held her scalloped fingertip veil, and she carried an arrangement of stephanotis, roses and a centered orchid.

Mrs. Carmine Cervi served as matron of honor for her sister, and bridesmatrons were Mrs. Richard Sensenbrenner, Mrs. David Krebs and Mrs. James Fondaw. Miss Mary Ann Volpe served as bridesmaid.

Attendants wore slim sheaths of sapphire blue silk organza over taffeta with portrait neck lines and brief sleeves. Crushed satin cummerbunds were finished with bows at the back and full overskirts of organza formed short peplums at the front and extended to the hemline in back.

They carried cascades of purple asters.

Mr. Carmine De Matteo, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Mr. Harry Lantz, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Pat Regules, Mr. Otto Owens and Mr. Richard Peters. Thomas Cervi, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

MRS. RICHARD S. LANTZ

A buffet luncheon and reception was held at the Oniced Club.

The new Mrs. Lantz is associated with Ohio Mental Health Association as secretary to the executive director. Mr. Lantz attended Ohio State University, served four years in the U.S. Navy, and is associated with the Wheeling Corrugating Co.

Following a wedding trip through the East, the couple is at home at 3581 Glorious-rd.

Barbara Wolcott, Ollie Cordle Are Wed In Nuptial Mass At Holy Family Church

Miss Barbara Jo Wolcott and Mr. Ollie Jay Cordle repeated their marriage vows Saturday, Aug 1, at Holy Family Church. Msgr. George Gressell officiated at the nuptial mass.

The former Miss Wolcott is the daughter of Mrs. Rhea Wolcott of 1284 Hart-rd, and Mr. Rich Wolcott of Akron. Mr. Cordle is the son of Mrs. Gavitt C. Reed of 131 N. Yale-av.

The bridal gown of silk organza was styled with jeweled chantilly lace on the empire bodice and bouffant skirt, which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was edged in chantilly lace and fell from a double scalloped crown of matching lace. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Martha Weber served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Wolcott, sister of the bride; Miss Nancy Downing, Miss Patty Kuhns, Miss Roseanne Sergio and Miss Carol Adams.

They wore cocktail-length gowns of orchid silk organza with matching headbands and carried Colonial bouquets of orchid and purple asters.

Patty Wooddell of West Jefferson, flower girl, wore an orchid, hand-embroidered frock and carried a miniature of the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Mr. Henry Fasone served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. Dennis Wolcott, brother of the bride; Mr. Larry Badurina, Mr. Larry Thompson, Mr. Al Rohrenbeck and Mr. Bob Fasone. Alcolyte was Billy Wolcott, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a blue lace sheath gown and a corsage of blue-tinted orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue-green gown of Japanese silk with a matching hat and an identical corsage.

MR. AND MRS. OLLIE JAY CORDLE

Hostesses for the reception held at the GBBA Hall at 1171 Gilbert-st were Miss Kay Downing, Mrs. Larry Badurina, and Mrs. E. Porter.

The bride was graduated from St. Mary of the Springs Academy and attended White Cross Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom was graduated from South High School and served in the US Army. He is now employed as a journeyman lineman for IBEW Local 71.

Hoge To Mark Communion Day

World-Wide Communion will be observed at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, 2930 W. Broad-st, Sunday, Oct. 4, with identical services at 9:15 and 10:45 a.m.

Dr. A. J. Wold, recently returned from a trip to South America, will conduct the services assisted by Rev. Robert E. Clark, assistant minister.

The day also marks the beginning of the fall and winter program at Hoge, with two sessions of church school and worship at 9:15 and 10:45 a.m.

Do not store summer clothes with any traces of starch remaining. Silverfish may feed upon the starched items, say extension clothing specialists at the Ohio State University.

Jack Reynolds, Hilltop mailman carrying Hague, Sullivant, Wiltshire and Roys, entered Doctors Hospital Monday, and underwent surgery there Tuesday . . . Carolyn Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cooper of 184 S. Odgen-av and a 1957 graduate of West High School, has entered Apostolic Bible College at St. Paul, Minn.

Dennis Bailey of 348 Demorest, welcomed his classmates from St. Mary Magdalene aboard a make-believe Pirate Ship on his tenth birthday, Sept. 22.

The youngsters filed across an improvised gangplank into his home, transformed with flags and decorations into a pirate's den. Centerpiece was a ship surrounded by treasure chests with gold foil-wrapped chocolate "coins" spilling over. A loaf of bread, hollowed to form a chest, was filled with sandwiches and was served with carrot stick "daggers," Jell-o "jewels" and pirate punch. The cake, plates and cups were decorated with Jolly Roger emblems.

Party feature was a treasure hunt, with clues in poem leading the youngsters through Westgate Park and back to the garden where they dug for buried loot.

The night-blooming cereus of Mrs. Goldie Daniels, 16 S. Yale-av, is expected to blossom one night this week. Anyone wishing to see the rarity, may phone Mrs. Daniels, BR. 9-8479 for information on just when the flowers will open, and then drop by to see them. . . Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, 80 Powhatan-av entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening. Guests were Mrs. Charles Lyman of Claverack, N. Y., Mrs. J. Harry Kattau of 181 Binns-blvd, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grissom, 3181 Vanderburg. . . Kathryn Dildine of 1480 N. Hague, is now a resident of Ferris Rest Home in Sunbury.

West Tackles Eastmoor 11 Here Friday

by Bob Wilcox

After the big surpaise Friday, (Franklin Heights didn't offer the competition anticipated), West settles fray. And their first test is a good solid ball club—Eastfray. And their first test is a good solid ball cluub —Eastmoor, here Friday night.

Eastmore didn't have very many veterans reporting this fall as they are loaded with sophomores. This put them about even with the Cowboys, experience-wise. But they do have a solid, though small, nucleus of lettermen back to balance out the lineup. Outstanding are Doughty (a co-captain) at one halfback slot and a defensive tackle, Van Horn. A fine newcomer at the other half spot is sophomore Benjamin, who was a sprint champ in junior high [illegible] spring.

Speed Big Force

This last mention of speed denotes the whole tone of the Warriors. The whole squad is light, but fast with the backfield having some to burn. Head coach Bob Stewart, starting his third season with the Warriors, has a well-coached versatile quad this fall. They split their offense about 50-50 between the air and the ground.

They have a good quarterback who can hit his targets well. With their speed they can go up the middle just as well as around the outside which makes their attack a potent and dangerous one. For their "bread and butter" play (a favorite used especially when they need special yardage) they like the off-tackle slant.

The game may seem pretty much a toss-up, except for one item . . . the Cowboys have the revenge angle to avenge their 18-0 whitewashing at Eastmoor last year. So who can tell 'em . . .??

The U.S. patent office has issued more than 2,890,000 patents on inventions. It expects to issue 52,500 patients in 1959, or approximately 1,000 each [illegible].

The way that wars are carried on today is a BOMB an able.

WEST SIDE GRID LOOP FORMS

PRACTICE SESSION—This is the Hawks "11" of the newly formed West Side Football League which has regularly scheduled games each Sunday. Head coach of the aggregate is George Latimer with Carl Lymon as line mentor. Loop organizers hope to field four teams and invite West Side boys to tryout for the squads. Entry blanks may be picked up at stores on the lower West Side or youngsters may contact Latimer at CA. 1-[illegible].

Teamwork Pays Dividends As West Thumps Heights

Let's take a look at the results of that explosion at Magly Field last Friday evening.

First of all, the final score was West 50, Franklin Heights 7. The Cowboys lost a shutout when, leading late in the fourth quarter by 42-0 (the identical score of their pasting by Springfield one week earlier), they permitted Heights their only TD of the evening. Heights fullback Jerry Martin went over left tackle, reversed his field and tore down the right sideline for 48yards and the score. Ron Bellisari's kick was good for the extra point. (The latter lad was by far and away the outstanding Heights boy on the field all evening, especially on defense.)

West was infuriated by this one lapse in their otherwise fine defense all night. With cries of "get it back for Bill" from the bench and the Broncos on the field ringing in his ears Jerry Hummel took the ensuing kickoff going to his left, on his own 15, reversed himself and 'tightwalked' the right side line for 85 yards and West's final score. Jim Thornton plunged over for the extra points and a final tally of 50.

Thus the Cowboy's score came in the same manner as their first—a 90-yard kickoff return jaunt by fullback Bill Biggers. Some of the fans hadn't even settled in their seats from the Star Spangled Banner and the Cowboys were on their horses and off to the races . . . for the evening. He also went straight up the right sideline, simply outracing Heights.

Briefly recapping the rest of the Cowboy scoring in order. . . In the second period they upped the count to 14-0 as Leon Evans swept left end for the final 10 yards, climaxing an 18-play, 70-yard drive. Hummel went over left tackle for the two points. That was the half.

They rang up another 14 points in the third period as Hummel went over left tackle for two yards to climax a 17-play, 66 yard march.

Then Thornton brought the crowd to its feet as he adeptly picked off a Heights pass on the 50 and "jackrabbited" down the right sideline. Evans went around left end for the extra points.

We haven't seen a runner like Thornton for several years; he has fine speed, but instead of "dancing" or sliding off would-be tacklers, he actually seems to jump (like the jackrabbit) just as he's about to be hit . . . and then pounds ahead. This thrills the fans.

The Cowboys poured on 22 more markers in the final period when sub quarterback Bob Ross ended a five-play, 47-yard drive as he sneaked over from the one. West got the ball on a fine interception and seven-yard return by linebacker Gene Bran[illegible].

Their final tally . . . save for Hummel's return, came on a rougher.

28-yard pass play from Ross to end Dwight Newman. Dick Glass went over right tackle for the extra points. It wound up a four-play drive that began on the Heights 18. On the first play Ross hit Earl Aber for the score, only to have it nullified and be set back by an illegal motion or procedure against West. But Newman got it back with a fabulous leaping catch in the end zone with two Heights defenders "hanging" on.

Picking outstanding Cowboy performances is like picking up money at the U.S. Mint. With just about everyone seeing action and all doing so well it's not easy. Some fine blocks, interference thrown on the two kickoff returns and a pass interception, TD's happened so fast that neither those on the field, pressbox and the movie crews missed them.

However, Jim Horn did throw a beauty to spring Thornton loose. Biggers carried two men into the end zone on his TD run and did some fine 'crashing' on defense before being forced to retire with an injured ankle in the second quarter. (He now looks ready to go again.) Hummel did a fine job, switching to fullback for the rest of the evening.

Bob Montgomery was excellent as was Branson, playing his first game as a defensive linebacker. West found two mighty fine runners in Thornton and Hummel.

Bill Paske, Stew Randall and Eric Marlow did well defensively on the line and Bob Saint delivered fine play both ways in the backfield. Bill Kern was "quite efficient" while his under study, Ross, got a good taste of action and valuable experience . . . 'though fairly new to the QB slot, he showed promise. Center of the line was well handled by Gary Alwood. (Incidentally, he weighs 160 . . . not the 99 that slipped in the column last week.)

Several boys seemed to gain confidence and began to show real potential.

However, the season of 1959 is very young and Heights wasn't the climax. West opponents in City League are not all going to be such 'snaps.' The team has a lot of spirit and individual ability . . . if they'll only hold to this when the going gets rougher.

Tackles May Decide West Grid Success

By BOB WILCOX

Recently these pages carried Coach Bill Schmitter's pre-season size-up of the West High Cowboys as a group. Basically, he said they are inexperienced but have wonderful spirit.

Readers who follow the Cowboys will find the season's picture on individual players and positions shaping up something like this:

Six Lettermen Return

There are six lettermen returning at West, one a true "first stringer" and only three others seeing extensive action.

Returning are Jerry Hummel and Leon Evans, halfbacks; Dave Morris and Gene Branson, ends; Jim Horn, a guard; and Bill Kern, quarterback, lettermen.

Of course, the biggest loss to fill would have to be the fullback slot of graduating Dave Francis. As explained later, that position will be one of the best filled slots this fall. Francis and his football feats on the Hilltop are fine history.

Tackles pose a problem. All gone from last year's team, five boys are vieing for the two starting roles at that position, plus the necessary reserve strength. If two or more of these lads come through it could make the difference in the success of the squad. Fighting for the chance are Stew Randall, Bill Paske, Don Burley, Bob Montgomery and Terry Linson.

Other outstanding performers gone via graduation are guard Jim Carter (1958 Most Valuable Player award) end Ray Horkey, quarterback Don Uldricks, tackle Fred Ash, (Agonis Award winner), and end Jerry Spears. The latter two, along with Francis, were all-city choices. Three other lettermen lost, but not by graduation, were quarterback Terry Briggs, moved to Grandview; center Larry Barnett, a back condition causing doctor's orders to forego the sport; and end Tim Skaar (an outstanding wrestler, going undefeated in regular season competition last year) who moved back to Georgia.

Schmitter considers Horn to be the outstanding player on the squad at the moment, quoting that he "could be great." Horn and Kern were elected co-captains recently for the coming season.

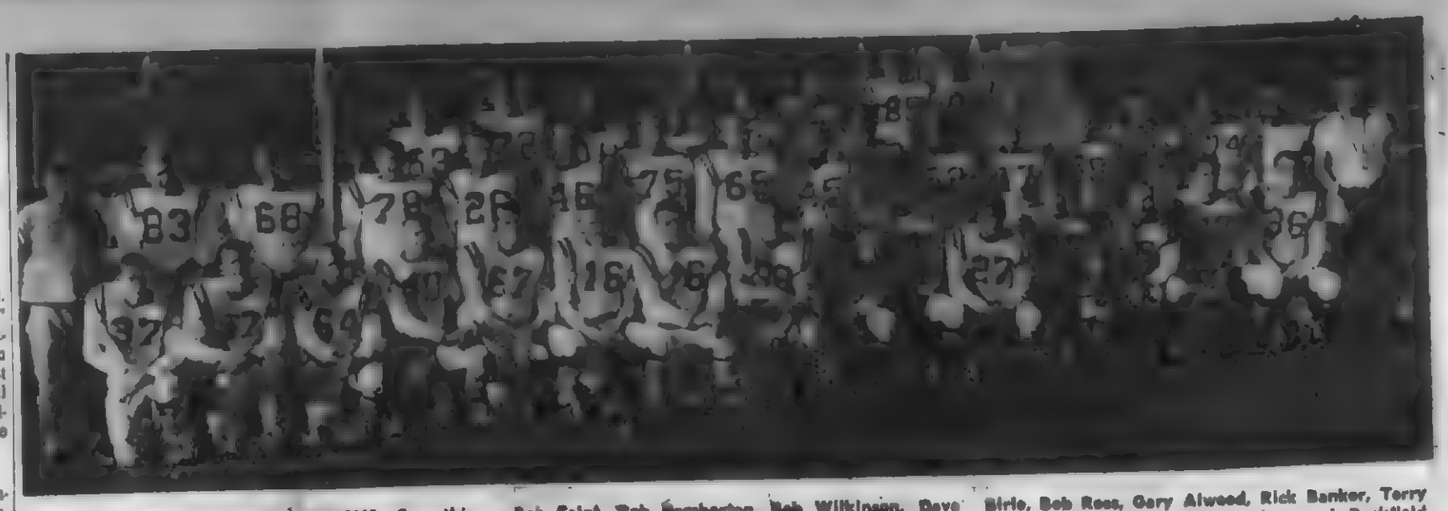
Weak spots of this year's Cowboy pack seem to be the lack of any real speed at the halfbacks and the lack of experience at tackle. Strong points are a good fullback and some fairly good ends, with a year's experience under their belts.

The team has fairly good-average speed. They also hope that their passing game will be improved.

Some of the more outstanding candidates up from last year's reserves are: tackles Burley, Randall, Paske and Montgomery; guards Eric Marlow, Jan Greer, John Peterson; halves Bob Saint, Jim Thornton; quarterback, Bob Ross; end Rick Banker; center, Gary Alwood. Latter trio are all "conversions" from their respective 1958 positions of half, half and an end. The greatest loss from last year's J-Vs was fullback Bill Hill, a very promising all-around athlete, who returned to Michigan.

Biggers Joins Cowboys

Newcomers via transfer include Bill Biggers from Franklin Heights at fullback and a very, very good one . . . but only time will tell how close he'll come to being another Francis. John Hoke another fullback candidate, from South, will probably see defensive action. Jerry Ball, up from West Junior High and although probably slated for reserve action this year, has impressed all observers as an exceptional halfback candidate . . . quite swift afoot.



Schmitter will stay basically with the same offensive as in past years. He's hoping to throw a little more, in trying to better last season's 3-7 mark . . . a record that didn't quite show the full ability and capacity of the '58 team. They use the modified "T" . . . half split and half tight. Their running game, via the fullback, up the middle is much better over their outside running. They will stick basically to the Oklahoma defense.

"We hope to throw IF . . . The "ifs" of course include receivers—in this case ends, who can catch that ball. Both Morris and Branson back from last year are showing improvement. Morris, who filled in for the injured Ray Horkey, has shown very well. Converted Banker has also shown great promise at the flanker slot. Having the size and 'snaring' ability for a good end is senior Dean Grable, a reserve two years ago who didn't play last year. He may need some adjustment.

The other half of the "if" and the key in any 'T' offense is the T-quarterback. Kern, who took over that starting job after the season was under way last year as a junior, had little opportunity to show off his passing wares. This year he will have plenty and to date has shown well in that area. Outwardly a quiet lad, he nevertheless is held in high esteem as a team leader (ie. his recent election) and is a 'sharp cookie' when it comes to field generalship.

Briggs would have been a double threat with his running and throwing abilities. He broke his arm before the season began last year, hurting the 1958 passing attack before the first game. He will also be missed as a varsity basketballer and catcher (and possibly hurler) in baseball. The conversion to Rose however, has looked good, since he is throwing well.

Handling the "specialties" this year will be Hummel and Biggers sharing the punting and probably Saint doing the point-after-touchdown kicking.

TACKLING PRACTICE?—This wouldn't be too fair for little Jimmy Search when his turn came to bump heads with big Jim Miller. And you can be sure the coaches wouldn't allow it. But it just goes to show how they turn out in all sizes to play football for the Lions. On the roster are 120 boys in five teams.

W.S. League Membership Drive Opens

Players and coaches of the West Side Football league opened a membership drive this week and at the same time are scheduling interesting games at Sunshine Park.

Proceeds from the sale of $1 membership cards are used to purchase equipment, said Steve Bond, chairman, who can be reached at CA. 4-7588. The drive ends Oct. 11. Card holders (especially parents and area merchants) are invited to take part in all league meetings and programs, said George Latimer, president elect. Bond is vice president; Brad Engert, secretary; and Jewell Reese, treasurer.

On Sunday, Oct. 4 the league will feature the following games at Sunshine: 1 p.m. — (HW) West Side Bucks vs. Joe's Pizza; 4 p.m. — (LW) W. S. Blafurs vs. Hawks.

Hilltopper Wins $750 Study Grant

West High School graduate, Edward D. Morris of 760 Binns-blvd, has been awarded the annual Ohio Malleable Iron division scholarship to Ohio State University.

Morris will receive $750 during his freshman year.

The scholarship is renewable each year until undergraduate work is completed, according to Donald L. Maine, general manager of the Columbus division, Dayton Malleable Iron Co.

He will also be given a summer job at the plant, 1343 Fields-av.

Morris is interested in electrical engineering.

More Than 500 Visitors At Gladden Open House

"Most excellent response . . . people were genuinely interested." Al Wilder, director, and the staff of Gladden Community House happily counted noses at the center's open house last Thursday, and found 448 attended the affair.

A total registration of 576 representing all age groups, reflected the entire community's interest in the center's programs and facilities.

Those attending met the staff and filled out questionnaries covering the needs and desires of three age groups.

Their requests for classes and interest groups ranged through programs of fun and self-improvement to community betterment projects.

A great interest was expressed for swimming and swimming lessons.

Adults requested euchre, square dancing, child development classes and discussion groups. Thirty-one registered for first-aid instruction.

Car club, rifle club, dancing, Baby-sitters' course, and social clubs headed the teenagers' lists.

Youngsters preferred tap dancing and ballet lessons, woodshop, craft, gym programs and athletics.

Staff members busily compiling the requests, inaugurated their children's program last Monday.

"After the group program is in operation," Wilder said, "we will concentrate more on community betterment projects. Extreme interest has been shown by residents in these plans."

CAMP FIRE COURSE STARTS

Mrs. Lucile Minnear, Camp Fire training chairman, and Mrs. Joan White, Blue Bird training chairman, are starting their fall programs. These sessions will be held Tuesday, Oct. 6, 13, 20, 27 and Nov. 3.

Girl Scout News

WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

Glen Valley Neighborhood will be the hostess group for the Tuesday, Oct. 6 District Workshop at Schiller Park Recreation Center from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. James Gatwood, arts and crafts director, will conduct the program, "Troop Committee and Puppetry." Mrs. Gatwood has time available for classes in puppetry, one hour a week, for troops interested in this project.

On Sept. 29 a Brownie and Girl Scout meeting for promotion and extension of scouting was held at St. Agnes School cafeteria. Mrs. Campbell Warren directed the orientation. Present were Mrs. Robert Fleer, Mrs. Louis Ruscilli, Mrs. George Barch, Mrs. Charlie Burke, Mrs. Verl Stout, Mrs. Edward Monsour, Mrs. McAndrews, Mrs. George Dalton, Mrs. John Schothorn, Mrs. Toner, and Mrs. Ben Nye. Mrs. Toner said she would be willing to lead a new Intermediate troop. Leader training classes will be held at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church, Oct. 6, 8, 13, 15 and 20. Persons interested should contact Mrs. Gaylin Shank, BR. 9-3209, soon.

West Is X-Ray Headquarters For Area Schools Oct. 5-9

West High School's, 1,415 students, plus faculty members and employes, will be offered free chest X-rays Monday, Oct. 5, through Friday, Oct. 9, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, the Tuberculosis Society reports.

In addition, approximately 400 faculty members from 14 neighboring elementary and junior high schools will come to West for their chest X-rays.

The Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser chest-checks all high schools in Franklin County every three years. West's X-ray survey will be the fourth in the society's triennial high school program which will continue through December.

Preliminary reports will be made on all suspected chest ailments, including tuberculosis, within two weeks after X-raying. Abnormalities commonly detected by the TB Society's screening X-rays include bronchitis, lung tumors and heart disorders.

Solicitations For Church Hit $14,000

A building fund campaign for the erection of new Christian education facilities has just been completed by Chicago Avenue Church of Christ (Disciples), 33 Chicago-av.

The goal of $13,000, payable over a 52 week period, was oversubscribed by approximately $1,000

The building program was made necessary when the educational building was nearly destroyed by fire early this year. Just before the fire, the church suffered extensive damage during the January flood.

The proposed new building will be of cement-block construction and will include a full basement which can be used for recreation, fellowship and Christian education.

Included in the new building will be the church office and minister's study, along with a small lounge-dining room for 50 people.

Class rooms are included for nursery, kindergarten, primary and junior departments as well as one adult class.

It is estimated that the building and equipment will cost approximately $60,000.

Minister of the congregation is Rev. Albert L. Rose, who has served the church since Apr. 15 of this year. Rev. Rose, formerly minister of the West Side Christian Church of Portsmouth, Va., served as director for the building fund campaign.

Chairman of the building committee is Leland C. Miller, an elder of the church.

Campaigners Announced By Westlake

W. Ralston Westlake, independent Republican candidate for mayor has announced his campaign committee.

County Auditor Fred Dunn will serve as treasurer of the 14-member Westlake-for-Mayor Committee.

Members from the Hilltop and West Side include: E. O. Melvin, 107 S. Warren-av, retired hardware dealer and Mrs. Cecil J. Randall, 1989 W. Broad-st, widow of the late Judge Randall.

Westlake announced formation of a separate finance committee headed by Richard H. Oman, an attorney. Serving with Oman will be James Baker, 557 S. Roys-av, a sales representative, and N. J. Hess.

HBA To Hold Training Course

Hilltop Business Association in co-operation with the State Department of Distributive Education and Columbus Public Schools, is sponsoring a series of training courses for HBA members and employes this fall.

The first course, "Human Relations," will begin Oct. 12 at City National Bank, 3100 W Broad-st.

Complete schedule is: Monday, Oct. 12; Wednesday, Oct 14; Friday, Oct. 16; Tuesday, Oct. 20 and Thursday, Oct. 22.

Breakfast will be served at 7 a.m. and sessions will be adjourned at 8.45.

ENTERS THIRD YEAR

Readers Like Foods Column

Now beginning its third year in this newspaper is the column "Food Markets This Week," written by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks of the Franklin County Extension office.

Mrs. Franks

The carefully prepared feature is proving popular with many homemakers who want to make the most of their food dollars. A weekly-revised list of "best buys" for the grocery basket heads each column.

Take advantage of Mrs. Franks' valuable experience as a market specialist, mother and homemaker. Read "Food Markets This Week" and then use grocery ads in this newspaper to make food selections that will keep your budget "in the black."

TO A LOVABLE LADY—A cake with red roses was a gift to Mrs. W. L. Dunson of 289 Nashoba-av, by Hilltop Kiwanians last week. Mrs. Dunson, 103 last August, surprisingly active until she broke her hip in a fall two weeks after her birthday, is now confined to her bed. She is shown with her daughter, Mrs. F. F. Thompson, with whom she lives, and Kiwanians, Robert Cramer and Dr. Bruce Tanner, her grandson-in-law.

At 103, Her Eyes Have Seen The Growth Of A Nation—Indian Era To Space Age

By Betty Daft

Indians on the march, stopping by her mother's house for food . . rockets aimed for the moon.

Mrs. W. L. Dunson, 103 on Aug. 15, is a living link between the romantic pioneer years of Ohio's frontier to today's modern adventure of space exploration.

She has an easy familiarity with both eras, recalling with crystal clarity those days when she and the state were very young, and keeping abreast of world happenings through the newspaper headlines she reads daily.

Her sturdy, pioneer spirit would never permit her to become more dependent than absolutely necessary, and until a fall on Sept. 1 and a resulting broken hip finally confined her to bed, she moved busily about the house.

With the loving care of her daughter, Mrs. F. F. Thompson, and frequent visits and attention from her granddaughter, Mrs. Bruce Tanner of 149 S. Algonquin-av; great-granddaughter, Mrs. Douglas Thomson, 1360 Thornwood-pl, and great-great-grandchildren, she still finds life interesting.

With the exception of failing eyesight and hearing Mrs. Dunson's health is remarkably good.

Until she was 100 she lived in the house in Huntsville that had been her home for 68 years. Since then she has made her home with Mrs. Thompson, of 289 Nashoba-av, her last surviving child.

Plane Ride At 100

The entire family joined in her 100th birthday celebration. Accompanied by five generations of her descendants and piloted by her grandson-in-law, she took her first plane ride.

Accepting the experience with the same serenity and poise with which she meets anything life has to offer, her comment was, "It really didn't seem so different traveling in the air, than in a car."

Ohio was a scant 50 years old in 1856 when Mrs. Dunson was born in the house her father had built in Zanesfield.

She delights her family and friends with vivid remembrances of the people and events of those exciting, early years.

Her blue eyes sparkle, and her voice is clear and strong as she speaks of the Zanes, fabulous frontier clan so influential in shaping Ohio's history, the Indians, and her father's return from the Civil War.

"The very first silk stockings I ever saw . . . I'll never forget . . . were in Sally Zane's trunk. She and Betty were daughters of Isaac Zane and the beautiful Indian Princess Myeerah."

Isaac, captured by the Wyandottes as a boy when on his way to school in Ohio, lived with the Indians until he was grown. He returned then to Virginia

New Hilltop 'YW' Director Appointed; Officers Elected

The new director of YWCA Hilltop Center and her assistant were introduced, and officers elected at the Hilltop 'YW' Committee meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hegenberger, 106 Blans-blvd.

Mrs. Joseph Larwa

Mrs. Joseph F. Larwa, 3158 Broadmoor-av assumed the duties of Hilltop Center director on Oct. 1. She replaces Mrs Donald Fearn who his accepted a position as teen-age director of the YWCA in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mary Ann Cruyder, graduate student at Ohio State University, will work part time at the Hilltop Center. Mrs. Harry J. Berkemer, secretary, is the third member of the "YW" staff.

Mrs. Hegenbarger, chairman of the Hilltop YWCA Committee during the past year, was re-elected to the post.

The newly-appointed executive director of Central "YW", Miss Florence Worrell, was present at the meeting as well as Mrs. Norman Nadel, president of the Columbus YWCA Board of Directors.

New Hilltop committee officers are Mrs. Robert A. Herbster, vice-chairman; Mrs. Edwin E. McNamee, secretary; Mrs. Paul Leighninger, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Kennedy, sunshine; Hiller Is Appointed Manager Of Producers' Livestock Co.

New secretary-treasurer and general manager of Producers Livestock Association is Gerald L. Hiller, of 3223 El Paso-

Gerald L. Hiller

dr. He will assume the post Jan. 1, Lester J. Utz, president of the association has announced.

Hiller will succeed F. G. Ketner, who recently announced his retirement after 25 years as general manager and chief fiscal officer of Producers.

In his new role, Hiller will supervise the operation of 19 branch markets, the Eastern Order Buying Company and Producers Live Stock Credit Association.

The association markets more than half of all the sheep and lambs sold in Ohio, one-third of the cattle and calves, and one-fourth of the hogs, Utz said.

The new general manager is a native of New Lexington. He was graduated from New Lexington High school and attended Ohio State University where he specialized in professional accounting and auditing.

From 1942-45 he served in the armed forces. He had charge of requisitioning and preparing food for an average of 5000 troops daily under field conditions.

His unit served with distinction on the European Continent and received five campaign citations.

Hiller is a deacon at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, is married and has two sons.

Items Wanted For 'Y' Stone

Families and friends of the Hilltop YMCA have about 10 days to suggest suitable contents for a box to be placed in the cornerstone of the new 'Y' branch on Valleyview-dr. Suggestions may be called into the local office, BR. 9-4641.

The cornerstone will be set in place at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 1. Dr. Harold Elbling, superintendent of Columbus Public Schools will deliver the address in new Westmoor Junior High school just before the ceremony.

Personnel of the various Columbus YMCA's and members of the YM-YW Development Committee will also participate.

Local Sewer Bids Are Under Study

Bids for a 15,000-foot-long sewer branch, destined to help prevent lower West Side flooding because of overloaded Hilltop sewers, were opened by the city service director Tuesday.

Apparent low bidder was the Cenci Excavating Co., 821 Alton-av, at $771,072.80, or $104,028 below city estimate. Closest competitor was the Sheaf Construction Co. at $869,689.

Tagged the "Early Ditch section," the sewer will terminate with Big Run trunk (contracted for last month) at Gantz-rd and go north across Frank-rd, and the Harrisburg-pk near Briggs-rd, then diagonally to Highland-av at Mound. It will follow Highland north to Palmetto, relieving all intersecting trunks. The sewer's diameter ranges from 42 to 54 inches.

Holiday Intervenes

Tabulations on the bids will be finished in a few days but council awarding of the project is not expected until Oct. 19. Council will observe a holiday next Monday, Columbus Day.

Contractors are to be given 240 calendar days to finish the job after starting. Easements for 4,000 feet of the sewer right-of-way have already been secured.

Begin Big Run Monday

Excavation are to begin Monday for the first installations of Big Run sewer, a 78-incher to run from Gantz-rd to the Jackson pk disposal plant. Complete General Construction Co., 1211 W. Fifth-av, contracted the work for $787,750.

The service director also opened bids on two South Side sewer projects Tuesday. Thompson Comle Co. was low bidder on both—$134,050.70 on Marion No. 3 and $7,913.83 on Clarfield sub-trunk.

In addition to the two Early Ditch bids mentioned above, were these: Complete General, $875,090; Thompson Comle, $915,563; Hadad Construction, $953,650; Ben Davis Co., $1,162,941.80.

Area Churches To Hold E. Stanley Jones Mission

Twenty-eight churches in West Columbus and Lincoln Village have united to sponsor a six-day E. Stanley Jones Spiritual Life Mission, beginning Sunday, Nov. 1.

A representative steering committee has been active since early spring, with a full organization of sub-committees working out details.

West Side, Hilltop and Lincoln Village ministerial organizations have joined to bring to the area the internationally known Christian leader. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary, author and evangelist, has addressed audiences in every state of the Union and on five continents.

During his six-day mission here, he will be heard each evening at Westgate EUB Church, S. Powell-av. With closed circuit television equipment, 1200 can be accommodated.

Should facilities prove inadequate, the mission will be transferred to West High School auditorium, with seating for 1500.

Rev. Harold Dutt is chairman of the central committee, with Rev. A. L. Roth serving as chairman of the publicity committee.

Rites Set Friday For Bomb Victim

Funeral services for James E. Henson, 17, of 510 Prospect-st, will be held Friday, 9 a.m. at Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

He died Tuesday at Mt. Carmel Hospital of injuries suffered Sept. 29, when he exploded a homemade bomb in front of his home.

Also injured in the blast was Joyce Street, 16, of 2533 Dibblee-av.

Henson, a private in the US Army, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henson, Jr.; three sisters, Mrs. Donald Leaman of Amlin, Mrs. Norman Leaisure of France, and Sally Henson at home, and a brother, Clarence.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Joyce Street's Condition 'Fair'

Joyce Street, 16, of 2533 Dibblee-av, is reported in "fair" condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital where she is recovering from injuries received in a bomb explosion on Sept. 29.

Her general condition is good, according to her mother, Mrs. James Street and, she continued, "contrary to reports, there has been no surgery on her arm."

"Doctors have yet made no decision to operate."

Arictitect Fees Okayed

City Council this week authorized the Recreation Commission to pay $300 architectural fees for the installation of acoustical walls at Sunshine Recreation Center.

Belvidere Area Zoned

Councilmen this week ordered a no parking zone for the east side of Belvidere-av from Mound-st to the first alley north.

Dedication Of Tunnel Set Oct. 13

Dedication of a $23,000 pedestrian tunnel and footbridge for students attending Westmoor and Valleyview schools has been timed so the students may take part.

City Service Director Floyd C. Redick said the tunnel under New York Central Railroad tracks north of the N. Huron-av deadend and a nearby footbridge over Dry Run Creek will be dedicated at 3:15 p.m. next Tuesday.

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, is chairman of the dedication committee.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and Superintendent of Schools Harold H. Elbling, as well as school board members, are on the program.

The tunnel is 124 feet long and electrically lighted

Second Blaze In Same Night Guts Room Of Local Convent

A fire of undetermined origin completely gutted one room in the dormitory section of the Convent of the Good Shepherd, W. Broad-st at Sandusky-av, early Wednesday morning.

It was the second time in 12 hours that firemen had been called to the convent to fight fires in the same room.

Eleven pieces of equipment rushed to the scene Wednesday morning as the blaze roared through the roof from the second floor room. The fire was reported at 6:17 with the second alarm sounded at 6:20.

Girls ordinarily quartered in that section of the dormitory were quickly evacuated without any injuries reported.

Firemen had doused a small fire in the same room at 9:23 Tuesday night. It was confined to some clothing in a corner of the room with loss estimated at about $20.

Battalion Chief J. O. Getz said causes of both blazes has not been determined. He stated Tuesday night's blaze may have been caused partly by an overheated wire leading to a hot plate

Chief Getz said a complete inspection was made of the room after last night's incident by both firemen and others from the Fire Prevention Bureau. The fires started in different sections of the room.

CHECK CAUSE—Fire Prevention Bureau men are checking the cause of two fires which broke out at this site Tuesday night and Wednesday morning at the Convent of the Good Shepherd, W. Broad-st, at Sandusky. Both blazes occurred in the same room in the dormitory section of the convent where the ladder is leaning against the building.

Illinois' Win Staggers Contestants

Surprise was spelled Illinois Saturday in the Hartley Newspaper Football Guessing Contest, with the Illini rebounding from a first-game loss to spill highly-touted Army.

Hardly an entrant in the contest connected the Big Ten team with victory over the Black Knights, rated as one of the top teams in the East.

Many more saw through Ohio State's opening game win over Duke and correctly predicted Southern California's easy win over the baffled Buckeyes.

Winners in this week's contest are Julius H. Carter, 116 S. Clarendon-av; Bill Miller, 3033 Sullivant-av; and Jay Wright, 449 Sullivant-av.

They will have their choice, in order of finish, of $10 in cash, five dollars worth of merchandise from Reeves Brothers or two spaghetti dinners from the Pine Room.

Winning contestants should stop at the Hartley Newspaper office, 2465 W. Broad-st, to claim their prizes.

The big pigskin free-for-all continues through the football season with details for this week's contest carried on a full page advertisement inside today's newspaper.

Prizes offered for this contest, with winners to be announced two weeks from now, are $10 in cash, a free lube and oil change from Tunison's Sohio or a lube and oil change from Hilltop Motors.

Guessperts have already contributed their predictions on games to be played this weekend.

Here's how entrants judge some of the top games:

Ohio State to rebound against Illinois; Indiana to smear Marquette; Iowa to upset Michigan State; Purdue to remain unbeaten against Wisconsin; Capital to up-end Kenyon; East to drub West; and Notre Dame to surprise Cali-

Rezone Case Held Up

Tabled still another week by City Council was a request to rezone single family residential lots in the vicinity of Valley view-dr and Algonquin-av. Records this week show that the owners have changed their plea for "commercial" zoning to "AR-1 Apartment."

International Scout Award Earned By Local Railroader

Frank Haley, 45-year-old New York Central freight conductor, is a good Scout.

That fact was pointed out last Sunday when he was presented an International Scout training award, the Wood Badge, at the Central Ohio Council Scouters dinner at the State Fairgrounds.

Haley, who lives with his wife Phyllis, and son Jerry, at 103 S. Ogden-av, is the first person in the Southwest District to get the badge. It took him between four and five years to earn it. Nine days in a specialized training camp, a year of committee service to the Central Ohio district, and a "final exam" on a wide range of Scout philosophies were part of the requisites.

Originated By Founder

Wood Badge was originated by Lord Baden-Powell, who founded the Scouting movement nearly 50 years ago. It is composed of wooden beads and unusual African thorns on a leather thong, a Scottish plaid neckerchief in a special slide.

Frank Haley

Haley's love of Scouting began when he was a Tenderfoot with Troop 79. He still serves as a committeeman with the unit, and is neighborhood commissioner. Holder of the Eagle Badge and the Scouters Training Key, he has served in nearly all Scouter capacities.

As hobbies he collects stamps honoring Scouts the world over, and makes unusual neckerchief slides. He attended the last World Jamboree at Valley Forge and plans another excursion to the Golden Anniversary celebration at Colorado Springs.

Haley is a 32nd Degree Mason, belongs to Luther B. Turner Lodge, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, Westway Post, VFW and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Letters To The Editor

Old Soldier Likes VFW 'Comradeship'

To the Editor:

"Statements by Commander Otis Lowe of Post 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in the Sept. 30 issue of the Hilltop Record and West Side News are ample proof of an observation made by this writer many times—that the VFW as an organization has done much to instruct its young members from the past two wars in true comradeship.

"The VFW, now staffed almost exclusively by young veterans of the past two wars, has stood solidly beside its comrades of all wars. It has backed a service pension for the veteran of World War I for many years, while veterans of the same wars in other organizations have consistently refused to back World War I veterans in their drive for equality of benefits—this in face of the fact that World War I veterans (in many cases, their own fathers or relatives); gave them ready-formed and solvent organizations and procured benefits which the new generation enjoys.

"Further proof that the VFW attempts to represent all its membership—again this year at national convention it backed a World War I service pension. Another group (which is now completely staffed with World War II and Korean officers) at its annual session moved not to support such a pension . . . forsaking the very men that gave them life.

"Permit me, as a past officer in the Legion, VFW and World War I, to congratulate Commander Lowe and his post on their comradeship in openly stating their gratitude to the veterans who gave them that splendid organization."

Driver Suspected In Bus Robbery

One bus driver was arrested as the suspect in the holdup of another Monday night at Brinker-av and Wicklow-rd.

A bus was boarded by a man who pointed his coat as if he were carrying a gun, took $100 and ran.

Police later found a car nearby, parked but with the motor running. They traced its ownership and found it belonged to another bus driver. He was arrested a little later in a bar.

Euchre Party Planned At Westway VFW Post

Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a progressive euchre party Saturday, Oct. 10, 7:45 p.m. at 863 Clarendon-av.

Public is invited.

Refreshments will be available.

Grads To Mark 40th Anniversary

West High School class of 1919 will hold its 40th anniversary reunion Wednesday, Oct. 7, 7:30 p.m. at City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st.

Class officers for that year were, president, Halbert Angell, 31 E. Cassidy-av; vice president, Dr. Frank Jones, 1230 W. Broad-st; secretary, Mrs. Irene Preest Hoyt, 80 N. Burgess-av, and treasurer, Mrs. Ardis Hensel Hawthorne, 75 N. Hague-av.

All members of the class are invited.

No reservations are necessary.

Conditions At Hospitals Irk DiSalle

Governor Michael V. DiSalle apparently needed no white gloves to convince himself that living conditions at Columbus State Hospital and the State School are below par.

The local institutions, among the oldest in the state, housing the mentally ill, were given a surprise visit this week as part of the governor's statewide tour of facilities.

He was alarmed at poor sanitation in many places; overcrowded conditions, and lack of proper supervision. He was reported nauseated at certain kitchen odors.

Prompted by these conditions, DiSalle wrote a strongly-worded letter to Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, ordering an immediate clean-up, paint-up program.

A reorganization of the department was also hinted.

'Y' Member Roster Near Victory Mark

Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment is now at $4316 on a goal of $4500 for the year. Workers expect to meet the goal this week as more school youngsters associate with "Y" programs.

A few group reports remain to be turned in. The goal of $4500 represents what is needed to maintain the Hilltop YMCA through the remainder of the year.

Chairman James Goudy and Board Membership Chairman Ray Anderson expressed thanks to all who were active in this year's effort. Al Hollowell, executive secretary, added his thanks and said his staff "looks with great anticipation upon this coming year which will see us leave our West Broad-st address and take up quarters in our new modern structure on Valleyview-dr."

"There are undoubtedly many people who will want to be a part of the "Y", he said. "They are welcome to enroll at the Hilltop YMCA at any time."

Watts Names Kiwanis Club Committees

Frank L. Watts, president-elect of the West Side Kiwanis Club has appointed new chairmen to the various working committees of the service club.

Chosen to serve during 1960 are George Stumpf, inter-club; Ted Klentz, program and music; Homer Johnson and Chic Carl, boys and girls work; C. Walter Cunningham, attendance and membership; Gene Briley, house and reception; Marcus Orr, public relations; Fred VanOrder, support of churches.

Leland Beall, Kiwanis education and fellowship; Clarence Scott, agriculture and conservation; Joe Davis, Key Club; Carl Bogart, New Club; Al Bender, sales tax redemption; Jack Williams, committee reports; Stephen Long, vocational guidance; Dr. Walter Barcroft and Charles Parks, sales tax contest captains.

George Weber will be boys and girls work chairman of the 10th Division.

Oldsters Plan Busy Season

Golden Age Club, Sunshine Center, for men and women 60 years and older, has outlined fall plans.

The club has a weekly meeting and social hour on Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Members can participate in classes in copper enameling, painting, drawing, leather work, wood work and papier mache.

Refreshments are served at noon and the social hour continues until 3:30. Some special trips have been planned. On Oct. 21 members will leave for the Hocking Hills at 9 a.m. and will return in the evening.

Central District Boy Scouts Will Tour Air Force Base

Central District Boy Scouts, which includes several West Side troops, will tour Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Saturday, Oct. 24, in observance of "Scouting the Air Month."

The Scouts will also visit the USAF Museum and Wright Brothers Memorial. They will leave by bus from Central Ohio Council headquarters, 1428 E. Broad-st, at 9 a.m. and return at 5 p.m. They will take lunch in the Airmen's Mess at Wright-Patterson.

Deadline for making reservations is 4 p.m., Friday, Oct. 16. Cub Scouts will not make the trip.

Gladden Staff Appreciates Aid

Mr. C. C. Hartley:

"On behalf of the board and staff and the West Side community we wish to express our sincere and deep appreciation to Hartley Newspapers for the wonderful cooperation they have given in the development of the program at Gladden Community House during the past several months.

"The outstanding press coverage that the West Side News and Hilltop Record gave in this social service project has never been exceeded to my knowledge by any newspaper in the city of Columbus.

I have worked with many newspaper people throughout the country, but Mr. Marc Orr of your editorial staff is head and shoulders above any of them in cooperativeness, accuracy and interest in a support rendered to this United Appeal agency of Gladden Community House. All of the staff of your newspaper is to be commended for their fine work. Without your cooperation I am sure that our job would have been a much more difficult one than it has been.

"I hope for your continued service to the West Side because it is evidently one of the main contributions to the well-being of this community."

Sincerely,
A. M. Wilder
Executive Director

BIBLE COMMENT:

Rest Promise Supports Us In Adversity

"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

With these words of Jesus in Matthew 11:28, the promise of eternal rest is made to all men.

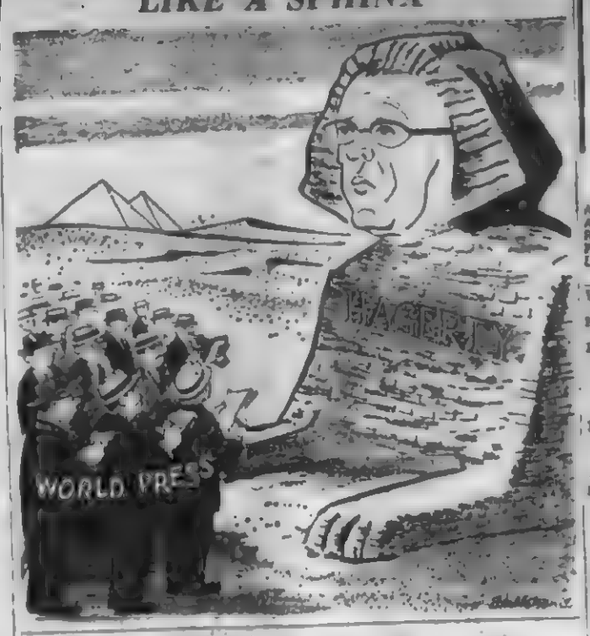
God's creatures may hold wealth and power. Their worldly assets may be immense. Their lives may be replete with pleasure; but there is one commodity that cannot be purchased on this earth—rest.

This is one item that everybody must have. Millionaires and peasants must lie down to rest. Yet the rest that we enjoy in sleep is but a poor facsimile of the rest that awaits us in the kingdom of God.

In his promise, Jesus touched the very heart of man's most fundamental desire.

Can there be anything comparable to the rest that awaits those who ascend into God's arms?

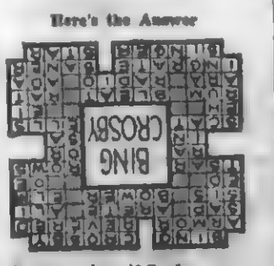
Driven as we are by fears—fears of poverty, starvation, loss of prestige or death, any number of the thousands of threats that plague our lives—how comforting to us is this assurance that someday we will discover freedom from anxiety.



It is the knowledge of this promise that allows men to bear the burdens of hard labor, illness, persecution and torment. Someday men will enter into that complete rest which they will inherit from the bountiful mercy of God.

Youngsters certainly do brighten a home . . . you've never yet seen one turn off an electric light.

Two kinds of men never get very far . . . those who can do nothing that they are told and those who can do nothing else.



Looking for something hard to find? You'll find all sorts of interesting offers in today's classified page.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — apples, cider, canned cling peaches.

Vegetables — Brussels sprouts, potatoes, cello packed greens, turnips, canned corn.

Other Foods — Ham, chuck roast, fryers, turkeys, frozen ocean perch, cheese.

IT'S APPLE TIME AGAIN

This year's apple harvest is under way. The crop looks good. Ohio production alone will run just under three million bushels. Marketing specialists say the total U. S. apple crop is likely to total nearly 110 million bushels. This is about six per cent smaller than last year's crop, but is nine per cent larger than the average production during the last ten years.

Flavor is tops in freshly picked apples. They are tart and firm. What about the color? Yes, the hot dry weather this season affected the color on Delicious, Jonathan, McIntosh, and other fall varieties of apples here in Ohio. Color of some of the later apples has improved with the arrival of cooler weather recently. While color may be off a little, indications point to better eating quality this year than last, and that's what really counts.

Choosing Apples — Family taste varies, and because of this some like one kind of apple better than another. When you buy, remember that good all-purpose apples include Jonathans, Staymans, and McIntosh. They are not equally good for cooking, baking or eating raw. Golden Delicious and Courtlands are good as apple salad, since they do not brown easily and are crisp. Sweet apples, such as Red Delicious, are best for eating fresh.

During the harvest period it is often possible to buy culls and drop apples at low prices. To make sure you have a real bargain, stop and consider how you will use the fruit. Bruises and skin breaks mean waste, and apples damaged this way are poor risks for home canning. Best uses for them are in jelly, applebutter or cider.

Pound or Bushel?—When buying apples in large quantities sample a few first to see whether they have the flavor and texture you want. Apples are noted for good keeping qualities, but it takes a little care to hold them at their best in home storage.

Good apples will keep up to two weeks in a cool place. If you have plenty of cool or cold storage space, where the temperature remains constant and the air is rather moist, you can probably save money by buying autumn-picked apples and storing them. If apples are put in storage for you they'll cost more when you buy them.

HONEY APPLE CRISP

Four cups sliced apples, one-fourth cup sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half cup honey, one-half cup flour, one-fourth cup brown sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup butter and one-fourth cup walnuts (if desired.)

Spread sliced apples in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice and pour honey over all. In a bowl mix flour, brown sugar and salt, and work in the butter as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread these crumbs evenly over the apples and bake in a modern oven 375 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes, or until apples are tender and crust crisply browned. Serve warm, with plain cream, or whipped cream topped with a dash of powdered cinnamon.

Twenty Organizations Plan For United Nations Program

Twenty Columbus civic, service, and religious organizations will join forces this week in preparation of the coming United Nations Week program, scheduled here Oct. 18-24.

John A. Hoskins, local attorney and chairman of the UN Week planning committee, said that representatives from the participating groups will meet Thursday, Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company building, 215 N. Front-st.

Highlight of the week-long series of events will be the International Ball, slated for the Arts and Crafts Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds Saturday evening, Oct. 24, from 9 until 12.

Participating are: American Association for the United Nations, B'nai B'rith, B'nai B'rith Women, Chamber of Commerce, Columbus Fellowship, Girl Scouts, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Junior League, the three Hadassah women's organizations, National Council of Jewish Women, Pioneer Women, United World Federalists, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, World Neighbors, Inc., Young People for the United Nations, YMCA, YWCA, and Zonta Club.

Hoskins said other organizations are welcome to join in planning the program, and at the same time issued a call for volunteers.

If you want life to be a bed of roses you have to put in a lot of spade work.

Browns, Giants Play To Tie In Glenwood Center Football

Behind the hard running of Richard Moore, the Browns defeated the Colts 20-16 to open the 1959 football season at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Moore ran 10 and 40 yards for two tallies and passed to John Postel for the final score.

Colts' scores came in the third period when Melvin Thompson scooted around left end for six and on a pass from Thompson to Jim Bell. Thompson scored all points after touchdown.

The Rams and Giants battled to a 6-6 tie for their first game of the season. Henry Butcher of the Giants, ran 30 yards for their only score. Virgil Starks ran 20 for the Rams' lone score.

Good defense was a factor in a 14-14 tie between the Browns and Rams. The Browns scored all their points in the first quarter on runs of 15 and three yards by Richard Moore. A classified page.

Moore-to-Krull pass was good for two points.

The Rams' scores came in the second and third, stanzas on a 40-yard and one-yard carries by Virgil Starks. Don Tidwell ran over the tieing two points.

Intercepted passes highlighted the Colt-Giant game. Danny Echols intercepted one from John Pullins and ran 60 yards for a Giant score, while Jim Bell of the Colts intercepted one from Henry Butcher and ran 40 yards for a score. At the end it was Giants 20, Colts 14. This year Joe Sarsfield, teacher at John Burroughs school, is assisting Coach Jim Kleiber with football at Glenwood Center.

Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1959

Farm incomes in 1960 are expected to average lower than in 1959 and considerably lower than in 1958. Large supplies of many farm commodities will continue to be a drag on the farm market, say Ohio State University Extension economists.

Tailgate It At Your Next Football Outing

By Dorothy Maddox

Football fans get hungry, too. So why not pack up a special lunch to serve them from the tailgate of your car while waiting for the kickoff.

Here's a good, easy-to-carry tailgate menu. Separate plastic bags and boxes and a refrigerated chest keep foods fresh and cold.

Tailgate Menu

Swiss-egg sandwich; tuna chili sandwich; baked beans; potato chips; olives, pickles; cole slaw; assorted cup cakes; coffee.

Tuna Chili Sandwich Filling
(Yield: ⅓ cup of filling for 3 sandwiches)

One-third cup drained, flaked tuna, 1 tablespoon chopped celery, ½ teaspoon chili powder, ¼ teaspoon oregano, 2 tablespoons tomato sauce.

Combine tuna, celery, chili powder, oregano and tomato sauce.

Swiss-Egg Sandwich Filling
(Yield: ¾ cup filling or enough to spread 4 sandwiches)

One-half cup grated Swiss cheese, tightly packed, 7 tablespoons chopped hard-cooked egg, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons mayonaise or salad dressing, few grains paprika, 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper.

Combine cheese, egg, mustard, salt, mayonnaise, paprika and green pepper.

Submarine Sandwich

This tangy sandwich gets its name from its unique shape. Cut the full length of a whole loaf of Italian bread lengthwise. Spread each side with mustard. On one half arrange lettuce leaves, covered with thin slices of tomato and American cheese and top with about 10 whole Norway sardines (¼ can). Press the second half firmly on top and serve with cold beverage.

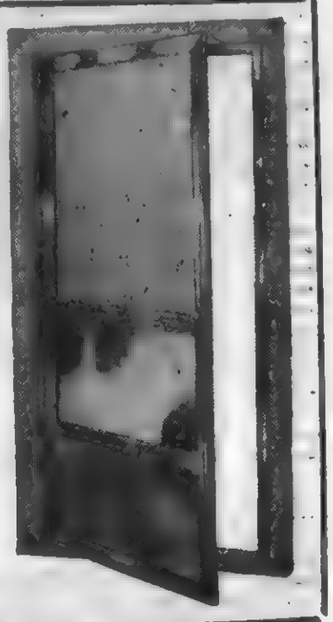
Anniversary Sale Winds Up Saturday At Local Glick's

Fourth Anniversary Sale of Glick's Great Western will end this Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, according to W. T. Soliday, manager.

Savings of up to 44 per cent and more on furniture, carpeting, and appliances are storewide, and feature brand-name nationally advertised selections. Special features of the Anniversary Sale is the offering of two beautiful around-the-clock serving pieces with every purchase of $49.95 or more. From Inland Glass Co., a division of Club Aluminum, they are of heatproof glass, gaily decorated in 22-carat gold, black, and white. Each serving piece comes with its own gold metal heating unit and candles. Customers may choose their own two gifts from a two-quart casserole, well-and-tree platter, or eight-cup coffee carafe.

Glick's, America's Brand Name Retailer-of-theYear, will offer its customary services during the sale. These include: free decorating service without any obligation, free delivery in Ohio, and Glick's positive policy of satisfaction guaranteed.

The Old Timer



"The open door policy was conceived by an American statesman, but it's practiced by youngsters everywhere."

In disclosing that the Anniversary Sale will end this Saturday at 9 p.m., Soliday pointed out that Glick's Great Western is open daily 12 to 9 and Saturday 10 to 9.

Mayor Gives Plans, Tells Work Done

Editor's Note — What has the administration of Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner done in the last six years and what are the mayor's plans for the next four, if Sensenbrenner is re-elected Nov. 3? The mayor answers these questions in a report to the people presented in a series of articles in the Hartley Newspapers. The first follows.

Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner is seeking re-election on his record.

The list of achievements speaks for itself, says the mayor, who added he wants another four-year term so he can complete his programs for Columbus.

"Columbus in the last six years as achieved more progress in its city government than it did in more than a century," the mayor said in a report to the people on his administration. "Columbus has met the challenge of tremendous population and land growth."

Civic progress this year brought Columbus the "All American City" award.

Friends of the mayor say that, judging from his past accomplishments, his program for the future will be accomplished. The mayor says he has a detailed progress for the future.

During the last three years the cost of city government rose, along with the cost of a number of things. Sensenbrenner said he is proud that his administration carried on the city's capital improvements program, gave wage increases and expanded services under the existing revenue-producing system.

There has been a substantial surplus in the city general fund every year since 1955 says the city's finance director, M. D. Portman.

City council in 1948 provided a finance department, and since then the city has earned more than $300,000 by investing its inactive bank deposits in short-term U.S. Treasury bills and in the city's own notes.

The city's capital improvements budget, which plans financially as well as physically for the city's future needs, was perfected under Sensenbrenner.

"This plan is working," Sensenbrenner said. "It has placed the city's future plans on a businesslike, orderly basis."

The finance department's inventory control system in its first year saved thousands of dollars for taxpayers, says Sensenbrenner.

Operation of Columbus Zoo concessions and Port Columbus parking has been taken away from private interests, saving the city thousands of dollars, in the opinion of the mayor.

Sensenbrenner is proud of the city's accomplishments in building expressways.

"Just look around you and see what has been done," he invites. "The Spring-Sandusky traffic interchange has been finished. The Long Street extension from Olentangy River to Civic Center Drive is in operation. The Mound Street throughway from Scioto River to Front Street is completed.

"The Goodale Street expressway is almost completed. By the end of the year, the Third Street Viaduct spanning the railroad yards will be finished. Here are others in the program: The Sandusky Street leg of the innerbelt, Southwest Freeway, the North Freeway Expressway which will link Columbus with northern Ohio, the Mound Street Bridge over the Scioto River."

Elimination of dangerous railroad crossings has occupied the Sensenbrenner administration. The Hudson Street underpass is in operation and the East Fifth Avenue underpass is being rushed to completion and should be ready for traffic in December. Plans are being completed for the East North Broadway underpass.

Council Of Catholic Women Plans Diocesan Convention

The 14th annual convention of the Columbus Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held Wednesday, Oct. 14 at the Neil House, with 1300 women from 28 counties participating.

Opening mass will be celebrated by Clarence G. Issenmann, bishop of Columbus, at 9:30 a.m. at St. Joseph Cathedral, followed by communion brunch, workshops and exhibits.

General assembly at noon will feature Rev. James McQuade, SJ, editor of The Queen's Work, of St. Louis, Mo., and Rev. William E. Kappes, diocesan consultant, as speakers.

The 4 p.m. business meeting will be followed by the closing banquet. Miss Elizabeth Reid, Australian editor-reporter-photographer and UN representative, will speak.

Among area women participating are, Hilltoppers Mrs. C. J. McDonald, 251 S. Westgate-av; Mrs. M. W. Fate, 668 Wedgewood-dr, president St. Mary Magdalene, and Mrs. Jack Conrad, 166 S. Eureka-av, St. Aloysius president.

Named to convention posts are, South Side women: Mrs. John Corcoran, 807 Mohawk-st; Mrs. Morris Diamond, 200 E. Jenkins-st, St. Leo president; Mrs. Dorothy Brunney, 600 Mohawk-st, St. Mary parish president; and Mrs. W. A. Spiers, 601 Rhodes-pl.

Mrs. Franklin J. Eyerman, 1071 Lilley-av, is president of the Columbus Council, comprised of 20,000 women.

East Side women named to convention posts are Mrs. Robert Gallagher, 985 Sunbury-rd; Mrs. Joseph Brenner, 101 S. Harding-rd; Mrs. George Di-Nucci, 995 Vernon-rd; Mrs. Anton J. Keller, RR, 3180 Courtright-rd.

Mrs. Frank H. Vogel, 347 S. Ardmore-rd; Miss Mary K. Rohr, 2876 E. Livingston-av; Mrs. W. A. Spiers, 601 Rhodes-pl; and Miss Helen Corbett of The [illegible] Bookshop, 200 E. [illegible].

CIVITANS TO SPONSOR FRUIT CAKE SALE

HOLIDAY HELPER—Did you buy a fruit cake from the West Columbus Civitian Club last year? If you did, here is one instance of what your purchase prompted. Victor Ewald, coordinator of Volunteer Services at the Columbus State Hospital, and Harry Richter, treasurer of the Volunteer group, are shown accepting from Civitian members Al Johnston and Dick Kessler several of the twelve record players presented by the club to the patients at the hospital. The club will kickoff its annual fruit cake sale with a door to door campaign in Lincoln Village Oct. 13. The drive lasts until Christmas.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

Hilltop "Y's" fall program is moving right along. Movies for boys and girls are held Mondays at 3:30 p.m.; Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. is boys' craft and Thursday afternoon at 3:30 is girls' craft. All these programs are held at the Hilltop YMCA, 3725 W. Broad-st.

Hilltop "Y" Nation of Indian Guides spent last weekend at South Side "Y" Park on their Annual Nation Campout. There were 120 dads and boys present to enjoy a beautiful fall weekend of activities.

Hilltop Y's Men's Club soon will name a "Hilltop Y Boy of the Month" each month of the year. This youngster will be a guest of the club with his father at a regular meeting and will be presented an appropriate certificate. We are all eager to hear how the 'Boy of the Month' will be chosen.

All school clubs of the Hilltop YMCA are into their schedules. Tonight the West Junior Hi-Y Ninth Grade Club will meet for the first time at the Hilltop "Y" office at 6:30. Boys interested are urged to attend. West Senior Hi-Y, under the [illegible] Dodd, will hold its second meeting tomorrow morning in the school.

New Westmoor Junior Hi-Y met last night and elected officers. This group will meet every other Tuesday at school. Next meeting is Oct 21

Saturday morning the annual Gra-Y football league will begin. This year the boys will play flag tag rather than customary touch tackle game formerly played. Schedules will be given all the clubs this week. All North Division games will be played on the 'Y' football field on Valleyview-dr, with the South section teams seeing action at John Burroughs field. Members of the North section are West Broad, Westgate, Valleyview and Highland while John Burroughs, West Mound, Lindbergh Georgian Heights and Binns make up the South section.

CARD OF THANKS

PFALTZGRAPH — We wish to extend our thanks to friends, members of Hilltop Lutheran Church, members of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Cancer Service Center, for their many kindnesses extended during the illness and at the death of our mother, Mrs. Anna Pfaltzgraph.

FBI, Patrol Check Theft At Armory

Both the FBI and the State Highway Patrol are continuing the investigation of a break-in and theft at Haubrich Armory, 4094 Sullivant-av last weekend.

Stolen were five binoculars valued at $750 and $40 from three vending machines. Two supply rooms and an office were broken into. Safes were cracked with crowbars and other tools, but the intruders found only papers.

A number of fingerprints are being checked. Forced entry and theft in an armory is always a federal case.

Van Johnston Is 'Big Chief' Over Guides

Vandil Johnston, 336 S. Southampton-av, of the Chippewa tribe of the Hilltop Nation, has been elected to the office of Big Chief in the Hilltop "Y" Indian Guides.

He replaces immediate past Chief Dave Alban, whose hard work has been credited for much of the growth of the Hilltop Indian Guide program.

Other new Longhouse officers are, sub-chief, John Brown of the Navajo tribe; tally keeper, George Tunadil of the Cayuga; and wampum bearer, John Clay of the Mohicans. The new officers were installed at a ceremony around a camp fire at South Side "Y" Park last weekend. At this campout the Indian Guide Dance Team was recognized and those having perfect attendance received trophies. They were: Mike Burd, Jerry Culp, Doug and Steve Dodson, Mark Hollowell, Gil Howell, Harold Kountz, Neil Parrish, Steve and Tom Redman and Jim Zulauf.

Other retiring officers along with Big Chief Dave Alban are Bob Porter, sub-chief, of the Cayuga; Bill Curtis, wampum bearer, of the Sac; and Bob Zulauf, tally keeper, of the Apache.

But he soon turned his back on civilization and his own career as a member of the House of Burgesses, and returned to the Wyandottes and Myeerah

The two were married and lived for 40 years in the cabin he built in the Huron village, near the headwaters of the Mad River.

The town of Zanesfield grew up around Isaac Zane's cabin.

Earl Sloan's Liniment

"And there was Earl Sloan," Mrs. Dunson continues. "His father was a veterinarian and the family was very poor. But Earl made himself a million with that liniment.

"And you know," she chuckles "that liniment really was good for man and beast."

"I remember so well, in 1865, we went to the Logan House in Bellefontaine to meet my father. He was just home from the Civil War." Speaking of the happy trip, she recalls the historic old Logan House, "only a few years old then, and built by friends of ours."

After her marriage, she moved with her husband to a farm near Bellefontaine and, after a few years, to the house in Huntsville.

Reynoldsburg, W. Mound Rams To Clash Sunday

West Mound Rams, newly formed division of the Bearcat Football League, is winning the cheers of a number of Hilltoppers.

To date they have won three games and lost two. Last weekend their 90-pound squad crushed the Gahanna Rockets 26 to 0. The 110-pounders took Gahanna 26 to 12. Earlier they beat Mifflin but were defeated by Milo Rock and Duckworth Plumbing.

Sunday, Oct. 11 at 1:30 the Rams will host Reynoldsburg at their McKinley and Central-av field.

Jack Porter, president of the Boosters Club, said there is no charge to spectators, but donations are accepted at the games.

The Rams hope to move into basketball and baseball later this year, Porter said.

Jim Snyder, telephone company employe, organized and outfitted the group. Dr. Daniel Bunner is team physician.

When you give to the United Appeal you are eliminating 63 separate door-to-door campaigns.

Mrs. Marjorie McMillin

ZOO BOUND—Youngsters at the West Side Day Care Center, 40 N. Grubb-st, board a bus to the Columbus Zoo as guests of the Hilltop and West Side Kiwanis clubs. Adults, left to right, are Homer Johnson, West Side Kiwanis boys and girls work chairman; Mrs. Marjorie McMillin, director, and Henry Ruegg, Hilltop chairman.

A helping hand . . . ten with a cookie in it . . . has been extended youngsters by the West Side Day Care Center for more than 70 years.

In the words of Mrs. Marjorie McMillin, 182 Powhatan-av, director since June 1, "The center offers a diversified program geared to the age of the youngster." She points out that this Red Feather agency at 40 N. Grubb-st offers more than mere babysitting. "Social maturation is the goal in our work with tots from three through 10 . . . learning how to get along in groups and developing skills and interests," she explains.

To this end, the center is staffed by 14 full and part-time workers, including those trained in arts and crafts and other special skills.

Trained Social Workers

The new director, herself, holds bachelor and master's degree in social work from Indiana University and Ohio State. Upon completing her graduate work at OSU in 1956, she spent a year at Franklin Village, followed by two years of social work at the Methodist Children's Home in Worthington.

The local program is directed at children of working mothers, as well as those from broken families and homes upset by illness and other problems . . . in other words, any child needing continuous daily care.

Parents start dropping their children off at the center as early as 6 a.m. There, they're assured the little ones will receive a hot lunch and individualized attention. Kindergarten and school-age children attend Franklinton School. Doors are open until 6 p.m.

Many Give Support

Along with funds allocated by the United Community Council, the center depends on individual gifts, endowments, and fees paid by parents as they are able.

Acceptance of each youngster is based on such factors as the degree of need within the family, family income, and his being ready to leave his mother for several hours a day.

Background of the center is colorful. Until now it has been known as the West Side Day Nursery, the first such child care agency in the city. It was founded in 1887 by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. In 1910 the WEIU merged with the YWCA, and the work was carried on by this organization until 1935.

The two large buildings which now house the center grew out of dreams, devotion and work of a group of service-minded Columbus women. Members of the West Side and Ohio Avenue Day Care Association they continue to establish policy and supply material needs. Mrs. Escalus Elliott, Jr., 3122 Brandon-rd, is president.

Mrs. W. A. Miller bought three lots and put up the main building about 1932. In 1938, an addition to the north was built and named after her.

The center is licensed by the State Division of Social Administration and meets all standards on physical plant and health facilities. In addition to its prime purpose of child care it also serves as a referral source to other agencies working to keep families together.

'Same Old Story'

Solons Stall On Electric Rate Increase

Valleyview legislators fought themselves out of a thorny dilemma Monday night by tabling a request to raise electric rates in the village.

Mayor Norris Boothe said that "further study was needed."

From the mayor's point of view, the electric [illegible] doesn't have "too good an argument." Increased costs is their old stand-by," Boothe said.

Both he and council stressed that Valleyview is "an old established village."

Boothe hit it on the line when he pointed out that the "only reason an increase was requested was because of housing developments around the perimeter of the village and in Franklin County as a whole."

Former mayor Charles J. Ringer found himself appointed to a council seat, vacated when the council president took the village marshal job.

Robert Fisher was installed as new solon prexy, [illegible] said.

A family of four, using cistern water for laundry and bath only, need a 10,000 gallon cistern, Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers point out.

Ohio State University Extension economists expect continued expansion in the general economy at least through 1960.

West Side League Active; Blazers Form Two Groups

Tough players on each team held a contest between the Valleyview Bears and the West Side Giants scoreless until the final three minutes last Sunday at Valleyview.

Bob Brown, on an interception by teammate Richard Odle, made a running touchdown, ending the game 6 to 0.

The Giants lost their first game but won respect in the new West Side League for a clean game and good sportsmanship. They are coached by John Parrin, 860 Walnut-st.

Loop warring among the lighter weights found the West Side Blazers 21 to 0 the same afternoon at Sunshine Park. John Zook was TD man for the Bucks, racking up his first in the first four minutes. The Blazers put up a good fight, however.

Bucks practice each weekday (5 p.m.) at Sunshine Park. Regular games begin at 2 p.m. Sundays at the park.

Secretary Brad Engert (phone AX. 1-8936) has issued the call for volunteer coaches for the Blazers, who are splitting into two groups. Team one will practice on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays. Team two will meet each Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. All practices begin at 5:15 p.m. at Sunshine. Sunday games start at 2.

Following are the Blazer team assignments: Team one—(sign-ups on practice Friday, experienced players only between ages 11 and 13, inclusive) Art Gainer, Bruce Gainer, John Hessler, Richard Johnson, George Wickham, Ralph Williams, Fred Littlejohn, Ed Williams and Ervin Aspell.

Families Help Plan Gladden Program

PEOPLE'S CHOICE—Program offered by Gladden during the coming season will be decided entirely by the wishes of those using the center's facilities. Families attending last Thursday night's open house filled out questionnaires, outlining their wishes. From left are, seated, Michael and Mrs. Lucille Story, Mrs. Felix Wheeler, Gladden hostess; Hugh, Debby, Cathy, Gloria and Claire Smith, and standing, Mrs. Carl Chaffin, hostess; Mrs. Charles Stilwell, Buddy, Tommy and Steve with Mrs. Myrtle Hamilton.

Your United Appeal gift will help rebuild broken families.

Group activity planning began in earnest this week at Gladden Community House, Hawkes-av and Town-st, as an entirely new staff evaluated some 300 questionnaires filled out at a Sept. 24 open house.

Each child is being given a chance to choose a favorite group of activity. Meetings for the various age groups are progressing this week, following school at 3:30.

The Gladden staff met with 8 to 13 year old girls on Monday afternoon; 8 to 13 year old boys Tuesday; the 5, 6, and 7 year old girls Wednesday and will interview 5, 6, and 7 year old boys Thursday afternoon.

Director Al Wilder pointed out that there were so many requests for so many groups (over 400 children alone), that at first the Gladden staff is trying to give each child an opportunity to sign up for one group.

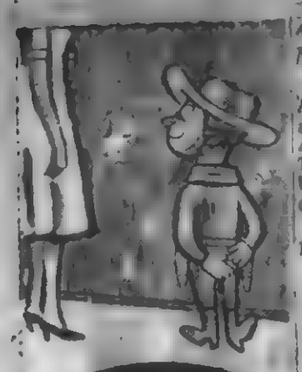
First Dance Announced

Other activities for children will be added later in the month and in November as the program develops. On Friday afternoon, Oct. 9, the first of regular Friday pre-teen dances will be held in the auditorium from 3:30 to 5 p.m. for all 11, 12, and 13 year old boys and girls.

A teen-age program was shaped up Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, when teen-agers met at Gladden House.

Groups represented were social clubs, Sportsmen's Club, Card Club and baby sitting course. Other activities, including teen dances, will be formed later this month through the help of a teen-age council.

In the adult area, four groups will meet starting on Wednesday, Oct. 7, with Progressive Mother's Club potluck dinner and meeting that evening, for all women interested in such a club. A quilting club will meet regularly on Thursday during the day, starting 9 a.m.



For those who express interest in a child development discussion group, the first meeting will be held in the adult lounge on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. A first aid class for adults will also be established sometime that week Wilder said. Other adult activities that will be added within the next month include square and folk dancing, family night dinners, Young Couples Club, personal grooming and posture group, and a card club.

Wilder stressed the fact that the establishment of groups will take some time before the interests of all of the people are satisfied. "The Gladden staff is appreciative of the patience of the people of the near West Side and will make every effort to speed all programming" he said.

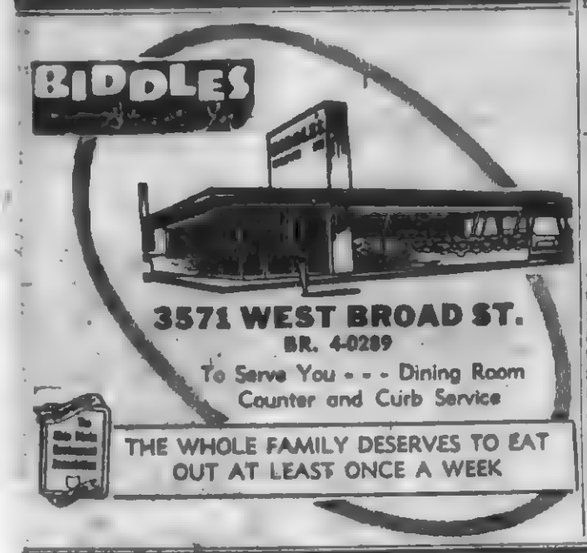
Poor Fish Face Sunday Temptation

Blue gills will no longer be protected by a blue law. Nor will any other poor fish in Ohio streams.



Effective Thursday, Oct. 1, anyone who wishes to fish on Sunday may do so without fear of arrest if he has an Ohio fishing license. A House Bill, passed by the recent General Assembly, has made it legal to dangle bait on the sabbath.

Actually, according to the Division of Wildlife, the "blue law" on fishing has not been enforced in recent years.

The new bill does not affect the hunter's plight, however. Sunday shooting is still taboo.

Fishermen Tempted By Smallmouth Bass

Fishing season is a long way from being over.

Water temperature governs the activity of the fish, and when I checked it last weekend it had barely dropped below 70 degrees. When the water temperature is between 60 and 70 fish appetites seem to be at their peak and smallmouth bass are spoiling for a fight as the water cools.

There are some disadvantages to fall smallmouth fishing. Falling leaves cover the water just as they cover the land at this time of year. Quiet pools in streams in this area are likely to have their blankets of leaves, and this makes fishing difficult. It is best to concentrate your efforts on stretches of water where the current cleans away the debris.

Another thing — the creeks are apt to be low as they have been here this fall. This serves to collect the fish into pockets and pools, but it will also make some of your favorite waters too low to fish. Many a boulder that harbors a bass in normal times, will be stranded high and dry. The fact that water levels are low means that fall float fishing is impractical except on the larger streams.

Smallmouth bass are hitting well, is the report from Bill Krack of Bill's Baits, 262 N. Central-av. The fish are being caught in the Olentangy, the Scioto north of Columbus, Big Darby and Big Walnut. "They are not of large size," says Bill, "but there are good ly numbers of bass about a foot long being taken."

Float Fishing Is Fun

Floating for smallmouth bass in a canoe or row boat is one of the most delightful ways to fish in Ohio. At this time of year you can watch the panorama of autumn colors as you float along. You will, no doubt, see some squirrels, and it's fun hunt them from a canoe if the bass aren't hitting regularly. If you are lucky you may see a deer as you make your silent way downstream. Autumn float fishing has many bonuses—but make sure you have plenty of water before you schedule a trip at this season.

Baits to use on fall smallmouths are about the same as you would use at any other time of year. Nightcrawlers will provide some strikes for you now, and as the water temperature cools minnows will be the choice of many expert bass fishermen. Artificial lures are good, but remember to work them slower and slower as the water temperature approaches 60 degrees.

"Jumpers" Active Now

Another thing to look for toward the end of October is the catching of some big smallmouths. Right now the "jumpers" provide a lot of action, those little rascals that go crazy on the end of your line but seldom scale more than 12 inches. As the pace slows, bigger bass will be caught.

This is perhaps the best month for sportsmen. The weather is mild, and the outdoors is beautiful. Hunters can choose their quarry from ducks, squirrels, woodcock and grouse. Fishing is still good, especially smallmouth bass fishing. There is not the hurried or crowded atmosphere of the opening of the rabbit and pheasant season in November. October is a month to relax, and enjoy Indian Summer days outdoors.

Hiker's Paradise Said To Be Ready By Spring

"By next spring we will have mapped a system of trails through Zaleski State Forest, Vinton and Athens Counties, that could keep an ardent hiker busy for two weeks," according to Bill Price, chief naturalist, Ohio Division of Parks.

"By checking in and camping in the area available at Lake Hope State Park, an avid hiker could avail himself of some of the rougest and most beautiful trails that Ohio has to offer.

The trails, as we are mapping them, will interconnect in such a way that it would not be necessary to re-hike but very small parts of them during a two-week stay. The parts re-hiked would only be where they cross.

"A lover of legend and history can find both in Zaleski. Delving into the background of some of the names would more than compensate for the time spent.

Names such as Irish and Furnace Ridges, Crow Trail and Racoon Trails and Hoagland and Brewer Hollows would tickle the imagination of anyone.

"When finished, our mapping and improvement program will make available more than 50 miles of trail. In an industrial state such as Ohio, that isn't bad."

Reserve Application Deadline Is Extended

Applications for the 1960 conservation reserve contracts will be accepted through Oct. 16, according to Carl W. Schacht, chairman of the Franklin ACS County Committee. Previous deadline was Oct. 9, he said.

Schacht emphasized that an application for payment rate must be made not later than Oct. 9 if the producer wishes to apply for a contract.

Gun, Relic Group Plans Exhibition

Capital City Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Association will be host at another of its popular exhibitions Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 10 and 11 at Haubrich Armory, 4094 Sullivant-av.

All types of guns, Civil War items, Indian relics and Western gear will be displayed by collectors from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Members of similar organizations and their friends and guests are invited, said H. T. Bishop, 202 Derrer-rd. The association will hold its sixth show at the armory on Dec. 5 and 6. Ohio Gun Collectors Association will hold a large exhibition Nov. 21 and 22 at the new Veterans Memorial Building, W. Broad-st.

The 1960 Census of Agriculture will collect information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt.

Miss Poly Is Bride Of Mr. Ferensen

MRS. DANIEL E. FERENSEN —Photo by Groom

Arrangements of large white mums and magnolia foliage in gold vases, with tiered candelabra decorated the altar of St. Aloysius Church Saturday, Sept. 19 for the wedding of Miss Judith Ann Poly and Mr. Daniel Edward Ferensen.

Rev. William F. Maloney read the marriage service at 11 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Poly of 251 Nashoba-av. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Ferensen of La-Grange.

The bridal gown of candlelight organzine, was designed with an extended bodice and neckline fashioned with a yoke of silk folds outlined in Alencon lace appliques. Appliques also outlined a panel of folds which panniered over the hipline in festoon fashion. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train.

A double crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a white Bible mounted with garlands of white mums, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Joan Salamony, matron of honor, wore a cornflower blue gown of lace over taffeta and carried a French basket of peach mums and poms pons.

Bridesmaids, Miss Mary Bricker and Miss Mary Jean Carfagna were gowned in peach lace over taffeta and carried French baskets of lavender mums and pom pons. Attendants' hats matched their gowns.

Mr. Michael Salamony served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. Dennis Bittal and Mr. Jack Fox.

The mother of the bride chose a mink brown gown with matching beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a sapphire blue gown with matching accessories. Both pinned corsages of feathered white mums to their purses.

Hostesses for the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents were Virginia Cooper, Rosalind Ison, Judi Sapp, Carol Ocker, Leslie Marsh, Susan Poly, Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. James Rea and Mrs. Marshall Marsh.

The new Mrs. Ferensen was graduated from Our Lady of Victory Academy, where she was a member of Beta Sigma Phi. She is associated with Modern Finance Co.

Mr. Ferensen is a senior student in the College of Commerce at Ohio State University and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. He will be graduated in March.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Agnue, Canada, the couple is at home at 1358 Ida-av, Apt. G.

Friends Churches Host Missionary Convention

Miss Norma Freer

Rev. Chester Stanley

A five-day missionary convention will be held jointly by Sullivant Avenue and Westgate Friends Churches from Wednesday, Oct. 7 through Sunday night, Oct. 11.

A tea for the women was to be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, 1442 Sullivant-av, with Miss Norma Freer, missionary from India, as speaker.

The mission field of India will be presented by Rev. Chester G. Stanley, missionary superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting, at 7:30 p.m. A 35-minute motion picture, "India's Sorrow," will be shown.

Thursday night service will be held at Westgate Friends Church, 3750 Sullivant-av. Rev Earl Smith will discuss "Does Extension Pay?"

Paul Langdon, superintendent of Christian education of the yearly meeting, will present the education program for the coming year, and a film will be shown.

Friends mission work in Formosa will be presented Friday night at Sullivant Friends. Rev. Howard Moore, missionary, will show pictures and speak.

Maye Evans, superintendent of the Friends Rescue Home, will also speak on "Teen-Age Delinquency."

Saturday night will be observed as youth night with young people of the three Friends churches in Columbus uniting at Westgate Friends for supper at 5:30 p.m. Rev. Paul Ryser, president of the Friends Youth Fellowship of Ohio Yearly Meeting, will talk.

Music will be furnished by the Malone College Quartet.

At the youth service at 7:30 p.m., Dr. Ronald Jones, dean of Malone College, Canton, will speak and a film will be shown.

Dr. Everett L. Cattell, general superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting, will speak at Westgate Friends Sunday morning at 10:45. At the evening service, the pastor, Rev. Leonard E. Wines, will preach and a film, "Unfinished Task," will be shown.

Sullivant Avenue Friends Church will observe rally day Sunday morning, with Miss Emily Moore of Damascus, and Rev. Howard Moore as special speakers.

Rev. Ralph Blackburn is pastor of Sullivant Avenue Friends Church.

Public is invited to attend all services.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

Last Friday night's Cowboy game was a complete turnabout from the Bronco's romp of the week before.

As the players went, so did the team . . . a bad night all the way around. And if the fan in the stand didn't notice this fact, the movies sure bore it out.

The ironic thing was that the Cowboys couldn't move their offense as well as they did in taking their shellacking at Springfield three weeks ago! And Eastmoor certainly isn't another Wildcat aggregation... but they certainly proved that they're a lot better than most people gave them credit for . . . inexperience or not.

They really had the 'horses' with speed. Their senior halfback Wilson was a real thorn in West's side all evening, around end and up the middle.

After an extra fine defensive show a week before, the Cowboys had a "let down." The Warriors actually moved the ball better than the 28-0 score indicated. Every team, even the very best, is entitled to at least one bad night, so maybe this was West's.

I think the whole answer to the "switcheroo" from the grand showing against Franklin Heights lies in one word . . . injuries. There were too many key personnel all at once . . . Bill Biggers, lost from the Heights game, along with Rick Banker. Late in the week, after just becoming both an offensive and defensive starter, Terry Linson was hurt and sat out the game.

Then to top things off, midway through the first half Jerry, Hummel (who switched from half to fullback and seemed to be West's big threat after a fine Heights game) was forced to leave the game with what later was found to be a broken left hand. That seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back.

Biggers ankle hopefully looks like it will be ready for action this Friday against East. Banker with a bad knee injury is out for the season. Linson's twisted knee will permit him back in uniform this week. Hummel is still a question. A cast was to be put on Tuesday or Wednesday and the Doc then will decide if he can play.

Eastmoor scored one touchdown in each of the first two periods to lead at halftime, 12-0. Both tries for extra points were unsuccessful. The Warrior's Cooper got off some fine punts. West's punting department was a little on the 'lean' side, so sophomore Jim Cook and Bob Saint handled those chores. Both Warrior extra point try passes were nice throws with men wide open, but way off target.

They added another TD (minus extra point thanks to a nice stop by Dwight Newman) in the third period . . . and a final score in the fourth stanza. This time, while their passer was being thrown to the ground, he got his throw off and connected for their first successful extra points.

Some Cowboys who made some fine plays: Bill Kern and Bob Ross, with nice passes; Eric Marlow with a mighty roll-tackle to upset a punt return; some good running by Hummel before his departure; some good plunging by Dick Glass as his replacement; Leon Evans, Ball, Saint and Branson on pass receiving; some good tackles by John Hoke and one by Bill Ardle and some nice stops by Newman, Saint and Bob Montgomery.

Football has commanded most of our space lately so now we hope to catch up on a few other things.

St. Mary Magdalene ladies' baseball team recently held its second annual dinner-dance banquet at the Dragon Restaurant. The women did let their hubbies help them celebrate. The gals are already in winter volleyball basketball leagues on Monday evenings. They are also interested in baseball games for next summer with other women's teams . . . any takers?

At the banquet were the J. D. Rhodeses, Ted Kruses, Charles Seipels, Joseph Lytles, William Burkes, Lewis Esteses, John Murnanes, Thomas Gallaghers, Fred Fahrenbachs, George Hugheses, Cletus Eilermans, John Morrisons, Tony DiPietros, Paul Weisenbachs, John Radiches, Joseph Holdrieths, Robert Stephenses, William Cotters, Patrick Scaleses, Robert Minnixes, William Garretts, Thomas Timlins . . . and Maryann Houston and Stanley Brown.

Phil Fulton, Mary Gillan, Pat Wright and Bob Wilcox of the summer staff at Westgate Park have issued a letter of thanks, particularly to parents, for the fine cooperation that they received from transportation furnished to costume making. A special vote of thanks should go to the men who gave their time and efforts as Junior Jet league team managers . . . Jud Boley, Sr., Bob Walker, Clarence Chapman, Fred Schmidt, Paul Pickens, Gene Brush, Bob Bethel and Jim Burden. And of course, to the untiring 'umps', Jud Boley, Jr., Charles Reiter, Robert Long, Fred McCoy, Brush, Mike Porter, Robin Campbell and Dick Williamson, to name a few.

Major Loop of the JJ (10-12 year olds) had quite a wind up last week — a playoff was needed to break a tie for the lead. The Braves were rolling along with one loss, when they were suddenly "bombed" by an aroused Giant squad, 6-1.

Hero of that game was the Giant centerfielder, Mike Karl. He made three sensational catches and a brilliant stop of another drive to 'save' several runs' including two "almost" homers with men on.

The Tigers had a busy last week. They beat the Giants 10-2, nipped the Redlegs 4-3, but dropped their only encounter with the Braves (a rainout-makeup), 9-3. Next Monday eve's playoff found a tight scoreless pitching duel for three innings between the Tiger's Ledall Dawkins and the Braves Jack Thomas . . . both allowing no hits. Jud Boley came on to hurl for the Braves and finished the no-hitter. Finally in the last two frames the Braves exploded the Bengal's no-hitter with 6 runs in the fifth (on only one hit) and 5 more in the sixth, for a 11-0 victory and the title.

The Braves championship roster contained Jud Boley, Ronnie Stevens, Bob and Larry Long, Mike Capretta, Tom Cogan, Jack Thomas, Richard Gilley, Jan Moon, Phil Key, Larry Heischman, George Sites, Jeff Search, Jim Buck and Ken Harris.

Final week for the Westgate Minor Loop (8-9 year olds) also saw some sterling pitching. Dave Pfeifer and Ken Patridge combined to throw a no-hitter as their Bears beat the Jets, 10-2. Pfeifer, who threw three of the four innings, struck out five. Pat Kerins also threw a one-hitter at the Seals as his championship Royals beat them, 7-4.

On the Minor loop All-Star squad were: Pat Kerins, Ron Aufderheide, Mike Valentine and Stan Broadway of the Royals; Mike Colegrove and Billy Weeks of the Stars; Jim Slane, Gill Rankin, John Horky and Steve Seyfried of the Martins; Ken Patridge and Dave Pfeifer of the Bears; Steve Davis, Jim Porter and Ricky Byrum of the Jets; and Steve Canfield, Van Johnson, and Dan Lynch of the Seals.

Next week we'll have more final play at Westgate . . .

By Bob Wilcox

This Friday evening at Magly Field, West tackles about the toughest squad in the City League for 1959.

Many fans got a look at the East Tigers at the West Preview earlier this season. However they kept themselves, including star fullback Clarence Winston, pretty much under wraps. But in recent weeks they have lived up to their pre-season billing by being undefeated . . . outscoring their opponents 115-15. They dumped New Philadelphia 42-0, Zanesville 21-15 and last week entered City League play with a 52-0 conquest of Central (who incidentally looked the roughest at the Preview).

Besides the fabulous big and fleet Winston, they have come up with another lad who really makes their attack go. He's T-quarterback Bill Johnson. He directs a fine aerial game as a good thrower with that rare ability to see "all" downfield and pick his free receivers out no matter where they are. But also he is an exceptionally fine runner.

He and Winston really pack a wallop into the QB-option play. On the latter play when giving to Winston he also shines as a fine blocker. He has no favorite aerial targets, hitting both ends and backs.

A light, but fast squad (Winston at 185 is heaviest back . . . both halves are 150-130) with a line that is also comparatively small, but fast. They are a better-than-average squad in experience and as scout Larry Gray put it, "With their speed, they're always trying to spring loose and you make just one mistake aand they're past you."

Their great speed gives them a fine outside running game, but they do send their halves up the middle, too . . . and once they break through the line they have "spurt-power" to go all the way. Their bread and butter plays are quick hitters and power off - tackle slants. Frankie Crawford is another back to watch for 'scatting'.

But, granted that East is a powerhouse of sorts (not a Springfield, tho), they can be beat. Look at these facts: their first win was over New Philly, who has yet to win a game this year as they have also yet to score (outscored to date 142-0). Zanesville is supposed to have something and they did have a close game with East. Central, also having a losing season, was completely outmanned by the Tigers and thus no real test.

But unfortunately, the Eastsiders may still be 'smarting' from their 33-13 shellacking at the hands of a Cowboy crew last year. Though plagued by troubles most of the season, they suddenly developed in the season's final into a highly geared football machine that rolled rough-shod over another good Tiger squad. So till Friday . . .

Alvira Fears got her divorce . . . she calls her alimony the bounty on the mutiny.

Only Six Return

Central Has Rebuilding Job

Central football mentor Frank Howe is now in his fifth year as the Pirates head man at the helm . . . and in the hopes that he will be able to bring his coaching record up and possibly over the .500 mark for his tenure.

To date his Pirate squads have won 14, lost 17 and tied three. He also hopes to better last season's mark when the Bucs broke even at 4-4.

He has six returning lettermen to start his rebuilding around . . . all seniors . . . with Fred Peutello at right half, Jerry McGee at fullback, Ed Parks, quarterback, Ed Watson, center and outstanding left half Fred Gray and fine defensive tackle and right guard Willie Ward.

The Buc's biggest losses from last year, via graduation, were their trio of all-city selections . . . Henry Hairston at left half and one of the finest running backs in Central's history; Charles McCargish at guard and Dave Broekmeyer at end and their very fine '58 punter. Nine positions on the offensive squad had to be replaced with only the right guard and right half returning.

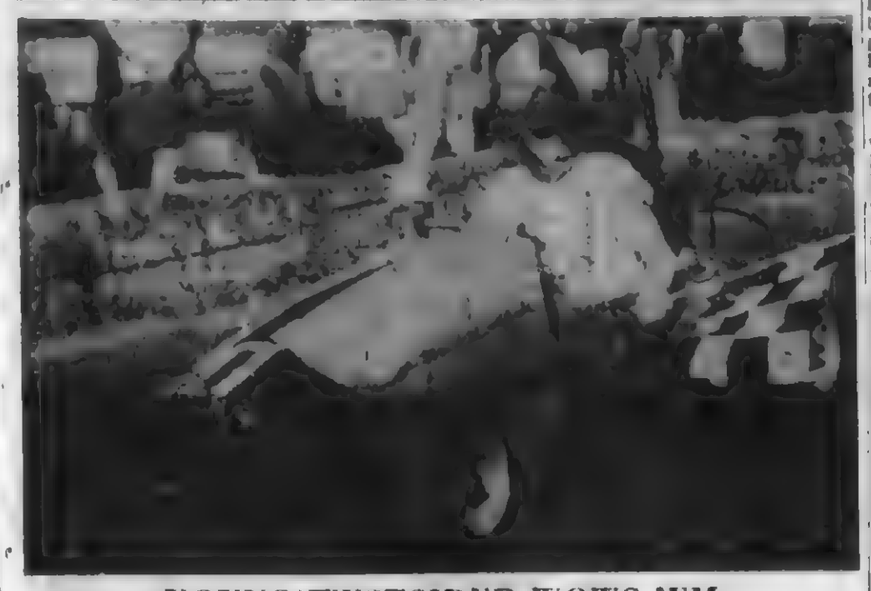
Other big losses not expected were . . . Jim Gunnell at right half and a letterman, and John Potts a top reserve right half last year, both through ineligibility. Another '58 letterman and an outstanding right end last year, John Hillman, is also lost this year because of work-

Newcomers that Howe hopes will fill these holes are . . . Mike Gail, a junior left end transfer from West Virginia; Claude Thompson, a junior fullback transfer from Gallipolis . . . and Cordell Stewart, right end, Don Greene, left guard and Bill Poling, right tackle, all the latter trio up from last year's reserve squad. Also back out are Ronnie Moore, a junior left tackle and senior Steve Morlan a right half who sat out the 1958 campaign with a broken leg and wrist respectively.

Offensively the Bucs employ a straight T, a flanker T and the single wing . . . always with an unbalanced line.

Howe had 66 out for football this fall, about average, and he makes no cuts. The top 38 comprise the varsity and the rest the reserve squad. His line this season averages 180 pounds with the backfield, with good speed, averaging around the 150 mark.

There are no captains for the squad as new ones are appointed prior to each game. "Specialists" for '59 might be listed as Steve Morlan and Mike Gail, the top receivers . . . Morlan as their punter . . . and Ed Parks as their top thrower.



Howe's staff has a little new look this season as he is aided by Central's head basketball mentor, Wayne Rittenhouse, and former West High and OSU All-American grad, Aurelius Thomas. John Blitz has the reserves.

Their final 1958 season's record looked like this . . . Steubenville 30-C 0, South 27-C 22, C 28-St. Charles 8, C 28-West 16, Aquinas 20-C 18, North 29-C 16, C 20-Linden-McKinley 0, and C 14-Marion-Franklin 8.

Howe figures the City League to be well balanced this season with possibly Aquinas and East tops in pre-season looks.

YOUNG WESTSIDER WOWS 'EM

SPECTATOR FAVORITE—Chuckie Bennett, 902 Campbell-av, won the second race for modified quarter midgets Oct. 4, at the Capitol City quarter midget track at Jones Park, Graveport-pk. The eleven-car feature was won by Bobby Molli. Other winners were Bobby Butler, Haydn Decker, Gary Hardy, Johnny Jones. Novice races were won by five-year-old Kay Hardy and Dick Miner. Each winner receives a trophy. Races are held every Sunday beginning at 2 p.m.

GLENWOOD GRABS SOFTBALL CROWN

CITY CHAMPIONS — Glenwood Senior Boys softball team made it a clean sweep, beating Livingston 8-5 then turning back last year's titlist Pilgrim, 17-7, under the lights at Linden. It was a hard victory path for Glenwood, having come close in other years only to lose out in the final game. Glenwood won on the strong right arm of their star pitcher, Bill Burke, backed by hard hitters, some daring base running and fancy fielding. Seen (left to right) are: Front — Bill Karn, Steve Rotherolf, Jerry Hummel, Donny Belcher, Larry Belcher, and Kelly Richards. Rear — Richy Helman, Don Creed, Dave Thomas, Bill Burke, Jim Carter, Tom Arthur, and Leader Lee Collins. Missing from the picture are Bill Diedrich and Jim Graham.

Storms Disrupt Westside Power

Parts of the Westside, hard hit by Monday's two violent thunderstorms, were without electric service for nearly six hours.

Municipal Light Plant customers were affected by a line break at Cypress-av and Town-st, shortly after 2 p.m. Service was restored by 8 p.m.

Lines were down, firemen reported, because of winds that hit 39 miles per hour during the first storm and 25 miles per hour during the second.

The two thunderstorms dumped .62 inch of rain on the city. Overloaded storm sewers sent water over the sidewalks and into basements. Another quarter inch fell Tuesday.

Sidewalk Art To Be Seen At Schiller

Folks with a flair for art from all around town will hold a Greenwich Village-style sidewalk show at Schiller Park, Sunday, Oct. 11 from 2 to 6 p.m.

Sunday Painters, a group of commercial and amateur artists, plan to put up the exhibition on the walks along Deshler-av, south of the shelter house.

The public is invited to enter ceramics, photography, sculpture and carvings as well as works in water colors, oil, charcoal and pastel. A nominal entry fee will be charged and there will be no admission cost.

Entries may be registered with Sandra Bayes, AM. 9-0429. Mrs. Rachel McCall will be hostess.

In case of rain the show will be held on the shelter house porch.

BASIC GRAD

Councilman Hoermle Gains Respect Handling City Affairs

If you want to find out how a city councilman is getting along with his work, you make inquiries around city hall.

When you ask specifically about Democratic City Councilman William P. Hoermle, Jr., who has been a city father since early this year, you get this overall impression:

A man dedicated to his work of making Columbus a better place in which to live. A man willing to take on tough and unpopular assignments, using a judicious approach.

City hall sources say Hoermle, a businessman who for many years has been interested in civic affairs, is very well respected for the manner in which he conducts city business.

They point to his "judicious manner" and studious approach to city problems. His appreciation of the need for economy and efficiency in running the city's business. And his knowledge of the needs of the average citi-[illegible]

"Bill represents the viewpoint—a very necessary one—of the small businessman who has lived in the community all his life," is the way one city hall source put it. "He is responsive to the needs of the small businessman. And because he has dealt with working people all the time, he knows of their needs as well."

Hoermle was appointed a councilman early this year. He was successful in the May primary and now is one of eight candidates for four council seats that will be filled in the Nov. 3 general election.

Hoermle served on council's water investigating committee—an assignment some regarded as unpopular—and lined up with the committee chairman, Democrat Robert Smith, in submitting a majority report. The candidate came out with definite recommendations for bettering the water supply to various sections of the city.

He hopes the city is able to come up with enough proof to convince the state supreme court that the recent Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. rate increase was excessive in some cases.

"I don't think the city got a fair break," he commented. "In many cases the rates paid by small commercial users went up almost 50 per cent, while we were told the increase would be 15 per cent."

Hoermle has words of praise for city officials concerned with financial matters in the Sensenbrenner administration.

"M. D. Portman, the finance director, is doing a terrific job of saving money for the taxpayers by buying short-term treasury notes," he commented. "He puts the temporarily idle city funds and work and they're earning interest at the rate of $350,000 a year. That's all due to the cooperation among the mayor, Portman, John Price, the city auditor and Fred Wile, the city treasurer."

William P. Hoermle

Hoermle is owner of Hoermle's Appliances at 1896 Parsons-av. His two sons, William P. Hoermle, Jr., and John R. Hoermle, are associated with him in the store.

While the councilman is 57 years old, he easily could pass for a man 10 years younger. He was born and reared on the South Side.

After attending St. Mary's Grade School and the old Commerce High School, he joined Heaton's Music Store. He left Heaton's to start his own business on Parsons-av in 1935. Since then he has been a successful merchant. First he sold pianos, phonographs and records. Then radios became popular and he stocked them. Still later came appliances, paints and house-[illegible]

You can still buy guitar strings and [illegible] at Hoermle's—as well as records.

Bill organized a 75-piece boys band when he started in business for himself. He always has been interested in boys and for a long time worked with domestic relations court with boys who needed guidance.

Active many years in [illegible]ing, he once was on the central committee for Scouting. He was chairman of the advancement committee in the southeast district of Columbus. For a long time he was active in Troop 2, second oldest in Columbus, which had its meeting place at South Side Settlement House.

Hoermle has been chairman of Selective Service Board No. 39 for 19 years, which covers the years of World War II and the Korean Conflict. During the second World War he had to work nights and Sundays on the board which takes in south and southeast Columbus.

He is a past president of the Southeast Lions Club which, through the sale of special editions of Hartley Newspapers, has raised thousands of dollars for musical instruments for public and parochial schools on the South Side.

Hoermle also formerly headed the South Side Business and Industrial Assn. and the Columbus Appliance Dealers Assn. Fraternally, he belongs to the Knights of Columbus, Columbus Maennerchor, Press Club, Moose and Eagles.

He and his wife, Hazel, live at 2434 Beverly-pl. They are active members of Christ the King parish.

TO INFANTRY

LEAVES FT. BENNING — Army Pvt. John L. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Davis, 34 N. Sylvan-av, departed from Fort Benning, Ga., early in September for Germany and an assignment with the 3d Infantry Division, a major unit in the NATO shield of defense in Europe. While stationed at the Georgia fort, Davis was assigned to Company B of the 2d Division's 9th Infantry. The 22-year-old soldier entered the army last February and completed basic combat training at Fort Benning. A graduate of West High School, he was employed by Star Equipment Company, before entering the army.

Fellowship Sets Sunday Service

Columbus Fellowship worship service will be held Sunday Oct. 11, 4 p.m., at Broad Street Methodist Church, E. Broad-st at Washington.

Speaker will be Rev. John Adams, minister of Hilliard Methodist Church, and vice-president of Columbus Fellowship. Marvin Bonawitz, will preside.

The chancel choir of Scottwood Community Church will sing.

Hostesses for the tea will be ladies of Mount Olivet Baptist and Scottwood Community Churches. Nursery will be under the direction of Mrs. Carl Walters.

Thirty Answer Ad

Mrs. Nora Davidson, 261 Welch-av, needed a woman five days a week in her home to care for an elderly lady She printed her appeal in the Classified Section of this newspaper. She received 30 calls in response. Try a Want Ad when you need extra help . . . just call BR. 4-1155.

The Spectator
By C.C. Hartley

Mark Nov. 3 In Your Calendar Now!

You will be doing yourself and your city a big favor if you turn to your calendar right now and put a big circle around Nov. 3 . . . It will be election day again.

This year a mayor, city councilmen and judges are to be elected and some very important bond issues to be voted on.

It is vitally important that the city school bond issues be passed and that favorable support be given the child welfare levy.

It is equally important that careful thought be given to the race for mayor and council. A lot of people are confused and need to carefully study the election issues before going to the polls.

We have often been asked to endorse candidates for public office. We have made it a policy of these newspapers to refrain from general endorsements. In special instances, we have made endorsements. We will go on record next week stating our choice for mayor in the coming election and stating our reasons for same.

Middle October Notes:

Bill Coulthard is in University Hospital for observation. . . . And Jack Shank is a patient at Grant Hospital. . . West Side Kiwanians are having a wiener roast on Oct. 17. . . A friend reports that his definition of "status quo," is "the mess we are in". . . . But things are hardly that bad, surely. . . Bill Hoermle the councilman came to Columbus the day after Labor Day in 1930, he observes, and has been laboring ever since. . . . But a lot of Bill's labors at present are for the people in the capacity of councilman. . . . A belated thanks to Mrs. James Oipp Ritzheimer of Trenton, Ill., for the fine note about how she enjoys this paper. . . Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Snyder of 684 Wiltshire-rd have been raising an orange tree in their back yard. . . . If you haven't eaten at the new Woodhaven Restaurant out near West Jeff, it is worth a drive out some fine Sunday. . . First steps by toddler Karen Best created more excitement in the Don and Dot Best household than did the arrival of the new Chevvy. . . . The All Hollowells will be

Ex-Law Enforcer Hits Valleyview 'Political' Ouster

Valleyview's ex-law enforcer Jack Maurey has pointed an accusing finger at the village's ex-mayor Charles Ringer as the man who sought to remove him from the marshal job for political reasons.

Sparks from this accusation are apt to set off a political bombshell in the village, one councilman said.

Maurey has charged Ringer with "secretly conspiring" to select five men who would join with the ex-mayor and run for council. He, Maurey, was to be the fall guy, the ex-marshal contended.

Ringer distorted the facts when he told reporters that "a large number of Valleyview residents feel that they have not been getting sufficient police protection from their marshal," Maurey declared.

The out-of-a-job marshal quoted Ringer as saying that "it is getting so we have to depend on the sheriff for all night time enforcement."

Maurey said that Ringer made it plain the village ordinances provide for a marshal and two deputies and that if "we are elected we'll work toward that."

Yet, Maurey pointed out, Ringer has been mayor for eight years and had "never worked toward that."

Maurey also accused Ringer of plotting to cut the marshal's salary from $900 a year to $10 a month to force him to resign.

The ex-marshal said that he knew he was fighting a losing battle to keep his job when he appeared before J. Frank Dillin, then president of council.

Maurey told Dillin of the rumored plan and said that he would "do the job for nothing rather than let them force me out of it. I told him that to legally force me out of the job, Ringer would have to prove negligence on my part."

According to Maurey, Dillin

'He Spent More Time Baby-Sitting'

Ex-Valleyview mayor, Charles J. Ringer, has retorted to former marshal, Jack Maurey's charges with an accusation of his own.

"It seems that whenever Maurey was wanted, he could usually be found baby-sitting somewhere."

Ringer has denied that there was anything "secret" about his running for office again.

"In fact, I was asked to by Mayor Norris Boothe," Ringer said, "when J. Frank Dillin stepped down as council president to take the marshal job."

Ringer also pointed out that he was the one who first appointed Maurey to the marshal post. "For the first two years, Jack did what I would call a magnificent job," Ringer stated.

"Then he found out that nobody offered any resistance to his inactivity after that period," Ringer said.

The former mayor, now a Valleyview councilman, said that when residents needed Maurey, they were told that he was busy "baby-sitting."

Ringer did admit that he planned to cut the marshal's salary from $900 a year to $10 a month to force Maurey to resign.

"It was one way we could get him out of the job," Ringer said.

Hilltop 'Y' Cornerstone To Be Installed Nov. 1

Cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new Hilltop YMCA building will be held Sunday, Nov. 1.

Plans have been made for the ceremony to be held in the auditorium of the new Westmoor Junior High School starting at 2:15 with a 15 minute brass sextet program by students from West High School. The speaking ceremony will start at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Harold Bibling, superintendent of Columbus Public Schools, will be the speaker.

C. Carlton Hartley, chairman of the Hilltop YMCA board of management, will be master of ceremonies.

Invocation is to be given by Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, and one of the members of the first Hilltop "Y" board. Benediction will be given by Rev. Joseph Sheilhaas of Glenwood Methodist Church. The new Glenwood Church will be built immediately east of the "Y" building.

Numerous local organizations will assist in the program and have special introductions at the ceremonies.

A number of items have been selected to be placed in a special metal box to be inserted inside the cornerstone. Dewey Parris is in charge of collecting these items.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Members and their wives will attend.

Storm Catches Local Fishermen On Lake Erie

Sunday on the lake was anything but serene for three Hilltop neighbors.

Caught in a 60-mile an hour squall that nearly capsized their cabin cruiser on Lake Erie, were Chet Meurer, 921 Miriam-dr, W; Earl Cline, 930 Stephen-dr; Mike Lorenz, 3247 Mary-av; and two friends, Roman Exstein and Bob Carlow.

Wives learned Sunday night that Lorenz managed to keep his craft upright and reached Kelley's Island where a family took the fishermen in for the night. They were drenched in the storm.

To reach the dock the pilot spent 25 minutes threading between other boats that were overturned.

A ROCKY RIDE, BUT HE MADE IT!

LANDSLIDE TOPSIDE—William Hoffman, employe of Malven Inc., 464 N. Highland-av, counts himself a mighty lucky man. He escaped unscathed from this six-ton avalanche of crushed rock which covered his hardtop coupe Monday evening at Harper-rd and McKinley-av. William Clevenger, 698 S. Front-st, driver of the Cecil Bros. truck, said he was heading south on McKinley and was unable to tell which direction Hoffman was going to take. He swerved to the right and his truck went out of control, tipping over on the 1957 coupe. Under the severe load the steel top conveyed leaving only inches above the seat. Hoffman stands beside the door from which he barely had room to squeeze out. "And to think I almost bought a convertible a week ago!" he said shakenly. (Staff photo—Marc Orr)

Auto Agency Taken Over By Ed Planck

Edgar G. Planck, who with Charles Althen founded West Side Motors, a Dodge-Plymouth dealership in May, 1933, announced today that Althen has retired to his other interests and Planck is now sole owner and general manager of the new and used car and truck agency at 1350 W. Broad-st.

From 1915 to 1926, Planck has been associated in varied automobile dealerships. In 1926 his first auto agency was founded selling Durant and Star automobiles. Charles Althen joined Planck in 1928 in a new auto agency selling Oakland and Pontiac cars. This dealership was in existence until May, 1933, when West Side Motors Inc. was inaugurated with the Dodge franchise.

At Four Locations

Over the years, West Side Motors has grown to 36 employes and four locations. The new-car dealership and service department is at 1350 W. Broad. Body repair, paint shop, and new-car storage is at 230

Young, Navin, Walters Win Grid Guesses

With most teams playing true-to-form, the Hartley Newspaper Football Guessing Contest was decided this week by a few key games, mostly in the Ohio Conference.

Heidelberg and Wittenberg, perennial powers in Ohio grid circles, fell by the wayside at the hands of Akron and Muskingum respectively.

These two games, coupled with the double defeat of the service teams — Army and Navy — largely determined the winners in this week's contest.

While most guessperts picked Ohio State to topple the Illini, there were enough Illinois votes to remove the contest from the upset ranks.

Here are the winners of this week's contest:

Terry Walters, 132 N. Chase-av; Tom Young, 3421 Erie-av, Cincinnati; and Sonny Navin, 2780 Valleyview-dr.

They will be awarded, in the order of their finish, $10 in cash, five dollars in merchandise.

Rites Held Today For Fire Victims

Private funeral services for the four children who died in a fire at their home, 462 W. Town-st early Sunday, were to be held Wednesday, 10 a.m. at Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home.

Mona Lisa Martinez, seven; her sisters, Mary Lou, five, and Terri Lee, four, and brother, Albert, three, died when flames starting in a living room sofa spread throughout the flat.

Charges were filed Tuesday against the children's grandfather, Ervin Ben Oliver, 45, for carelessly starting the fire which claimed the children's lives and for being an habitual offender.

Police charged Oliver carelessly started the fire while drinking and smoking on the couch at the home of his daughter. He has, police said, a record of 28 previous convictions, mostly for intoxication, and was just recently released from a 30-day workhouse sentence for intoxication.

Conviction of the two charges carries workhouse sentences of three and a half years.

The children's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Cerda and their baby son, born just 36 hours after the tragedy, have received help from the Franklin County Chapter Red Cross in the form of clothing, a layette, and the underwriting of funeral expenses.

The Red Cross also promised to help the family with future needs of food, shelter and basic furniture, when they are ready to find a new home.

All the Cerdas possessions were destroyed in the fire.

Burial of the children was to be at Glen Rest.

Council To Hear Wilshire Rezone Case Monday

Public hearing on the request to rezone 24 corner lots in Wilshire Heights from business to residential classification is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 19 at City Council meeting.

One of the homeowners, Henry C. DeMastry, said the customary two-week notice had not been sent to the 400 petition signers. An employe of the city clerk's office told him letters were sent to every third name on the list last Friday.

Meanwhile, an answer has been filed on suit of permanent injunction against a realtor who set up office in a house at Mound-st and Hague-av. Date for hearing the case "on its merits" has not been announced.

Inspection Hints Of Winter Ahead

Winter can't be far away.

State Highway Department's ice and snow removal equipment will "stand for inspection" Thursday, Oct. 15.

Officials said the Fifth Avenue garage will be inspected at 9 a.m., the McKinley Avenue garage at 11 a.m.

Dedication, Open House Set At Westmoor Oct. 22

Westmoor Junior High School will be formally dedicated, and the building opened for "open house" inspection Thursday evening, Oct. 22.

The entire community is invited to attend the dedication program at 8, tour the new, million-dollar building, and inspect the school's modern facilities.

Teachers will also be in their classrooms to meet parents and confer with them on pupil

Dr. Harold M. Bibling, superintendent of Columbus Schools, will speak, and Mrs. Ralph Davidson, president of the Board of Education, will give the dedicatory address.

Members of the Board of Education will be platform guests.

Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church will give the invocation and benediction. Westmoor's band and chorus will provide music.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES TO DEDICATE HALL SUNDAY

DEDICATION SET—West congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will dedicate its newly-completed Kingdom Hall at 501 Josephine-av, Sunday, Oct. 18, 1 p.m. Open house is also planned Sunday, and the public is invited. The one-story building, constructed of block with brick and stone facing, houses a main auditorium seating 200, and a library. Daniel C. Held, 147 Midland-av, (insert) presiding minister, is assisted by George I. Riemenschneider of 160 N. Guilford-av, and Lee C. Love of Wilson-rd, director of Bible study classes. VALLEYVIEW TUNNEL DEDICATED IN THE DRY

SCHOOL CHILDREN HELP—Rain kept the crowd away from the new Valleyview underpass Tuesday afternoon but a ribbon-snipping ceremony was held anyway. Westmoor and Valleyview school children gave a hearty welcome to the city and school officials and local civic leaders who came to Westmoor for the dedication. Two of the youngsters, Sharon Broomhall, 216 Letchworth-av, and Marialice Schmitt, 286 S. Brinker-av, hold the ribbon just after Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner did the honors. Later they cut it up for souvenirs for their friends. In the background are School Superintendent Harold Bibling; Ray Dietz, superintendent of city parks, and J. W. Crowley, division superintendent, New York Central System. The school band, Program Chairman C. C. Hartley, the clergy and Boy Scout Troop 18 also took part in the program.

Kiwanians Seek Merchandise For 4th Annual Auction Sale Oct. 24

Just about anything that has ever been worn, grown, ridden upon, sold, acquired, accumulated, or has seen the light of day or the darkness of night, is being sought by the West Franklin Kiwanis Club.

Merchandise that fits the above and other descriptions is needed for the Fourth Annual Auction Sale, to be held at the Prairie Township School Saturday, Oct. 24, beginning at 7 p.m.

Proceeds from the sale are used to aid boys and girls in West Franklin County who are in need of medical or optical care, for a college scholarship each year to a high school senior student of the area, and for many other purposes in which funds are needed by youngsters in the western part of the county.

The event has grown in popularity over the years and the 1958 sale netted the organization more than $2100. Almost everything imaginable is sold to the highest bidder, with a team of four or five professional auctioneers, who donate their services, handling the affair.

Among the articles to be sold this year are a 50-foot sidewalk, framed and poured when and where the highest bidder desires; a brand new electric kitchen range, baled hay, baskets of groceries, home-made cakes, electrical appliances, new and used furniture, an outdoor furnace, freshly-made cider, pumpkins and —yes—even an automobile.

GUARANTEED TO FIT!—Chris Bucci, instructor at Hilltop Lanes, 2419 W. Broad-st, hands a bowling ball to Noble Allen, Jr., of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club, that will be auctioned to highest bidder at the Fourth Annual Kiwanis Auction Sale, Oct. 24 at the Prairie Township School. The ball, presented to the Kiwanians by Hilltop Lanes, will be custom drilled to fit the buyer, guaranteeing a perfect fit, according to Miss Bucci.

Everything placed on sale is contributed to the Kiwanis Club and, though much of the merchandise is new, many serviceable used articles are also sold.

Those who have anything which could be auctioned are asked to contact one of the co-chairmen: Ernest Brown, TR. 6-7482; Harry Eberhard, TR. 8-5162, or Walter Stephens II, BR. 9-3433. A truck will call for any contribution.

An added attraction at the auction is the dinner, ham or turkey, which will be served from 5 to 7 the evening of the sale, in the school cafeteria, by the Prairie-Norton PTA.

Welsh Singing Fete Is Sunday

A Welsh Singing Festival, sponsored by Welsh Singing Society will be held Sunday, Oct. 18, 2:30 p.m. at Miami Avenue Welsh Church.

Prof. William Hughes and his Male Chorus from Cleveland, will lead the singing, as well as present a program of songs. The group has participated in national Welsh festivals.

Anyone who enjoys Welsh singing is invited to attend and participate in the singing of Welsh hymns.

A tea will follow in the church dining room.

W. Haydn Jones, 82 S. Sylvan-av, is president of the Welsh Singing Society.

'Fur-Lined' Muskie Landed

The Ohio Division of Wildlife has another story to add to a growing collection of fish [illegible]

This one comes from Harold Smith, Reedsville, Meigs County, through the county game protector, Don Williams, Wildlife District No. 4, Athens.

As Don tells it, some of the best squirrel hunting in Meigs County is along the shores of Forked Run Lake in the center of Shade River State Forest.

An unidentified hunter knocked a gray squirrel out of a tree near one of the steep slopes leading down to the lake. The dead squirrel bounced and slipped across the leaves that carpeted the ground and ended up in the lake.

Smith, who was fishing from a boat nearby, called to the hunter that he would recover the squirrel. As the helpful fisherman explains: "I rowed over, reached down to get the squirrel and the largest muskellunge that I have ever seen grabbed that fellow right out of my hand and headed for the bottom."

The Meigs County angler refused to say whether he was after "muskie" at the time. He is, however, claiming first chance at the "tiger" that he now refers to as the "muskie with the fur-lined stomach."

The last Smith saw of the hunter was when he disappeared over the hilltop with both [illegible] raised in disgust.

That is when Maurey says he gave up. Outside of Councilman Robert Fisher, Maurey said council appeared to be afraid of Ringer.

"I regret letting my resignation stand after council decided to table my resignation for 30 days. Yet, no one except Fisher repudiated Ringer's distortion of the facts," Maurey said.

Fisher said that he told Maurey that he would be "foolish to resign."

Maurey added that when Ringer, who resigned as mayor due to ill health, decided in August to run for a council [illegible] be needed an issue.

"He chose me for that issue," Maurey stated.

South-Western Officials To Appear At Meetings

Public meetings in three different high schools have been set by members of the South-Western School Board to acquaint people with the forthcoming bond issue and renewal of the operating levy.

On Oct. 21, the board, along with clerk Robert Jennings, will appear at Grove City High School. They will be at Franklin Heights Oct. 28 and at Pleasant View Oct. 29, Jennings said. He termed passage of both issues "vital."

"vital."

As yet, he related, no date has been set for the hearing on Grove City band director, Richard Harris. The board, Jennings said, will probably set a date at its next meeting.

Jackson Elementary principal, Ellis Rucker, was appointed to the post of district attendance officer. Although he applied for the position, Jennings said, Rucker has not said if he will accept it.

An addition is being planned for Pleasant View. The enrollment there is around 650 already, Jennings related.

General locations of new elementary buildings were also set by the board. Schools are needed in the Prairie Township area, in Grove City and the South Franklin areas.

PTA members of Jackson, Park Street and Kingston buildings have given each of the three schools a television set for educational use.

The second new bus in a relatively few weeks time was purchased, Jennings said.

Hilliard Firemen Announce 2-Day Hallowe'en Carnival

Annual Firemen's Halloween Carnival will take place at the Franklin County Fairgrounds, Hilliard, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30 and 31.

Hilliard's merchants will operate 21 concessions and a variety of amusements and rides and will conduct a gala masked parade, offering many prizes. In the spotlight both days will be performances by the Buckeye Barn Dancers.

Everyone is eligible to enter the parade and compete for prizes in the five categories, but they must first register with John Kealer, Jr., 163 Winterringer-st, Hilliard.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a children's matinee, with all rides reduced to 10 cents for children under 12. In the evening the young ones can ride for a nickel with complimentary tickets from Hilliard firemen or merchants.

All proceeds from the events will go to the Hilliard Fire Department, serving Norwich and Brown Townships, for equipment and other needs.

Dublin Church Auction Sale Slated Saturday

Two tickets to an Ohio State football game, an old pump organ, a deep freeze . . . just about anything is likely to appear on the auction block at the 13th Annual Sale conducted by Dublin Community Church, Saturday, Oct. 17, 7 p.m. at the Dublin Firehouse.

The event is held every fall under the sponsorship of the Men's Goodwill club of the church.

Also on sale will be baked good, poultry, fruit, antiques, furniture, automotive products, along with many other items.

A fried chicken dinner will be served at the church from 5 to 7 p.m. under the direction of the service club. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, and 75 cents for children.

Si Lakin, John Page and Clarence Latham will be auctioneers. Clerks will be Adam Hirth and Clark Coffman. Ross Willoughby is general chairman.

Time To Get Parcels Ready For The Folks Overseas

Now's the time to think about mailing packages to friends and relatives in other countries, advises Postmaster Allen M. Rowe. An increase of mail is anticipated this holiday season.

The period of Nov. 1 to 20 is designated for mailing ordinary Christmas parcels to the Armed Forces overseas. All airmail parcels should be sent by Dec. 10.

Rowe said ordinary surface parcels to other addresses should be mailed no later than the following dates to insure delivery before Christmas: Oct. 18, Far East; Nov. 1, Near East, Africa; Nov. 10, Europe, South and Central America; all airmail, early December.

For complete instructions on packaging, contact the nearest postal station.

28 Churchs Join To Plan Mission Meet

Detailed plans for the six-day Spiritual Life Mission with Dr. E. Stanley Jones, planned for Nov. 1 through 6, are being completed by the 28 sponsoring churches of the Hilltop Ministerial Association.

Meetings will be held each evening at 7:45 at Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, 59 S. Powell-av.

In the event the church, with closed circuit television equipment accommodating 1200 is not adequate for the event, West High School auditorium will be used.

In addition to the mission meetings each evening, Dr. Jones will speak at a number of Columbus churches and service club meetings during the week.

Other churches in the West Columbus area have joined member churches of the Hilltop Ministerial Association in sponsoring the event.

Church of the Savior, Rev. A. W. Witherspoon; Columbia Heights Methodist, Rev. Raymond Pope; Community Christian, Rev. James Lorenz;

Talent Search Is Underway

Thousands of high school seniors throughout the country were invited today to compete for awards and scholarships totaling $34,250 in the 19th annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

Forty national winners judged as the nation's most promising young future scientists will attend the five-day Science Talent Institute in Washington, D. C. next spring where they will vie for the five top scholarships of $3,000 to $7,500. Thirty-five winners will receive $250.

Principals and science teachers of secondary schools are now receiving rules and instructions for the Search, and will be able to obtain entry materials for qualifying seniors after Nov. 15.

All contestants must take a two and one-half hour science aptitude examination and write a report on, "My Scientific Project." Personal and scholastic records are also required.

The examination will take place at the individual's own school beginning Dec. 1, and all entries must be received at Science Service headquarters by midnight, Dec. 27, 1959.

Fish Are Bitin'—Get In There And Perch

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

It has been difficult for hunters to concentrate this season on the hunting at hand, for warm summer weather has kept fishing in the news. Many fishermen from around here take a trip or two to Lake Erie every year to sample the fishing up there. I have just returned from my annual "perch jaunt" to Put-In-Bay—that quaint village on South Bass Island six miles out in the lake.

South Shore Is Good

The trip has been annual, that is, for the last three years. During that time perch have become abundant in the lake and have provided a fishing bonanza. Fish populations change in Lake Erie so it is wise to take advantage of what ever fish is "high" at the moment. Perch are being caught fairly generally all along the southern shore, with excellent catches reported all summer from Sandusky Bay, Catawba and island areas.

The fishing season isn't over! Not according to R. W. Recob of Recob Supplies, West Jefferson, who just reported that Dale Patterson of his town recently caught a 3¼ pound largemouth bass. The monster was 22⅜ inches long. Patterson caught his fish in Big Darby Creek on a Tiny River Runt.

Fishing Lake Erie is not the easiest thing in the world for a downstater. You either must hire a charter boat, or have access to a sea-worthy boat and know something about the lake. Once you are on the water it is not difficult to find where the perch are biting, for there will be a congregation of boats at the good spots. There always seems to be room for one more boat—so perch fishermen join the crowd and join in the fun.

Called "Perch Ranges"

People familiar with the lake catch perch by locating underwater humps or mounds. Residents on the island area call these humps "perch ranges"—why I'll never know—and locate them by sighting two ways on land objects such as trees, houses and rocks. Once they are sighted in, they throw out the anchor and start fishing. Good perch ranges are passed on from father to son, and while they are not secret, some one must be able to locate them in order for other fishermen to follow the leader.

Once you are on a range, catching perch is about the easiest fishing there is. You fish about a foot to 18 inches off the bottom—the way to find this depth is to let out line until you hit bottom and then reel in the prescribed amount of line. A minnow is used for bait, and you jiggle it once in a while to keep it in motion.

When the action is fast, perch will hit almost anything and often fishermen will cut minnows in two to make them last longer. If the bait bucket empties you can use the belly skin off of the perch already caught. And anglers have been known to use strips cut out of their shirt tails in order to keep in there perching.

Catches of 100 Common

Granted, it isn't a spine tingling exciting kind of fishing but it has its fascination. It is something like eating peanuts—once you get started you keep going for one more until it's difficult to stop. It is common for a couple of good fishermen to bring in more than 100 perch after angling from two or three hours. For some reason they seem to bite best from 9 to 10 in the morning and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

The rewards of perch fishing are many. First you have the fellowship of a comrade engaged in teamwork effort. Secondly, you enjoy the calming effects of sitting in a boat, catching fish, and watching the gulls dive for dead minnows. Thirdly, you are rewarded with probably the finest table fare that Ohio waters have to offer. Perch fillets browned in a frying pan are the best, and enough in themselves to send you back for more on another autumn day when the ducks are flying and the leaves turning.

Sports Open House Set

Southeast Conservation Club has designated Sunday, Oct. 18, as open house day at its new club grounds, 1040 Borror-rd.

A full program is planned that will show conservation practices on the land that will improve hunting. Tours around the natural lake on the property will be made. The open house will be integrated into a workshop session for school teachers and the other conservation members who are interested in conservation education programs.

Members of the Southeast Club have been leaders in getting conservation into the classrooms of Columbus. The open house scheduled next Sunday will be a milestone in the club's history. Visitors are welcome.

THIS IS FREEDOM'S TEXT BOOK

Freedom is expressed in many ways by many people, but almost universally, freedom has been stimulated and taught in the pages of a free press — free to seek out the truth and free to express these facts.

Never has any part of human society been called on more consistently than the press to play a significant role in protecting the rights of individuals. Your newspaper today is not only a key to better living, but it is truly freedom's textbook.

To limit the press in its attempts to obtain accurate and factual information would be to limit your right to know—a basic concept in a free society. Despite this role, there are those who would deprive newspaper readers of this freedom.

The barring of reporters from town council meetings, legislative hearings, public committee meetings, and court trials is in a real sense an infringement on your right to know; a restriction on your newspaper's right to teach and report.

Certainly, these practices should be condemned.

But we could hardly take such a stand without first looking to ourselves and knowing full well that we practice what we advocate.

Just as the reporter should not be denied the facts on events or transactions having public interest, neither should anyone with a legitimate interest be deprived of information.

The press, as the recognized medium for informing the people, should be given every opportunity to obtain the facts. Only after every door closed by a public official has been opened to the press, shall we have complete freedom of information.

Only so long as this is true can your newspaper effectively serve as freedom's textbook.

"Everyone admires the fellow who doesn't let grass grow under his feet—unless he uses your lawn to prove it."

BIBLE COMMENT:

Right To Kill During War Is Questioned

From the time of Moses, probably no commandment has been so persistently disregarded as the sixth, "Thou shalt not kill."

From the beginning, men have set their own private limits upon the terms of this edict. Its breach has been on a vast scale.

We need not look to the ancients for incidents of barbarism and slaughter. In our own century we have seen mass killing and genocide of almost unbelievable proportions.

Many Christians are divided on whether the commandment applies to killing in warfare.

The assumption that it is all right to kill when a constituted government orders, is a further limitation on the commandment. It obscures the fact that the constituted authority itself may be acting on an immoral basis.

Millions of persons have met death and committed mass murder at the whim of a dictator or at the instruction of a government.

Some churchmen feel that it is the right of the individual to weigh the morality of going to war.

If you purchase stolen property, they will say, you do not gain more right to the article than the thief had when he stole it.

Similarly, our participation in mass killing does not absolve us from moral liability for our actions if the decision of the government was motivated by aggression or a warped sense of national justice.

That is why some men elect to stand as pacifists during wartime, feeling that they are bound to kill no man.

Others hold that there is a point at which pacifism breaks down—when you yourself are attacked. A man of peace, they aver, has a right to expect others to be the same. When they are not, the limit on the "fifth" commandment must be enlarged.

ater, City Economy Promised By Westlake

Council President W. Ralston Westlake, Republican candidate or mayor, promises that if lected one of the first things e will do is start wheels turn- g to get the Stelzer-rd water ine installed to serve the East ide.

Had the line been in, the East ide would have had adequate ater, despite last week's water ain break, he said. Because of he break, about 7,000 North American Aviation workers on the first shift were sent home and all Whitehall and two Columbus schools were closed.

Westlake claims the Democratic administration withheld construction of the line to force an annexation to Columbus. Administration spokesmen say the line was not constructed because of lack of funds and that it is programmed for start of construction next year.

The line would bring Hoover Reservoir water to the East Side.

"Columbus people wanted Hoover Dam and they want the service it is capable of providing," Westlake said. "The multi-million dollar investment is a waste of taxpayers' money until the dam is put to full use."

Westlake in his prepared statement also said he favors a car and truck pool for city workers to save the city money. He said the city also can save money by doing engineering work that now is farmed out to consulting engineers.

Officials Say Hospital Far From Ideal

Poor equipment, antiquated buildings and a turnover in personnel all contributed to the unsatisfactory sanitary conditions found Sept. 8 by Governor DiSalle at the Columbus State Hospital, the press was told this week.

Dr. Joseph H. Drayer, chief of food and sanitation, City Health Department, said that because of these factors the institution has not qualified for a food handling license since 1954. "But we had to license them," he said, "if we didn't, they couldn't operate. It was something we had to live with."

Drayer said the hospital was inspected on Sept. 2 and given 30 days to correct 11 violations. He said no violations were recorded at Columbus State School since May 5.

Dr. Lowell Dillon, Columbus State Hospital superintendent had little to say publicly in answer to the governor's charges of poor management. Dr. R. C. Anderson, acting mental health director, said the hospital has suffered from 100 years of neglect. He said Dr. Dillon has not been given the staff, money or facilities to carry out the job adequately. He said 300 more employes would still be far from ideal.

Westinghouse Employes Get Wage Hikes

Approximately 4,000 employes of the local Westinghouse Electric Appliance plant will receive an automatic pay increase this month.

E. L. Smith, works manager, said today that the wage increase of three and one-half per cent of 1955 base rates will boost local employe pay and benefits by over $1 million yearly. On a national basis, approximately 107,000 Westinghouse employes will receive the increase, boosting pay and benefits by more than $24 million.

The raise, which became effective on Oct. 12 for a majority of employes, is the fifth in the series of annual wage hikes put into effect by the company since Oct. 1955, as part of a five-year program.

With the new raise, Westinghouse wage rates will be at least 26 per cent higher than in 1955, Smith said. This includes 16 per cent in annual increases, and 10 per cent in quarterly cost of living adjustments.

The works manager pointed out that, in addition to the regular raises and cost of living adjustments, the present five-year program has also brought other benefits. As an example, he said the company has assumed the entire cost of employe's insurance, leaving employes only the cost of coverage for dependents. At the same time, coverage for hospital room and board charges was increased to $15 a day.

Partridge, Pheasant, Quail Readied For Sportsmen As Ramblin Acres Game Farm Opens Near Darbydale

GAME GALORE—Some 500 birds are presently stocked in thick pens at Ramblin Acres Game Farm on Opossum-rd near Darbydale. Fred Dingle looks over the recent shipment of game birds that includes pheasants, quail and partridge. The picturesque 200-acre hunting land opened at the beginning of September.

By John Poeppelmeyer

"A picturesque 200-acre Ohio flatland grain farm stocked with large ringneck pheasants, quail and partridge to afford an ideal hunting paradise," is how the owner and operator described it.

And that apt description truly fills the bill.

Ramblin Acres Game Farm, located at Opposum Run-rd, one-half mile from Darbydale, opened at the beginning of September, for what the owners feel will be a successful undertaking.

The men responsible for the newest sporting enterprise in the south-western area are Hugh "Bud" McKinley and Gene Harbage. Both have been interested in outdoor game activity for most of their lives.

Free To Roam

According to them, guests will be free to "roam through fields of clover, across corn fields and along fence rows" hunting for game. "It is a natural habitat for upland wild game," McKinley stated.

Combined with this rich bountiful game land is the concern of propagation of wild life and the conservation of natural resources. The men worked in cooperation with the wildlife division and the Franklin County Soil Conservation Service, McKinley pointed out.

500 Birds

Some 500 game birds are now on hand for hunters to contend with. The season opened Sept. 1 and will continue through March 15. Hunters will be allowed on the property from sun-up to sun-down every day but Sunday.

An Ohio hunting license is required to seek out the prey. Guides and dogs will be available upon request.

"We also board and train dogs here," Harbage said, "if owners are interested enough in having their dogs learn to hunt game."

Fee is $12 per person per day for shooting two pheasants or partridge or three quail, Harbage stated. Additional birds run $3 per pheasant and $2 per quail. No limit has been set.

Rabbits Free

During Ohio open season, rabbits may be taken at no additional charge, the owners said. Reservations must be made in advance, both men noted.

"Only modern shotguns in good condition are permitted on the hunting area. Upland bird shot, number six or seven and a half, should be used for pheasants. Cylinder bore guns and number eight or nine for quail, McKinley explained.

Ducks should be ready to fire upon next season, he said.

McKinley was National Doubles Trap Shooting champ in 1956. He has twice been a member of the All-American Trap Shooting Team, in 1951 and 1955.

Harbage operated a farm for some nine years near West Jefferson. He has been interested and worked with outdoor sports for most of his life.

READY AND RARIN'—All set to lend hunters a hand when they arrive for some outdoor activity are Gene Harbage and his short-haired German pointer, Heinrich. Gene holds a pheasant in his arms, ready to let loose at the back and call of any hunter.

STUDY DAZE—Franklin Heights student, Selim Dere, of Turkey seems to be having a bit of trouble finding the right English word with the right meaning and spelling as he goes over home work. The young Turkish student is enrolled at the school where he is taking two years of work in the next nine months.

TURKISH STUDENT HERE

Street Corner Assemblies Mean Homework In Turkey

In Turkey, whenever a group of teen-agers may be seen "hanging around" a street corner, they are usually not idling their time away nor are they plotting some devilish mischief.

In all probability, according to Franklin Heights senior Selim Dere, they are doing their homework.

Selim should know. He is from the southeast part of Turkey, from a locale known as Mardin, located approximately 30 miles from the Syrian Border. At the present time his address is 1743 Eastfield-dr, the residence of Air Force S-Sgt. and Mrs. James Wells.

Why do Turkish high schoolers do their studying on street corners? Why, because that is where electricity is available," Selim declares. "There are no electric lights in homes in small towns in Turkey," he added.

Selim knows five languages and seven dialects of his own tongue. He has already been graduated from Turkish schools. He spent five years in grade school and six in a technical high school in his home country.

"In Turkey," he explained, "the high schools are divided into two categories, professional and technical." He went to classes eight hours a day, six days a week from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each school day. "If one took music, that was an extra period," he pointed out.

Selim will be at Franklin Heights for one year, doubling his courses, Principal William Rogers said. Selim presently is taking chemistry, physics, consumer economics, sociology and doubling in English.

He had previously completed two years of high school work at Ft. Wayne, Ind.

He usually studies for hours a night. His hardest subject, when he first came to this country, under the sponsorship of the Congregational Churches, was English.

"So many words that sound alike are spelled so differently and mean such different things," he smiled.

He likes U.S. Schools because "I have time for sports here in school. We didn't in Turkey."

Selim plans to go out for the wrestling squad at Franklin Heights.

Taking all things into consideration, Selim says that he thinks that the students in the United States learn more. One reason: in science classes there is more equipment with which to experiment.

Right now, he says that he is anxious to get home for a vacation.

Rock 'N Roll? Yes, they have it in Turkey too, Selim said.

Troop 172 Honors Scouts; Bob Roberts Gets Life Rank

Boy Scout Troop 172, Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, held its semi-annual court of honor Sept. 28.

Highlights of the evening were the presentations of Life Scout rank to Bob Roberts by troop committee chairman, James Cooke, and the 1959 Honor Scout Award trophy to Jim Buck by institutional representative Norman Line.

Star Scout awards went to Donald Cooke, Lowell Marx, Jim Buck and Donald Roberts.

Inducted as Tenderfoot Scouts were Larry Keen, Bill Dennis and Mike Broome.

Second Class awards went to Danny Umberger, Robert Hicks and George Griffith; and First Class to Jim Buck, David Line, Dennis Moore, David Ford and Don Roberts.

Awarded merit badges were Jim Buck, 10; Russell Marx, seven; Donald Cooke, seven; Bob Roberts, six; David Line, five; David Ford, five; Lowell Marx, four; Don Roberts, three; Tom McGill, three; Dennis Moore, three; John Dennis, two; and Bill Minnier, John Spencer, Douglas Torrance, Bob Bowsher, one each.

Leaders' warrants were issued to patrol leaders Tom Blevins, Jim Buck, Donald Cooke, Robert Hicks and John Spencer; assistant patrol leaders—Tim DeWitt, Valentine Gleich, Bill Johannes, Danny Keen and Tom Laughlin; quartermaster, Lowell Marx; scribe, Bill Johannes; librarian, Douglas Torrance; senior patrol leader, Bob Roberts; and junior assistant scoutmasters—Tom McGill, Russell Marx and Ronald Line.

Fate Of Ohio Valley League To Be Decided

This Saturday evening at 7 in the Valleyview council chambers the Ohio Valley Football League will hold an important special meeting. The outcome may decide whether or not the league will continue in operation. All interested parents, team managers or representatives are urged to be present.

Mrs. Coffman

Welcome Wagon Inc. announces the appointment of Mrs. Ethel Coffman, 166 Eldonav as one of the two area supervisors of Columbus area.

Mrs. Coffman has made 4153 calls in homes of local families on special occasions in the past four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Coffman have a family of three married daughters and one son, and six grandchildren. They have been Hilltop residents for 20 years.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

Hilltop YMCA Fall program is now in full swing with 10 Gra-Y clubs, three Jr. Hi-Y clubs and one Sr. Hi-Y club meeting regularly. Anyone wishing information on these groups should get in contact with the "Y."

West Jr. Hi-Y will meet for the second time this evening at 6:30. All ninth graders at West are invited.

Saturday the Hilltop Gra-Y Flag Tag football league swung into action in both the North and South sections. In the opener Highland jumped to a quick 6-0 lead over West Broad as Jim Bell grabbed the opening kickoff and raced for a touchdown. Bell paced the Highland Trotters to a 26-8 win as he added another T.D. and an extra point. Other touchdowns for the Trotters were tallied by Overn Miller and Larry Ginn, with Winford Dearing adding the other extra points. West Broad scored its only touchdown as Mike McNutt ran 30 yards for the score which was followed by a two point dash by Felix Hoover.

In the other North Section Valleyview turned back Westgate 34-20. Floyd Ohde led his team to victory by scoring two touchdowns including a 60-yard dash from scrimmage on the opening play. Roger Buchanan, Dave Foster and Danny Jenkins scored the other T.D.'s with the extra points being scored by Foster and Phil Johnson. Steve Canfield tallied all Westgate scores while Carl Vollmuth accounted for one extra point.

Only one game was played in the South section as Blans won on a forfeit over West Mound. John Burroughs shut out Georgian Heights 44-0. Bill Warrnes was the big gun for the winners as he scored three touchdowns and an extra point. Other scorers for John Burroughs were Tony West with two touchdowns and an extra point and "Chubby" Gomer with a T.D. and two extra points.

Action will continue this Saturday with the North section games being played on the "y" field on Valleyview-dr and the South teams meeting on the field behind John Burroughs school.

On Oct. 20 the Eighth Annual Gra-Y Induction will be held at the new Westmoor Junior High School. Gra-Y members will be inducted into the national fellowship and the newly elected officers will be installed. All boys are expected to attend, and parents and friends are welcome to get a better insight into the total Gra-Y program.

If taxes keep on climbin' we're going to have a SUM strike.

The People's Mayor . . . THE ISSUES

FANCY AND FICTION

The Private Press and Sensenbrenner

It is not a secret that the privately owned Star-Dispatch-Journal newspapers and WBNS radio-television facilities oppose re-election of the Sensenbrenner administration.

It is also not a secret that all these newspapers, radio and television facilities are managed by a wealthy private interest.

But, because these communication facilities have so many different labels and crop up in so many different places, it is easy to forget, when they all express the same opinion, it is nothing more than the bossman agreeing with himself. It is even possible, unless one is careful, to get the feeling that no other opinion exists anywhere.

Fortunately, differences of opinion are still possible . . . . they're even popular. Even the controlled press which yells its opinion the most often is sometimes viewed as suspected the most, the least believable.

THE ISSUE at stake in this election, as before, is whether certain "rich alumni" should run the team from the sidelines . . . or should the team's quarterback on the field call the signals. Does Columbus want her city decisions made in City Hall . . . or sent to City Hall from the bleachers? Your opinion in the voting booth counts exactly the same as the next voter, whether you run a newspaper or not.

"Six years of jobs, progress and growth AND THE BEST IS YET TO COME"

SLUM CLEARANCE

Columbus citizens for years talked about slum clearance. The cooperation and enthusiasm of the Sensenbrenner administration has done something about it. Two projects are under way; two others are already to start. This program of neighborhood renewal as well as complete rebuilding programs has been a part of this effort.

THE ISSUE is to continue in office an administration willing to risk the violent criticism of vested interests in order to remove the blight of slums.

HOUSING FOR THE AGED

The happiness, health and welfare of senior citizens is a growing problem for every community. The Sensenbrenner administration has recognized this problem by again doing something constructive.

A new 10-story senior citizen apartment building and recreation center is underway at Sunshine Park.

THE ISSUE is to continue this kind of social responsibility in City Hall.

EXPRESSWAYS

Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner alone did not build the expressways. Neither did any other single person or group. But his administration did get the Third Street Viaduct off the planning boards where it had been for fifty years. It is not nearly completed. Look around you in every part of the city and see the expressway progress.

THE ISSUE is the proven record of getting things done versus general promises and "Saturday night quarterbacking."

SEWERS

The postwar building boom in Columbus created a great need for sewer development. Annexation further increased this need. The problem was tackled with four major sewer trunk lines and an authorized sewage treatment plant, with still other lines on the drawing boards. Construction is ready to begin on two additional sewer trunks to speed the program.

THE ISSUE is progress of the Sensenbrenner administration versus artificial petty criticism.

PARKS AND RECREATION

A sensible new program of locating parks near schools, thus creating neighborhood recreational centers has been inaugurated by the Sensenbrenner administration. Three new recreation centers and a new golf course are completed. Plans for three added recreation centers are in the mayor's program.

THE ISSUE is the completion of this responsible program of community service versus a do-nothing opposition.

THE MOMENT OF TRUTH

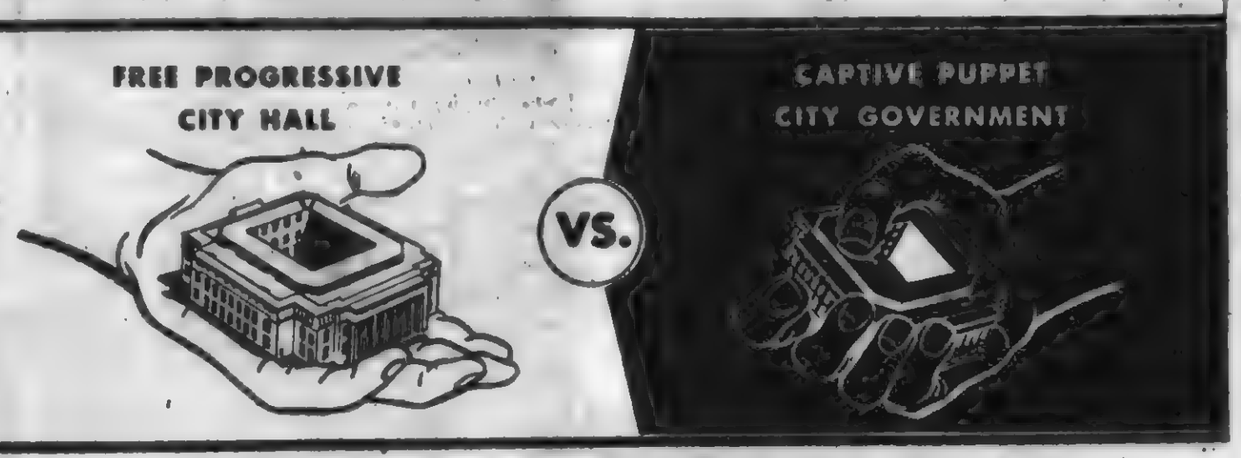
Sensenbrenner Team Reviews City Progress

Neither a single man, nor a small group of men can justly take credit for all the progress of a great city. Progress is always the composite result of the many efforts of the many who participate.

But . . . city progress can be stopped by government in spite of the best efforts of others. This is often the case in city after city throughout the country.

To the government official, it is often more desirable to resist change — progress — because the process of change creates responsibility. The easiest way to avoid criticism is to do nothing and escape notice.

The progress of a city, then, becomes the record of the government during the time of progress. At the very least, it becomes the record of that government's willingness to risk public censure at the next election. Interested private groups or individuals run no such risk.



It is with these thoughts in mind that the record and issues of the mayoralty campaign should be judged. The Sensenbrenner administration HAS been an administration of progress. The risk of public criticism has been taken willingly in reaching every decision.

Much progress has been made BECAUSE of the Sensenbrenner team. Other progress is the result of the cooperation of the Sensenbrenner administration on a non-partisan basis with citizens groups.

THE ISSUE now is the continuation of this constructive public policy where progress is not only possible . . . but is sought and encouraged.

"Six years of jobs, progress and growth AND THE BEST IS YET TO COME"

THE ISSUE: The principal issue in this year's mayoralty campaign is:

The present administration's progress in solving the basic needs of Columbus is recognized in fact. The campaign is the character assassination by POWER AND PREJUDICE against a man .. Mayor Jack E. Sensenbrenner

HE DESERVES YOUR SUPPORT!

ANNEXATION

Under Mayor Sensenbrenner, Columbus has increased in size from 42 to 86 square miles. Why? Because only in this way could the city be prepared to attract new industry, and therefore create more jobs and prosperity.

This has also brought new citizens, new homes and new incomes to our city.

THE ISSUE is to complete this program of community expansion.

CITY FINANCES

Businesslike money management is a vital part of the Sensenbrenner administration. Inactive city funds have been invested to earn more than $300,000. The city has made more than $100,000 in operating the zoo concessions and airport parking. The program of annexation has also increased the city income without tax increase.

THE ISSUE is the continuation of this proven program versus financial double talk or profit going to vested interests instead of to the people.

SENSENBRENNER TV SHOWS

Mayor Sensenbrenner will bring the issue of this campaign directly to the Columbus public in four TV programs. They are scheduled as follows:

WTVN

Wednesday, October 26, 6:00 to 6:15 p.m.

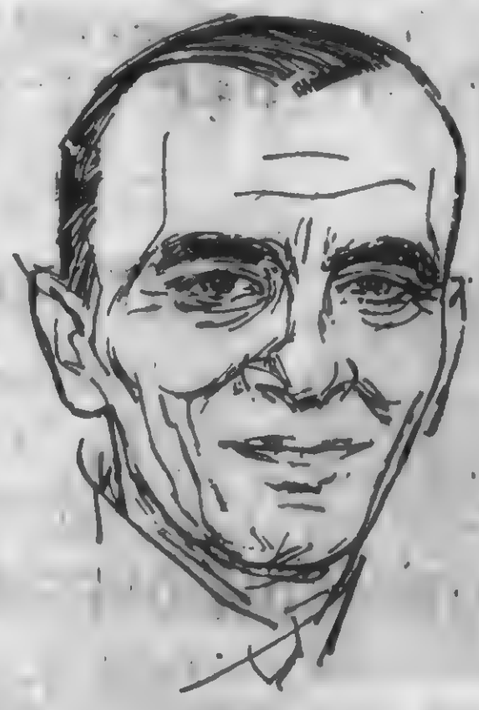
WLW-C

Thursday, October 29, 6:20 to 6:25 p.m.; Friday, October 30, 6:10 to 6:25 p.m.; Monday, November 2, 6:10 to 6:25 p.m.

WATER

Water Mains — 851.6 miles of them have been laid to serve Columbus' growing area and booming population during the Sensenbrenner administration. Progress has been made just as rapidly as finances have allowed. An additional $5.8 million is planned to continue this program.

THE ISSUE is an adequate water program of water development, subject to the availability of money rather than politically inspired criticism that recognizes only part of the problem.



HEALTH AND SAFETY

A new synchronized, safe traffic control system will be completed by year end; a revitalized program of housing and sanitation inspection is underway; the city's program of free polio immunization is a matter of record.

THE ISSUE is the continuation of an administration responsible to the people's needs versus a campaign that fails to mention these community assets.

Thirty Members Of West Class Of 1919 Meet Again After 40 Years

RED LETTER DAY—This remarkable group of 30 members of the West High School Class of 1919, held their first reunion Oct. 7 at 3100 W. Broad-st. The original class, 76 strong, were graduated 40 years ago from what is now Sterling Junior High School. Fifteen are deceased and only three others could not be located. The informal get-together was the culmination of a dream that started five years ago, said Mrs. Irene Hoyt, 70 N. Burgess-av. A newsletter will keep the group in touch from now on she said. Seen, left to right, front row, are Esther Knierim Fansler, Helen Johnston, Dorothy Suydam Willcox, Marjorie Geerhart Hunter, Helen Kelley Shelton, Marjorie Terdiff Chaffin, Irene Wier Butner, Blanche Robinson Willis, Clara Harris McCready, Charlotte Chavous Heisten, Norman Wohlgemuth Conkle, Ruth Kimes Jones, Nellie Defenbaugh Snyder, Gladys Crellin Reppert and Mable Rhoads Arnold. Second row, standing, left to right, Howard Thurston, Fred Gauggel, Henry Keller, Gene Walcutt, Hubert Angell, Jr., Henry Koontz, Irene Prosst Hoyt, O. C. Montgomery, (teacher); Ardis Hensel Hawtherne, Lee McComb, Amos Luckhaupt, Ernest Handley, Dain Aiken, Mildred Tharp Williams, Lester Moore and Don Armbrust.

TRAVELED FARTHEST—Edward and Gladys (Crellin) Reppert came by train from Temple City, Calif., especially to attend the reunion. Mrs. Reppert shows a 1919 "Class Day Exercises" program to her husband. She is a sister of Warren Crellin, 104 Chittenden-av; Mrs. (Dr.) E. J. Denser, 150 Brevoort-rd and Mrs. R. R. Skiner, West Jefferson.

The state legislature gave rural residents of Ohio the legal authority to proceed with township zoning when it adopted Ohio's Rural Zoning Enabling Act in 1947.

REPORT TO PEOPLE

Mayor Sensenbrenner Answers Criticism Of Water Program

Editor's Note—What has the administration of Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner done in the last six years and what are the mayor's plans for the next four, if Sensenbrenner is re-elected Nov. 3? The mayor answers these questions in a report to the people presented in a series of articles in the Hartley Newspapers. The second follows.

Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, seeking another four-year term, took advantage of his report to the people on his six-year administration to give his side of the controversial Columbus water situation.

"Under my administration," the mayor said, "Hoover Dam was completed at a staggering cost of $26,000,000. The previous administration rejected the federal government's offer to build a dam for only $7,000,000 cost to the city.

"As a result, much of the increased revenue from the added water supply had to go to retire the debt incurred by the project."

Since Sensenbrenner took office 861.6 miles of water mains have been laid. Even so, during the extreme June and August droughts this year, some drop in pressure was noted, particularly on the East Side.

"This will be remedied after completion of standby tanks and the normal execution of the Sensenbrenner capital improvements program," the mayor promised.

The plan, approved by city council last January, calls for several new lines, including the Stelzer Road line, to begin in 1960, the mayor said. The plan includes several new mains for the East Side as well as other areas in the city.

The mayor listed his achievements in providing new sewers as "outstanding" and listed these accomplishments:

"Alum Creek Trunk (Section B) just north of Route 62 along the creek to about 900 feet south of Livingston Avenue has been completed. Another East Side project, the Big Walnut Trunk, between Broad and Livingston, is serving the new Western Electric plant at East Broad and Taylor Station Road. This includes a pumping station which is located 1,500 feet south of Livingston on the east side of the creek. Work is under way on the Olentangy Main Trunk."

Completion in 1956 of the Beulah Road Main Trunk Line (northeast) and expansion of the sewage treatment plant, in addition to the Truro Relief System, were listed as significant achievements.

Construction of first section of the Big Run sewer to provide expanded service for the West Side began this month. Three other sections are in the planning stage. Bids for the Early Ditch Branch of the first section were opened earlier this month.

Synchronized traffic lights to make better use of main streets in Columbus are in effect throughout most of the city. The program should be finished by the end of the year, the mayor says.

Cost of the program to the city was $400,000 and the federal government contributed another $230,000 because synchronization helps the civil defense program. The mayor said he pushed the program in numerous conferences with other officials.

Works By Cope At Local Library

During October, the Hilltop Branch Library is exhibiting a selection of paintings by Leslie Cope of Roseville, O.

A native of England, he came to the United States in 1931 and since has received wide recognition in the Mid-West. His art also includes pottery.

Cope works are in permanent collections of the Library of Congress, Carnegie Institute, and several other city and university collections.

Soybean plants can be defoliated and weeds can be killed by the use of appropriate chemicals, sprays or dusts. Cost of the treatment and the advantages should be considered carefully before application is made, say Ohio State University Extension agronomists.

PROJECT IN AIR

BIG RUN BIG—Just how big is the Big Run sewer project being undertaken by the City of Columbus? Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner made a special effort to point this out last week as the project "got off the ground." The mayor, all five-foot-ten-inches of him, is shown standing inside one of the 72-inch tiles which will be installed along the line. The sanitary sewer tiles, part of which are under construction at the Concrete Pressure Division of American Marietta Co., 555 Furnace-av, will eventually run from the Hilltop to the Jackson-pk treatment plant. Jack Merritt, district manager of the local firm, is shown with the tile.

St. John Lutheran Honors Teacher For 35 Years Service To Church

IN APPRECIATION—A hymnal and a pin for 19 years perfect attendance, along with the appreciative thanks of the entire congregation was given Miss Katherine Fisher at St. John Lutheran Sunday. She was honored for her 35 years' service as a Sunday School teacher by the pastor, Rev. C. T. Langholz and John Jester, Sunday School superintendent.

Miss Katherine Fisher was honored by her church for her many years as a Sunday School teacher, in a surprise ceremony held as part of Rally Day at St. John Lutheran, Sunday.

A Sunday School teacher since she was 13, Miss Fisher has taught 35 years at St. John.

As a child she attended St. Paul Lutheran in New Rome, and began teaching there the same year she was confirmed.

When she moved to the Hilltop, she became a member and teacher at St. Matthew's Lutheran until 1923, when she joined St. John's.

Church Of God To Take Part In SEE Effort

Hilltop Church of God, 835 Whitehorne-av, is one of more than 1500 congregations of the denomination participating in a world-wide simultaneous Evangelistic Endeavor during October.

SEE is sponsored by the Church of God, in Anderson, Ind.

Committee chairmen include Paul Plank, prayer-group; Donald Herndon, visitation and attendance; John Neff, publicity; Edgar Guyer, altar workers, and Monte Hall, music.

Wartime Friendship Still Strong After 16 Years And 9000 Miles Of Separation

By Betty Daft

Auld acquaintance is well remembered by New Zealanders who played host to American troops in their country during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Grabmaier of Wellington, stopping in Columbus during their round-the-world trip last week to renew a wartime friendship, describes the influence of the thousands of Americans who came to their country and the 500 or so who stayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Stout, 661 S. Ogden-av., entertained the Grabmaiers in return for the friendship and hospitality shown him by Mrs. Grabmaier's family during his stay as a serviceman in New Zealand.

"There are so many changes," Mrs. Grabmaier said. "It's very different now, very modern."

A monument to Americans is now standing in Wellington's harbor, and a brand new four-lane highway is named Roosevelt Highway.

'Americans Brought Security'

"We were very grateful for the presence of Americans during those war years. They brought security and peace of mind to us."

The Japanese had reached Guadalcanal and it seemed New Zealand might be their next goal, when Americans were dispatched to the country.

The visit to the Stouts, and to a number of other ex-servicemen in the States, were "musts" on the Grabmaier's itinerary.

Their leisurely trip around the world, "By boat and bus rather than planes and trains because we see so much more that way," started in April, and included a three months' stay in Grabmaier's native Austria.

The couple has already visited four continents and sailed most of the world's major seas, and expects to return home in November.

Find Similarities

Mrs. Grabmaier, speaking with the New Zealander's British accent, and her husband with the Austrian's German, describe colorfully their impressions of the world's peoples.

"... TO SEE THE WORLD"—A couple from New Zealand visited Great Western Shopping Center last week to see some of the world's wonders they had missed on their globe-encircling jaunt. Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Grabmaier of Wellington, at left, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Stout of 661 S. Ogden-av. The visitors were equally fascinated by the replicas along the Walk of Wonders, and the exclusively American super markets and shopping center. The Grabmaiers, on the last leg of their seven-months' world-wide trip, visited here to renew an acquaintance made during World War II, when Stout was stationed in New Zealand with the Armed Forces.

"With the exception of Singapore and Hong Kong, we seem to find more similarities than differences. We are most interested in what people are like and, because my husband is a builder, what their houses are like.

"Our trip was a year in the planning, and many decisions on itinerary were changed. But we had to include the States, and visits to the people we had known as servicemen during the war.

"There is, after all, much of America in New Zealand. Such industries as General Motors and Ford have plants there. And, of course, there are the many Americans who stayed, married and settled down after the war."

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables—Cabbage, cauliflower, endive, potatoes, squash.

Fruits—Apples, cider, canned fruit cocktail.

Protein Foods—Pork loins, bacon, stewing hens, turkeys, medium eggs, cheese.

CHEESE FESTIVAL TIME

Plan to look over the cheese displays at your store this week. In October the cheese industry puts forth special effort to make available cheeses of every variety and flavor. Many retail stores are featuring it at "special prices." Regardless of how you like cheese—with apple pie, with crackers, in a sandwich or in some elaborate and exotic appetizer, main dish, salad or dessert—you'll find a variety to suit your need.

Differences in Price—It pays to do a little comparative shopping when buying cheese. There are several reasons that account for differences in cheese p... The length of the ripening or aging process will affect price. This means sharp cheese usually cost the most per pound, due to added storage and handling costs. You must pay for "built-in services." Sliced or grated cheese of the same variety will cost more than the unsliced. Cheese in smaller packages usually means a higher price per pound. And the higher the fat content the greater the food value and the higher the price.

You'll find the identity and content of all varieties of processed cheese clearly stated on the labels.

Care at Home—All cheese should be kept refrigerated. It may be kept in a covered container, wrapped in metal foil, waxed or cellophane paper, or in its original container if prepackaged. Cottage cheese should be kept tightly covered to retain its moisture. Cheese absorbs other flavors easily. It should not be frozen.

1959—GOOD POTATO YEAR

This year's potato crop in Ohio is of excellent quality. The crop is a big one. Early summer weather was favorable. Many growers irrigated crops during the dry weather. Hot weather in August and September matured potatoes earlier than usual, resulting in firm skins. This means the potatoes will keep well in storage.

If you want Ohio potatoes, look for the "Buckeye Brand." Most of them are of the Katahdin variety. They are displayed in sizes from five to 50-pound bags. If you have good storage facilities you usually save money by buying in the large packages.

You can keep potatoes satisfactorily for a few weeks at temperatures of 60° to 70° F. Or, potatoes may be kept about three months at 35° to 40° F. In either instance, keep them away from the light to prevent greening. And remember that potatoes keep better if they are packed loosely in bags or in a bin that permits air to circulate. One "bad" potato can spoil the lot, so sort them frequently.

Double Ring Rites Unite Miss Starner, Mr. Koontz

MR. AND MRS. GARY CONRAD KOONTZ

Miss Laura Judith Starner and Mr. Gary Conrad Koontz exchanged marriage vows and wedding rings Saturday, Sept. 5, 10 a. m. at Hilltop Christian Church. Rev. George Alexander read the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Starner of Zanesville, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Koontz of 169 S. Sylvan-av.

Mr. Koontz was vocalist at his son's wedding. He was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Starling Williamson.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Russell Starner, the bride chose a white ballerina-length gown of lace over taffeta, worn with a lace jacket.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a crown of iridescents and seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Harold Lebecka served as matron of honor, and Miss Kay Starner as bridesmaid for their sister. Miss Dixie Lee Koontz, sister of the bridegroom, was also a bridesmaid.

The honor attendant wore white silk organza over aqua taffeta, and carried pink rosebuds. The others were gowned in aqua silk organza over aqua taffeta, and carried pink rosebuds.

Mr. David Gurley served as bestman, and ushers were Mr. Lee Biddison and Mr. Glenn Stewart.

The new Mrs. Koontz was graduated from high school in New Lexington and is employed by Nationwide Insurance Co.

Mr. Koontz was graduated from West High School and Ohio State University. He is associated with J. C. Penney Co. at Great Southern.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple is at home at 40½ West Park-av.

Some gals with plots and plans end up with pots and pans.

Sunker-Snavely Marriage Ceremony Held Saturday At East Linden EUB

MRS. DAVID S. SNAVELY

Miss Charlene Ann Sunker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Sunker, 480 Hilltonia-av, became the bride of Mr. David S. Snavely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Snavely, 301 S. Sylvan-av, Saturday, Oct. 10. Rev. Delbert R. Krumm officiated at the double-ring ceremony held at East Linden Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bouquet taffeta and chantilly lace, styled with pearls and sequin-trimmed lace bodice and empire waist. Crescent-shaped inserts of lace trimmed the front and back of the full skirt which extended into a wide train.

A crown trimmed with pearls and lace held her finger-tip veil and she carried white sweetheart roses and stephanotis, centered with Phalaenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Kathleen McWilliams served as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Linda Snider, Miss Janet Gove and Miss Marsha Snavely, sister of the bridegroom.

Attendants were identically gowned in turquoise chiffon over taffeta, with portrait necklines, brief sleeves and tucked bodices with Venice lace appliques. They wore matching Dior bows with circle veils and carried apricot pompons centered with roses.

Mr. Ralph Williams served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. James McWilliams, Mr. Daniel Grosh, and Mr. David Bunner.

Mrs. Sunker chose a gown of crescent blue lace over taffeta with accents of peau de soie and matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations centered with yellow roses.

Mrs. Snavely wore a beige peau de soie sheath with brief jacket, matching accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Everglades. Miss Pamela Sunker, of Dearborn, Mich., attended the guest book.

The former Miss Sunker is a graduate of West High School and is associated with The Prudential Insurance Company. Mr. Snavely is also a graduate of West High School and is employed by the G&M Plumbing Company.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside at 561 Wrexham-av, after Oct. 26.

Hilltopper Weds In Cranford, New Jersey

MRS. RONALD JAY RANNEY

St. Michael's Church in Cranford, N. J., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Arlene Wynn of Cranford, and Mr. Ronald Jay Ranney of the Hilltop, on Sept. 20.

Rev. Gerard B. Whelan officiated at the ceremony.

The former Miss Wynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin F. Wynn of Cranford, and Mr. Ranney's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Ranney, of 435 S. Burgess-av.

The bride wore a wedding gown with chapel train, fashioned of chantilly lace appliques on taffeta. She chose for her attendants, white lace street-length frocks over pastel taffeta.

A crown of pearls held her chapel-length veil and she carried a crescent arrangement of white roses with a removable white orchid.

Miss Patricia Klubnik, maid of honor, wore white lace over yellow taffeta. Bridesmaids, Miss Roberta Ranney, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Dolores Scheller, and Miss Sheila Bergner, wore white over aqua.

Jean Wynn, flower girl for her sister, was also gowned in white lace over yellow.

Attendants carried bouquets of white and acqua fuji mums.

Mr. James Brady served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. Clyde Stratton, Mr. Alvin Wynn, Mr. Daniel Timmons and Mr. Geoffrey Rausch.

Mrs. Wynn chose a frock of pink lace over taffeta with a lavender orchid, and the bridegroom's mother wore blue lace over taffeta, with a white orchid.

The new Mrs. Ranney was graduated from Cranford High School and was employed at Raritan Arsenal, New Jersey.

Mr. Ranney, a graduate of West High School, is associated with D. W. Ranney and Sons, Contractors.

Following a wedding trip down the east coast and through the Smokies, the couple is at home at 2467 Safford-av.

Five Attendants Precede Janet Martin To Altar Of St. Mary Magdalene

Deep pink and white carnations arranged in sunburst design with emerald foliage decorated the altar, and candelabra with lilies of the valley marked the aisle of St. Mary Magdalene Church for the wedding Saturday of Miss Janet Ann Martin and Mr. Raymond E. Kreber, Jr.

Rev. Raymond Bauschard officiated at the 11:30 ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Martin of 484 S. Westgate-av, and the bridegroom is the son of Raymond E. Kreber of 433 E. North Broadway, and the late Mrs. Kreber.

The bridal gown of white bouquet taffeta was designed on semi-princess lines. Cut-out motifs of chantilly lace fashioned the yoke and were appliqued on the wide unpressed pleats which tapered from the empire waist, widening at the hem and train.

A princess crown of pearl-trimmed lace held her fingertip veil and she carried white Fuji mums and sweetheart roses, with green ivy foliage.

Miss Alice Martin served as maid of honor for her sister. Other attendants were Mrs. Jerome Hoffman, cousin of the bride; Mrs. William Melvin, Miss Rita Thompson and Miss Marcia Richter, cousin of the bride.

They wore violet taffeta gowns designed with square necklines, wide standup collars and full skirts. They wore head bands of deep purple and carried wedding rings of purple and lavender velvet with hybrid lavender orchids.

Mr. Frank Kreber, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. Timothy Martin, brother of the bride; Mr. Robert Powell, Mr. Lawrence Sullivan and Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick.

The mother of the bride chose a deep purple velvet sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of amaronicas and pink demure roses.

Miss Joan Kreber, sister of the bridegroom, wore a lilac sheath with matching accessories and an identical corsage.

MRS. RAYMOND E. KREBER, JR.

Hostesses for the reception held at the Evergladen were Mrs. Timothy Martin, Miss Virginia Kreber, Mrs. Robert A. Issl, Mrs. Joseph Hering, Miss Vicki Verhoff, Miss Margaret Gascoigne, and Miss Mary Ann Blackburn.

Following a trip to Washington, D.C., they will be at home at 1823 Milden-rd.

Registration Still Accepted At Workshop

Opening the four-week training workshop for volunteer workers at Columbus State School this week will be Dr. T. B. Huxtable, Jr.

At the afternoon session Thursday, Oct. 15, Dr. Huxtable will speak on "Columbus State School and the Mentally Retarded." His address at the evening session will cover "Commitment, Trial Visits and Discharges."

Dr. Huxtable has been director of the Reception and Diagnostic Center at the school since 1955. He is also director of the Clinic for Mentally Retarded at State School.

Volunteers are still needed to help carry out the school program, and groups or individuals are urged to register for the workshop by calling Columbus State School and asking for Lloyd Ferguson, director of special activities.

Attendance of four sessions completes the training course.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baumgardner, of 304 N. Grener-rd, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Lee, to Mr. Charles R. Darling, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Darling, of Bucyrus.

The bride-elect is a graduate of West High School, and is associated with the Westinghouse Corporation. Mr. Darling is employed at the State of Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

The marriage ceremony will take place at the Community Christian Church, Nov. 7, at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. James F. Lorenz officiating.

Dixon - Sears Nuptials Read Aug. 27

Miss Mardell Dixon and Mr. John P. Sears exchanged their marriage vows Aug. 27 at Hilltop Christian Church.

Rev. George Alexander read the service before an altar decorated with palms, white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva R. Dixon of 205 Eldon-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Sears of 381 S. Warren-av.

The waltz-length bridal gown of chantilly lace was styled with basque bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescents, and a pouffant skirt featuring inserts of ruffled tulle.

Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of pearls and iridescents, and she carried a white Bible mounted with white rose buds and baby carnations.

Miss Vera Dixon served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of cerise silk organza with rosettes at the midriff, full ballerina skirt, and matching headpiece.

Mrs. Tom Whaley, bridesmatron and Miss Carolyn Sears, bridesmaid, wore gowns of pale pink organza. Each carried a lace fan with white and mint green carnations.

Mr. Bill Ingle was best man, and ushers were Mr. Ronald Dixon and Mr. Robert Dixon, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Dixon chose an emerald green silk faille sheath with matching and dune white accessories, and a corsage of rust baby mums. The bridegroom's mother wore sunk brown lace with burnt orange accessories, and an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Sherri Redman, Judi Robinson, Alberta Sears, Mary Ellen Murphy, Jean Vander Molen, and Ann Evans.

The former Miss Dixon was graduated from West High School and was employed by Shank and Saunders Real Estate and Insurance Co. Her husband was also graduated from West High School and is associated with Westinghouse Electric Corp.

St. Mary Magdalene Scene Of Gard-Giuffre Marriage

MRS. PAUL GIUFFRE

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Gard to Mr. Paul Anthony Giuffre took place Saturday, Sept. 5, in St. Mary Magdalene Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ambrose Metzger.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gard, 8980 Schirtzinger-rd. Mr. Giuffre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine P. Giuffre, 1060 N. Hague-av.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over bridal satin. The pointed basque bodice was designed with a portrait neckline, enhanced with iridescents and tiny seed pearls, and long sleeves that tapered over her hands into tiny points. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with side panels of ruffled tiered nylon tulle, edged with scalloped Chantilly lace, and fell gracefully into a wide circular chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported bridal silk illusion was caught to a coronet of pearls, accented with large pearl drops, and she carried a white lace fan with a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Sandrea Jeanne Gard, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Ann Giuffre, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Connie Beachler, Miss Norma Jean Gear, Miss Roseanne Weipert, with Miss Bonnie Gard as the junior bridesmaid.

Attendants were attired in peacock blue street length gowns of silk organza with a new length puff sleeves and a satin belt tied in a back bow. The matching head pieces were graceful queen's crowns outlined with pearls and sequins. Miss Susan Junkerman, the flower girl, wore a full length gown of peacock blue organza. Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue lace trimmed in ice blue satin with matching accessories; the bridegroom's mother, a dress of mink lace over beige with beige accessories and each wore a white orchid.

Mr. Ronald Mazone served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Roame Schoonover, Mr. Jerry Mazone, Mr. Mike Mazone and Mr. Danny DeFranz. Master Bobby Holmes was ringbearer.

A dinner and reception were held at the Grange Hall at Hilliard.

The bride is associated with the Ohio Fuel and Gas Co. and Mr. Giuffre with Westinghouse Electric.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will reside at 3731 Eakin-rd.

Ladies Aid of St. James Lutheran Church, 1666 Hilliard Rome-rd, will sponsor a smorgasbord Sunday, Oct. 18, from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Featured on the menu will be ham, fried chicken, vegetables, salads, relishes, homemade pies and cakes.

Dinner price for adults will be $1.50. Children under 10 will be served for one dollar.

Highland Gardeners To Sponsor New Club

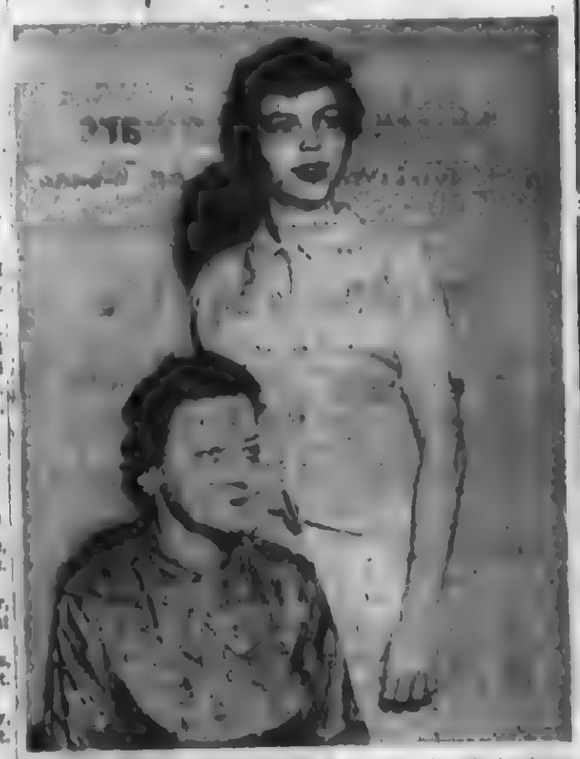
Plans to sponsor a new garden club, the Hilltop Triangle Club, is the first item on the current year's program for members of Highland Garden Club.

Achievements of the past year include placing third in the state with the club's "Symphony of Flowers" show.

Mrs. R. A. Miller was chairman of the event and the award was presented at the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs' convention held in Cincinnati last month.



Mrs. Ralph Clements, Mrs. Ray Haunts and Mrs. R. A. Miller attended.

An award for an outstanding publicity scrapbook will be given the club at the regional meeting in Circleville Tuesday, Nov. 10. Mrs. Arthur Harris of 613 Crescent-dr, was chairman.

A member of the club, Mrs. J. Earl Taylor of 171 S. Harris-av, placed third in the Garden-er of The Year Award, District 9. She will also receive the award during the regional meeting.

St. Joseph Alumnae Plan Fete

FALL FESTIVAL SET—Alumnae of St. Joseph Academy will stage its fall festival at the academy, 231 E. Rich-st, Thursday, Oct. 22. Chicken supper will be served from 5 to 8 p.m., followed by dancing until 11 p.m. Bazaar booths and games will also be featured. Dinner reservations may be made with Dr. and Mrs. Harry Geyer, BR. 4-2782. Dance tickets may be purchased from students at the door. Mrs. Jack McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont-av, seated, is on the arrangements' committee for the dance, and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, 263 Wiltshire-rd, will assist at the doll and toy booth.

Red Devils, Cowboys Tangle

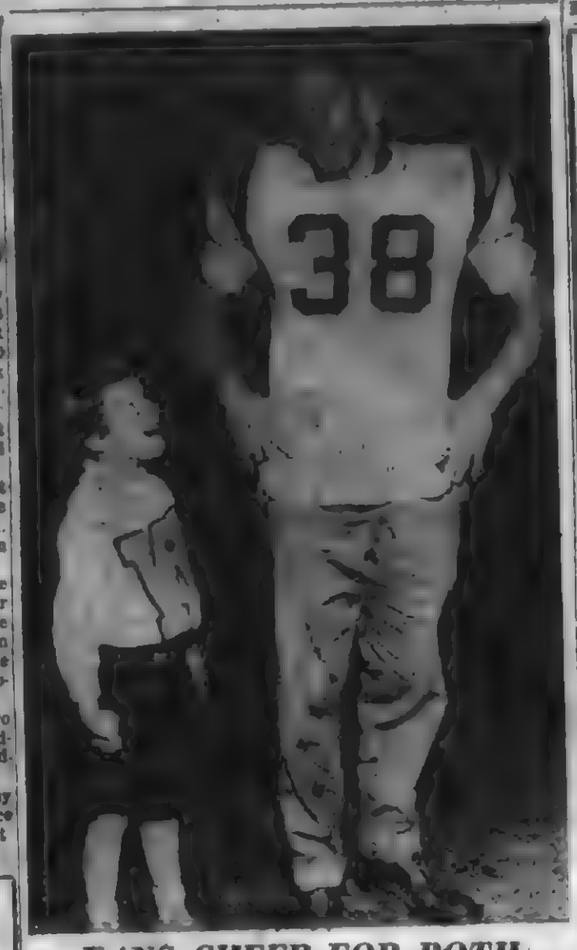
By Bob Wilcox

Marion-Franklin will furnish the opposition for the West Cowboys at Magly Field this Friday evening and, like Woody Hayes' crew 'up north', West will be trying to bounce back from two straight shutouts and find the victory trail again.

The Red Devils have a 1-0 record going into Friday's contest and remind West's scouts very much of Eastmoor . . . but not quite the high caliber of the Warriors, they hope. Their biggest drawback is lack of size, but they are fairly fast . . . quick on the draw, especially on defense. They compensate for some of their lightness with great hustle. Their line probably averages around 160-170 with the backfield at about 135-160 pounds.

The Devils' defense seems to be their best weapon. They have a pretty good bench, too. And though North scored 28 points on them, it was more a matter of wearing Franklin out (weight, etc.) in the game's latter stages. Franklin led about 6-0 at halftime and their defense kept the Polar Bears in check until worn down.

M-F Team Boasts 10 Seniors



Experiencewise they are well off, with 10 seniors and most of the rest of the squad being juniors. They are a well coached squad . . . by head mentor, Ward Barritt.

They use the "T" offense, usually in tight; they do split sometimes, but use very few flankers . . . usually having the fullback merely shift in or out from the line of scrimmage. Predominately they employ a 7-2-2 defense; shifting to an 8-(gap)-3 when close to their goal line.

Offensively, they like to power off tackle or sweep the ends with the speed, but very seldom go up the middle. Their "bread and butter" play is the quick hitter. They also go to the air a great deal (against North 60 per cent of their plays in the first quarter were passes . . . they evened things out the rest of the game). They possess a very fine passer in Larry Crabtree at quarterback; his favorite target is end Ken Judy.

Marion-Franklin gridders are co-captained by their two halfbacks Don Mosley and Don Hall. The latter is their outstanding runner and possesses fairly good speed. On the line their standout is Ralph Ruh, especially on defense from his center slot.

So like everyone else in the league (or in any game), they should prove troublesome, but let's hope the Cowboys bounce hard and that though they "look" like Eastmoor, they aren't that tough!

FANS CHEER FOR BOTH

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

East, probably the best football squad in this area, certainly didn't look it the other evening at Magly Field. True, they gained some revenge for the pasting they took from the Cowboys last year, but it wasn't an impressive win for the Tigers.

First to admit it was East Head Coach Jackie Moore and his team. In an interview right after the game, he complained that they had the 'big head'. Moore summed it up by stating, "The score should have been, 6-0." (The final was 24-0 and the Cowboys' second straight whitewashing.)

West's defense was much improved over a week ago and drew high praise from both Moore and West coach Bill Schmitter. The Cowboy offensive 'platoon' was another story—it seemed that this squad, not the West defense, literally gave the Tigers two touchdowns. The movies showed that the entire West defensive line (and platoon) did a fine job.

Singled out for special praise would be Gary Alwood and Bill Biggers, who as defensive ends effectively slowed up the East squad. A speedy squad loves to sweep the ends and those two bottled them up and forced them inside where they got no long gains. East's fabulous Clarence Winston didn't hurt West all evening as he was allowed only a few very short gains up the middle . . . 13 yards in seven carries.

Those two "giveaway" TD's were indeed rarities. Unlike pro football where a fumble can be picked up by a defensive man, high school and college rules permit a run only if recovered before it touches the ground . . . Otherwise it is dead where it is recovered.

Then, in "turnabout night," East's defensive unit almost scored more points than their offensive team. Two of their linebackers . . . Clarence Glover just before the first half ended, and Charles Orr, shortly after the third period began. . . both scored TD's on almost identical plays. They both recovered fumbles in mid-air from Cowboys coming through the left side of their line and rambled 43 and 36 yards respectively to pay dirt.

A third Tiger TD also came as somewhat of a "gift". Soon after the opening kickoff, the Tigers were stalled on the West 36 with a fourth down and 17 to go. They gambled with a long desperation pass which was incomplete, but interference was called on West. So instead of West taking over on their 36, East had it first and goal on the three. From there they scored.

Their only "legitimate" TD of the evening came late in the first half. Starting on their own 34 they drove the 66 yards in 11 plays. All four extra point attempts were no good. Winston was held well in check as was ace halfback Frank Crawford, but halfback Bob Brown did the ground gaining. Bill Johnson, quarterback, was also well contained.

Also said was that West had the ball for 61 plays, compared to East's 58. Injuries still held the Broncos some. Jerry Hummel, although dressed, didn't play. Biggers returned to action. Still hobbling slightly, he nevertheless got off some very pretty runs and should really be back up to full power by this Friday evening. Hummel, with a week to practice carrying the ball with his new cast, should be ready to roll to.

Really welcome news was that end Rick Banker—orginally believed 'out' for the season with a bad knee—has been practicing all week and probably will see action Friday.

This could open up West's passing attack somewhat—and Biggers can throw a mighty nice pass from that fullback slot. Bob Ross started at quarterback for the Cowboys and did some throwing, but was not too successful on completions. Bill Kern split the quarterback time with him later.

Biggers, in his punting chores, had a bad night with passes from center. He was forced to run once with it on fourth down and reeled off a long gain, good for 28 yards and a first down. However the next time the ball hit in front of him and he was nailed for a sizable loss. He was nailed another time on a punt attempt.

Despite the 24-0 shutout, there were several bright spots and the movies bore out improvements. Both Coach Schmitter and co-captains Jim Horn and Bill Kern, in a radio interview said they expect to win some ball games.

Schmitter this week has reverted to stressing and simplifying offense tactics.

As promised here is the windup on the Westgate Park boys' softball team which finished with a fine 8-4 record.

Bob Faller, .441; Mike Uldricks, .414; Rick Finke, .400; Art Newkirk, .385; Dan Callahan, .375; John Meinhart, .333; Mike Porter, .267; Mike Dowd, .240; Bill Moeller, .286; Bob Moeller, .333; Steve Hoffman and Bob Barnhart, .111; and Dan and Jim Burden, .000. (What major league squad wouldn't give their "right arm" to have those hefty averages in their lineup?)

Some leaders in other departments were Cummings, pitcher, winding up with most honors; Faller, Orr, Highfield, Williamson, Fleming, Uldricks, Linson, Porter, Hoffman, Moeller, Finke, Burden, Meinhart and Newkirk.

At press time the West cross-country squad was batting an even .500. Their meet with Upper Arlington last week was rained out. To date they have beaten Central 28-30, (like golf, low score wins) Eastmoor 25-34, but dropped meets to Worthington 26-29 and Mansfield 21-26. All home meets are run at Raymond Memorial Golf Course.

Captained by Joe Massey, their leading runner to date has been sophomore Dave Smith, who has always finished "in the money" so far this season. Other veteran scores this fall are Massey, Bill Castle and Gary Reynolds.

Soon we will run a complete roster and team picture. This week they meet Linden-McKinley and Central Friday at Raymond. They met Springfield there Tuesday.

The 1959 West cross-country schedule: (remainder).

Oct. 16—Linden and Central at Raymond.
Oct. 20—East and North at Raymond.
Oct. 28—Marion-Harding at Raymond.
Oct. 27—City meet (4 p.m.) at Raymond.
Oct. 30—District meet at Raymond.

Cars, Classes Don't Mix Survey Shows

Does automobile ownership hurt the modern teen-ager's performance in school?

Yes, according to a well-known educator, and what is more important, the harm is far greater when combined with a lack of parental control in the usage of a car.

Dr. Keith Kavanaugh, principal of Niles Township High School, Skokie, Ill., verifies the claim of a definite link between the use of the automobile and falling grades through a survey of 1,455 junior and senior students, at the school, in a northern suburb of Chicago.

Conducted by the school's driver education division with the cooperation of the research department of the All-state Insurance Companies, the study is the most comprehensive yet undertaken on the subject.

tend to inhibit—if not prevent—their academic improvement.

The most damaging effect of car ownership is felt by those students who formerly had ranked in the top quarter of their class. The survey shows that when they become car owners, 57 per cent of them drop in scholastic performance.

Of even greater importance than car ownership is the use of the vehicle, Dr. Kavanaugh says. Of those students using a car socially, the study showed a direct relationship between a decline in grades and an increase in the number of evenings a week the student drove. Nine-teen per cent of those using an automobile one evening a week were in the bottom quarter of their class, while 61 per cent of those driving seven evenings a week were in that category.

"We firmly believe," Dr. Kavanaugh says, "That there is a very close connection between excessive use of a car and the exercising of parental authority. It is when the point is reached [illegible] driving interferes with [illegible] that car ownership or usage becomes harmful. Parents are an important factor in seeing that the teen-ager maintains the right balance between schoolwork and relaxation."

In addition to time spent with the car in social activities, nearly half of those owning a car found it necessary to obtain part-time jobs in order to meet expenses. The additional loss of study time was reflected in a further drop in grades.

Regarding part-time jobs, Dr. Kavanaugh says: "The combination of the car and a job nearly always resulted in lower grades. However, if the student did not own a car and his job was on weekends only, he more often than not was found in the upper part of his class.

The reverse was true if the job was on week days. In these cases the student was usually in the lower part of his class. If a student works, it appears preferable that he work a full day on Saturday rather than an hour or so every school day. Perhaps we're prejudiced, but we feel quality education is a full-time job in itself."

In determining the influence of various factors, such as part-time jobs, on students' class work, the survey teams made a special effort to determine the influence of the car alone upon grades, excluding other activities.

Of the good students who had cars or the use of the cars, but did not have part-time jobs, 95 per cent suffered a drop in grades after they began [illegible] drive.

One result of the high school survey pays a tribute to the effectiveness of high school driver training, according to Dr. Davanaugh. High school trained drivers have markedly fewer accidents and traffic violations than do students who learn to drive in other ways.

Of the 72 per cent of the student body which has learned to drive, one out of five was taught in the high school driver training classes. The others were instructed by parents, brothers or sisters and others, the survey shows. The high school trained drivers had only 27 accidents per 100 students taught as compared to 61 accidents per 100 students who learned to drive in other ways.

WEST MOUND RAMS GIVEN GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD SUPPORT

IN FIRST YEAR—Parents, neighbors and merchants in the West Mound [illegible] area are boosting this sturdy group of young Bearcat League football players, called the Rams, the two age groups (90 and 110 lb.) were organized this summer by Jim Snider, 1959 Vaughn-st. former member of a state-championship Middletown basketball squad. Snider is a graduate student and telephone company employe. The Rams are working to pay off a debt of $180 for equipment. Seen, left to right, first row, are, Managers Dale New and Lee Skinner, Ted Decker, Roger Johnson, William Savage, Ricky Walters, Jeff Burke, Hiram Tanner and Steve [illegible]. Second row, Nick Demopoulous, Ben Hanna, Dick Skinner, Al Schilling, Monty Chase, Wayne Johnston, Nick Rano, Jim Case and Clinton Winslow. Third row, Terry Oliver, Steve Parker, Tidman Sheridan, John Goodin, Frankie Gall, Gary Brigham, Carl Graves, Ronnie Friend and Gary Stimmel. Fourth row, Advisers Walter Greezinger and Jim Founds, Dick Greezinger, Tom Olde, Dave New, Larry Marieth, Jim Rodgers, Mike West, Jeff Kroehler, Assistant Coaches Paul Johnsen and Charles J. Peters, and Coach Jim Snider.

Six Schools To Take Part In Program

Franklin Schaefer

The combined instrumental groups of Harrisburg, Darbydale, Georgesville, West and North Franklin and Prairie-Lincoln Elementary Schools will present a unified program Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Directing the six units will be Franklin Schaefer. The program is being presented by advanced instrumental students Schaefer said.

The musical event will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Prairie-Lincoln Schools, he announced.

Included in the group will be 29 clarinets, 27 cornets, [illegible] drums, 10 saxophones, seven flutes, four trombones and a violin.

IN SEA BEES

AT NORFOLK — Alan R. Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coon, 238 N. Warren-av, and a June graduate of West High, left Sept. 29 for service with the Sea Bees, construction battalion of the US Navy. His address is: 492-97-20, Barracks J-50 D1 Wing, Norfolk Receiving Sta., Norfolk, Va.

Sports of Sorts

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

I recently had occasion to read the following editorial and was so impressed by it that I secured permission from the author to reprint part of it here. It originally appeared in the Toledo Times on Sept. 12, 1958 and was written by Sports Editor Tom Bolger.

There are several things we would like to emphasize in relation to high school football on this opening day of the season. A football team, perhaps more than any other single factor, welds the student body of a school into a single unit and projects that certain "intangible" known as school spirit. The team also has a great community value it its particular area.

Non-playing students and older fans have a duty, just as the team members have a duty. You must be loyal to your team in victory and defeat. Criticism should never be the reward for a team which has given its best, only to lose. Your team is not expected to win 'em all, and your must bear in mind at all times that a loss hurts the player a great deal more than it does he fans.

You also are urged to bear in mind that high school football is played by a bunch of kids, ranging in age from 15 to 18. They're going to make mistakes, perhaps plenty of 'um, and some of these mistakes are going to lost ball games.

Don't criticize a coach because he may lose a game that he should have won. More often than not, the coach who drops a game here and there is a far better influence for his boys than the "win 'em all" type. These youngsters have a lot of living ahead of them after their football days are over, and the lessons they learn in losing may prove invaluable in later life.

Dads Urged to Respect Coaches' Judgment

Now a word of admonition for the dads of these schoolboy gridders. Let the coaches do the coaching; they are experts in their particular field, otherwise they probably wouldn't be there. Don't second-guess or complain that the coach is "picking" on your son if he's not in the game as often as you think he should be.

There's no greater handicap for a boy who has a dad who is a self-professed authority on all branches of sport and is constantly reminding his son's coach of this fact. And don't annoy the coach with any "secret" weapon or play that is guaranteed to beat the opposition. This unsolicited "help" drives all coaches nuts. Every head coach assigns members of his own staff to scout the opposition, so keep that in mind.

By all means, show respect and courtesy for the game officials.

These men are qualified for this particular assignment and most all have played the game for eight or more years. They know the rules far better than most coaches. Despite what you may think, they are not prejudiced and they don't care which team wins. Their job is to enforce the rules, keep the game under control at all times, and give each side an even break.

The officials are practically on top of every play and are in position to see infractions much better than you can from the stands. They should never be blamed for the loss of a game.

Students and fans should never cheer a tough break or injury to a key player on the visiting team, any more than you would if a guest in your home fell and broke a leg.

Of more than 600 schools fielding football teams in Ohio this year, perhaps only eight or nine will have perfect seasons. So if you feel like second-guessing the coach of your favorite team after losing a couple of games, just look back to your own playing days, or to when you were a student fan.

How many undefeated, untied seasons did you have?

Heights Tame Panthers After Hot First Stanza

Big brother Franklin Heights severely spanked upstart Pleasant View Friday, 52-6 after the Panthers cleverly matched wits during an equally contested first period.

With many of the players facing former classmates, the two South-Western schools have undoubtedly started a sure-fire rivalry that will carry through future years.

With neither team scoring in the first stanza, Heights erupted in action packed second and third periods to register 46 points, overpowering their opponents.

Pleasant View, in its first year of competition, is playing without seniors.

Heights' first touchdown drive started late in the opening quarter after Tony Zapatos had punted to the Panther 47. A pass from quarterback Mike Holman to Bill Beimsderfer moved the pigskin to the Pleasant 25.

Carrying on successive plays, fullback Gerald Martin blasted his way to the Panther 18. Ron Travis took the ball on the next play from his halfback position, started right, then cut left behind the entire Panther defense and scrambled into the end zone.

The next two times Franklin gridders gained control of the pigskin, they went for counters on the first play from scrimmage. Travis, running the same play as scored earlier, added the first marker on a 50-yard run.

The third Falcon tally came when Beimsderfer picked a pass from Holman off the fingertips of a Panther defender and ran 70 yards to pay dirt.

Holman connected on another pass midway through the third quarter which Larry Abbott hauled in and trotted 66 yards for a touchdown.

Other Falcon markers were registered by Bob Bagot on a four-yard plunge, Mike Holman on a 5-yard option play, Bob Davis on a 35-yard dash and a pass from Steve Wilson.

Pleasant View's tally actually came after the time was out on [illegible].

Faking a punt with only seconds left in the final stanza, the Heights kicker was downed by end Howard Dougherty on the Falcon five.

Quarterback Charles Leibrock, who played an outstanding game for the Panthers, tried the center of the Bird line moving the ball to the three. With time for only one more play, Leibrock tried the same hole and failed to make any gain.

As the clock ran out, however, an offsides penalty was called against Heights giving Pleasant View another down on the one and one-half mark. This time Leibrock made good.

TO GERMANY

LEAVES GEORGIA—Army Pvt. Russell T. Daugherty, Jr., 19, whose parents live at 161 N. Wayne-av, departed from Fort Benning, Ga., early in September for Germany and an assignment with the 3d Infantry Division, a major unit in the NATO shield of defense in Europe. While stationed at the Georgia fort, Daugherty was assigned to Company C of the 2d Division's 9th Infantry. He entered the army last February. Daugherty attended West High School.

Rams Stomp Reynoldsburg

West Mound Rams defeated Reynoldsburg 42 to 6 Sunday in a home game played on the McKinley Avenue football field.

Officiating was by Bearcat Association personnel.

Scoring by quarters was as follows (Rams given first): 14-0, 8-6, 14-0, and 6-0. Rams touchdowns were scored by: Jeff Koehler, two on runs of 65 and 45 yards; Dick Goodin, two on runs of 50 and 40 yards; David New and Donald Hanna, one each on 45-yard sprints. Extra points were achieved by New, Hanna and Dick Greezinger. McClelland scored the lone Reynoldsburg TD on a 25-yard [illegible].

On Sunday, Oct. 18 the Rams will play an undefeated Arlington team. The place was not announced at presstime.

Westgate Hawks Defeat Linden

Westgate Hawks hold a 5-0 record in Bearcat football this week after blanking the Linden Midgets 18 to 0 Sunday at Linden Park.

Steve Takos scored twice on a 60-yard run and a 40-yard pass interception. Larry Graves carried the ball over after taking a 45-yard pass from Takos. Hawk rushing amounted to 182 yards.

Offensive standouts were Steve Takos (hb), Mike Hobbs, (t), and Tex Hysell, (e). Excelling defensively were Bill Wells, Steve Takos, Jerry Clarke and Larry Cline.

Giants, Comets, Warhawks Win Sunday Games

Sunday scores in West Side Football League games played at Sunshine Park were: heavyweight—West Side Giants, 12, Oklahoma 8; W. S. Warhawks 22, W. S. Blazers 14; lightweight) Blazers 0, Marion-Franklin Comets 20.

Bob Watts scored the first TD for the Comets. Two others were scored by Mike Forester, high-point man for the Comets.

Already scheduled for Sunday is a game between the Comets and the W. S. Bucks, at noon at Sunshine. The Blazers will play at 1.

PFC John King Active In Strategic Army Alert

Army Pfc. John F. King, whose wife, Juanita, lives at 2611½ McDowell-st, participated with the 101st Airborne Division's 506th Infantry in a special STRAC (Strategic Army Corps) alert at Fort Campbell, Ky., Sept. 12-26.

The 20-year-old soldier, a gunner in the infantry's Company A, entered the army last January. He attended Northern High School in Detroit, Mich.

Consumers are expected to spent about five per cent more in 1960 than they spent in 1959, according to Ohio State University economists.

Only residents from the unincorporated areas of a township can vote on rural zoning resolutions, say Ohio State University Extension rural sociologists.

Anniversary Dinner Planned At St. John's

Rev. Kenneth Priebe, president of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church, will be guest-speaker at the 8:15 and 10:45 worship services Sunday morning, Oct. 18 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Grove City.

In the evening, members and friends of the congregation will attend the 110th anniversary dinner at 6:30 at the Richards Avenue School. Joe Milligan will emcee the dinner which will have as special guests men who have entered the ministry from the congregation.

Special music is arranged for the dinner by Vicar Don Doerfer. Rev. Lewis Holm is program chairman.

The pastor, Rev. Theodore Proehl, will speak at the dinner as will the "Song of St. John's." Movies of the 100th anniversary celebration will be shown by Carl Helwagen.

During the month a display of relics and mementos of former years will be open each Sunday in the education building of St. John's.

Final service in the month-long 110th anniversary celebration will be on Reformation Sunday, Oct. 25.

Grove City Theatrical Group Readies Play

The "Little Theatre Off Broadway," a recently organized theatrical group will present a Chinese Fantasy, "The Land Of The Dragon" by Madge Miller.

The production date is Saturday, Nov. 7 with a matinee at 2 p.m. and an evening performance at 8 p.m.

The play will be produced by special arrangement with the Children's Theatre Press of Anchorage, Ky.

Admission will be 35 cents for children under 12 and 50 cents for adults.

Big Walnut Has Plenty For Fishermen

"If walleye fishing is your forte, better head for Big Walnut Creek around Obetz. Division of Wildlife tests nets have shown the fish are there—and plenty of them."

That is the comment of Clayton Lakes, a fish production foreman with Wildlife District No. 5. Many walleyes in the 15-to-18-inch size have been [illegible].

Lakes also reports numerous shovelhead catfish running from 14 to 22 inches and plenty of small channel catfish from 10 to 13 inches.

"These test-netting operations serve a two-fold purpose," Lakes explains. "They provide fisheries personnel with valuable information concerning migration, rate of growth, and the like, and, in addition, tell fishermen where the fish are located."

Franklin Township Annexation Postponed

A hearing on the annexation of some 376 acres of Franklin Township has been set for a spring date in 1960 by County Commissioners.

The postponement was approved because the large tract is in a legal dispute because of previous annexation moves that involved Grandview Heights and Columbus.

Commissioners set the date of the next hearing for Apr. 7, 1960.

From The Bible

I said in my haste, I am cut off from before Thine eyes: nevertheless Thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto Thee.—(Psalm 31:22.)

Never think that past sins have cut you off from God's love, for His mercy is boundless and He is ever ready to hear those who call upon Him for forgiveness and for strength to live better lives.
